Homey frankfurter buns make nice accompaniments for spring fruit salad when split and toasted until a golden brown. Butter while hot. If desired, place thin strip of cheese on bun and grill until cheese melts.

News In The World Of Religion

Architects working on plans for the new Manhattan Island, New York City, headquarters of the United Nations are reported considering a "hall (or chamber, or chapel, or room) of prayer" on a basis that it can be used by all religious faiths represented by the fifty-eight member nations. Practically every religion of the earth, and many of the major sects of Christianity are represented in the membership—some officially by governments, some held by individuals; and in addition there are representatives of so-called "godless states." The charter of the United Nations does not mention any Supreme Being or diety, and sessions have never been opened by prayer—two bases for criticism by Christians especially. Secretary General Trygve Lie hopes that the proposed prayer center will be of such a character that persons of all religions can use it, and that each delegate in his own way can ask divine guidance.

For the purpose of conducting a study of the application of Christian principles to the economic life of the West—including application to business, agriculture, labor, and the professions—the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America has been granted $100,000 for a three-year period by the Rockefeller Foundation. Charles P. Taft, of Cincinnati, a former president of the Council, has been named chairman of the Study Committee; among the other members are Prof. John C Bennett of Union Theological Seminary, Nelson H. Cruikshank of Washington, D. C., Clarence Pickett of the American Friends Service Committee, Ellis Van Riper of the Transport Workers Union, C. Maurice Wieting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, Glenn Gardiner of the N. J. State Chamber of Commerce, and Prof. Kermit Eby of the University of Chicago. The Council's Department of the Church and Economic Life (Rev. Cameron P. Hall, executive) will conduct the study.

"Immortality is demanded by the heart," said Dr. Robert J. McCracken, pastor of the Riverside Church, New York City, in an Easter sermon. "If we believe that God is love—and on that belief every thing turns—we are bound to see love as His gift and as being in its nature, like him, eternal .... And what about Jesus? Was a personality like his swept at death into nothingness? Thirty-three years and all was over? Believe that, and is there anything at the heart of things but frustration and unreason, a riddle for which there is no explanation? ... Men have been unable to persuade themselves by any kind of logic or argument that man's ultimate destiny is a rendevous with the dust."

"The only guarantee for industrial peace with adequate goods and services for the needy world is the permanent infusion of Christianity into all of life," says John C. Harmon, Jr., Director of Industrial and Social Relations of the Methodist Church. "No one-day-a-week religion can face the rising challenge of a growing materialistic philosophy of life. No church can long endure that fails to meet the moral and spiritual needs of its members at the work bench, the assembly line, and the office." Mr. Harmon seeks to relate industrial and labor groups to the Christian church, and seeks to interpret the working man's point of view to the ministry and church membership. His newly-established office is at 1701 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

Six English-speaking church bodies united recently to dedicate Livingstone House as a residence for Christian theological students at Rhodes University College, in Grahamstown, Cape Province, South Africa. The opening of Livingstone House marked the culmination of twenty-years' effort by the Anglicans, Congregationalists, Methodists, Presbyterians, Baptists, and the Disciples of Christ to develop adequate facilities for training their candidates for ordination on South African soil.

The "Order of Merit" has been awarded by the Republic of Chile to Dr. Dillman Samuel Bullock, of Lapeer, Michigan, pastor of the Methodist Church in Angol, Chile, and director-emeritus of El Vergel Agricultural School, maintained by the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church. The "Order of Merit" was established in 1820 by Bernardo O'Higgins, "father of Chilean independence," and is awarded on rare occasions to foreigners "for distinguished service to the nation." In 1902, after graduation from Michigan Agricultural College, Dr. Bullock went to Chile as an agricultural missionary, first to the Araucanian Indians under the Church of England; then under the Methodist Church to establish a demonstration farm and school that has set standards for the whole continent. His work has been not only in training farmers-to-be, but in improving seeds, crops, fruits, and livestock.

Here's how to use a small amount of leftover fish, meat or eggs. Dice or flake it, and add to a cream sauce along with enriched bread crumbs, which round out the protein food. Enriched bread supplies some protein, along with needed B-vitamins and iron. Do not use bread crumbs that are too dry in making this luncheon feature.

Michigans Upper Peninsula

By Frank E. (Dude Ranch) Koch

Don't know just where to start this week. So much news of interest to us down here coming from the U. P. what with Golden Jubilee & Smelt runs etc. around the vicinity of St. Ignace & Mackinac County. Maybe we better tell you about our own Smelt Jamboree.

We received a box of Smelt from up north last Saturday. J. Pete Lowets was the sender. Pete's the guy that keeps a watchful eye—together with the Mich. State Police on our humble "Dude Ranch" cottage while we're down here in Columbus.

The Smelt Jamboree took place at Young's Lunch and several of our former guests at the "Dude Ranch" enjoyed fried Smelt. They were caught on Friday and we received them on Saturday afternoon. Fresh from the U. P. All enjoyed the Smelt immensely save those who requested a couple pounds and failed to come to our home after them. We don't deliver fall merchandise, because we are minus transportation. Our good friend, John, the insurance man took us to the Station to pick them up. Thanks John! Too bad you were not at the Jamboree at Youngs Thursday evening.

The Carp River area was again the yielder of the greater amount of these Spring delicacies. They produced 25,000 pounds in a few days. Harold Fitspatrick of the Kolbe Fisheries - (bookkeeper) compiled these figures.

The best "Dips" were made on Tuesday, week before last, when 5,000 - 12,00(and 6,000 pounds were harvested. Main producers during that period were Saunders from Carp River, McGregor Oil Co., crew of St. Ignace. This was a professional project.

That is a view of the commercial aspect of this season's run to date, but those who fished for "fun", like Pete Lowets and the others had gala outings. Ours came from those who fished for "fun."

You've heard me mention J. D. (Judge) Erskine of Allenville on several occasions.

Well—according to the Grapevine, they're just getting over celebrating their Diamond Wedding jubilee on April 11. "J. D." and Mrs. are pioneer residents of Mackinac County having come "south" from Strathrop, Ontario, Canada some 60 years ago. They were married in April, 1889. They became U. S. citizens in 1893 and have been the most beloved couple in Machinac County ever since.

Mrs. "J. D." is a most congenial hostess, as is J. D. himself, who has been host to many a first year tourist—to my knowledge—since 1929; the first time I had the pleasure of meeting this young old morale builder.

The store and postoffice building, they now occupy was the former property of the Martel Furnace Co., which they purchased from the Company where J. D. worked in 1899. He organized the Mackinac County Fair at Allenville more than 30 years ago and still is its Treasurer. He was appointed by Michigans Governor Green for a six year term on the U. P. Fair Board.

And here's something that comes as a surprise to us. He says and I quote: "I have handled the U. S. mail here for more than 40 years, but never was postmaster—just put the mail bags on the train. I still carry mail from Allenville to Moran twice a day." We always thought he worked in the capacity of postmaster.

If you come up this summer don't fail to drop in on Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Erkine. You'll enjoy every minute of your visit in their store. If you get there before we do: give the Judge our regards.

Oh yes! Our brother Joe is on his way north from Hollywood, Florida. He stopped for a brief visit Saturday afternoon. He lives on Hill Island out of Cedarville, in summer and down in the sunny South in winter. We work for a living.

Article On The Ever-Lengthening Shadow

In 1929 federal spending amounted to less than two-thirds of the personal income of the inhabitants of California. By 1947, federal expenditures were approximately equal to the total personal income of all the inhabitants of California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and about four fifths of Texas.

Federal expenditures amounted to $121 per family in 1930, $250 in 1938, and about $954 in 1948.

Remember that these figures represent the spending of the federal government only. When state and local government spending is added, the total amounts to some 30 percent of our national income.

In other words, the American people devote nearly one third of their working time and effort to supporting their various governments.

FUN FOR ALL — ALL FOR FUN

"Whispering Smith" At Southland Theater

ALAN LADD and BRENDA MARSHALL are romantically co-starred in Ladd's first Western picture, "WHISPERING SMITH," opening Sunday at the SOUTHLAND THEATRE. Filmed in Technicolor and packed with hair-raising action, Whispering Smith features Alan Ladd in the role of a soft-spoken, but tough, railroad trouble shooter, out to capture the train hijackers. Robert Preston also shares stellar honors in the thrilling new Western drama.

"Sword of the Avenger," starring exotic Sigrid Gurie and Ralph Morgan, will be co-featured with "Whispering Smith" during its three-day engagement.

The Southland Theatre is currently playing "Three Godfathers," unusual Western drama starring John Wayne, Pedro Armendariz and Harry Carey, Jr. Produced in Technicolor, "Three Godfathers" tells the story of a trio of desperadoes who find themselves guardians of a new-born babe. Melvin Douglas and Britain's Phyllis Calvert star in the second feature, "My Own True Love."

AT THE VICTOR THEATER SUNDAY ONLY

"Chicken Every Sunday"
Dan Dailey-Celeste Holm

Sparkling, multi-colored lights and the martial tones of the Merry-go-round organ will open the 6 day stand of the Gooding Amusement Company midway at the Parsons and Reeb Showgrounds, next Monday night.

Sending into this area one of its famous ride units, The Gooding Amusement Co. is all set to entertain young and old alike with such thrill rides as the Tilt-a-whirl, Whip, Rolloplane, and the old standbys, the Merry-Go-Round and the Ferris Wheel.

The youngsters will have their special corner at the showgrounds in their own Kiddieland where they can safely enjoy such miniature rides as the Kiddie Auto, Kiddie Buggy, and Kiddie Airplane.

Special kiddie bargain matinee have been announced by the manager of the Gooding Unit on the Saturday of the show, May 7. For only 10 cents, children under 12 years of age can ride on all rides to their heart's content from 1 to 5 p.m. Admission to the grounds will be free.

A full line of concessions will complete the midway.

Gooding has been in the amusement ride business for more than 50 years and is recognized as the oldest, largest and most reliable company in this field in the world. Each season he sends 8 units over eleven states with some 75 riding devices which tickle the funny-bones of five million persons at more than 200 locations.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "A Letter to Three Wives," starring Jeanne Crain, Linda Darnell, Ann Sothern, as the three wives who do a standout job as middle-class suburban matrons worried about losing their husbands because they haven't been successful homemakers. They realize this when a mutual friend writes she has left town with one of their husbands. Linda Darnell—as the girl who has married her rich boss, and Paul Douglas, as her cynical husband, excel. They were the Smart Set, but dumb about marriage. Also on the bill is "Unknown Island" filmed in Cinecolor. This is a highly imaginative adventure picture.

Lane Theater To Be Dedicated

Many prominent Columbus residents have received invitations for the formal dedication of the Lane Theatre, to the memory of Clarence A. MacDonald, on May 3.

The date is the anniversary of Mr. MacDonald's birth. A legendary figure in Ohio State University sportlore, Mr. MacDonald died in 1940 at the age of 43.

In addition to being one of Ohio State University's most outstanding athletes, Mr. MacDonald also is regarded as the father of neighborhood theaters in the Columbus areas.

The present Academy Theater chain was founded by him. The owners of the Academy circuit acquired the MacDonald theatres after his death and founded the present Academy Theatres, ten neighborhood playhouses located throughout Columbus and suburban areas.

Mr. MacDonald was one of two men ever to captain two major sports teams at the University. He was captain of the Basketball Varsity Squad for the 1918-1919 season and captain of the Varsity football team in 1918.

An oil painting of Mr. MacDonald will be unveiled at the formal dedication ceremonies.

Those taking part in the ceremony will include Dr. James R. Hull, presiding; Dr. John W. Wilce, former OSU varsity football coach, Mayor Otis Skinner, of Upper Arlington; Herbert Horn, president of the Upper Arlington Civic Ass'n, Leo Yassenoff, representing the owners of the Academy Theatres, Mrs. Clarence MacDonald and Dean MacDonald, son of the late sports and theatre figure.

The memorial service will begin at 7 p.m. The Lane Theatre is located in the vast new Lane Shopping Center at 1681 West Lane Avenue.

Civic Orchestra At South

Two Columbus organizations are joining forces in presenting a program of symphonic music at South High School on Tuesday, May 10, at 8:30 p.m. The Columbus Civic Concert Orchestra will play under the auspices of The Central Ohio District of American Relief for Germany, Inc. Assisting in sponsoring the program are the Columbus Maennerchor, century-old German - American singing society; the Germania Singing Society; the Workers' Singing Society; and the Workmen's Benefit Fund.

The Columbus Civic Concert Orchestra is a community orchestra organized eight years ago. It is composed of musically inclined people of Columbus and vicinity who look upon active participation in music as their most important form of recreation. For the third consecutive season the Columbus Civic Concert Orchestra has given public concerts for the benefit of various charitable causes. Each year it presents a concert at the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital. In addition to the full concert, smaller ensembles go from ward to ward to play to those disabled veterans who are unable to leave their beds. The Personnel of the orhcestra is varied. The members range in age from seventeen to sixty. Although the group includes professional and former professional musicians, most of the members are clerks, teachers, laborers, housewives, and one is on the Columbus Police Force. The conductor is Victor Voeller and the Chairman of the Board of the orchestra is Dr. E. N. Dietrich, former State Director of Education.

The sponsoring organization is a group of Columbus residents who for the past three years have been active in collecting funds and used clothing for relief in Germany. American Relief for Germany, Inc. is a nation-wide, non-profit, volunteer organization. It operates under a license from the President of the United States thru the Council of Relief Agencies Licensed to Operate in Germany. During the last three years it has sent food and clothing to be distributed to the refugees and war orphans in the bombed-out cities of Germany under the supervision of the American, British and French military governments. The Columbus group is headed by Erwin Rossbach, architectural engineer. Hans Rosck is Vice-president; Wm. F. Thiemt, Secretary; Anton Dodol, Treasurer; and Professor Reinhold Nordsieck, Executive Secretary.

The orchestra will feature Miss Marie Voeller, violoncellist, in Bach's Arioso. Among the other numbers will be Beethoven's Symphony No. 1 in C. The proceeds of the concert will be devoted entirely to relief in Germany. Admission will be $1.20. Students will be admitted for half-price.

Miss Martha Myers Is Bride Of Don. Short

White delphinium accentuated the altar of Worthington Methodist Church when Miss Martha Joan Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Myers of Worthington, exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Donald E. Short, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Short, 837 Stewart Avenue.

The nuptials were solemnized by the Rev. Mr. Finley D. Wood, Feb. 26 at 8 p.m.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gray tweed suit with blue accessories and carried a white prayerbook topped with an orchid tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Margaret J. Batterson of Hinsdale, Ill., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a blue tweed suit with blue accessories. Pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of pink carnations.

Dick Klamfoth To Place

The national 200-mile champion of the American Motorcycle Association, 23-year-old Dick Klamfoth, Groveport, O., farmer lad, has filed the first entry for the four-star motorcycle races which The Ohioans Motorcycle Club of Columbus, will stage at Powell Speedway on Sunday, May 8th.

Klamfoth, who rode to victory in the 200-mile national championship classic at Daytona Beach, Florida, on March 13th, bids fair to become the greatest name rider that Ohio has produced since the famous Jim Davis was setting world records some 15 years ago.

Dick's victory at Daytona was his first effort as an expert and it has made him a marked man this season. Most of the country's name riders will be shooting at him, and the May 8th races at Powell will mark one of their first opoprtunities.

This, coupled with the $1200 in prize money, is expected to be a real magnet to the country's ace riders, and Harry Stites, energetic head of The Ohioans, feels that one of the finest fields ever to face a starter on a Central Ohio track will be on hand.

Competition is expected to be equally keen in the novice and amateur divisions, and the entire field is expected to be a big one.

There'll be nine races with two preliminary heats and a final in each of the three divisions, and officials of The Ohioans say that if weather is right, there'll be some track records set.

A snappy, strictly on-schedule program is assured, and the track racing crew of The Ohioans will handle the entire card.

Miss Jean Wright Is Wed To R. Kirschner

Hope Evangelical Lutheran Church was the setting April 2nd for the wedding at 7:30 o'clock of Miss Jean Ellen Wright, daughter of Mrs. Carrie Fisher Wright, 1558 Forest St., and Mr. Robert L. Kirschner, son of Mrs. R. LeRoy Kirschner, 1162 E. Whittier St., and the late Mr. R. LeRoy Kirschner.

The Rev. Mr. Werner Stuck officiated at the ceremony which featured altar decorations of lighted tapers, bouquets of white carnations and white snapdragons. The chancel was adorned with huckleberry and two seven-branch candelabra.

Escorted down the candlelit aisle by her brother, Mr. Herbert Wright, the bride was wearing a gown of slipper satin designed on semi-princess lines with a fitted bodice and self-covered buttons down the front. The dress had cap sleeves with matching mitts. The extremely full skirt fitted plain over the hips and the back was cascaded by a bustle extending into a very wide cathedral train. Venician point lace held the knee-length fingertip veil of imported illusion. Completing her costume was a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis and hyacinths centered with a white orchid.

Her four attendants were gowns styled alike of satin and marquisette. They had off-shoulder necklines and fitted bodices; the satin extended over the hips in a bow. The extremely full gathered skirts were of marquisette. The maid of honor, Miss Harriette Dunn, wore a lilac dress, while the matron of honor, Mrs. George Mackey, cousin of the bride, was in a gold dress. The two attendants, Mrs. James Genoozis and Miss Marilyn Valentine, wore dresses of pale green. All the attendants carried lovely bouquets which were cascades of carnations centered with bountiful roses. They wore matching flowers in their hair.

The bridegroom chose Mr. Richard Heimlich for his best man. Seating the guests were Mr. Ralph Dickson, Mr. Joel Snyder and Mr. James Hart.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception honored the couple at the Beechwold. Hostesses were Miss Mary Hauselbetz and Miss Martha Loar.

The bride, a graduate of South High School, is associated with the Union Co. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi, international business girl's sorority.

Mr. Kirschner is a graduate of South High School and Ohio State University, where he became treasurer of Delta Upsilon fraternity and also treasurer of Beta Alpha Psi, national honorary accounting fraternity. He is associated with Keller, Kirschner, Martin and Clinger, certified public accountants.

The couple is making their home at 724 S. Chesterfield Rd.

The wedding of Miss Wilda Jane Edison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Edison, 111 S. 22nd St., and Mr. LeRoy W. Ripper of South Bend, Ind., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ripper of Pekin, Ill., took place March 20 at 2:30 p.m. in the Ohio Av Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The softly shirred bodice line cupped over the shoulders and the yoke was of sheer illusion. The long sleeves tapered to points over her hands. The shirred skirt swept into a full train. A shirred bonnet trimmed with lilies-of-the-valley held her fingertip veil of imported illusion which was bordered in Alencon lace. Her cascade bouquet was of white orchids and amazon lilies.

Miss Joann Edison was maid of honor for her sister and wore a canary yellow taffeta gown and carried a cascade bouquet of orchids. The bridesmaids, Miss Thelma Ripper of Pekin, Ill., sister of the bridegroom, wore orchid taffeta, Miss Judith Ann Riggs of South Bend, Ind., cousin of the bride, wore aqua taffeta. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations.

Best man was Mr. Hilbert Ripper of Pekin, brother of the bridegroom. Seating the guests were Mr. Ralph H. Edison, brother of the bride, and Mr. Lloyd Lanning of South Bend.

The reception was held at Balcony Hall party home followed by a buffet supper at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple is living in South Bend, Ind.

Not all yeast-leavened breads have to be kneaded. In batters and soft doughs the ingredients may be thoroughly mixed and the gluten properly developed by beating or stirring. Such batters and "no-knead" doughs are usually used for making a variety of little breads, such as muffins and rolls, as well as coffee cakes and other sweet breads.

Concert Scheduled For South High

Victor Voeller will direct the Columbus Civic Concert Orchestra in a program of symphonic music on Tuesday, May 10, in So. High School auditorium. The event is one of a series which the orchestra offers annually in support of various charities. The present concert is being sponsored by the local chapter of American Relief for Germany, Inc., and the proceeds will be devoted to relief in the stricken areas of Germany. The last concert was given on November 10 for the benefit of the I.O.O.F. Convalescent Hospital at Springfield

The orchestra is composed of eighty local residents and offers an opportunity to participate in symphonic music to music lovers who can not devote full time to a musical career. It was organized in 1941 under the leadership of Mr. Voeller. During the war years the orchestra was forced to disband temporarily. Upon his return from the Army in 1946 Mr. Voeller reactivated the organization.

Sponsoring organization, American Relief for Germany, Inc., enjoys the support of the Columbus Maennerchor, the Germania Singing Society, the Workers' Singing Society, the Workmens' Benefit Fund, and the Greater Beneficial Union. They are organizations composed largely of American citizens of German descent. Typical of the activities in the relief field was a February shipment of 109,954 lbs. of Soybeans to the German Central Committee for Relief through American Military Government authorities. The soybeans were sent unprocessed, thus giving employment and at the same time furnishing supplementary food for the child-feeding programs and the refugee camps. Recently American Relief for Germany received an emergency request from Military Government officials for medical supplies for civilians in blockaded Berlin. A whole plane load was flown in via Frankfurt a. M. and the Berlin Airlift

The concert will feature the following selections:

Overture to "Peter Schmoll"—Carl Maria von Weber;

Spanish Dances No. 2 and No. 5 Moszkowski;

Cossack Revels Tschakoff;

Symphony No. 1 in C Beethoven;

Allegro Apassionato — Saint Saens;

Arias J. S. Bach;

Dance of the Hours (La Gioconda) Ponchielli.

Tales from the Vienna Woods—Strauss.

The concert will begin at 8:30. Tickets may be had at the door

Economic Highlights

Writing in Nation's Business, Emerson P. Schmidt says: "In the November elections Norman Thomas and his Socialist party mustered a little more than 100,000 votes....Certainly this is not a very impressive showing...This record would seem to imply that socialism had little political future in the United States. Such an assumption would be premature."

Mr. Schmidt then lists ten developments which, in his opinion, have brought a strong tinge of socialism into the American government and our American life.

1. The Income Tax. This device is obviously a powerful leveller of income. Its logical end, Mr. Schmidt thinks, "is the final equalization of all incomes."

2. Social Security. We have some of it now. If current proposals are adopted, we will have it on an enormously costly, cradle-to-the-grave basis.

3. Federal Variable Grants-In-Aid. Normally, these grants are based in part on per capita income within a given state. The wealthier states thus pay for the poorer.

4. Food Allotment. A measure now in Congress would give stamps to low-income people with which they could obtain free food. Mr. Schmidt says: "Clearly, this opens far-reaching avenues for further redistribution of income and greater equalization."

5. Rent Control. Mr. Schmidt characterizes this as a "device for transferring income from people who supply housing to people who don't."

6. Public Housing. This is a very direct example of subsidizing one income group with money provided by a higher income group.

7. Driving Down the Interest Rate. That has been a basic feature of our fiscal policy for many years. The result is a vastly decreased income from savings, at the expense of those who have capital in either large or small amounts.

8. The Minimum Wage. The effect of this has been to raise the entire wage level As Mr. Schmidt says, "Here is another way of passing money from group to group."

9. The Labor Movement. The recent trend has been to greatly increase labor's power, and to give it a larger slice of the total national income.

10. Estate and Inheritance Taxes. They take over when the income tax stops, and make another deep dig into accumulated savings

Whether or not a person believes in the trend, Mr. Schmidt has made an impressive summing up of the extent to which we have moved toward the socialized "welfare" state.

Take Time to Drive Carefully!

Fair Deal in Name Only

J. E. Jones

Washington, D. C., May—The present labor laws have been under bitter attack by Members of the Democratic party in Washington for a long, long time. The President "took over" the labor Bosses in the election, and they all stood shoulder to shoulder for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. Despite that fact the President and the Courts in the National Capital stopped some bad strikes, including a big one on the railroads. John L. Lewis got bad "punches" by able Judges.

The Administration and Congress have given up their threat to revive the fossilized Wagner Act.

At present several Senators and Representatives have boosted new schemes for revision of the Taft-Hartley Act. One of the great ambitions of the Democrats is to change the title in any way that would hide the fact that it is a Republican child. Congressmen Wood and Lesinski have fathered new bills. It would smell sweet to the Democrats if they could call their law "Lesinski."

The fly in the ointment exists in the fact that there are between 50 and 70 Representatives in Congress who believe that the Taft-Hartley Act is the best labor law that the United States has ever passed. Most of them helped bury President Truman's two vetoes in the 80th Congress.

But don't overlook the fact that all the labor law rackets in Washington grow out of the determination to let the politicos in Congress know that they must bow their humble heads and remove the names of Taft-Hartley as fathers of the labor laws.

THE GOLD STANDARD

Information based upon a report from Government sources shows that the cost of running our Federal Government for one year is higher than roof-tops—and all the gold in the World isn't enough to meet the costs of U.S. Government operations for a year.

Dependable reporters have been sharpening pencils and they are telling us that the Federal Government plans to spend more than $45,000,000,000 in the coming fiscal year. That takes more gold than has been mined in 456 years.

There is a problem to work on. Solve it if you can!

* * *

THE RED CROSS

The American people are of one joyous mind over the success of the American Red Cross drive. The campaign was for $60,000,000 and it tops that total by $3,000,000. But, this is the best organization of all.

M-Day For Operation Small Fry

Children will delight in helping to prepare and package these wonderful little coconut apricot balls, to surprise Mother on Mother's Day. Of course, Mother may have to be in on the secret if the tots are as young as those in our picture—but they won't mind, so long as she acts surprised when she opens the box on Mother's Day.

This candy is so simple to make—it requires no cooking, you see—that after the preliminaries involving the food chopper, small fry will be able to take over operations quite readily, with a little direction. And it can be great fun shaping the little balls, rolling them in coconut, and packing them into a gift box. If, during the process, considerable "tasting" is required to make sure the candy is just right for Mother, you can be sure that these fruity little coconut balls are a healthful, and wholesome sweet for youngsters.

Once the grown-ups have tasted them, Coconut Apricot Balls will not be limited to Operation Small Fry. They take so little time to make, and they are so good and so economical, you will want to include this attractive confection in your plans on countless occasions—for parties, as hostess and holiday gifts, or just to have around the house for the family to enjoy.

COCONUT APRICOT BALLS

24 dried apricots
1 can moist shredded coconut
2 teaspoons orange juice
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Wash apricots and dry thoroughly. Put apricots and coconut through food chopper. Add orange juice and sugar and mix until blended. Shape into balls about ¾ inch in diameter. Roll in shredded coconut. Makes 2 dozen balls.

Mrs. Yockey, Mrs. Branscome, and Mrs. Fogle visited the Assembly Program last Friday given by the boys and girls in Room 110.

—R—

Reeb Carnival, Friday, May 6, 6:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Arnold Latham, Thurman Babbs, Eugene Harper, Rita Williams, Betty Lou Stump, Rosemary Benyi, Irene Bajus, Barbara Waugh, Barbara Carl, Elona Sabo, and Deloris Grimth bro't cans of dirt and planted the free zinnia and tomato seeds. When plants are large enough they will transplant them in their gardens at home.

Rita Williams, Elona Sabo, Barbara Carl, Jean Davis, and Lewis McCann of the 6B Class have signed Garden Club Cards. They expect to have nice home gardens this season.

Is my child ready to start to Kindergarten or First Grade? This is a question that should be answered "Yes" just as soon as possible. May we suggest that you consult your physician about vaccination against small pox and immunization against diphtheria. These diseases respect no social status but strike quite unexpectedly in any family. Only those who are prepared may be spared. The children who do not have this wonderful protection are being left open to attack unnecessarily.

—R—

Another service, which is available to parents of beginning children at Reeb, is a free health check by the school nurse, Miss Mary Malin. She is at Reeb every Monday from 1:15 to 3:15 and every Wednesday from 9 to 12. Either call for an appointment or bring your youngster in during these hours. An appointment may save you considerable time.

The Grandmothers' Club will meet Tuesday, May 10th, at 53½ East Gay St. at 1:30 p.m.

Fornof P. T. A.

Calling all mothers of eighth graders of Fornof School. Send twenty five cents (25c) by your son or daughter for a party for the graduation class. It may turn out to be a wiener roast, but on the other hand a party in the cafeteria would be nice, don't you think?

Mrs. Colburn is to be congratulated on her initiative in taking her class through the Buckeye Steel Castings Company. This is a project your out-going P.T.A. president has wanted to see carried out. It may give our boys some ideas with which to plan their future. Mrs. Colburn, you took the words right out of my mouth, or something.

We would like to say that Fornof P.T.A. is sponsoring the Red Cross Blood Donor Campaign in Marion Township, but actually we are only one small group in this great work. Ministers, members of our Fire Department, our Constables and all community leaders can give the campaign the needed publicity and help to live up donors.

If you are physically fit be prepared to sign up for a blood donation! It may help to have a life, the life of a dear friend, or even a relative!

Mothers, visit our cafeteria and acquaint yourselves with our lunch program. For twenty-seven cents (27c) your child can get a well-balanced meal. Where else could you get such value?

Some day we are going to ask Mrs. Binkley to tell us the story of how our lunch room got started. She can really rattle it off,—and why not?

Hard working Violet was one of the mothers whose efforts were responsible for this excellent addition to our school.

News In The World Of Religion

By W. W. Reid

Thirty thousand men and women throughout the United States are banded together to "pray daily in support of the United Nations." They are the members and friends of the "Laymen's Movement for a Christian World" (347 Madison Avenue, New York City), of which Wallace C. Speers is Chairman. The membership of the Movement is made up principally of merchants and men in high business, industrial and professional posts. On the third Sunday of each October, several thousands of prominent businessmen speak from Protestant pulpits on "Laymen's Sunday" under the auspices of the Movement.

The Methodist Church, through its Board of Missions and Church Extension and its Board of Education, expects to expend a total of $1,000,000 in the next four years for the bringing to the United States of perhaps 400 "Crusade scholars" and in providing for them scholarships in American colleges and universities. For the most part, they will be young Christian nationals from some forty countries of Europe, Asia, Africa, and Latin America, to which the Church sends missionaries. Many of them are the "products" of Methodist evangelistic, educational, medical and social welfare activities. Miss Eva Deane Kemp, of Dixon, Ky., is director of the undertaking.

The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. boasts that its missionary service to "the earliest inhabitants of America," the American Indian, now extends from coast to coast. One of its ministries is to the Indian Church in Brooklyn, N. Y., which includes some scores of Indians engaged in structural steel engineering projects in New York; another is to Indians in a government hospital in Tacoma, Wash., while a third is to rural Indians on the scattered Pima Reservation in southern Arizona.

Twenty-five national Bible Societies from all parts of the world will meet in New York City from June 8 to 18 as the "Council of the United Bible Societies" to consider worldwide needs for scripture publication, especially in the war-impoverished countries, and in mission lands. Plans for new translations in many languages, and plans for more adequate distribution of printing materials will be made. Bishop Eivind Berggrav, of Norway, will preside. American Bible Society representatives are Dr. Eric M. North and Dr. Gilbert Darlington.

Whitsunday, of the Day of Pentecost, observing the day upon which the early apostles received power that sent them out on a worldwide ministry of service and teaching, will be observed by all Christian faiths this year on Sunday, June 5. Protestant churches will, this year especially, emphasize the "spiritual community of all Christians," and the approach of the day when the Church Universal will be realized. Protestants are saying that "through the World Council of Churches (organized within a year) we draw nearer to the fulfillment of the promise, 'Ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost,' nearer the time when the day of Pentecost is fully come."

Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, the leading Christian of Japan for many years, was the founder of the "Rural Gospel School" movement in his native land in 1926. These generally lapsed during the war because of pressure for agricultural production and opposition to Christianity. Now they are being re-established by Dr. Kagawa and by officers of the Church of Christ in Japan, as a part of a nation wide evangelistic movement in the rural areas. These "schools" are held during the leisure seasons of the farmer's life, usually in winter or late autumn. The sessions may last for three days to one month; are led by local pastors, and draw in rural specialists and rural pastors with experience as their faculties; and provide a curriculum of Bible studies, social and domestic problems, farm management, agricultural practices, and health instruction.

The monthly needs of Church World Service (214 E. 21st St., New York City), the interdenominational relief agency of American Protestantism, to answer calls from Europe and Asia during this year are: 2,000 bales of men's heavy clothing; 700 bales women's heavy clothing; 700 bales infants layettes and clothing; 450 bales bedding, sheets, blankets, quilts; and of light clothing—700 bales for women, 350 bales for men, 700 bales for children. Packing, shipping, etc., cost eight cents per pound, and donors are requested to provide this cost along with the clothing.

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

3000 Free Tickets For Children

Three thousand free tickets for children under 12 years will be available for the Saturday and Sunday afternoon performances of the second annual Humane Society benefit horse show, J. Wallace Huntington, Society president, has announced.

The tickets will be provided only to adults holding horse show tickets, with a limit of three youngsters to each adult ticket, Mr. Huntington said.

The Humane Society horse show runs for two afternoons and four evenings, May 19 to 22 at the fairgrounds Coliseum.

Adults desiring tickets for children they plan to take to the show must present their tickets at the Humane Society offices, 22 East Gay St., between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. any day before the show.

In addition to the two performances on Saturday and Sunday, there'll be evening performances Thursday night through Sunday night.

Show stables from a score of states will compete in the 74 classes on the program.

Special entertainment for children will include the Rudynoff Famous Ballerina horses and the Curtiss Candy Co. six-pony hitch.

On Saturday night, from 8 p.m. until 9 p.m. and on Sunday, from 10 p.m. until 11 p.m., WLW-C will televise the horse show direct from the Coliseum ring.

The $500 championship stakes in major divisions of the show will be decided at the Sunday night show when Gov. Frank J. Lausche will be a guest.

Game and Fun Night

On Friday, April 22, the 8th and 7th grades participated in an evening of games and square dancing in the Fornof school auditorium. "Hermie" Kuehn and "Jim" Wagner directed all the activities and kept everything lively. The evening ended with the serving of delicious refreshments in the school dining room.

The following teachers, parents and friends were present: Principal and Mrs. C. B. Durbin, Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming, Miss Magdalene Bostic, Miss Evalyn Buechner, Mrs. C. C. Brown, Mrs. Nellie Scarberry, Mr. and Mrs. Estle Wallace, Mrs. James, Mrs. R. Wochlert and Mrs. G. Locket.

$600,000,000 Tourist Trade Forecast in Ohio

COLUMBUS—The annual influx of summer tourists will pour millions of added dollars into Ohio cash registers this year as compared with the 1948 vacation season, a survey of the latest seasonal trends by the International Geneva association, world wide hotel employees' organization, discloses.

With tourist travel slated to hit a post-war peak this summer, Ohio will gain about $600,000,000 from vacationing travelers in 1949—$100,000,000 over last year—business leaders believe.

Frank A. Ludwig, I.G.A. executive, said the survey indicates Ohio's resort, motel, cabin and hotel operators plan no big hike in prices. Food, entertainment and beverage prices will stay in line with national price indexes but some quality liquors will be lower in the state. For example, Stanley R. Teele, Ohio manager for the Gibson Distilling Company, said his company's Gibson's Selected 8 whiskey now is selling for $3.20 per four-fifths quart compared with $3.43 formerly.

Transportation costs will not differ from throughout the country, where the trend appears to indicate slight upward revisions in rail and bus fares but more attractive air line fares.

The greater part of Ohio's share in the multi-billion-dollar U.S. travel business comes from visitors on their way through the state for a few weeks of leisure in other parts of the country. Though tourists spent a half billion dollars in Ohio last year, Ohioans themselves spent almost that much in playgrounds in other states.

Efforts are now being made to induce Ohioans to find more of their recreation at home. The $400,000,000 they spent in other states last year is described as "much too impressive" for the Buckeye state's travel industry to ignore. Along with educating Ohioans on the advantages of their own state's vacation virtues, a program is being designed to coax "passers-through" off the main highways and into tours of the state. Even partial success of the dual program would mean an additional $100,000,000 for the state's travel industry. Ohio pins most of its hope of gleaning more travel dollars on state-developed projects—lakes, parks, forests and the 52 historical memorials open to tourists.

Enlisted Reserves Are Needed

Columbus, Ohio—The majority of the Enlisted Reservists who joined the ERC three years ago are now completing their first enlistment. The Army, recognizing the need to maintain a strong Reserve, is making an intensive effort to encourage these men to re-enlist, and to invite new members to join the Reserve.

It is the plan of the Army to develop an Enlisted Reserve Corps of 700,000 in the United States. Those who wish to join have the opportunity to do so as citizen-soldiers without disturbing their civilian employment. Men who desire to make themselves available in national emergencies only may join the inactive Reserve.

The advantages described by the Army include pay for attending training assemblies and for two weeks' active training each summer; credit points toward retirement; retention of grade and opportunities for promotion.

Those who wish to reenlist, or to join the Enlisted Reserve for the first time, may obtain complete information at local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station at Rm. 102 Old PO Bldg., or by calling MA-0004, Columbus, Ohio.

Motorists Check To Be Made

Next Tuesday, May 10, is "T-Day" in Columbus and Franklin County, when every motorist can help do something about the increasingly serious traffic problem.

It's "T" for Tuesday, "T" for Trips, which are to be recorded by all persons driving cars, trucks or buses that one day.

The project is all a part of the Origin and Destination Survey now being conducted by city, county, and state highway departments, with the cooperation of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce and other groups.

Success of the survey, which will give information vitally needed in traffic improvement, will depend entirely on the willingness of every motorist to cooperate on "T-Day." Here's what each motorist is asked to do on three days next week:

MONDAY—Receive thru the mail a double postcard, with full instructions.

TUESDAY—Make a record of every trip taken that day.

WEDNESDAY—Mail back the filled-out, pre-paid postcard.

As a further step in the survey, "road-blocks" are being set up from time to time this month at every major highway exit from the county, where outgoing motorists are asked to stop and give information on their trips. Observers also will be placed at key intersections throughout the area to make traffic-counts.

"Traffic is everybody's problem, and helping to solve those problems is everybody's job," say the survey sponsors. "Filling out the card next Tuesday is a 'must' for every good citizen!"

With postcards returned and the reports of all observers at hand, traffic engineers will plunge immediately into the task of interpreting the results and providing the information needed to improve local traffic conditions.

DON'T LOSE YOUR RIGHT TO DECIDE

You, as an American, are unique among the citizens of the World. No Government can tell you what you can or cannot do in making up your mind about those things affecting your daily life, your church or political preference, your social or business relationships or what have you. If you should decide to change your mind, that's all right, too. You even have the choice of giving up your right of voluntary decision. Unfortunately, once that privilege is gone, you can never get it back.

Certain groups in this country are now clamoring that you should voluntarily accept grandiose plans on a National scale to include medical care, housing, education, etc. They point to the success of such voluntary cooperatives as the nation-wide Blue Cross hospitalization plan.

The "planners" conveniently forget to tell you, however, that their plans call for the elimination of one important phase of our conception of "cooperation"—voluntary action. Once their plans are put into effect, your voluntary cooperation must necessarily become compulsory cooperation.

In support of their nationalized medicine proposal, the planners loudly acclaim the program of nationalized medical care in England. After all, they say, if a Briton doesn't like the doctor the Government tells him to go to, he may choose another private physician. If he does, however, he pays twice. Through his taxes he pays the Government for the doctor selected for him as well as the fee to the doctor which he selected himself. In other words, he is actually fined for exercising his "freedom" of choice. Although some freedom of choice does remain to him, it is rapidly becoming more and more illusory.

Do you have a favorite doctor?

Do you want to pay twice for the privilege of going to him?

HI-Y CITY DAY

Mayor Rhodes has officially proclaimed Friday, May 6, as Hi-Y City Day, when members of the Columbus Hi-Y clubs take over the administration of city government. The clubs rotate in the honor of selecting Mayor; this year the honor goes to the Spring St. Hi-Y club, whose members elected their president, Bennie Morris, of 1488 Mt. Vernon Ave., to succeed Mayor James Rhodes for the day.

Seven councilmen were elected last week, who will attend the city council meeting on Monday evening, May 2; they will observe the procedure of council, and on City day will hold a model council meeting at 2:00 in council chambers, introducing such legislation which they feel will better the city. The councilmen are: Homer Williams, of Grandview, who is also the President of the council; Ed. Fields, of Arlington; Donn Ray, of Linden; Dick Schmuck, of North, Bob Eshback of O.S.S.B.; Phil Howitz, of South, and Harland Randolph, of Spring St.

Boys from the South Side and offices they will hold, are as follows:

Phil Howitz, Councilman; Howard Wagner, Chief Accountant; Norman Evans, Welfare Director; Ray Dreher, Chief Clerk, Water Dept.; Jim Milenkovich, Chemist; Berhl Wishon, Supt. of the Airport; Jack Karch, Judge of Municipal Court; Paul Ebert, Sec'y, Board of Purchase; Bob Dunham, Commissioner, Board of Health; JoAnne Vanscoy, Supervisor, District Nurses.

The boys will meet at the Central YMCA at 8:45 a.m., and will arrive at city hall at 9:00, where they will assume their respective duties. At noon they will be the guests of city officials at a luncheon to be held at the YMCA auditorium, and Mayor Rhodes will speak. Following the luncheon, there will be a tour of the city hall, and at 2:00 will meet in the council chambers for the model council meeting. At 4:00 several of the boys will be interviewed by "Bud" Sweeney, of station WHKC; a transcription will be made, and will be broadcast later in the evening.

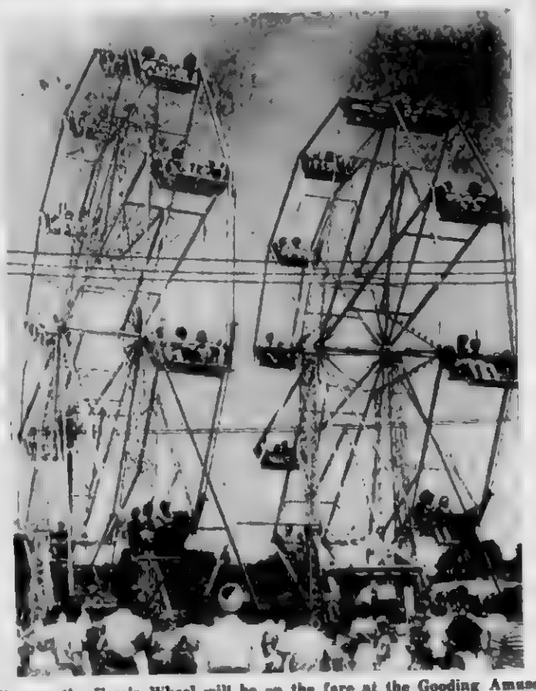
"Miraculous Journey" At Ideal Theater

This Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater is showing Miraculous Journey with Jim Banon and June Story. This is a Color Picture which will please the movie patrons. The second picture is Where There's Life starring Bob Hope. If you missed this Bob Hope comedy now is the time to see it. The story pits villainous foreign ministers and a black-hooded secret society against the frightened Hope and a lady general who wants to make him king of Barovia. Hope is at his best as he makes his way through this mythical kingdom plot. Also on the program is news and cartoon.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "Strike It Rich" starring Rod Cameron, a picture with thrills as bold as the screen can hold, blazing with the excitement, adventure and romance of America's richest industry. The lusty saga of iron men risking their all for oil. Also on the double bill is "Kissing Bandit" starring your swoon favorite, Frank Sinatra, with plenty of songs, music and fun.



"LIFE OF RILEY" AT THE SOUTHLAND

Sunday through Tuesday, the Southland will show the Roy Rogers starrer, "Grand Canyon Trail" on a double bill with "Unknown Island." The latter, filmed in color, stars Virginia Grey, Richard Denning and Barton MacLane in an action-packed story of a modern day expedition to a Pacific isle inhabited by prehistoric monsters.

Ferris Wheel Born In Mind Of Farm Boy

Fun on the Ferris Wheel will be on the fare at the Gooding Amusement Company midway at Parsons and Reeb Showgrounds tonight and every night May 2 to 7 with special kiddie bargain matinee on Saturday, May 7.

— o —

Towering over the crowds at the Parsons and Reeb Showgrounds, May 2 to 7, will be a giant Ferris Wheel, part of the glittering midway to be set up by the Gooding Amusement Company. Affording a high vantage point for all the varied activities at the Gooding Amusement Company midway, it will bear testimony to the brilliant mathematical skill of a young Galesburg, Ill. farm boy that won him world renown in the gay 90's.

Young George Washington Gale Ferris, a mathematical prodigy, then fresh from college and thrashing about for some way to make an impression on the world, asked himself, "What can I contribute to the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893?"

Mulling the thought over in a Chicago chophouse as work began on the big exposition, he conceived the idea for an amusement ride. Moreover, then and there, he worked out the details in his mind, fixing the size of the cars, their capacity, the number of stops per revolution for loading, the power and the required strength.

With only his plan in his head to go on, he told the fair officials of his idea. They granted him a location and he set about to draft the plans and to raise the necessary $380,000 to build and erect it.

Never altered after he first conceived them in the chophouse, his plans called for a wheel 268 feet high, with a 44 foot shaft, 33 inches in diameter, set 150 feet off the ground; and a 60 passenger capacity for each of the 36 cars with a total ride load of 2,160 persons at one time.

He managed to raise the money—a huge sum at that time—and began ordering parts from manufacturer from all over the country. Not one part had to be altered; all fit perfectly—a tribute to his genius.

Weighing 70 tons, the ride was powered by two 1,000 horsepower engines. It proved to be a tremendous success despite the high price for a ride—50 cents. Fully loaded, the gigantic wheel yielded $1,080 per trip and during the run of the fair it grossed $726,000. From Chicago it was taken to the St. Louis Exposition where it amassed an additional $450,000.

Since this original wheel, which has never been equalled in size since then, the design of those which followed has undergone changes to permit easy transportation from city to city and enable easy teardown and assembly. Basically, the rides of today are the same as the one built by the man for which they are named.

Floyd Gooding bought his first Ferris Wheel when he was twenty years of age and started out in the amusement ride business. Today he sends many Ferris Wheels around eleven states along with some 75 other riding devices, tickling the funnybones of millions of folks in a season. Gooding has brought his rides to this area for the past many years and is no doubt grateful to the farm boy from Illinois—young George Ferris—for his imagination and mechanical genius in originating the idea for one of the most popular rides on a midway.

Water Follies of 1949

The famed Water Follies of 1949, gigantic stage and water musical revue, will be presented at Red Bird Stadium for 9 nights, starting June 3rd, and running through June 11th, according to a recent announcement made by Raymond L. Lewis, Illustrious Potentate of the Aladdin Temple. Proceeds from all 9 shows will benefit the Aladdin Crippled Children's Hospital Association, Inc.

The 1949 Water Follies, which appeared in Columbus last year under the auspices of the Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra Association, will be given nightly performances at Red Bird Stadium. The stadium was selected as the site for this year's show because of its tremendous seating capacity, and according to Mr. Lewis' announcement, prices have been greatly reduced over those of last year, ranging from $1.20 to $2.40.

The entire show will be presented in the worlds' largest portable pools and stage, which will be placed at home plate in the stadium, running diagonally from home team dug-out to the visiting team dug-out. Huge scenery will be placed right back of the two portable pools and stage, allowing the performers to face the audience directly.

The appearance in Columbus of the Water Follies starting June 3rd, will actually be the premiere appearance in the United States of the 1949 production, which retains but two of the most highly successful numbers of the 1948 show. The Water Follies will be coming to Columbus directly from Caracas, Venezuela, where it is appearing for a 4-week stay at the baseball park. It opened its 1949 tour in Havana, Cuba, at the Gran Stadium de la Habana, and after selling out its 2-week engagement there, had to extend it an additional two weeks.

Several new stage acts are being featured in the 1949 show, which will be staged and produced by Noel Sherman, noted Hollywood and Broadway producer. Included among these acts will be the internationally famous "Lavernes," an Apace act; Tyler, Thorne and Roberts, a different type of stage knockabout comedy; Mario and Francesco, an unusual contortion hand-balancing act; Jack Marlin, sensational impersonator of stars of stage, screen and radio, who was a big hit here last year; the lovely singing of Jacques Barrie and his sister, Janice, and many other stage acts. The master of ceremonies will again be Lenny Laden, who will be remembered as also being an excellent comedy impersonator.

Several new divers have been added to that of last year's cast; among the aquatic stars will be Peter Fick, world's fastest swimmer; Eddie Rose, one of the world's great water comedians, Roger-Nadeau, New England fancy diving champion; Whitey Hart, acrobatic diver; Jimmy Martin, former Southwestern sectional diving champion; Johnny Edmiston, one of the nation's foremost fancy divers; Emile Hotte, Canadian fancy diving champion, and Miss Norma Dean, former national woman's fancy diving champion.

There will be a total of 22 scenes in the 2½ hour show, of which 12 will be presented in the water, and 10 on the stage. A new tuneful musical score has also been specially arranged for the Water Follies of 1949 by its musical director, Les Rhodes. Tickets for the 1949 Water Follies may be obtained from any Aladdin Temple Shriner, or at a downtown ticket office to be announced later

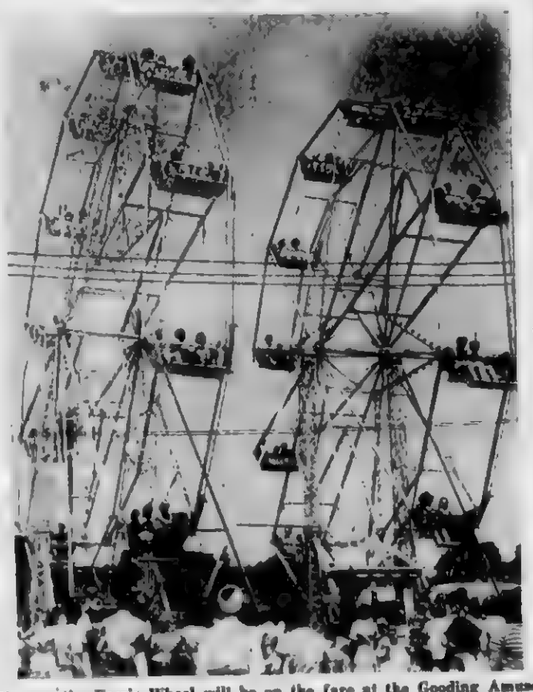
"Miraculous Journey" At Ideal Theater

This Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater is showing Miraculous Journey with Jim Banon and June Story. This is a Color Picture which will please the movie patrons. The second picture is Where There's Life starring Bob Hope. If you missed this Bob Hope comedy now is the time to see it. The story pits villainous foreign ministers and a black-hooded secret society against the frightened Hope and a lady general who wants to make him king of Barovia. Hope is at his best as he makes his way through this mythical kingdom plot. Also on the program is news and cartoon.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "Strike It Rich" starring Rod Cameron, a picture with thrills as bold as the screen can hold, blazing with the excitement, adventure and romance of America's richest industry. The lusty saga of iron men risking their all for oil. Also on the double bill is "Kissing Bandit" starring your swoon favorite, Frank Sinatra, with plenty of songs, music and fun.



"LIFE OF RILEY" AT THE SOUTHLAND

Sunday through Tuesday, the Southland will show the Roy Rogers starrer, "Grand Canyon Trail" on a double bill with "Unknown Island." The latter, filmed in color, stars Virginia Grey, Richard Denning and Barton MacLane in an action-packed story of a modern day expedition to a Pacific isle inhabited by prehistoric monsters.

Ferris Wheel Born In Mind Of Farm Boy

Fun on the Ferris Wheel will be on the fare at the Gooding Amusement Company midway at Parsons and Reeb Showgrounds tonight and every night May 2 to 7 with special kiddie bargain matinee on Saturday, May 7.

Towering over the crowds at the Parsons and Reeb Showgrounds, May 2 to 7, will be a giant Ferris Wheel, part of the glittering midway to be set up by the Gooding Amusement Company. Affording a high vantage point for all the varied activities at the Gooding Amusement Company midway, it will bear testimony to the brilliant mathematical skill of a young Galesburg, Ill. farm boy that won him world renown in the gay 90's.

Young George Washington Gale Ferris, a mathematical prodigy, then fresh from college and thrashing about for some way to make an impression on the world, asked himself, "What can I contribute to the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893?"

Mulling the thought over in a Chicago chophouse as work began on the big exposition, he conceived the idea for an amusement ride. Moreover, then and there, he worked out the details in his mind, fixing the size of the cars, their capacity, the number of stops per revolution for loading, the power and the required strength.

With only his plan in his head to go on, he told the fair officials of his idea. They granted him a location and he set about to draft the plans and to raise the necessary $380,000 to build and erect it.

Never altered after he first conceived them in the chophouse, his plans called for a wheel 268 feet high, with a 44 foot shaft, 33 inches in diameter, set 150 feet off the ground; and a 60 passenger capacity for each of the 36 cars with a total ride load of 2,160 persons at one time.

He managed to raise the money—a huge sum at that time—and began ordering parts from manufacturer from all over the country. Not one part had to be altered; all fit perfectly—a tribute to his genius.

Weighing 70 tons, the ride was powered by two 1,000 Horsepower engines. It proved to be a tremendous success despite the high price for a ride—50 cents. Fully loaded, the gigantic wheel yielded $1,080 per trip and during the run of the fair it grossed $726,000. From Chicago it was taken to the St. Louis Exposition where it amassed an additional $450,000.

Since this original wheel, which has never been equalled in size since then, the design of those which followed has undergone changes to permit easy transportation from city to city and enable easy teardown and assembly. Basically, the rides of today are the same as the one built by the man for which they are named.

Floyd Gooding bought his first Ferris Wheel when he was twenty years of age and started out in the amusement ride business. Today he sends many Ferris Wheels around eleven states along with some 75 other riding devices, tickling the funnybones of millions of folks in a season. Gooding has brought his rides to this area for the past many years and is no doubt grateful to the farm boy from Illinois—young George Ferris for his imagination and mechanical genius in originating the idea for one of the most popular rides on a midway.

Man and wife were given to furious quarreling. One day after a vicious stand-to, she cried: "Oh, how I wish I was in Heaven!" "So, there you go again," the hubby sounded off. "Always picking out the best place for yourself!"

Water Follies of 1949

The famed Water Follies of 1949, gigantic stage and water musical revue, will be presented at Red Bird Stadium for 9 nights, starting June 3rd, and running through June 11th, according to a recent announcement made by Raymond L. Lewis, Illustrious Potentate of the Aladdin Temple. Proceeds from all 9 shows will benefit the Aladdin Crippled Children's Hospital Association, Inc.

The 1949 Water Follies, which appeared in Columbus last year under the auspices of the Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra Association, will be given nightly performances at Red Bird Stadium. The stadium was selected as the site for this year's show because of its tremendous seating capacity, and according to Mr. Lewis' announcement, prices have been greatly reduced over those of last year, ranging from $1.20 to $2.40.

The entire show will be presented in the worlds' largest portable pools and stage, which will be placed at home plate in the stadium, running diagonally from home team dug-out to the visiting team dug-out. Huge scenery will be placed right back of the two portable pools and stage, allowing the performers to face the audience directly.

The appearance in Columbus of the Water Follies starting June 3rd, will actually be the premiere appearance in the United States of the 1949 production, which retains but two of the most highly successful numbers of the 1948 show. The Water Follies will be coming to Columbus directly from Caracas, Venezuela, where it is appearing for a 4-week stay at the baseball park. It opened its 1949 tour in Havana, Cuba, at the Gran Stadium de la Habana, and after selling out its 2-week engagement there, had to extend it an additional two weeks.

Several new stage acts are being featured in the 1949 show, which will be staged and produced by Noel Sherman, noted Hollywood and Broadway producer. Included among these acts will be the internationally famous "Lavernes," an Apace act; Tyler, Thorne and Roberts, a different type of stage knockabout comedy; Mario and Francesco, an unusual contortion hand-balancing act; Jack Marlin, sensational impersonator of stars of stage, screen and radio, who was a big hit here last year; the lovely singing of Jacques Barrie and his sister, Janice, and many other stage acts. The master of ceremonies will again be Lenny Laden, who will be remembered as also being an excellent comedy impersonator.

Several new divers have been added to that of last year's cast; among the aquatic stars will be Peter Fick, world's fastest swimmer; Eddie Rose, one of the world's great water comedians, Roger-Nadeau, New England fancy diving champion; Whitey Hart, acrobatic diver; Jimmy Martin, former Southwestern sectional diving champion; Johnny Edmiston, one of the nation's foremost fancy divers; Emile Hotte, Canadian fancy diving champion, and Miss Norma Dean, former national woman's fancy diving champion.

There will be a total of 22 scenes in the 2½ hour show, of which 12 will be presented in the water, and 10 on the stage. A new tuneful musical score has also been specially arranged for the Water Follies of 1949 by its musical director, Les Rhodes. Tickets for the 1949 Water Follies may be obtained from any Aladdin Temple Shriner, or at a downtown ticket office to be announced later

Education's Task Today

Communism has forced us to rethink every area of our national life, whether we like it or not.

George E. Sokolsky, national syndicated columnist, wrote in an article on April 9:—"Militant undemocratic ideologies have gained power out of all proportion to their principles and doctrines based on class and race warfare." To meet this challenge he told of the amazing steps the Los Angeles Board of Education have taken and quoted a paragraph from their statement of policy: "The schools of the democratic nations must, therefore, teach their future leaders the democratic point of view which is based on moral and spiritual concepts. We look to our educators to teach...the simple basic principles of a) sound moral standards, b) faith in God, c) respect for human dignity." Concluding his column Sokolsky said, "Los Angeles has shown the way."

A few days later a California school principal spoke at a conference on "Education's part in this ideological age" held at Moral Re-Armament's headquarters in Los Angeles. "The function of education in an ideological age is out of the class room into the to train men and women to step heart of the nation to answer its needs," he declared. One teacher brought four of her pupils as "visual aids." For the past six months she has been teaching 300 high school students each day not only the ideas of democracy, but how they can be applied at home and school.

A university professor described the vicious battle for control raging on his campus, and then introduced two of his students, a former big league baseball player and his wife. "My professor has given me an ideology, fighting spirit, and a reason why there should be a living democracy," said this student. He told how their class had found "a positive working basis" rather than being bogged down by "paralysis of analysis." When his wife, a first grade teacher, introduced the idea of absolute moral standards into the class room, parents called her up to inquire what had caused their children to behave so differently at home.

These are the men and women who in and out of the class room are answering the nation's needs.

Racing Starts Today

Columbus, O., May 7—Preparations and plans for Beulah Park's 20-day meeting of running races May 7-May 30 are completed. All indications point to a successful spring season for the Grove City plant, where stabling accomodations are at a premium despite the fact that two new barns—each housing 54 stalls—have been built.

President and General Manager Robert J. Dienst has announced that twilight racing will prevail every day except Saturdays and Memorial Day. Post time for the first race on twilight days will be 4 p.m., on Saturday and Memorial Day 2:30.

Featuring the opening card will be the running of the six-furlong Inaugural, traditional first-day headlines. Top number for the entire racing season will be the tenth running of the Governor's Handicap, set for Saturday, May 23.

The jockey contest—a highlight of every Beulah meeting—promises to be more interesting than ever. Participants will include Keater Hooper, Colin Knisley, W. B. Williams, Billy Taylor and some 45 other talented reinsmen.

Hooper is a 97-pound apprentice under contract to E. J. Easthom. Knisley, a native of Washington C. H., O., is essaying a saddle comeback after being on the shelf most of last year with a leg injury. Williams always rides his share of Beulah winners while Taylor is a comparative newcomer to the Grove City course altho he has plied his trade with much success on other mid-western tracks.

Largest stable on the grounds is Al Wellman's establishment. Wellman will campaign 23 horses. Frank Perry is next to Big Al in this department as his stable contains 18 head.

End Legalized Tax Dodging

When Federal governments, state governments, and city governments are scraping the bottom of the barrel in order to find more and more tax money, it is a remarkable thing that the rank and file taxpayers, who have to dig up all the money, continue to countenance tax exemptions of government owned business and the activities of cooperative corporations, engaged in profit making commercial activity.

There originally was a reason for exempting from taxation public buildings and property which was used for public purposes for all the people. They were not commercial enterprises in competition with private citizens. There is a reason for exempting from taxes church properties, school properties, and cooperative undertakings which are non-profit. But when any of these activities enter a commercial field for profit and compete with other business which is taxed, there is no longer any excuse for their tax exemption.

Take a specific case that can be seen in all parts of the land—government power development. Each government power plant, built with taxpayers' money, takes business away from private companies that pay taxes. Such tax-exempt government competition is no function of government. It is unfair and unjust. Between private companies, if one was granted such advantages over a competitor, it would be prosecuted for indulging in policies destructive of competition.

What would lawmakers say if the power industry in one state asked that it be made tax-exempt so that it could thereby lower its rates, create a monopoly and absorb the power industry of an adjoining state? And yet the Federal government is doing that very thing in all parts of the country today.

This is a strange situation at a time when every department of government is demanding more and more taxes from already overtaxed people. Why not begin taxing the untaxed? How much longer will the people stand for the present legalized form of tax dodging?

Reports Reveal Million Girls In Scout Units

Simultaneous reports from the Girl Scouts of the United States and the Girl Scout Council of Greater New York revealed a total national Scout membership of 1,265,251 in 1948 and a local enrollment of about 4,000. The national membership included 292,536 adult volunteers who served as sponsors, troop leaders, council members, and advisers.

National membership also included 372,834 Brownie Scouts between the ages of 7 and 10, 550,678 Girl Scouts, 10 to 14; and 49,202 senior scouts, 14 to 18. It was estimated that by 1950 1,375,000 girls will have reached the age of 7, about 300,000 more than the number "graduated" outside the range of Scout work.

Spend $1,904,186

The national organizations reported spending $1,904,186.13 of which $750,000 went to local councils in the United States and in the territories of Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Guam, the Canal Zone and the Virgin Islands.

Declaring that never was there a greater need for a code of honor, the national office of the Girl Scouts listed the 10 "laws" of Girl Scouting, which were: the Girls Scout's "honor to be trusted," her loyalty, a spirit of usefulness to others, "a friend to all and a sister to every other Scout," a sense of courtesy, friendliness to animals, a willingness to obey orders, cheerfulness, thriftness, the principle that a Scout "is clean in thought, word, and deed."

The Keystone Cops

Secretary Gen. Trygve Lie, in an effort to keep things moving at Lake Success, has proposed that the United Nations create an 800 man uniformed guard. These international cops would join U. N. and see the world. Their job would be to protect the lives and security of members of U. N. missions.

This proposal might be subject to the criticism that it is silly, but Jacob A. Malik, soviet spokesman in the general assembly, worked up the customary tantrum on other grounds. He said that such a force, acting at Lie's direction, would be "an obedient and pliant weapon of the ruling circles of the United States."

The ruling circles are not going to embark upon a program of world conquest with 800 cops. Mr. Malik would have to look no farther than Mr. Truman's military budget of almost 16 billion dollars to discover that the said circles have a more ambitious design for stirring up trouble.

Fornof School News

Second Grade—

In Mrs. Brown's Second Grade Class, at Fornof, three children have had perfect attendance records all year. They are, Janet Moore, Clarence Ervin and Gerald Davis.

Janet Moore visited relatives in Kentucky last week end. She saw her cousin, Faye Young, who formerly attended Fornof in the 8th grade, this year. Tommy Moore and Tracy Soles will be in the Benfield Church Mother's Day Program. Other children are planning to be in it also.

Second and Third Grades—

The Second and Third Grades are going to the Museum at OSU, Friday.

Fourth Grade—

Ina Davis and Robert McGhee of the Fourth grade were winners of the Preliminary track meet.

We have a new girl, Eleanor Marcum, in our room. She came from Main Street School.

The children in Special Art are doing soap carving. They are carving people and animals.

The Fourth Graders are planning a trip to Moores and Ross to see how ice cream and other dairy products are made.

Seventh Grade—

The seventh grade enjoyed a wiener roast last Friday at "Y" Park. Mrs. Harold Becker and Mrs. Sewall Jackson gave us this outing. We had a very nice time. There were ten mothers to take care of us and six cars for transportation. Thanks to the ladies.

There were three rooms visited Thursday by the members of a Guidance Class from Ohio State University. The Seventh Grade was proud to be one of those chosen by this group. They thought our room was nice and enjoyed our talks. We hope they will come again. Dr. Alice Seaman and her class were very complimentary of our school and its lovely play ground.

Eighth Grade—

The Franklin County Spelling Bee was held at Hamilton High School April 29. There were 35 representatives for written and oral. The 18 highest scorers in the written test spelled orally. The 6th, 7th and 8th grades were represented. The oral test was conducted by Mr. E. Beck, Assistant County Superintendent. There was a pronouncer, two judges and audience. The oral spelling was held in the Hamilton High School auditorium. There were six complete rounds before anyone made a mistake in spelling any of the words. Fornof school still had two representatives, Carol Bowen and Bessie Leigh in the oral spelling. One by one the spellers went down until the finalists, Carol Bowen of Fornof and Judy Potter of Worthington remained. Everyone was excited and tense. Which one would win? Finally Judy missed. Carol spelled the mis-spelled word and another word to gain victory! The award was a ball point pen with two refills. Saturday, May 7, Carol and nine others from Franklin County were to compete for final honors at Virginia Hotel.

Early Maps On Exhibit

One of the most outstanding exhibitions of early maps of No. America ever to be shown in Ohio is now on display at the Ohio State Museum, High St., at 15th Ave., and will be open to the public on week days 8:30 to 5:00, and Sundays 1:00 to 5:00 thru June 15th.

The highlight of the exhibit is the Mitchell map, published in London in 1755. Samuel Flagg Bemis, Professor of History at Yale has declared it to be the most famous map in the history of American diplomacy. This was the official map used to determine boundaries between Canada and the United States at the end of the Revolutionary War. The Museum map is one of the few originals in existence.

The earliest original map is a 1690 pictorial one in color. Whales, buffaloes, and other animals, Indians and early settlers in various stages of dress and undress, Niagara Falls, skylines of New York and Quebec, are all shown in unbelievably bright colors, although painted by hand over 250 years ago.

Models of the early sailing vessels and two early globes add interest to the show. The largest globe was made by a Columbus man, James Hartley, in 1855, and was used by him in teaching geography to his children.

The most interesting map of early Ohio was made by Rufus Putnam in 1804. Franklinton, later Columbus, Chillicothe on the Scioto and old Chillicothe on a tributary of the Little Miami, Lane Ville, at the edge of Zanesville, Cleveland, Gallipolis, Cincinnati, Point Pleasant, and a number of other early towns are shown.

The early cartographers conception of the Great Lakes from 1770 to 1815 are not only interesting but sometimes fantastic. The exhibition was planned by Elizabeth Biggert, Documents Librarian, and executed by Cyril Webster, technician.

Fire Escapes Recommended For Siebert School

PRESIDENTIAL PRANKS

Some of the metropolitan papers have been criticizing the President for claiming that he "has reserve authority that he can use whenever he may see the need to exercise it." Trouble is: The more Presidents we get the more authority they assume. After all, FDR was the man who traveled across the World and made bargains galore in trading with foreign rulers who didn't keep the truce that they had agreed upon.

On Monday it was announced that Ray Pennell assistant chief of city building inspections, has inspected Siebert St. Elementary School, accompanied by other city building department officials and members of the fire prevention bureau, and his recommendations follow —

1—Two school type fire escapes to be installed at the Siebert St. School: one thru the teachers' room to the East and another thru the crafts room on the West side of the building.

2—Close an open light well at the Siebert St. School.

In making the recommendations, Pennell took into consideration the present remodeling plans of the Board of Education and plans for abandoning Siebert St. School.

We don't want to seem sarcastic, but it was in the fall of 1923 that abandonment of Siebert St. School was first recommended—just 26 years ago. At this rate it probably will be abandoned 26 years from now or in 1975.

While we agree that two of the main defects have been recommended for repairs, there are 9 other major defects in this school which were completely ignored.

Other members of the inspection party were John C. Stith, chief of building inspection; Lt. Paul Casey, and inspectors C. J. Burke and Max Miller of the Fire Prevention Bureau; and Arch Allis, chief engineer of the Columbus Board of Education.

We just wonder while they were looking why they couldn't see the other defects.

We are reprinting our survey of the Siebert St. School which we published in our April 28th issue:—

1. Plaster Board nailed over furnaces in place of gabestos insulation against fires.

2. A wooden door in an air space between two furnaces.

3. Wooden open archways in the basement which would form perfect flues in case of a fire.

4. A thin coat of plaster over wood lath in the basement; the plaster badly cracked, which is further fire hazard. Metal lath should be placed here with thick plaster.

5. Old stairways constructed of yellow pine which, as any one knows, is the finest kindling for a fire.

6. A monstrosity called a well on the second floor (used for observation to the first floor) over which is a sky-light, which would make a perfect flue for a fire.

The floor around this well is in a weakened condition.

7. Furnace radiator pipes on both the first and second floors encased in wooden frames. These frames run from the basement to the first and second floor. Another perfect flue.

8. No fire escapes for the protection of 400 children. If the stairways should go out in case of a fire, children would be trapped.

9. Old toilets for use of the children. These toilets are in a row where they flush automatically for the 8 or 10 toilets at one time.

10. Furnaces belching gas fumes from cracked domes. Naturally these fumes contain carbon monoxide gas.

11. Due to loose windows the rooms are so cold in extremely cold weather the children have to wear sweaters and leggings in school and some classes have to be held in the halls in cold weather.

In article 1 of the above reasons, no recommendation of improvement has been made. This cost should be inexpensive.

In article 2 of the above, this could be replaced by a steel door costing very little.

In article 4, nothing is recommended for replacing the wooden lath with metal lath and a new coat of plaster.

In article 5 the wood stairways remain. But the recommendation of fire escapes will help.

In article 6, the light well has been recommended for improvement and elimination

In article 7, no recommendations have been made for furnace repairs or the elimination of gases from these furnaces.

In article 8, according to Mike Dunn, member of the Board of Education, two fire escapes will be placed as recommended.

In article 9, old toilets are to be left as is.

In article 10, furnaces will continue to belch gas which contains carbon monoxide.

In article 11, nothing will be done to eliminate the hall classes in cold weather.

We don't want to be sarcastic, but maybe they need to have the inspectors down in Siebert Street School again. Maybe they can see better the next time.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

The dramatic non-stop, roundthe world flight of an Air Force bomber can be viewed from several perspectives. It was a technical achievement of high magnitude. It indicated the peak quality of the military eqiupment we are now producing. And, above all, the flight was undoubtedly planned to dovetail with our present international policy.

About a year ago, according to reports, a similar flight was projected, and was abandoned at the insistance of the State Department, which then felt it would further annoy the Russians and make an amicable settlement of U.S.-U.S.S.R. disagreements even more difficult. This time, significantly, the State Department took another view, and either endorsed the venture or did nothing to stop it. That in itself is a good example of the change in American diplomatic thinking that has taken place in a very short time. Our policymakers have clearly come to the conclusion that any thing resembling appeasement of Russia can only result in more Communist aggression. Along with this, they feel the need to strengthen the resolve of the Western powers, particularly the smaller ones, which run the greatest potential risks when they throw in their lot with this country and Britain.

The flight, in effect, served notice on the world that American power exists in fact as well as in theory—and that the entire globe is within reach of our military arms. What one plane has done, swarms of others could do in the future if the need arose. But the fact the flight required several refueling contacts enroute again demonstrates forcefully that need of a balanced military establishment including a navy capable of defending and supplying bases.

Western Europe has long wanted definite demonstrations of this country's military strength. The Western military alliance, if it is to succeed, must have its material base in the United States. Unpleasant as the fact may be, the most sincere pledges of mutual purpose are meaningless unless there exists a huge reservoir of armed forces to give the documents meaning. At present, there is a question of just how far this country can or will go in supporting that alliance. The European countries, very naturally, would like an outright guarantee that we would go to war if they were attacked, or their independence seriously threatended. That point of view also has many sincere adherents here. But there are equally sincere opponents, who believe that it might be disastrous to commit ourselves in advance of the fact. The search is being made for an acceptable comprise between extremes.

Someone has said that the "cold war" is turning into a "cold peace." But no one can now see an end to the saber rattling on either side.

* * *

Happenings That Effect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

During the campaign, President Truman's heaviest guns were trained on the Republican-controlled 80th Congress. He aimed everything in the arsenal at it and, as the election result proved, it paid off in the precious coin of votes.

Now the Democratic-controlled 81st Congress has been a study in slow motion. Representative Jackson of California said, "I'm glad Truman called the 80th the second worst Congress in history. It looks like you fellows will make the grade for top honors." Senator Brewster of Maine observed that "practically the only action of the 81st Congress to date has been to increase the Presidential salary." Senator Baldwin of Connecticut asked, "What are the great, earth shaking, country-saving, highly patriotic measures that have been passed by the present Congress to date?"

It hardly comes under the head of flash news to report that the members of one major party are doing all they can to make hay at the expense of the other major party. Administration leaders in House and Senate have been able to come up with only feeble defenses of the 81st Congress. The plain fact is that the all-inclusive Truman program has fallen into the doldrums. There is small chance of the larger part of it becoming law. Majority sentiment in Congress favors making haste slowly.

The great social security bill is an example. It would raise the cost from the present $1,800,000,000 a year to something like $6,000,000,000. In the words of Newsweek, "The reaction of Congress to the revolutionary extension—ranged from a quiet lack of enthusiasm to outright hostility. There was bipartisan agreement that neither farmers nor housewives would tolerate the niggling bookkeeping required. . . . There was little predisposition to increase payroll taxes drastically at this time."

The matter of keeping books in accordance with the Federal laws is, in the view of many a much more important problem than is generallly supposed. Business finds more and more of its attention and resources given to filling out forms and dealing with government bureaus. And this burden is often heaviest on small business. The big business, with its established legal, accounting and auditing departments is frequently able to adjust itself to new regulations much more easily than a small concern. That fact has Congress worried. It isn't eager to subject more of the population to Federal red tape.

What it all adds up to is that this Congress is far more cautious than expected.

* * *

The signing of the 12-power mutual defense treaty marked an unprecedented new step in foreign policy for the United States. Practically every columnist and editorial writer promptly pointed this out. But considerably less attention has been given to the intense practical problem which must be solved if the document is to be an effective instrument for stopping aggression and maintaining the peace of the world.

The European nations which have signed the pact—and which in many cases have shown great courage in doing so—want arms of all kinds. Only the U. S. is able to provide the desired amounts, tho' England will be of some help. And arms are expensive.

General Bradley has said, in effect, that promises to liberate small countries on some unknown future date after a devastating war are not enough. A strong defense line, he went on, must be built and maintained in constant readiness in Europe. This was interpreted to mean that the Chief of Staff of the Army believes American troops, no less than American weapons, must help to hold that line. Here again we run into serious problems of high policy—and grave problems of cost as well.

There are those who believe the pact should be implemented regardless of how expensive it may be. But some of the pact's best friends aren't so sure. Dr. Edwin Nourse, top economic advisor to the President, exploded something of a bombshell when he said that, in his opinion, the cost of supplying arms to Europe should be taken out of our domestic military budget. Dr. Nourse's reasoning is simple—he feels that the country is spending about all it can stand now for military purposes, and that heavy additional spending would endanger the soundness of the economy. However, the military leaders want more money, not less, for the domestic establishments.

The situation is further complicated by the current budget outlook. The recent drop in prices and business volume has cut into governmental income. Where, a fairly short time ago, it looked as if the budget for the next fiscal year would be in balance, and might provide a surplus, it now looks as if a deficit is sure. That deficit may be more than $5,000,000,000. Regardless of its size, if the government has to borrow, it will pile its borrowings on top of an existing $252,000,000,000 national debt.

It can be soundly argued that anything which might save the peace must be tried—that nothing can be so costly and so ruinous as war. Even so, turning a good theory into practical action can present enormous difficulties. That is true of the 12-power pact. The toughest part of the job still lies ahead.

Day Camp For South Side Girl Scouts

Day Camping is fun because there is a chance to plan with friends for the many things Girl Scouts like to do. There is exploring, hiking, cooking outdoors, singing camp songs, learning new folk dances and games, acting in little plays, and making things for the out-door Day Camp homes. Whatever is done, it's certainly as much real camping fun as can be crowded into every single day. It fits right in with Troop camping or living at Camp Ken-Jockety, because the same camping skills are important, and it fits into year-round Girl Scout troop programs, too.

These people will be some of the Day Campers: Brownies, 7 to 9 years old; Intermediate Girl Scouts, 10 to 14 years old; Seniors, 15 to 18 years; a staff of leaders; a nurse who will check every camper her first day at camp and be with them every day to insure good health and safety.

Day Camp dates: (The Day Camp session will last seven days from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.) July 20, 21, 22, 25, 26, 27, 28. Register with your Scout Leader by June 15.

The location of the camp site is Clime and Demorest Roads.

Camper fees for Day Camp are $2.00 for the 7-day period—including the cost of milk and transportation each day. Guests will pay 30 cents each day.

Special bus stops will be arranged and each person who registers will be notified about the time and place.

Every leader who is coming to Day Camp should plan to attend an all-day session to be held at Clime Farm, May 18th from 9:30 to 2:30 p.m. This will be her chance to become acquainted with the site, its program possibilities, the Day Camp schedule, and other important details. Bring something simple to cook out, a sit-upon, and a knife. For further details contact the Day Camp Chairman, Mrs. Frank D. Reynolds, Ga 5451.

With The Bang Tails

Saturday's half-holiday program of running races at Beulah Park will be toplined by the C. H. Hayes & Sons Handicap, which is expected to bring out the fastest horses quartered at the Grove City course.

The race, of course, honors Columbus' most famous family of race track concessionaires, C. H. Hayes and his boys, Charlie, Christy and Glen.

Years ago, back in the days of the old Columbus Driving Park, the name of Hayes was famous in racing circles, for both their concessionaire work and the family's association with the horses. C. H. Hayes was part-owner of the great harness horse, Independence Boy.

Even now, Charlie and Christy satisfy their earing appetites by still owning a number of formidable trotters and pacers. At one time, Charlie was a top-flight driver on the Grand Circuit. The Hayes family operates the concession at Beulah Park and several other Ohio race courses.

Post time for the first race Saturday will be 2:30 p.m. This starting time will prevail every Saturday, as well as on Memorial Day, throughout the meeting. On all other days of the meeting, twilight racing—more popular than ever with Beulah's clientele—is on the docket. The twilight racing cards get underway at 4 p.m.

The half-way point of the 20-day meeting will be reached Wednesday, May 18.

Good Progress On Adventist Drive

Good progress is being made in the Seventh-Day Adventist drive for funds to extend and support their around-the-world medical, educational and missionary projects, Richard T. Minesinger, local pastor of the Eastwood Seventh Day Adventist Church, said today.

He reported that approximately $250 of the $4000 local goal has been raised. The ingathering goal of the denomination in North America is $2,500,000.

This is the 41st consecutive year that Seventh-Day Adventists have conducted a house-to-house drive for contributions to assist in the church's world-wide humanitarian work.

"Christian missions build good citizens around the world," Pastor Minesinger declared. "Men and women who have come in contact with mission institutions and who have been converted to the simple gospel of peace and good will have proved to be truly internationally-minded. The missionary has been called 'The common man's ambassador,' and as such he has built a tremendous amount of good will for our country through the years.

The rescue of many of our airmen and the tender care given them during the war by the Christian 'Furry Wunzies' of the South Pacific attest the value of missions in teaching the brotherhood of man. This is one more reason why a contribution to mission work is a substantial long-term investment,' Pastor Minesinger said.

St. Pauls Ground Breaking Day To Be Announced

The sudden unfortunate demise of Ed Trautman, President of Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church, necessitated a reorganization of the Church Council to fill the vacancy, and a natural delay in plans to break ground for the New Church Building. Mr. Howard Stegmiller has been elected President with Mr. C. E. "Doc" Lensenmeyer, Vice President. Mr. Fred Schwartz was elected to the Church Council. All these men have fine records and are qualified for the positions they received. While acting as Building Fund Treasurer before the start of World War Two, Mr. Stegmiller purchased the first Bond towards the New Building which was then just a dream. Mr. Lensenmeyer is well known throughout the South Side as an active member of Southway Post, and an interested personality in all South Side Betterment Projects. Mr. Schwartz has been head of the Building Committee, and only yesterday announced Bids are being received for the Construction Work ahead.

The present kitchen in the Church is being cleared out, and future meetings are now being scheduled for locations outside the Church. Two big projects in the near future are the Young People's Dance at the K of P Hall on Friday, May 13, and the Lawn Fete, at Schiller Park, Saturday, June 11. The public is invited to both of these gala functions. Reverend Paul C. Kaefer will announce the definite day of Ground Breaking Ceremonies which will come some time in the month of May.

Parish Council Meets

Father Paul F. Small O. P. of St. Mary's of the Spring college, will be guest speaker at the next monthly meeting of St. Mary's Parish Council, to be held in their school hall, on Tuesday evening, May 17th at 8 p.m.

Mrs. A. G. Rueckel, chairman of religious activities, is arranging the program for the evening, which will be a tableau of the Apparition of Our Lady Of Fatima.

Miss Mary Louise Hendricks, president of the council, will preside.

A social hour will follow. All the ladies of the parish are invited.

News In The World Of Religion

When World War II spread its tentacles over much of Burma, the Bible House of Rangoon—property of the British and Foreign Bible Society (England)—was badly burned by incendiaries. Then looters stripped the remainder of the building of all its furnishings, including Bible stocks. Later squatters made their home in the charred remains. Now the London Committee of the Society is restoring and refurnishing the edifice, and likewise restoring stocks of Bibles and Testaments printed in Burmese, Sgaw Karen, Pwo Karen, Kachin and Mon dialects. And other translations are being prepared for issuance in some other languages of multi-tongued Burma. The Rev. H. J. Harwood, American Methodist Missionary, is in charge.

One of the most moving of post-war stories to come out of Korea concerns Pastor Son Yang Won, a Christian pastor in Sin Poong Ni, South Chulla Province. . . . During the communist-led uprising there in 1948—when there was perpetrated mass murder, burning of homes, looting, etc.—Pastor Son's two high school sons, leaders in the local Y.M.C.A., were set upon and shot to death. When the American-led Nationalist Army took the situation in hand and quieted the uprising, the murderer of the Son boys was among those convicted and sentenced to death. Then Pastor Son pleaded for the life of this convicted boy: he would take him into his home, try to make a Christian of him, and urge him to carry on the work his own sons had planned to do. The amazed prosecutor convicted boy's parents offered the Pastor two of their sons "to keep," but that was not the idea. Now the freed boy works under the tutelage of Pastor Son; and a daughter of the Son family is living in the home of the murderer's parents "giving there her Christian witness." .... Comments a missionary on the story: "A great many young people have become Christians as a result of the way the clash of communist-Christian ideologies was thrown into stark relief by this incident."

The Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church (150 Fifth Ave., New York City) has sent out an appeal for a dozen or more young Christian men and women to volunteer for service in Okinawa as pastors, doctors, teachers, nurses, and demonstrators of better agriculture and better industries. Before the recent war made Okinawa a household word in the United States, there were some scores of Methodist groups there in churches and schools; and missionaries visited there from the main islands of Japan.

As a result of the success of CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) in 26 states last year, the farm relief program is being expanded to include all 48 states, it was announced recently by John D. Metzler, national chairman. The 1948 shipment of 2,000 railroad cars of farm commodities encouraged the parent agencies of the voluntary organization to continue to enlarge the program during 1949. Parent agencies are Lutheran World Relief, Church World Service, and Catholic Rural Life. Last year, 1,500,000 American families of all faiths cooperated in the project through church and farm organizations.

"Healing the sick and nursing those who are ill have been part of the Christian ministry and expression of Christian love from the beginning of Christian history," said a recent statement of the Federal Council of Churches, urging young women to enter the nursing profession. "Care of the sick was one of the ministries carried on by the early church. In America the church has been a founder of hospital and medical and nursing schools. The church has a great concern for the nursing profession and looks upon it as a full time Christian vocation when entered into from Christian motives . . . We call upon the churches to present nursing as an opportunity for humanitarian service and as a full time Christian vocation to young people.

When India was divided into the Dominions of India (Hindu) and Pakistan (Moslem), pressure was put on thousands of the Christians the "official" religion of their countries. But there was very little success to the movement . . . The elder of a church in Khenikaran was told, "Now you are in India; you must become a Hindu or a Sikh." But he replied, "I have only one life. I am ready to die now. Line us up—all of us—father, mother, and children. Shoot us if you will. I will never deny Christ. I am ready to serve Hindustan which is now my country, too. But I will not change my faith in order to do so." He was not further molested.

Protestant missions are currently celebrating the 70th anniversary of their entry into the Belgian Congo, Africa, and the observance is taking place in both Belgium and in Africa. It was the explorations of David Livingstone and the discoveries made by Sir Henry M. Stanley that started missionary societies in Great Britain, the United States, and Sweden all looking Congo-ward at the same time. The first societies to send workers into the land were the Baptist Missionary Society, the Church Missionary Society, and the Livingstone Inland Mission. Today forty-four Protestant societies from America, and Europe, and Australia have a total of 249 mission stations in the Congo; maintain 1,516 missionaries; have 23,301 African pastors, teachers, and medical workers; enroll 1,069,893 members and attendants at church services; conduct 13,683 day schools, most of which are in rural villages, and serve 357,254 boys and girls in these schools; and conduct 4,302 Sunday schools, with enrollment of 145,714 pupils.

New Deals, Fair Deals Raw Deals

A POOR DEAL

President Truman's so-called "Fair Deal" in health has stirred up a bitter controversy in Congress. The health question, right now, is political dynamite.

There are 190,000 doctors in our country. The President has said that the present system of caring for the public should include everyone in the Social Security program and their dependents. That would mean raising the present coverage from 85,000,000 under our present system to about 120,000,000 if the Truman plan becomes a law.

And where is the money coming from? The system would be financed by an additional payroll tax of 1½ per cent on employers and 1½ per cent on employes. In addition the Government would put up ½ of 1 per cent of payrolls the first year and 1 per cent subsequently.

In this queer way everybody and nobody would be entitled to complete medical, surgical, dental and hospital care. The Government would back this plan which would foot up to more than six and one-half billion dollars a year. The American Medical Association disagrees, and insists that it would cost up to eighteen billion dollars a year, or ten billion dollars more, to carry on this "pure socialistic" remedy and hamper medical progress.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt was stingy with public money if you compare him with President Harry Truman who goes ahead with a fantastic scheme that upsets the entire medical system in the United States.

There are other Poor Deal proposals in the Senate and House to cut down the costs of revised schemes to keep Tom, Dick and Harry and their wives, children and in-laws bristling about health.

If you asked most writers and correspondents in Washington what they think about the probability of Federal sponsorship and control of the Nation's medical system, the answer would be:—"It's all hooey."

The Daughters of the American Revolution in their recent annual meeting in Washington denounced it as "legislation designed to create State medical care, which could result in a socialistic state."

The Daughters called attention to the fact that Mr. Truman suggested "regluar contributions to an insurance fund that would replace, irrgeular, often overwhelming family outlays for medical care."

Michigans Upper Peninsula

By Frank E. (Dude Ranch) Koch

Last week we gave you a resume of the Smelt Jamboree and J. D.'s past and present and hope it was presented as being interesting reading. We plan to write a brief resume of the lives of the personalities whom we know as pioneers in developing the U.P.

Mr. Wm. Luepnits, who wrote a column for the Soo News (Sault Ste. Marie) also wrote the history of this community which is now known as the village of Moran and Allenville, three-fourths of a mile apart. As I understand it, Allenville was the first settlement north of St. Ignace in this vicinity. I do know that back in 1929, the only mailing point was Allenville. Moran also had a post office, but we at Brevort Lake received our mail from Allenville. The mail was dropped at Allenville by means of a hook on a pole at the Railroad R/W as the train passed thru this community. The train stopped at Moran to discharge mail, baggage, passengers, etc.

To us, its not quite clear just when the Luepnitzs settled here. We do know that the German land Co. of Detroit was organized in 1881. These Pioneers came from Detroit during the period starting at that date. We have no data as to how long from then they continued to settle in this community. We do know that the aforementioned Co. sold land to these people who knew practically nothing of the north country, which they were to develop from dense forests into a place where they might build a home and clear the land so that they might raise the necessities to life sustainance.

The obstacles were great, but they overcame every one of them. There was nothing but trees and forest as far as the eye could reach when they left the train at Jacob City, which is now known as Moran. They were indeed discouraged; for the picture the German Land Co. of Detroit had painted for them was not the scene they now beheld. This was t obe a land of wealth in timber, rich soils, etc. They had neither of these.

Did they jump on the first train south? Well—figure it out yourselves. They're still up there and making a living on farms and in the woods marketing timber, grain and dairy products.

Maybe if it hadn't been for Joe Soeltner's folks taking these folks in that night they arrived up here on the train from St. Ignace; this Jacob City project would have been a complete Flop.

Wm. Luepnitz was the owner of the largest herd of milking cows in this Brevort Lake area, until he lost his wife last year and met with a misfortune that required hospitalization and surgery. He went south to Flint, Mich. after his operation to convalesce at his daughter's home there and is now back up north to resume his chores at his place on Brevort Lake. The livestock was disposed of last fall when he went south; but he still plans to till the cleared land he now holds, we believe.

We can't understand why a man like Wm. Luepnitz ever undertook to settle up there in those days. Today, we can see why. People must have been pretty rugged back there in the 19th century, to undertake a project like breaking up their home in Detroit to move to a place that some Land Sharks pictured as a heaven on earth.

But they survived! And ask any sportsman who has visited this area, whether it was worth their while. You know the answer they'll give you.

It'll be POSITIVE.

Weather Good For Nesting Season

Dr. E. D. Martin, chief of the Division of Conservation game management section, said today that up to now the spring weather has been ideal for wildlife reproduction.

For the past five years early spring cold and wet weather followed by floods cut the production of all species of game as much as one fourth. Pheasants, in particular, nesting late to make up for lost broods or clutches of eggs during the past several years has been responsible for many young birds in the field during the hunting season. Birds hatched earlier reach full maturity before November.

Although it is much too early to predict what the 1949 nesting season might produce, if the weather continues to be normal for the months of May and June the spring nesting season should be about 25 per cent better than in recent years.

Sport Of Boating Increases In Ohio

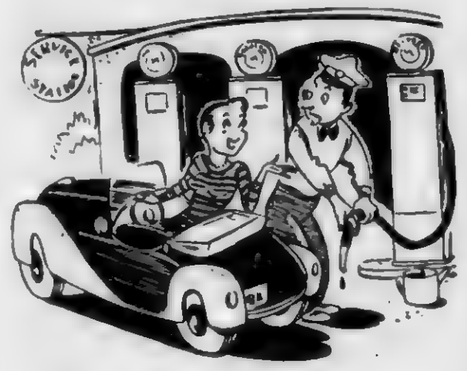
A survey report released by the Ohio Division of Conservation covering expenditures of Ohio fisherman during the year 1947 shows that almost three and a half million dollars were spent in Ohio for boat rentals. The outright purchase of boats amounted to over seven million dollars.

A large part of the 7½ million included the purchase of the larger and more expensive watercraft but it also included several thousand rowboats and canoes either purchased already made, custom built by boat makers or lumber firms or constructed in the basements or garages by the boaters themselves.

Generally these home-made boats will be "sea-worthy" and will provide years of boating enjoyment for the owner but a few of them because of poor construction or improper selection of materials will only add to the normal hazards of water sports.

Carl W. Miller, chief of the Division of Conservation Inland Lakes and Parks Section, charged with licensing boats and motors used on Division controlled waters, said this week that boats should be given a "common sense" inspection by the owner before risking lives on the water. All boats used on state owned or controlled waters are subject to inspection before the state license costing $1.00 for rowboats is issued, but in most cases license agents just have to take the owner's word for the condition of his boat.

Miller pointed out that most boats, if they will float at all, are capable of carrying one person under normal weather conditions but that when loaded with several people and operating in some of the "choppy" waters typical of most Ohio lakes in a windstorm a boat must be properly constructed and in good repair to hold up.



The average canoe or rowboat has a top capacity of but two or three persons and since overloading is the chief cause of a large number of the boat accidents it would be well for the boat owner to know the safe capacity of his particular boat. Inspections are made without charge by lake patrolmen or game protectors.

How Baseball TV Works

Ball games played by the Columbus Red Birds reach your television set through a complex system of cables, controls and signals. In the diagram above, the WLW-C signal from Red Bird Stadium is piped to the station mobile unit where it is controlled. From there it goes via cable to a micro wave transmitter atop the stadium. A micro wave receiver at the WLW-C tower receives the signal and then cables take it through the main transmitter and up to the top of the tower. From the tower top the signal is beamed to WLW-C viewers in an average 45-mile radius.

Scarlet Mask Presents "Howdy Stranger"

Scarlet Mask, all male dramatics organization, has returned to the Ohio State campus after an absence of ten years, and is presenting "Howdy Stranger!", a completely musical comedy, at University Hall May 25 through May 28.

The music and book for "Howdy Stranger!" has been written entirely by students at the University, and all parts in the show are being played by men. The show is a take-off on Service's poem, The Shooting of Dan McGrew, and all action takes place in a barroom in the Yukon during the gold rush of the 1890's.

Scarlet Mask was well-known in Columbus and throughout the country before it left campus in 1940. It is traditionally a men's organization, although there was a time during the 1930's when women took part. Among song hits from past Scarlet Mask shows were "Pretty Mary Ann," and "Sing Me a Song of College Days." Famous Ohio State alumni who were active in the organization during their school days include cartoonist Milton Caniff, playwrites Elliott Nugent and James Thurber; and such local celebrities as Johnny Jones, Richard Wolfe, Wes Fesler, and the late Stokes McCune.

Several well-known personalities on campus at the present time are connected with the production of "Howdy Stranger!" Writers of the show were Lee Adams, editor of the Lantern; Sundial writer John Flautz; and Bob Cohan, well-known in music circles at Ohio State. Directing the show is Dick Greenwald, who has done such a fine job directing the Strollers' musicals in the past.

The old Scarlet Mask shows were taken on tour all over the state of Ohio and into neighboring states as well. Plans are now being tentatively considered to take this year's show, "Howdy Stranger!", to Lima, Mansfield, Canton, and several other northern Ohio cities. If the proposed tour comes about, these out-of-town appearances will probably take place on the week end of May 20-22, one week before the show opens in Columbus.

Following another tradition of past Scarlet Mask productions, souvenir programs containing music from the show are being printed, and will be sold at all performances. Tickets for the local appearance may be purchased at Heaton's Hennicks, or by mail from the Scarlet Mask Office, room 33, Ohio Union, at the University. Admission is $1.00, all seats are reserved, and mail orders should be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Fishing Reported Good

Reports reaching Division of Conservation headquarters in Columbus are that fishing on most of the state's lakes and many streams is the best in the last 25 years.

Veteran anglers report exceptional catches especially on the 26 lakes now included in the liberalized fishing areas where there are no closed seasons, minimum legal lengths and bag limits.

Because of the more normal spring rains which have kept streams within their banks for the last several weeks, water in both streams and lakes are reported in the "pink" of condition.

Fishing license sales indicate that anglers are taking advantage of the good fishing.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday: "Yellow Sky' starring Gregory Peck. This picture presents the strangest desperados the West has ever known. Every dawn held new terrors. Every Stranger might be their betrayer. It's great drama that blazes its trail of thrills through a thousand miles of badlands charged with romance and excitement. Also on the bill is "The Sun Comes Up" starring Jeannette McDonald. This show provides an excellent double billing.

Beagle Hound Popular Since 400 BC

Speaking at the Steubenville Beagle Club's annual banquet early this month, Jimmy Stuber, a game technician for the Ohio Division of Conservation, traced the history of the Beagle hound back to 400 B.C.

"Xenophon," Stuber said, "a Greek historian and the original Outdoor riter, wrote of beagling and hound hunting in his essays, 'Gynegeticus' in 400 B.C."

Stuber referred to the beagle as the "little hound" that has played an important part in civilization, developing human friendships and good sportsmanship. It was the original wild dog of the desert that provided food for man's table and personal protection.

Edward, Duke of York, spoke of the rabbit as a favorite game animal in 1046. "Kitten beagles" so small they were carried in the pocket were popular.'

Quoting John M. Phillips, dean of American sportsmen, of Pittsburgh, Stuber pointed to the rabbit as the most popular game animal in America—the big game of the small boy, and beagling that dates back hundreds of years is still a popular sport.

Fresh Rhubarb Pie

Folks won't need to guess what this pie's all about, for tart, rosy rhubarb gets a chance to show its virtues with individual pastry wedges baked atop the pie.

"Pieplant" is an old name for rhubarb, but a very appropriate one. Crisp rhubarb stalks, rosy or cherry-colored, make a spring pie that is pleasantly tart and sparkling.

'Tis a pity to hide such an inviting filling, so cut five or six triangles of pastry to arrange on top the pie, one for each serving. Cut the wedges with a pastry wheel to get the pretty scalloped effect, and place pastry over filling before baking.

Since this is a juicy pie, the favorite crimped edge is the one to use to hold in the juices. Make this by pressing dough together between thumb and finger of left hand and forefinger of right hand.

Pie is a favorite dessert, and a satisfying one. That's reason enough to make fresh rhubarb pie a luncheon or dinner pastry treat often this spring.

RHUBARB PIE

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
2 to 3 tablespoons cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Add water gradually. Mix to a dry, crumbly dough. Toss out on lightly floured pastry cloth. Press dough together. Roll two-thirds of the dough to a circle one-eighth inch thick. Line nine-inch pie pan with pastry. Fill with rhubarb filling.

Roll out remaining pastry to circle one-eighth inch thick. Cut into five or six triangular wedges. Arrange evenly over rhubarb filling. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and continue baking 45 minutes.

Rhubarb Filling

1½ pounds fresh rhubarb
1½ cups sugar
¼ cup enriched flour
¼ teaspoon salt

Cut cleaned rhubarb into half-inch lengths. Add sugar, flour and salt to rhubarb and mix well.

Russell Miller Wins Award

First recipient of the campus YMCA's Caldwell Award is Russell W Miller, 1325 Smith Rd., Columbus, a commerce college senior at Ohio State University.

Miller, who has served as president of the campus Y for the past year, received the cup on the basis of "scholarship, character, contribution to the YMCA program, campus life, local, national and international community, and his interest in the religious ideals of the YMCA."

The award is to be made annually on the campus, and is dedicated to Emeritus Professor Frank C. Caldwell, 206-16th Ave., past chairman of the YMCA advisory board. Professor Caldwell presented the cup to Miller at the YMCA awards banquet on the campus Monday, May 2nd.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell F. Miller, the Ohio State senior has served as president of Beta Sigma Tau fraternity, has been a member of the Student Senate and the Council of Men's Organizations and is a member of Alpha Phi Omega, national service honorary organization. He will be graduated at the June commencement.

Chosen Parents League Discuss Future Plans

The regular monthly meeting of the Chosen Parents League will be held on Monday, May 16, at the Southern Hotel at eight o'clock. This is the annual meeting, at which time the slate of new officers will be installed and plans for the coming year discussed.

The CHOSEN PARENTS LEAGUE was formed by a group of men and women, either with adopted children or those interested in adoption and Child Welfare. Since the most important function of parents is to provide emotional security based on a foundation of family love, the League's aims are to deepen the understanding in child-parent relationship, and increase the public interest in Child Welfare matters. The specific aims of this organization are:-

1. Quicker adoption PLACEMENTS.
2. Uniform Birth Certificates.
3. Cessation of overlapping payments in adoption — once by tax-supported boards and again by charity subscription.
4. Closer supervision and higher qualifications for boarding homes.

All those interested in these matters are cordially invited to attend this meeting on Monday.

American Zionism is mourning the death of its leader, 75-year-old Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, who probably more than any other American is responsible for the final setting up of the State of Israel. Rabbi Wise was president of the American Jewish Congress, and head of the World Jewish Congress. Death came when he had hoped to be able to visit the new national home of his people.

SPRING LUNCHEON

Cream of mushroom soup, cheese rolls, salad and rhubarb dessert for an ideal spring luncheon.

By BETTY NEWTON

Whether for guests or for a family luncheon, try this excellent menu. You will be able to provide a nutritious lunch without a great deal of extra work. With a brightly colored table cloth and napkins, your whole meal will look like a breath of spring.

Spring Luncheon

Cream of Mushroom Soup
Cheese Roll-ups Individual Salad Bowls
Glazed Rhubarb Turnabouts

Cheese Roll-ups

12 thin slices of bread
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
¼ lb. grated American cheese

Remove crusts from bread. Spread with butter or margarine. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Roll up and tie or fasten with a toothpick. Toast in oven or broiler until all sides are brown. Remove fastenings and serve rolls hot.

Rhubarb Turnabouts

1 lb. rhubarb (4 C.)
½ C. sugar
2 Tbsp. flour
¾ C. corn syrup

Wash rhubarb and cut in inch long pieces. Place in 6 individual casseroles. Mix sugar and flour. Add syrup and mix well. Pour over rhubarb. Top with batter.

Batter:
1 C. sifted flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. shortening
⅓ C. milk
1 Tbsp. corn syrup
1 tsp. lemon flavoring
1 egg

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening. Add milk, syrup, and lemon to beaten egg. Add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to moisten flour. Drop dough by teaspoonfuls on rhubarb mixture, forming ring around edge of dish. Bake at 400 degrees about 20 minutes, or until glazed and nicely browned.

Pattern Of A New Day

The decisions made by the conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers two weeks ago in London are probably as significant for the world-wide forces of democracy as the Kremlin's decisions directing global communism.

Out of this conference the "Commonwealth of Nations", formerly called the British Commonwealth of nations, has emerged united as never before. The Christian Science Monitor declared editorially, "the pattern of a new day emerges."

The editorial continued, "the formula by which India remains a member of the 'Commonwealth of Nations' does equal credit to British and Indian good sense, to the statesmanship of Prime Minister Attlee and of Prime Minister Nehru. Other nations, in the process of making formula committments for mutual defense, can learn from this that the exact wording of a diplomatic document is often less important than the community of real interest and aspiration which underlies it."

Prime Minister Nehru's decision that his great country will as a free republic remain a member of the Commonwealth family of nations deserves the fullest support. This decision could identify India with a moral statesmanship capable of providing the fundamental answer to the age-old clash between East and West, ruling and subject races, and exploiter and exploited. This was always Mahatma Gandhi's vision.

Nehru's character is the embodiment of modern statesmanship with all its strength and all its limitations. His sincerity is complete. Gandhi said of him, "He is capable of mounting the gallows with a smile on his lips." He is one of the many mad ex-cabinet ministers who have spent time in jail for their convictions. While in prison he described himself in an anonymous character sketch as "a democrat and a socialist . . . but a little twist and he might turn into a dictator." The years since have brought him closer to democracy and further from dictatorship. There are men close to him in India who know that a superior ideology can win those whom a superior attitude will only antagonize and make yet more bitter.

Flanked by China now crumbling before the juggernaut of communism, India will need great moral as well as [illegible] leadership from the other Commonwealth nations if she is to survive.

Clean Up And Rat Control

Home-owners and businessmen were warned today to combine spring clean-up and rat control if the nation's heavy rat damage cost is to be reduced.

The warning came from Dr. Joseph Drayer, chief of the Division of Environmental Sanitation of the Department of Health.

Pointing out that rat control is a neighborhood concern and depends on neighborhood co-operation, Dr. Drayer said rats cost the nation 200 million bushels of grain in one year. Enough grain to make 315 loaves of bread for every household in the nation.

"Besides their capacity to destroy, rats are a threat to every child in the neighborhood," Dr. Drayer said. "And at least six serious diseases that can be communicated by humans have been discovered to be carried by rats."

Dr. Drayer said each household should carry out rat control at the same time that spring housecleaning is done. Rats depend upon food and hiding places when they stay in a neighborhood. A co-operative effort to destroy those sources will drive rats away.

Businessmen should make certain that rats are not around the premises to destroy or spoil stock. Restaurants are being checked by the Board of Health to make sure that all foods and wastes are kept out of reach of rats.

Dr. Drayer listed these easy and quick ways to rid your home or business of rats:

1. Rats enter buildings through any opening over half-inch in diameter. Ratproof your home or store by closing holes around pipes or wires with cement or metal. Fasten screens over ground-level vents or windows. Cover floor drains tightly.

2. Rats live in dark enclosed spots such as double walls, wooden floors in basements, staircases, boxed in plumbing or wooden platforms. Seal such spots or rip them out.

3. Rats nests will be found in trash piles. Clean out your basement, yard or alley. Stack lumber, cans or boxes on racks at least 18 inches off the ground.

4. Uncovered food and garbage invite rats. Keep garbage in tightly covered cans. Be sure the lid is kept on. Store food where rats can't reach it.

5. Set traps along runways. Or use a safe poison to kill them. Be careful that poisons used will not harm children or pets.

Volunteers Will Call For Articles

The last two weeks in May have been named for a special housecleaning drive for the Volunteers of America according to Lt. Colonel Susan Thom, director of the local post.

Needed at this time are clothing and discarded furniture which can be salvaged by the Industrial Department of the Volunteers of America. Numerous calls for furniture from families evicted by fire have depleted the repaired pieces held on hand for such victims, Lt. Colonel Thom reports.

"We are still using newspapers and magazines and corrugated paper," the agency head says, "but our greatest need is for clothing and furniture. We are a Red Feather service for salvaging, so no garment or article of furniture is too old for us to fix up."

Trucks will cover all parts of the city during these two weeks in an effort to assist the housewife in her annual housecleaning chores.

Lions Present Book Machines

The South East Lions Club at their regular meeting Tuesday, May 17, donated $500 for two ceiling projectors to the people of the South Side.

The present was made to the Pilot Club who sponsors this worthwhile project with Miss Mildred Schwab, its president, and Mrs. Anne Stephens accepting the projectors.

There was also an additional amount donated for the purchases of books for the machines.

The projected book machines are used for bedfast patients who must remain quiet. The books, page by page, are projected on the ceiling by microfilm, so that the patient may read without moving.

The two projected book machines are to be placed one at the South Side Branch of the library and the other one at the Benjamin Franklin Hospital (Franklin County Tubercular Sanitarium).

In accepting the gift for the hospital Mr. Max Cohen, it's business manager, said Dr. W. L. Potts, the medical director, sent this message:—"The patients with chronic illnesses, such as tuberculosis, receive a tremendous morale boost in having such equipment made available to them for their use. The chronically ill patient has a particular problem as far as reading is concerned, since many of them are flat on their backs for rather long periods of time. It is very difficult to read a book in bed and especially so when you cannot be propped up in bed.

"Therefore, I am expressing the sentiments of all those in this hospital who are interested in patient welfare when I say this gift will be particularly appropriate and appreciated by all."

The machine at the South Side Library will be loaned to South Side invalids.

Get Into The Corners

Spring is drawing to a close. The hot summer days, with their special fire hazards, will soon be with us. It's time, if we haven't done it already, for everyone to "clean up" their property in the interest of both safety and attractiveness.

The spring clean-up campaigns in which thousands of communities participate, are a fine American tradition. Buildings are painted. Yards are groomed. Useless shacks are torn down. Overgrown, vacant lots—which have been the starting points of some of the country's worst fires—are mowed and cleared. It's amazing what this sort of face lifting does to a town's appearance.

From the fire safety standpoint, the clean-up mustn't be confined to the surface of things. Some of the prettiest homes, for instance, offer fire a constant invitation. Most of us have some of the instincts of the magpie—we store and keep all kinds of junk, from 1930 newspapers to clothes and furniture and various knicknacks we'll never use again. The result is crowded attics and basements and closets, all set for a destructive fire.

Another very common hazard lies in the improper handling and storage of paint, solvents and inflammables. Fire likes this too.

Finally, during the warm season, get your heating plant ready for the cold months that lie ahead. These may seem small things—but they'll prevent an amazing number of fires.

New Name Is South View Park

At the regular meeting of the Council of South Side organizations last Thursday night the name picked for the new park on Greenlawn Avenue was decided to be "South View Park."

It was decided to dedicate the new "South View Park" on July 4.

Following the dedication there will be a huge fire work's display.

Already in this park there are four soft ball diamonds and a hard ball diamond.

The baseball diamond is equipped with night lighting and many evening games are played there.

To be added to this will be a football grounds, badminton courts, tennis courts, horse show courts and a swimming pool.

Plans have been drawn by Wilbur Bachelor for the beautifying of the remainder of the park. There will be a community center with trees, shrubs and driveways. The Community center will be a place similar to the Schiller Park Shelter House.

There is $1,000 left over from the Honor Roll which formerly stood in Schiller Park.

From this fund will be constructed a new memorial and a 75 foot flag pole.

In the war memorial will be placed an iron box containing all of the names on the honor roll, thus preserving the names of our boys who served in World War II for future generations.

The name "South View Park" was picked by the Student Council of South High School.

At a later date the Booster will print a complete program for the dedication.

Plan your July 4 to be there and help take part in the celebration.

It's your park and a member of your family to whom it will be dedicated.

St. Leo's Parent-Teacher Association will hold their last meeting of the current school year on Thursday, May 19, in the school hall, at 7:30 p.m., at which time the newly elected officers will be installed.

The new officers are: President, Mrs. August Fontaine; vice president, Mrs. Arnold Plageman, secretary, Mrs. George Miller; treasurer, Mr. Lawrence Egger; auditor, Mrs. J. Kreutler, historian, Rev. Mother Beatrice.

The chaplain of Ohio State Penitentiary, Rev. Father Charles V. Lucier, O. P., will be the guest speaker. Father Lucier served our country as a Navy Chaplain in World War Two, and that experience, combined with his present duties, should make his address extremely interesting.

No matter how efficient the elevator operator gets, someone is always calling him down.

Michigan's Upper Penninsula

We owe lots of credit of the knowledge we received about the early settlers in Mackinac County to Wm. Luepnitz. We gave a resume of Mr. Luepnitz's experiences in the 1880's last week. You shall read more about this outstanding U. P. Pioneer at a later writing.

Wm. Massey, —Owner of the Massey House and another asset to the collection of old times in the Brevort Lake vicinity, will be our personality of this week.

Like J. D. Erskine—he also came from Canada. The Detroit Land Company must have given their fluke project international publicity. We don't have a clear picture as to how The Massey's "discovered" Brevort Lake, but know they were part of its early settlement.

Many came to this wilderness in the 19th century, but few really prospered. The Luepnitz's did well for themselves, as did the Massey's. Today—1949, it's a rat-race. May the stronger survive.

The Massey's built a hotel on a site on which the prosent Massey House now stands. This building, however, was not the first. The old Massey House was build of Log. When this became inadequate for the volume of Big Shots who visited the area, something had to be done to house this added tourist trade.

The Log Hotel was moved, cut in two, from the roof down and two full-sized dwellings were fashioned from these two halves. (Our son, Richard W. Koch, was born in the west half of this historic hospice, Nov. 3, 1938).

The new (present) Hotel was built at the time the old was moved. We have no exact dates as to when this took place, but it was way back when.

Our former Gov. Jim Cox was an annual visitor to the Massey House from where he would be taken by power boat to his retreat at the head of the lake where his Lodge still stands.

Many improvements have been added to "Cox's Lodge" since those days and we believe the place has changed hands twice since the Cox's moved out. However—to us—and the Massey's, it's still Cox's Lodge.

When Lawrence Massey was a kid he used to meet the Cox party at the train in Allenville in a horse driven surrey and later in a brand new "1918 Buick" to haul their party, luggage, and provisions to their Lodge approximately six (6) miles from the Massey House across Brevort Lake. This was prior to 1918, of course. In later years, they drove from Columbus and/or Dayton to the Massey House and followed the same proceedure as aforementioned to arrive at their Lodge Across the Lake.

Mr. Massey and his good wife, Mary, and son, Lawrence, still maintain the Hotel. The elder Massey's are in, and close to, the 80's, but still perform their daily chores as conscienciously as the youngsters around them.

They never grow older to us; in fact, they seem to be more active as years pile up on them. In winter its tough—the summers are too short. We know! We spent two (2) winters up there at 27 degrees below with Richard, our son, born in November of '38, and those two winter seasons with snow piled in roads to heights of eighteen feet made us realize that this country wasn't "HEWED" out for us folks from down Columbus, Ohio, way. So we pulled out in May 1939 for Columbus, only to return in the Fall of the same year to find relief from the "Horse Weeds" that make life so miserable for Yours Truly down here.

Billy and Mary Massey and Lawrence will be glad to greet you when you arrive and ask direction to Koch's "Dude Ranch." I mean—if you ever chance to visit Brevort Lake area on your vacation. Much is to be gained in listening to their stories, and those of the other old pioneers who made this wilderness a place for us city folks to spend many happy hours in Play!

Summer Reading

On Monday, May 23, the Parsons Avenue Library, 1124 Parsons Avenue, opens its summer reading club. The Forty-Niners, for the children of the South Side. All children, ages six to fourteen, are invited to join. Each member must read twelve books of his own choice by August 27.

When he joins, each child's name is put on a small Conestoga wagon which will move across a map to California as he reads his books, when he completes his twelfth book, he will "strike gold."

With The Bang Tails

Saturday's half-holiday program of running races at Beulah Park will be toplined by the C. H. Hayes & Sons Handicap, which is expected to bring out the fastest horses quartered at the Grove City course.

The race, of course, honors Columbus' most famous family of race track concessionaires, C. H. Hayes and his boys, Charlie, Christy and Glen.

Years ago, back in the days of the old Columbus Driving Park, the name of Hayes was famous in racing circles, for both their concessionaire work and the family's association with the horses. C. H. Hayes was part-owner of the great harness horse, Independence Boy.

Even now, Charlie and Christy satisfy their caring appetites by still owning a number of formidable trotters and pacers. At one time, Charlie was a top-flight driver on the Grand Circuit. The Hayes family operates the concession at Beulah Park and several other Ohio race courses.

Post time for the first race Saturday will be 2:30 p.m. This starting time will prevail every Saturday, as well as on Memorial Day, throughout the meeting. On all other days of the meeting, twilight racing—more popular than ever with Beulah's clientele—is on the docket. The twilight racing cards get underway at 4 p.m.

NOT TO BE TRUSTED

Reports continue to tell us that the Russians are ready to quit their nonsense and remove their blockades in German areas. That's good news—IF TRUE.

Russia has no civilized government. In short, old Joe Stalin and his gang are not to be trusted—they will have to lift their blockade in Germany before the West will lift the counter-blockade.

Our Government is increasing the military establishment for the plain reason that we intend to go along with other Nations to develop our individual and collective capacity to "resist armed attack." Apparently the Government will set aside $1,130,000,000 for "safety sake." Our country is already prepared to meet conditions with the atomic bomb. But, Uncle Sam is a tender-hearted old guy, who thinks that the atom bomb is too powerful weapon to throw at even our worst enemy.

Class Meeting Souls Harbor

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Baker received members and friends of Adult Class No. 1 Souls Harbor at their home, 611 Siebert St. on last Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. A short business session was given after which a very spiritual prayer service for the City-wide Revival was entered with enthusiasm.
A social time followed and a delicious plate lunch was served to all, numbering forty.

Church Ceremony Features Wedding

St. John the Evangelist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Helen M. Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buchanan, 984 Cole St, and Mr. Eugene M. Hanna, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Baumann, 820 Bruck St, Saturday at 9 a.m. with the Rev. Fr. Frederick W. Burkhart officiating.
Gras DeLondre taffeta fashioned along colonial lines featured the bride's gown which was styled with a sheer yoke bordered by a wide bertha collar edged in Chantilly lace and a basque bodice fastened to a very full skirt highlighted by a bustle in the back and terminated into a long graceful train. The English half veil of sheer bridal illusion draped softly from a tiara entwined with tiny seed pearls. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations and roses.
Miss Dorothy Eichner was maid of honor in a lilac gown and Miss Janice Hill and Miss Elmedean Hanna, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids in daisy yellow and spring green shades. The gowns were fashioned along colonial lines of embossed marquisette with sheer yokes, wide scalloped bertha collars, fitted bodices and very full skirts. They wore hats which matched their gowns and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations. The junior bridesmaids, Miss Joyce Buchanan and Miss Marilyn Buchanan, sisters of the bride, were dressed in cornflower blue and petal pink shades with hats of contrasting colors.
Mr. Jack Koebel was best man. Seating the guests were Mr. Dolph Smith and Mr. Richard Lott.
The reception was held at WOW Hall, 376 Gilbert St, at 7 p.m.

Rosary Council To Meet Tuesday

St. Leo's Altar Rosary-Parish Council will hold their next meeting on Tuesday, May 24, at 8 p.m. in the school hall. At this meeting, which will be the last one held until September, special honors will be given the eighth grade girl graduates and their mothers.

This Week In Washington

A PHRASE TO REMEMBER

In the course of its brief filed in the Supreme Court in the case upholding the right of Wisconsin to ban a "slow-down" as a labor union method, the Government of the United States submitted a statement of viewpoint worthy of careful scrutiny. Arguing against the Wisconsin legislation on behalf of the National Labor Relations Board, our Attorney General asserted that such State laws "permit the erection of local barrier to the effectuation of national objectives."

What this remarkable observation means is readily apparent. The Federal Government is to be supreme. State legislatures are relegated to positions of inferiority in the scheme of things. The reservation of powers in the National Constitution to the States establishing the doctrine that all powers not specifically delegated to the Federal Government remain with the sovereign states is not even accorded lip service in this new attitude of the administration.

Granting that there are many areas in which the Federal Government can be of assistance to the States, it is still clear that the Constitutional principle is a safeguard against the possibility of governmental dictatorship by a centralized authority. To the extent that we ignore the limitations upon Washington, we diminish the personal rights of every citizen.

NEXT STEP IN GERMANY CIVILIAN CONTROL

It was inevitable that the military control of Germany would prove costly though necessary to the success of any effort to re-establish permanent peace in Europe. It was equally inevitable that such military occupation would prove galling to the population. The latter fact must be put down as one of the consequences of a war which was clearly of Germany's own making and can be ignored. But it is nevertheless true that any long range policy affecting our interests in Central Europe must be preceded by a transition from military to civilian authority.

The resignation of General Lucius D. Clay as head of the United States Military Government in Germany and as Commander of American military forces in Europe is the first step in this process. Most reporters credit him with having performed a difficult task well. The significant part of his retirement comes with the announcement that no successor will be named. Every effort is being made to form a strong West German government under a new German constitution. Politics plays so large a role in European recovery that this step is of the first importance.

All of us must be deeply concerned with the choice of the civilian who will act as the U. S. High Commissioner along with British and French commissioners supervising the new West German state. The future of European peace may rest upon his shoulders.

UNDERLINING THE TAFT-HARTLEY DEBATE

There is an old saw among lawyers that the Supreme Court always follows the election returns. True or not, it is certainly clear today that the Congress always follows the strike news. Hard in the background of all the strenuous debate on the Taft-Hartley Bill is the ominous presence of strike threats in coal, strike action in the automotive industry, and an atmosphere of tension in virtually all industries where employment contracts are scheduled for renewal or renegotiation within the near future.

Senator Taft's measure with its provision of a cooling-off period, accompanied by government-limited right to seek an injunction in major crises is proving hard to destroy. A substantial number of administration supporters find it impossible to eliminate these protective devices without outraging their sense of responsibility to the nation at large.

If the history of European nations where major work stoppages have periodically paralyzed the economy of great areas is not to be invited here, we must see to it that the paramount right of the whole people to be secure in their livelihoods and their futures is not endangered.

News In The World Of Religion

English churchmen, and especially those of the "free" or "nonconformist" churches, are worried over the poor attendance at churches — a trend noticeable long before the recent war. Studies indicate that between 15% and 20% go to church with some degree of regularity; though another 40% go occasionally, and many others listen on the radio to church services. Apparently more people attend church regularly in Wales and Scotland than in England; more in rural areas than in industrial cities; more in small towns than in large towns and cities. One study indicates that of one hundred people who do not go to church at all, about sixty have had some family relationship to the church of England; twenty to non-conformist churches; one to the Roman Catholic; and one to the Church of Scotland. Sunday school attendance seems to follow the same pattern as church going.

The Rev. Ralph Welles Keeler, D.D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., retires from the active ministry of the Methodist Church on May 22. The date will also mark the completion of his twentieth year as pastor of the famous Goodsell Memorial Methodist Church in Brooklyn. Dr. Keeler went to this church from an editorial post with the Church's Board of Home Mission and Church Extension. But his pen has been active all these years. To the "Brooklyn Eagle" and other newspapers and magazines he has been a long-time contributor of poems and hymns, many of them related to the church calendar, national observances, etc., and many of them growing out of his sermon topics. Now friends and associates in Goodsell Church have published twenty-six of these hymns in a brochure under the title, "Hymns Written Along the Road From Yesterday."

Charging that some church leaders in Alaska have been lax in efforts to strengthen the enforcement of legal restrictions against liquor consumption, gambling, and prostitution in that territory, the Alaska Committee of the Home Mission Council of North America (representing 23 Protestant denominations working there) has called upon them to work with government and other agencies in cleaning up conditions. The Committee, which is headed by Dr. Mark A. Dawber, urges ministerial cooperation with the U. S. Government and the American Association of Social Hygiene in combatting vice and social diseases; cooperation in educating children and youth against the use of liquor (one city of 6,000 people who spend $5,000,000 annually for liquor and $135,000 for education, was quoted); and cooperation "against the promotion of any part of native culture which is pagan and non-Christian."

"The new constitution of India offers freedom to preach, practice and propagate one's faith," reports Methodist Bishop Charles W. Brashares, of Des Moines, Iowa cial visit to India missions. "Although certain localities had passed laws that no man could change his religion except before a magistrate, these laws are now being abrogated. Multitudes of people are now inquiring how Christianity differs from the religions which persecute one another. The new political situation opens doors to Christians for even more rapid expansion. . . . . In the migrations of populations within India, the Sikhs, Moslems, and Hindus have suffered at the hands of one another and thousands of them have been tortured and killed. But Christians have been trusted, and have been able to serve all conflicting groups more largely than ever."

"We endorse the present non-intervention policy of the U. S. State Department with reference to China, particularly in withholding any further military supplies to either side, and of avoiding interference by United States armed forces in the hostilities", the China Committee of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, headed by Dr. Frank T. Cartwright, has written to committees of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives. The Committee represents twenty-six Protestant churches with missions in China, and it arrives at its conclusions after consultations with missionaries and others familiar with the China scene. "We are convinced that effective intervention on behalf of the Kuomintang government would require immense supplies of military equipment," the Committee adds, "and the active participation of American armed forces and the direction of the entire military administration from top to bottom by American personnel. This would turn all classes of Chinese people against America. . . . . We believe that the form of government should be decided by the forces now at work within China. . . . . We believe that the welfare of the people of China should be the motivating objective of the extension of E.C.A. aid to China."

New Deals, Fair Deals Raw Deals

A POOR DEAL

President Truman's so-called "Fair Deal" in health has stirred up a bitter controversy in Congress. The health question, right now, is political dynamite.

There are 190,000 doctors in our country. The President has said that the present system of caring for the public should include everyone in the Social Security program and their dependents. That would mean raising the present coverage from 85,000,000 under our present system to about 120,000,000 if the Truman plan becomes a law.

And where is the money coming from? The system would be financed by an additional payroll tax of 1½ per cent on employers and 1½ per cent on employes. In addition the Government would put up ½ of 1 per cent of payrolls the first year and 1 per cent subsequently.

In this queer way everybody and nobody would be entitled to complete medical, surgical, dental and hospital care. The Government would back this plan which would foot up to more than six and one-half billion dollars a year. The American Medical Association disagrees, and insists that it would cost up to eighteen billion dollars a year, or ten billion dollars more, to carry on this "pure socialistic" remedy and hamper medical progress.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt was stingy with public money if you compare him with President Harry Truman who goes ahead with a fantastic scheme that upsets the entire medical system in the United States.

There are other Poor Deal proposals in the Senate and House to cut down the costs of revised schemes to keep Tom, Dick and Harry and their wives, children and in-laws bristling about health.

If you asked most writers and correspondents in Washington what they think about the probability of Federal sponsorship and control of the Nation's medical system, the answer would be:—"It's all hooey."

The Daughters of the American Revolution in their recent annual meeting in Washington denounced it as "legislation designed to create State medical care, which could result in a socialistic state."

The Daughters called attention to the fact that Mr. Truman suggested "regluar contributions to an insurance fund that would replace, irrgeular, often overwhelming family outlays for medical care."

"If our national power is to serve the ends of peace," says a recent statement of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ" "our basic national strategy should be made by persons who have faith in the achievability of peace, and who are qualified by experience and training to use and to evaluate the great possibilities for peace that reside in moral and economic forces, in organizations like the United Nations and the World Court and in the resources of diplomacy and conciliation. We do not reflect upon the patriotism or the sincere desire for peace of the leadership of our armed frces. Their professional training, however, does not qualify them to lay down the strategy for peace and to calculate the risks that always have to be taken for peace if we are to win it, just as risks have to be taken in war for victory."

"My Dear Secretary" At Southland Theater

Beautiful Laraine Day, in private life better known as Mrs. Leo Durocher, stars in the gay romantic comedy, "My Dear Secretary," scheduled for the Southland Theatre screen this Friday and Saturday. Kirk Douglas and Keenan Wynn share star billing with the lovely blonde. Rudy Vallee heads the topflight supporting cast. The dynamic Scott Brady stars in the co-feature, "In This Corner", a daring drama of the prize ring.

Sunday through Tuesday, "John Loves Mary", film version of the rollicking Broadway stage success, will be the Southland's top feature. Ronald Reagan, Patricia Neal and Jack Carson share stellar honors in the merry story. Zachary Scott and Virginia Mayo are co-starred in the picture scheduled for second place on the program, "Flaxy Martin", a tense and exciting new melodrama.

New Negro Weekly To Be Started

Announcement was made today by Russell A. Jackson, veteran Columbus newspaperman, of the formation of a new Negro weekly newspaper to be known as the Ohio Sentinel.

Jackson, editor-in-chief of the Sentinel, stated that ownership of the paper will consist of himself and seven other Columbusites who will conduct the business on a partnership basis.

Chief owner is Edmund B. Paxton, assistant Franklin County prosecutor, who is also president of the Sentinel Publishing Company. The other owners include the following: Charles W. Sewell, vice president and advertising manager; Annie R. Stevens, secretary & treasurer; Amos H. Lynch, who at the age of 23 becomes one of the youngest managing editors in the country; Ernest Martin, production manager, and Mattie Marsh and Benjamin Andrews, production assistants.

"Our decision to publish the Sentinel in Columbus is the result of the belief of many Columbus citizens that there is the need for a more progressive weekly newspaper in a rapidly growing community such as Columbus," Jackson declared. "We have the utmost confidence that a paper such as ours, whose sole desire is to do the most good for all the people of our community, will be highly successful. We have no axes to grind, political or otherwise. We plan to attune our growth to the growth of the area in which our publication will render service."

Jackson stated that the Sentinel will be a tabloid size publication devoted to a strict policy of political independence and "completely barren of fear and favor to any single group."

Jackson added that the Sentinel's staff will consist of about 25 full and part time workers by the time the first edition appears on the newsstands. At that time, 10,000 papers will be distributed free of charge in a door-to-door canvass of Columbus homes. Thereafter, the paper will sell for a dime.

Because of "an already large request for advertising," the Sentinel's editor-in-chief stated that plans are being made by the staff for "an extra large" inaugural edition, perhaps consisting of as much as 60 pages.

Most of the paper's mechanical equipment has already been purchased, Jackson said, and "with a little luck," the first edition of the Sentinel should appear "around the middle of June."

The Sentinel which will circulate in the Columbus area only, has offices at 881 E. Long St.

Adventists Celebrate 100 Yrs. Achievement

A centenary service commemorating "a century of achievement and service by the Seventh-Day Adventist Church" will be celebrated in the Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 26 N. 21st Street, Saturday, May 21. F. E. Thumwood, supervisor of the Adventist literature work in Ohio, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be, "The Value of the Literature Ministry."

"The program will celebrate the beginnings of the church's publishing work in 1849, which was the first organized endeavor of the infant church," Richard T. Minesinger, pastor of the local church, said.

"The church's publishing work, started 100 years ago by young people who had no money, backing or equipment, has grown into a $12,000,000 a year business," Pastor Minesinger said.

"The publishing work was largely responsible for the rapid growth of the church, which now numbers more than 600,000 members, and operates an international network of churches, schools, hospitals and other institutions. The church's 51 publishing houses prepare literature in 190 languages, issue 208 periodicals and bring out a well-balanced library for the family, minister, and student," Pastor Minesinger said.

Water Follies At Red Bird Stadium

A highlight of the Water Follies of 1949, famed water and stage musical revue coming to Columbus June 3rd thru June 11th will be the appearance of Columbus' own Dorothy Mae Roederer, internationally known swimming and diving star.

The Water Follies of 1949 will be seen at the Red Bird Stadium in 9 nightly performances, plus 3 matinees on June 4, 5 and 11, with proceeds from all performances going to the Aladdin Crippled Children's Hospital Association.

Miss Roederer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Roederer, 452 Belvidere Ave., Columbus, will come here with the rest of the Water Follies direct from appearances in Caracas, Venezuela. Her diving numbers in the Water Follies of 1949 will be augmented by several numbers with the famous Aquabelles of the Water Ballet.

Included in the spectacular appearances of the Water Ballet will be one to be presented in total darkness, with the Aquabelles wearing special chemically treated bathing suits, which when the lights are dimmed, light up with a radium, phosphorescent effect.

Several new stage acts will be featured in this year's Water Follies, including the Lavernes, a Swiss Apache act, Tyler, Thorne and Roberts, a different type of stage knockabout comedy, and Jack Marlin, sensational impersonator of stars of stage, screen and radio.

The entire show will be presented in the world's largest portable pools and stage, which will be placed at home plate in the stadium, running diagonally from home team dug-out to the visiting team dug-out. Huge scenery will be placed right back of the two portable pools and stage, allowing the performers to face the audience directly.

Tickets, ranging in price from $1.20 to $2.40, may be secured at the Water Follies Box Office, Heaton's Music Store, 50 N. High St., Columbus. Mail and telephone orders are also being accepted at the Box Office, phone, Ma 0200.

Churches Sponsor Blood Donations

All churches in Franklin County have joined together to give full and active support to the Red Cross Regional Blood Center located in chapter headquarters at 30 E. Town Street.

Through the combined efforts of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish churches, the local center has been given its greatest organizational boost since it opened in December, and in return those donating will be assured of receiving Red Cross blood for themselves and their families, when and if needed, for a one year period.

The churches are giving active support to the program because it is a humanitarian community project closely allied to all religious beliefs. Members of 450 churches will participate.

Under the church plan, announced today by Red Cross officials, each church denomination will be responsible for sending twenty people to the center during designated.

signated weeks.

Dr. W. Arthur Milne, of the Maple Grove Methodist Church, has been appointed to head the blood program for the protestant churches in the Council of Churches. Eight churches of this group will each send twenty donors a week to the center starting the week of May 23rd.

Scheduled for that week are King Ave. Methodist Church, Christ Lutheran, Maynard Ave. Methodist, Shiloh Baptist, Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran, East Columbus Church of Christ, Goodale Chapel Methodist and the Monroe Ave Church of Christ.

Mrs. William C. Stal, 104 Brunson Ave. has accepted the responsibility as chairman for recruiting blood donors among the Catholic people of Franklin County. Twenty members of the St. Agatha's Parish will be the first to donate, also during the week of May 23rd.

On May 18th, representatives of ten Jewish organizations met to discuss the scheduling of their groups at the center. Mrs. Jerome Gross, 897 Remington Road, has Red Cross Blood Donor Council been appointed chairman of the for the Jewish Community Council.

It is expected that through the cooperation of all Franklin County churches, many women and men will be reached individually who might not be contacted through their place of employment or participating group.

Miss Elmira Lienard Bride Of R. W. Leister

The Rev. Fr. Harry Estadt solemnized the nuptials of Miss Elmira Virginia Lienard, daughter of Mrs. Charles J. Lienard, 2110 Leonard Av, and the late Mr. Lienard, and Mr. Robert William Leister, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Leister, 318 Sycamore Street.

The ceremony took place in St. Thomas the Apostle Church on Saturday at 9:30 a.m. before an altar decorated with white gladioli, snapdragons, smilax and huckleberry foliage.

Lustrous Duchess satin fashioned the bridal gown, stlyed along Victorian lines with on off-shoulder bertha of imported Alencon lace, draped shoulders and long sleeves coming to points over the hands. A bustle featured the back of the very full skirt which extended into a long graceful court train and fell over an old fashioned hoop. The veil of imported French illusion fell into soft folds from a Victorian bonnet of maching Duchess satin studded with beads and tiny seed pearls. The bride carried a prayer book covered with orchids and streamers knotted with stophanotis.

Miss June Marie Lienard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Barbara Jean Clouse was bridesmaid, attired in identical gowns of aqua taffeta styled along Victorian lines with sheer yokes, corded bertha collars, basque bodices and very full corded skirts which fell over hoops. They wore matching mitts and Victorian picture hats made of taffeta matching their gowns. Their bouquets were cascading roses, the maid of honor's being pale pink and the bridesmaid's pale yellow.

Mr. Paul Leister was best man for his brohter. Mr. Joseph Leister and Mr. John G. Leister, both brothers of the bridegroom, ushered.

Immediately following the ceremony a breakfast was held in the Sapphire Room of the Fort Hayes Hotel followed by a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. at the home of the bride's parents.

The new Mrs. Leister is a graduate of St. Mary of the Spring's Academy and Bliss College. She formerly was employed by the Pure Oil Company.

Mr. Leister is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and was graduated in December from the college of commerce at Ohio State University. He is associated with the F. and R. Lazarus & Co. as an accountant.

Abraham Lincoln's Ten Political Commandments

Since this is our Memorial Day issue, we think that since Lincoln is really the father of this day, it is entirely appropriate we print the following article, of Abraham Lincoln's ten political Commandments:—

You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.

You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.

You cannot help strong men by tearing down big men.

You cannot help the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer.

You cannot further the brotherhood of man by encouraging class hatred.

You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.

You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money.

You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn.

You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence.

You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

These ten commandments of Lincoln's could well be put into every life. It shows truly how a great man thinks.

Evans Bros. Remodel At 1749 Parsons Ave.

H. J. "Hal" Evans, owner of two fine stores located at 1340 Parsons Ave. and 1749 Parsons Ave., announces the remodeling and expansion of his store at 1749 Parsons Ave.

Mr. Evans, who started business on the South Side at 1340 Parsons Ave., 10 years ago, expanded in August of 1945 and purchased the store at 1749 Parsons. Since January of this year, he has steadily improved and enlarged this store, with more space up to the minute counters and cases, and has reached the point where he has one of the finest stores on the South Side. Both stores handle only the best merchandise, such as Sherwin Williams Paints, Pittsburgh Paints, Kem-tone and Kem-Glo. In appliances there are Sunbeam Mixmasters, Toastmasters, fine glassware, aluminum ware.

In the sporting goods department (and that's where Hal Evans excells being an ardent sportsman) you'll find Pflueger, Langely and Ocean City Reels, South Bend, Tru-Temper and Montague Casting Rods, Coleman Lanterns and Stoves. For the hunters, there are guns by Winchester, Remington and Marlin and a complete line of hunting equipment. His sports department is a sportsman's delight. Why don't you make it a point to stop in at either of the Evans Bros. Stores, where Miss McLennan, the manager at 1340 Parsons Ave., or Bob "Happy" Short at 1749 Parsons Ave., will be glad to be of service to you.

Little two year old James Dillbeck was taken to the Children's Hospital after an accident which happened in his home last week. Jimmie fell on a piece of glass and cut his hand so severely that six stitches had to be taken.

Robins Build Nest Over Door

There should be three cheers for the children of 665 and 675 Morrill Ave., in the Lincoln Park project. A pair of brave robins built a nest among some vines above a kitchen window, at 675 Morrill Ave. -

There is always a group of children standing open mouthed at feeding time, and never once have any of them tried to destroy the nest.

So I think our children need three cheers for their love of birds and for realizing that God gave them to us to beautify this drab world when spring comes.

Married Drum Majorettes Feature Southway Drum Corps

Southway Post is believed to be the only Drum & Bugle Corps that have two married Drum Majorettes and have their husbands in the Drum Corps with them. They also have a Father and Son combination.

The Drum Majorettes and their husbands are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gorsuch, (the former Bea McDonald) both South High School graduates and Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens, (the former Evaline McVay). The father and son are John Fairbanks Sr. and John Fairbanks Jr., both playing the bugle.

The Drum Majorettes both have participated in twirling and strutting contests and have won medals and money. Bea Gorsuch took 7th place in the National V.F.W. twirling contest in Boston, Mass. in 1946. In 1947 she placed as follows: 1st place in the City of Columbus; 1st place in Franklin County; 1st place in the State of Ohio V.F.W. twirling contest; 9th place in the National V.F.W. twirling contest at Cleveland. So I would say "that is a nice record to be proud of." Bea had to drop out in 1948 but she is back now with a new little Drum Majorette, that is only eight months old and already is trying to twirl the baton.

While Evaline Stevens is out temporarily now awaiting the arrival of a new Drum Major or Majorette, she has only been able to enter one strutting contest and that was the V.F.W State Strutting contest in 1947 and she took honorable mention.

Both girls hope to participate in contest this year when the American Legion Convention comes to Columbus on August 6th to 8th.

South Graduates Its Smallest Class

South High School will graduate its smallest graduation class Wednesday, June 8, at 2:30 p.m. at the school auditorium.

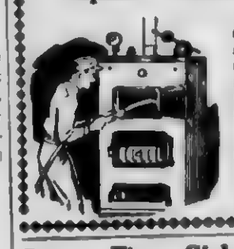
Among the 229 graduates will be 3 veterans Richard Ellis, Steve Gramlet and John Romine, Jr.

It will be about ten years before South High School will again have large graduation classes.

The pickup in numbers then will be due to the large group of post war youngsters.

These conditions are not only true at South, but at every other High School in our city.

Ideal Sportsman Club



The regular meeting of the Ideal Sportsman Club will be held Friday, May 27th at the Ideal Sporting Goods, 1575 Parsons Ave. at 8 p.m. All old members and anyone wishing to join are asked to attend.

George Lenkey is now leading the Bass fishermen of the Club with a 17½ inch, 2½ lb. large mouth. Lead was formerly held by John Sabo.

Arthur Weaver still leads the Catfishermen with his 23 inch shovelhead.

The trip to Lake Alma turned out to be a hunting trip. The barber and his son, John Santo and Jay Jordan were hunting sunshine while John Sabo was hunting the man with the Red Top.

Decoration Day Closes Race Meet

Columbus, Ohio, May 26—The curtain descends on Beulah Park's spring racing season Monday with a special Memorial Day card topped by the running of the Tom O. Worland Handicap.

Twilight racing occupies the stage every day through Friday with the post time for the first event set at 4 p.m. On Saturday and Memorial Day, the starting time will be 2:30 p.m.

From all indications, attendance and wagering records for the track will tumble Memorial Day, when a crowd of some 13,000 is expected to turn out for the final day of the meeting.

With the season in the home stretch, Howard Craig and Eldon Coffman are battling for the jockey championship while Al Wellman and E. G. Mahoney are the top-notchers among the trainers.

Unless there are more than the usual number of long shots during the remaining days of the meeting, the percentage of winning favorites will exceed .300.

Although racing has been formful, the long-shot players also have had their chances to cheer, one of them being when Coo Case, after finishing third in a previous start, caught the railbirds "looking out the window" and paid $90.

From Beulah, many of the horsemen and jockeys plan to go to Ascot Park, which inaugurates a 38-day meeting Saturday, June 4.

Lincoln Park School News

May Day at Lincoln Park School held on Friday, May 20th, was the last P.T.A. gathering for this term. Mrs. Stephen Soltesz, our "Ways and Means" chairman was in charge of the Festival. Thank you, Helen, for a very fine job. Thanks to all those P.T.A. members who cooperated and worked for the school. Our board members will continue thru the summer to plan an interesting fall program.

By the way, have you noticed how one of our past presidents of 1945 and still active member, is going ahead with P.T.A. work? She is now president of Franklin County Council. We salute you Mrs. Walter Denny.

In Our Memory

This poem was written by Connie Welch, a student of South High.

Oh God, where are our loved ones?
Are they safe with you above?
Do they think about us often,
And our true, undying love?

Did you take them to your realm
Where they now find joy & peace?
Where they'll never be unhappy
Where their fears forever cease?

To make our country free
They fought with might and main
They tried to conquer all our foes
Enduring many a pain.

They went through fire and water
To reach the other shore
When they in the lines of battle
Came to your heavenly door.

Although they are not with us
In our thought they will remain
And whene're we think about them
Our hearts are filled with pain.

On this Memorial Day
We think of all the strife
And the misery of our loved ones
That we might enjoy life.

Oh God, where are our loved ones?
Are they safe with you above?
Do they think about us often
And our true, undying love

South Students Tour Kaiser Frazer Plant

Students from the South High School Industrial Art Department recently took a trip to Michigan to view the Kaiser-Frazer Automotive plant. The trip was sponsored by Vance Kersell and William Scofield, member of the Industrial Arts Department staff.

The trip consisted of a visit to the Kaiser-Frazer plant, the Detroit Air Terminal, the Edison Institute and Greenfield Village.

There were two stops made by the group on the way to the Kaiser-Frazer plant; one at the truckers cross roads, the other at Toledo.

Our bus load of 37 persons arrived at the main entrance of the spacious willow - run office entrance of the Kaiser-Frazer plant at a few minutes before 11 a.m. The boys enjoyed the office lobby and the tables with advertising literature, including post cards to send home. We then ascended to the second floor and followed our guide to the clerical employees' cafeteria which seats about 300. All had their choice of food, which was plentiful and varied.

After lunch we were taken to the factory entrance, and there we boarded a train of small cars, which was pulled by an "electric mule." Our guide sat in the front seat of the first car and spoke to each separate car through a microphone and speaker, each car having an individual loudspeaker.

We started out through the stamping department where the sheet metal body and fender parts were made. Then we went on down past the body assembly line. Taking most of the construction operations in stride, we were shown the painting and finishing processes—also some of the special jobs of upholstering—moving on at the rate of about eight miles an hour—we passed the assembly line where the bodies were lowered and placed on the chassis. The assembly line of the chassis was particularly interesting, as the bare frame is started through the line up side down. Then, after all the parts which can be put on easier in the position are bolted on, the chassis is turned over and the top parts are gradually assembled.

The cars are all finally inspected and if found to be all right, are sent to the shipping floor. If found defective or scratched, they are sent to the repair floor and put in first class condition before being shipped.

The factory covers 87 acres of space all under one roof, so our trip took us about 42 minutes on our personal train ride. The above operations are given in the order in which we saw them.

Our group had a very cordial invitation to return next year for another trip.

After leaving the Kaiser plant, we then visited the Detroit Air terminal where a trans-Atlantic airliner was taking off.

After leaving the terminal, we traveled on through Detroit to Greenfield village. This village, built by Henry J. Ford, consisted of an old village store, an old stable, wheat mill, print shop, jewelry store and a blacksmith shop. Stephen Foster's home and Thomas A. Edison's home and workshop had also been transplanted to the grounds of Greenfield village. The most fascinating display of Greenfield village was the jewel display in the old-fashioned jewelry store. Travel in Greenfield village is carried on by horse drawn carriages.

We left Greenfield village and walked to the Edison Institute. The Edison Institute is a large building built by Ford in honor of his friend, Mr. Edison. The Institute houses many of Ford's museum pieces, among which is a set of eight spoons, valued at $32,000,000 and a porcelain statue of a carriage and six horses, valued at $125,000,000. The largest room in the Institute is 8 acres square, the flooring of which is supposed to last a thousand years. The floor is teak wood and was bro't over from India piece by piece. This room houses every mode of transportation since the dawn of time.

On the return home, we stopped only once at a small road-side inn for dinner.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "The Bribe" starring Robert Taylor and Ava Gardner. This picture is really loaded with dramatic impact. As a man Gambles his life and career, for a woman who was worth it, almost. Also on the bill is "The Set Up" starring Robert Ryan and Audry Totter.

Russell Theater Shows "Life Of Riley"

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater will show "The Life of Riley" with William Bendix and James Gleason. This loveable, laugh provoking family man of radio fame springs to life on the screen. The life of Riley is a life of laughs, a few tears and amazing adventures. This down-to-earth comedy is about the type of ordinary human that every patron will either know or recognize. Also on the bill will be Adventures of Gallant Bess with Fuzzy Knight, plus news and cartoon.

Walter Wanger's "Tulsa" At Academy Theaters

"Tulsa," the new Walter Wanger Technicolor spectacle, will be premiered to Central Ohio film fans on Thursday, May 26th, when it opens first run engagements at six neighborhood Academy Theaters. The dramatic story of Oklahoma's vast oil industry will be shown for one week only at the Beechwold, Esquire, Lane, Cleve, University and Westmont Theaters.

The Academy Theaters take pride in presenting this outstanding screen production at your conveniently located Academy playhouse with all of its attendant convehiences, virtually at your very doorstep.

"Tulsa," Wanger's first production since his epic "Joan of Arc," has been breaking boxoffice records wherever it has been shown. Spectacle, romance and bright, wondrous color are blended in the adventure romance, the story of a girl oil wildcatter, portrayed by Susan Hayward.

The first-run picture stars, in addition to the titian-haired Miss Hayward, Robert Preston and the new dramatic actor from South of the border, Pedro Armendariz. These three lead robust lives of violence and action set against the exciting panorama of the Oklahoma oil rush. In the film, the ruthless possession of oil rich property turns Susan Hayward into one of the most vicious of the early wildcatters. In a world of arrogant, remorseless, tough men, she soon learns that she has to be tougher than the worst of them for economic survival.

Advance reports have it that there are the same scenes of scope and spectacle that one has been led to expect of a Walter Wanger production. One sequence shows a gusher blowing in, with the oil geyser being preceded with bursts of shattered casing, sand, gravel, salt water and gas. In another spectacular scene, a river polluted with oil catches fire, sending sheets of flame for blocks around. This fire scene is said to rank with the great fire scene in "Gone With the Wind."

Chill Wills and Lloyd Gough head the impressive supporting cast.

By special arrangement with the producer, and to accommodate the anticipated crowds, the six Academy Theaters showing "Tulsa" will open daily at 5 p.m. From 5 p.m. daily to 6 p.m., and at the specially scheduled Saturday matinee, regular prices will prevail. Evening shows and Sunday and Memorial Day prices will be slightly higher.

"Tulsa" will be shown for one week only at the Westmont, Lane, Cleve, University, Esquire and Beechwold Theater as a single attraction.

The 6B 5A Class discussed Safety for the Summer. The following suggestions were made:—Swim or wade in water which you know is safe. Swim or wade where there are life guards or older people watching you. Have the right number of people in a boat—never too many for the size of the boat. Never, never rock a boat. Never stand up in a boat. Never change places in a row boat while out on the water. Play in your yards, fields, or on playgrounds. Stay out of the streets, when playing. Be sure to put out fires before leaving picnic or camping grounds. Pick up all waste paper and empty cans. If there is no place to put them, take them home with you. Learn some names of flowers, weeds, and birds this summer. Keep your yard clean and well-cared for. Be careful at all times. Stay away from railroad tracks and gravel pits. Help your mother in every way that you can. Try to learn something new each day.

South's Favorite Teacher Passes

Last Monday in Scarsdale, N. Y. they laid to rest one of the grandest teachers that South Hi School ever had, Philip I. Blakesley, who passed away Friday.
Mr. Blakesley taught history at South High for 35 years and retired two years ago.
We have talked to many former students of South and always the answer was "he's swell", "great guy", "my favorite teacher", and on they would rave.
It was your editor's privilege to have been his neighbor. When we talked to him about South students he would say "my girls and boys" and you could really see he meant it.
We know those who knew him will really miss him for his keen understanding and gentle nature were like a beacon light to all.
He leaves his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Blakesley; two daughters, Mrs. A. T. Kirkham and Mrs. E. K. Smith, also Phillip E. Blakesley, a professor of fine arts at Ohio State University and two grandchildren.

Ho, Hum!

The other day we ran across some very educational pamphets. They were printed by the United States Bureau of Printing.

Two of these pamphets were four pages any one was two pages.

The titles were "How to determine the sex of a watermelon"; "The life and loves of tsetse fly", and "How to construct a suspension bridge."

To begin with who cares what the sex of a watermelon is. The main thing, is it ripe? The next is to cut it and proceed to enjoy it.

Then the tsetse fly is only a native of Africa and who gives a darn who it loves.

The article on the suspension bridge was all of two pages but when you open it oh how enlightening in the one sentence in the pamphet namely, "Hire a good contractor."

It cost the taxpayers last year $10,000,000 to print this kind of crap.

This, South Siders, is what you pay your income tax for.

Schiller Park News

26 May 49

A note to Parents:—

We are attempting to set up a new policy at Schiller whereby the adults will benefit by using facilities and equipment at the center.

The children fourteen years of age and under will be invited to use the playgrounds and center facilities from the time the park opens until six o'clock in the evenings, after which time they will not be permitted on the premises. We urgently ask the cooperation of the parents in this undertaking. The reason is two-fold:

1) The children of this age will not be on the streets or out of the care of the parents after dark and 2) the time from six o'clock on 'til closing time, may be devoted to adult programs.

An entirely different program for grown ups will be constructed to fill in at this time and if the parents will co-operate in keeping their children at home during these hours, it will add greatly to the success of this project.

Now that summer is upon us, the outside playgrounds will keep open for children until 8 p.m. after which time they will be requested to leave, and the remainder of the activities will be carried on inside the center.

Supervisor at Schiller

Camp Willson To Open

Many Columbus boys will soon be packing their equipment to spend two or more happy weeks at Camp Alfred L. Willson, the YMCA Camp, which is located on Lake Mac-O-Chee near Bellefontaine.

The first of the five periods of two weeks each will open on Friday, June 17, when approximately 140 boys are expected to start the fun of living and playing in one of the most beautiful spots in Ohio.

A well qualified staff of counsellors and program leaders will direct all kinds of camping activities. Instruction will be offered in arts, crafts, hobbies, sports, games, nature lore, woodcraft, Indian lore, swimming, diving, life saving, canoeing, sailing, boating, fishing and many other interests.

Hikes and trips will again be offered to nearby spots of natural and historic interest, including such places as the Ohio Caverns, Mac-O-Chee Castles, Black Lake, Miami River Park, Zane Caverns, Fish Hatcheries and Rush Lake.

At Camp Willson will be found comfortable quarters, proper housing for all kinds of weather, modern sanitary facilities, pure water for both drinking and swimming, adequate refrigeration and excellent food service and equipment.

A few vacancies remain in some of the periods. For further information parents or boys may call at the Boys Branch YMCA, 40 W. Long Streets or telephone ADams 1131.

Red Cross Swim Lessons

The third annual Red Cross-WBNS Water Safety Campaign will get under way on Monday June 13, following the close of the school year.

Swimming pool owners and managers in Columbus and Franklin County are again cooperating in the annual campaign. Last year, 1500 boys and girls learned to swim and over 700 were certificated by the Red Cross from the beginners through senior life saving.

The classes in all pools will be under the supervision of Red Cross trained instructors and registration for the classes may be made by pool members and their guests at the office of their neighborhood swimming pool. There is no charge for the swimming and life saving instruction.

The schedule of classes for beginners, swimmers, advanced swimmers and junior and senior life saving will be available at each pool. Early registration is urged.

Following the plan adopted in last year's campaign, a trophy will be awarded to the pool having the best water safety program. Medals and ribbons will be presented to winners in each classification at a county-wide meet to be held at the end of the season.

Every youngster who learns to swim at least ten strokes will become a "polliwog" and will receive a polliwog button.

The trophy in last season's Red Cross-WBNS Campaign was won by the Upper Arlington pool, Roberts Cavins, Manager.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche has proclaimed the period of June 19-25 as "Youth in Government Week" in Ohio, dedicated to the 1200 boys and girls who at that time will be attending the 13th Buckeye Boys' State at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, and the 3rd Buckeye Girls' State at Capital University, Columbus.

"The success of government by the people and for the people, as practiced in this state and nation, depends upon the knowledge our citizens acquire of our form of self-government, their interest in it, and their enthusiasm for it," says the proclamation.

The document further points out that the two "states," as operated respectively by the American Legion of Ohio and the American Legion Auxiliary of Ohio, have the purpose of "instilling in the minds and hearts of selected high school juniors a high enthusiasm for our form of government and practical knowledge of how it works in cities, counties and the state."

Boys' State, with an expected enrollment of 900, will be held June 18-25. Girls' State with about 400 enrolled, is scheduled June 19-25.

Also on the bill is Sing Neighbor Sing, starring Roy Acuff and Lulu Belle and Scotty. News and Cartoon.

Kiwanis Night At Stadium June 14; Boys To Benefit

Every member of Kiwanis will be a ticket salesman between now and June 14, the date of Kiwanis Night at Red Bird Stadium.

The United Kiwanis Clubs of Greater Columbus are sponsoring the event. The Red Birds are scheduled to play Indianapolis that night.

The purpose of Kiwanis is to raise money to send 140 underprivileged boys to camp this summer. The boys range in age from seven to 16, and will be chosen by member Kiwanis Clubs on the basis of initiative, leadership, ability, cooperation and citizenship.

Kiwanians will have tickets in every price range—$1.20, $1.50, 50 cent bleacher tickets and box seats.

James Riley, president of Downtown Kiwanis, said today that both individuals and organizations interested in sending one or several boys to the ball game would be furnished tickets at 50 cents each.

Chairman of the committee in charge of Kiwanis Night is James R. Riley, president of the Downtown Kiwanis Club; secretary is George H. Jarvis, president of Northwest Kiwanis Club. Other committee members are Thomas R. Loughran, president of Linden Heights Club, J. Max McConaghe, president of Northern Kiwanis, and Mr. Jack Sensenbrenner of Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Seventy boys will be accommodated in each of the two camp sessions which are scheduled for August 4 to 16 and 18 to 30.

The camp, owned by the Big Brother Association, is located in Hocking County, 55 miles southeast of Columbus on Route 374, southwest of Logan. It is situated on a wooded terrain of 165 acres and consists of a dining hall, recreation barn, infirmary, wash and shower houses, and 10 cabins.

Camp counselors and personnel employed for the Big Brothers camp will also be continued on for the Kiwanis Camp period.

Sports fans who attend Kiwanis Night at the Red Bird Stadium on June 14 will be helping to send these 140 Greater Columbus boys to camp for a thrilling two weeks they will long remember.

DOG MAY CURE AILING BOY

Delaney McBride, a good looking 15-year-old boy, who has lain in a hospital off and on for months at a time, underwent a very serious operation last week. Delaney is a very ill boy and the worst is still not over as he must undergo at least two more operations.

We have been informed that Delaney longs for just one thing and that is to own a little Boston Bull Dog. This not being a common breed of Dog, his parents have hunted all the pet shops without being able to find one. They have requested us to appeal to our readers for help. To quote from his Mother's letter, "Will someone, who would like to make a very ill boy happy, please call Ga 6774 in the morning, to help us get a little Boston Bull Dog. We could take it to the hospital and let him see it. I know this would make him open his big black eyes and smile once more."

There you are, folks. Can you help these people make their child happy? If so, please call them at Ga 6774. This information may bring back the will to live for this poor suffering child.

These parents have been under a great financial strain. Wouldn't it be showing real community spirit if we donated a few pennies and presented Delaney McBride with his Boston Bull Dog, as a gift from the readers of the South Side Booster.

Anyone interested in donating, please contact the South Side Booster by calling Ga 9262 or Ga 71121.

Danny Franklin Stationed On West Coast

Danny Franklin, former South High athlete, who graduated from South in 1948 is now stationed at Mere Island in California. Danny, who has a naval rating of ENFM is now attending Firemans School at the Mere Island Naval Base. We guess nearly everyone on the South Side who is interested in athletics remembers Danny. He played brilliantly for South in '46-'47 and '48 on the gridiron. He now has about a year left of his enlistment and then he'll be back here on the South Side running Danny's Variety Store at 773 Parsons. His father Carl Franklin is at present, running the store for Danny until he comes back.

Stop in at Danny's Variety at anytime and browze around. We're sure you'll find something there you'll like, if nothing else, have a chat with Danny's Dad. You'll enjoy yourself.

New S. Side Merchant

Mr. Robert Graver, who for three years owned a grocery store at 729 E. Fourth Ave, has sold his store and gone into the restaurant business on the South Side. Mr. and Mrs. Graver recently purchased the Islay's Store at the corner of Livingston Ave. and Parsons Ave. The Graver's have done considerable remodeling to the store, making it more modern and up to date. They have furnished a private dining room, where dinners are served. In the dining room they have installed a television set for the enjoyment of their dinner guests. The restaurant is being run under a complete new policy. Only the finest grades of foods are being served, cooked to order. The Graver's son Charles helps in the store. Charles is well known in sport circles. Although an East High student, he played basketball on the championship team of the Washington Avenue United Brethren Church, of which he is a member.

Mr. Graver will continue to handle Islay's products such as, ice cream, eggs, butter, cheeses and many other items.

Frank Gerstner of 444 Hossack Street has just installed a new engine in his '41 Mercury, which means he's in for some slow driving for a while. In order not to antagonize other motorists while the breaking in period is going on he has very thoughtfully displayed a large sign on the trunk of the car reading:—"New Motor please have mercy."

It seems that George had taken a fall while water skiing and that Harry Kreutzer, Jr., was trying to throw him the tow rope. After missing his aim several times he kiddingly remarked that he'd reach him for sure the next time if he aimed at the Famous Robey Bald Spot. Moral of the story: he aimed, he hit, almost knocking Robey out, and now Robey is carrying around a beautiful lump on his bald spot.

Two New Traffic Lights To Be Installed

Within the next two weeks, traffic lights will be installed at Parsons Ave. & Sycamore St., also at Frebis Ave. and Lockbourne Rd., according to Harry Turner, in charge of the City Traffic Division.

Both of these locations have needed traffic lights for some time and will definitely fill a much-needed improvement.

Recently Turner had installed lights at East Barthman and E. Fourth St. and at E. Livingston Ave. and Lockbourne Rd. Both of these traffic lights were a necessity.

These lights pretty well fill the present needs of the South Side.

That Smell Is Back

Last Friday night your editor happened to be near W. Whittier and S. Front Sts. A heavy odor permeated the air.

For a moment he could not place it but soon discovered it came from the sewage stand by tanks just north of Greenlawn Avenue.

The odor from these tanks is not only offensive but is also certainly unhealthy.

We have talked with city officials but they have always said it is impossible to cap these tanks. But the stand-by tanks at E. Main St. and Alum Creek are capped.

We just can't understand why they can cap tanks one place and not the other.

One of the prominent city officials lives near Greenlawn Ave. and S. High St. He says he can't smell them.

Well if he can't he better get a good eye, ear and nose specialist because there is surely something wrong with his smeller.

The South Side has a right to demand that these tanks be covered so that the health of the citizens affected will be protected.

Taulbee Appointed

City Agnes Cain announced recently that she appointed Samuel Scott Taulbee to the position of Legislative Clerk in her office. Taulbee served in the Navy from 1942 to 1946, three and one-half years of which was overseas. He resides at 660 Woodrow Ave. with his wife and two children.

Taulbee fills the position of the late W. A. Drake, who had been with the City 25 years.

Community Dads To Be Honored

A group of community dads will be honored Friday (June 10) at a special ceremony opening the three day Columbus Festival of Roses.

Mayor James A. Rhodes said floral tribute will be paid a group of representative community fathers in the form of huge bouquets of roses during a special 1½-hour program. It will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The dads, each representing a particular community, are to be chosen by community civic groups or service clubs. They will act as official representatives of all community fathers at the ceremony.

Representing the South Side will be Clyde J. Boso, 148 Hinman Avenue, a veteran city fireman and well-known south side father. Mr. Boso was selected by the Southeast Lion's Club.

The "Community Dad" plan was suggested by the nearness of Father's Day—June 19—and because of the basic importance of good fathers to a community and a city.

Mayor Rhodes has officially proclaimed the three-day exposition the "Columbus Festival of Roses." He said the big floral show, commenced this year for the first time, will be an annual summer season affair.

Cooperating in the show are the Columbus Allied Florists, Columbus Landscape Association and the Columbus Rose Society. In overall charge is Ray S. Dietz, superintendent of the city division of parks and forestry.

The parks superintendent praised three sponsoring floral and landscape groups footing the bills. He said they have shown "the closest cooperation in adding the luster of a great annual rose festival to our civic pride."

Mayor Rhodes has invited officials and citizens of every community in the state to the three-day exposition. He said Columbus "should be the state's showplace because it is its capital."

The mayor also asserted that he is certain that the city's south siders will prove interested in the festival. He indicated that "people who show the interest in tidy lawns and flower gardens that is shown on the South Side must certainly be interested in such a show."

Michigan's Upper Peninsula By Frank E. ("Dude Ranch") Koch

They probably didn't prune the "Grapevine" last fall; for news from up north has been limited in the past week. When spring comes to the Upper Peninsula folks up there are just too busy readying their cottages for the summer season. There's repairs on Buildings, boats, docks, etc. Then, too, many have their farms to care for so we'll just have to wait for 'em seems to me.

Another U.P. personality that comes to my mind this week is another outstanding old-timer—Harry Ryerse is the name. We don't know when the Ryerse's came to this Mackinac County settlement nor the exact dates they arrived. Mr. Ryerse has tabulated the temperatures in winter, and the weather conditions as long as I can remember. He is exact in his temperature readings as to time and conditions; for his thermometer readings are made at exactly the same hour each morning, noon and evening. It was surprising to us to note to what extremes these changes reached. For instance it would be below zero in the early morning; rise to 49° above at noon, and drop to 15° above by evening. Mr. Ryerse is known as the weather-man of Brevort Lake.

The Ryerse Home at a glance reminds one of a small Hotel. Back in 1929 we thought we had arrived at the Historic Massey House only to learn the Ryerse home was just another dwelling in the Brevort Lake area.

This elderly couple lives alone in this spacious house having lost their daughter recently. Harry Ryerse has almost as many stories to tell of the earlier settlers as does Billy Massey, J. D. Erskine, Wm. Luepnitz & Pete Johnson. We shall try to write about Pete Johnson at a later date.

We were impressed by an article in the St. Ignace News-Enterprise about a "Pageant of Living Rosary," viewed by 1,500 in open air Cathedral on Golf Links. It follows:

"On a site overlooking the historic Straits of Mackinac, an area converted into an open air cathedral, members of the Marquette District Sodality Union, spearheaded by the members of Our Lady of the Asumption Sodality of St. Ignace, presented the colorful and significant Pageant of the Living Rosary and the official M. D.S.U. rally, before a throng of approximately 1,500 persons here last Sunday afternoon.

"The ceremony on the local golf course highlighted a full day's observance of the Sodality rally. Girls gowned in blue, white, rose and yellow, depicted the Rosary. A series of tableaux pictured the mysteries of the Rosary; the Resurrection, Ascension, Decent of the Holy Ghost and the Assumption and Coronation presented during reading of the Rosary. The pageant was arranged by the Rev. Father Cappo of St. Ignatius Loyola Church of St. Ignace.

"The Queen of May was Charlotte La Haie. She was attended by court and page boys.

"Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, bishop of the diocese, accompanied by the Rev. Fr. David Spaigatti, Sodality moderator, was present and appeared on the programme.

"Typical Sodality lectures were presented at St. Ignace Theatre prior to the public observance. Luncheon was enjoyed at Loyala Hall and the reception ceremony for the Union was observed at St. Ignatius Church. The gathering enjoyed dancing at La Salle gymnasium after the day's activities at the Golf Course."

Many Church dignitaries were present; including Rev. Father Donleavy who, back in 1938, was chaplain to the Missions of Trout Lake and Moran, and who enjoyed at least one chicken dinner at the "Dude Ranch." Fr. Donleavy, to us, is one of the outstanding Priests in the area, topped only by Fr. Chas. Reinhart who now is permanently stationed at Moran. Fr. Donleavy's Dad was an engineer on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railroad.

In conclusion, we wonder whether the weather up there is the same stuff we are having down here. Certainly it can't be more changeable!

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

South High Alumni Elects Mrs. Shriner

Mrs. Bernadine Kramer Shriner, 1040 Roosevelt Ave., has been re-elected for a second term as president of South High School Alumni Association.

Other officers are: Rob't Smith, 1683 Wyandotte Rd., vice president; Gertrude Kramer, of 1040 Roosevelt Ave., secretary, and Nelson Hennis, 526 S. High St., treasurer.

Annual Alumni Day will be held Friday, June 3, at the school. There will be a business meeting at 3 p.m., followed by entertainment and a dance.

The alumni group is raising $4,000 needed to complete improvements on Mahaffey Stadium and another fund to provide for installation of an electric organ in the auditorium. The organ will be a memorial to the 35 South High men who lost their lives in the armed forces.

The group also is raising funds for a new stage curtain and new band instruments. Drive for 4,000 active members is under way. Graduates not on the alumni rolls may enroll by sending names and addresses to any officer.

Family basket picnic is planned for July 10 at South Side Y Park, Mrs. Shriner said.

Economic Highlights

In an analysis of present business trends in this country, Nation's Business says, "Peaks attained in 1948 are not likely to be duplicated in 1949, but trade and industry have shaken down to more realistic levels . . . When allowances is made for the normal seasonal dip in February and March, declines in those months are not as extreme as they seemed . . It is easy to exaggerate the extent of the decline that has taken place."

What it all adds up to is that the boom has pretty well spent its force, but that nothing which can be called a depression is in view. There has been some decline in employment due, in part, to the elimination of inefficent workers, which is a natural tendency at a time when industry is trying to cut operating costs in order to lower prices. As Nation's Business also says, "A return to aggressive selling is now necessary. Inefficiency in either manufacturing or selling will be penalized heavily." Proof of this is found in the fact that the number of business failures is far greater than it was a year or two ago.

On the consumer side, two important things seem to have happened. Many families which were living beyond current income and were spending war-accumulated savings have been forced to come down to earth. This is reflected in declining sales of luxuries and semi-luxuries — liquor, jewelry, commercial entertainment, certain kinds of home appliances, and so on. Then, the fact that prices have been dropping during recent months has convinced many people that still greater drops are in prospect. So they are postponing purchasing in the hope of getting things cheaper a few months hence.

The automobile supply-demand situation is one of the most interesting. Passenger car output may reach a new high record this year. It is now possible to buy almost any make of new car with little or no delay. Most manufactures have made price cuts of varying sizes. The day when used cars brought more than they cost when new is definitely over. The bottom began slipping out from under the used car market last winter, and the looked for spring up-turn didn't materialize. Trade-in values are well down, with many dealers overstocked. That is how a buyers' market returns.

It must be remembered that the American economy is being supported at a high level by government spending. Many believe that prosperity we are enjoying is artifical. It is based to a considerable degree on the huge arms budges made necessary by the cold war, by the Marshall Plan spending, by Treasury largess all along the line. Few are willing to risk long-term forecasts.

Ninth Townsend Convention

Columbus will be host to more than 7000 Senior Citizens from June 29 thru July 4 when the Ninth Townsend National Convention convenes here.

Mr. Daffron is establishing convention headquarters at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel and will spend the next six weeks in this section making arrangements for the forthcoming convention.

A tentative schedule of the convention follows:

June 29—Registration, Main Lobby, Deshler-Wallick Hotel.

June 30—Registration at the Fairgrounds Convention sessions open at the Fairgrounds.

Morning and afternoon sessions will also be held July 1st and 2nd at the Fairgrounds.

On Monday, July 4th, convention sessions will return to the Fairgrounds for the Annual Parade of States rally.

A list of convention speakers will be announced in the near future, Mr. Daffron said.

In Our Memory

This poem was written by Connie Welch, a student of South High.

Oh God, where are our loved ones?
Are they safe with you above?
Do they think about us often,
And our true, undying love?

Did you take them to your realm
Where they now find joy & peace?
Where they'll never be unhappy
Where their fears forever cease?

To make our country free
They fought with might and main
They tried to conquer all our foes
Enduring many a pain.

They went through fire and water
To reach the other shore
When they in the lines of battle
Came to your heavenly door.

Although they are not with us
In our thought they will remain
And whene're we think about them
Our hearts are filled with pain.

On this Memorial Day
We think of all the strife
And the misery of our loved ones
That we might enjoy life.

Oh God, where are our loved ones?
Are they safe with you above?
Do they think about us often
And our true, undying love

Veterans of the "most decorated American Division of World War II, the 82nd Airborne, will take over Cleveland for a three-day convention and reunion which will honor three famous generals who have served the division. General James M. Gavin, who personally led the troopers thru their seven tough campaigns in Europe, General C. E. The world-famed 82nd Division "Honor Guard" and Band will highlight the festivities with an exhibition of sparkling maneuvers at Clevelands' annual "Festival of Freedom" in the Municipal stadium.

This convention will be the third annual reunion of the famed airborne division since the end of the war. Any present or ex-airborne soldier is entitled to attend the 82nd reunions. Reservations are being made now and those interested should contact the national headquarters in Chicago, Illinois.

Just A Little Tip

And injury that's caused, may never mend.

So why not heed and do each deed
In the manner which you know is best?
Do what's worthwhile, then with a smile,
Enjoy all the fruits of happiness.
The willingness to earn success,
Is constant striving, without complaint.
Doing your best, brings happiness:
Your willingness, failure cannot taint.
If you have an aim, play the [redacted]
The game that is commnly known as "Life."
Always play it square, play it fair;
Then you are sure to conquer strife.
He who plays the cheat, meets defeat,
And gains nothing at all in the end.
Deceit will always bring defeat,

Dairy Delights For June Days

Cool, refreshing ice cream, whether served plain or with "trimmins", is an all-time favorite, says the Columbus Milk Council. With the coming of summer you'll be voted "queen" of your household when you surprise your family with these treats.

BAKED ALASKA

4 egg whites
6 Tablespoons suger
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon vanilla
1 nine-inch layer of cake (homemade or baker's)
1 quart ice cream

Beat egg whites until stiff. Sprinkle sugar and salt over egg whites. Beat in quickly but thoroughly. Add vanilla. Place cake on cookie sheet or heat-proof platter. Pile ice cream on cake leaving about ¾ inch around edge of cake uncovered. Quickly spread meringue over the entire surface of ice cream. Be sure to seal in the ice cream completely. Bake in a hot oven (450° F.) for about 8 minutes or until delicately browned. If desired, brown under the broiler. Serve immediately. Serves six to eight.

APRICOT NECTAR

Put 1 cup chilled apricot nectar into a mixing bowl, add 3 teaspoons lemon juice, pinch salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, and a large serving of vanilla ice cream. Beat just long enough to blend. Serve in a tall glass garnished with mint. Serves 1.

Row fertilization of corn and sugar beets helps prevent disease and insect damage, according to the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

WE RISE TO REMARK

For more than 20 years this correspondent for your paper has pointed out that New York and Jersey City were being ruled by the same class of political machines that existed under Pendergast in Kansas City, Kelly and Nash ran Chicago. We have never hesitated to say they were a bunch of crooks. Therefore, we rise to cheer the downfall of Boss Hague of Jersey City. It is to be hoped that the good work of cleaning up boss-ridden cities will succeed.

Historical Society Free Books

COLUMBUS, MAY 26—The demand for the recently published free leaflets by the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society has been very large, with requests from all over the nation and from several foreign countries.

Two new 6-page leaflets are ready for free distribution. One, "Fort Meigs," deals with an important military engagement, and the other, "Fort Hill," pertains to the archaeology and natural history of the site. Both areas are State Memorials administered by the Society.

The Fort Meigs leaflet carries 4 illustrations, and describes one of the most important events of the War of 1812. Fort Meigs was situated on the east bank of the Maumee River about 10 miles south of Toledo.

The monument shown on the cover is on the site of the former fort. William Henry Harrison, commander of the United States Army, and Tecumseh, the Indian chief who fought with the British are both pictured in the leaflet. A brief description of the engagements fought at Fort Meigs together with background information giving the significance of their place in Ohio history is given.

Fort Hill has a double attraction for visitors. As a natural history site, it has an abundance and variety of plant and animal life. The rare Canadian yew, a relic of the Ice Age is found here with many rare birds and flowers. An illustration of the flower of the Tulip tree, a scene at the gorge, and a nest of the oven bird are pictured.

As an archaeological site, Fort Hill contains one of the best preserved prehistoric Indian hilltop enclosures in the State. At present it is believed that the 1¼ mile wall with 33 openings was built by Hopewell Indians before A.D. 1200. A small museum contains many interesting objects made by these people and geological specimens from this 1200-acre State Memorial.

Shelter houses, picnic facilities, and parking areas are found at both Fort Meigs and Fort Hill.

WHAT'S THIS?

United Nations Assembly has approved a World treaty of 23 Articles for "freedom of the press." Sorry boys, but there are 23 reasons why this gesture for press freedom will fail to work.

Help Still Needed

COLUMBUS, OHIO, May 19—Despite a general tightening up of job opportunities today as compared to a year ago, specialists such as stenographers, nurses, dieticians, machinists, pharmacists and social workers are still much in demand.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's Employment Service Division reports that these and other types of workers are needed in a number of different areas throughout the state. Generally speaking—the BUC points out—the requirements job applicants must meet today are more stringent than they have been at any other time during the postwar period.

The demand for stenographers and clerk-typists is particularly heavy in Columbus and Cincinnati. Interested persons can obtain further information on these and other openings by contacting any one of the BUC's 91 local offices.

Dieticians, who are offered up to about $3,000 a year, are wanted in Youngstown, Dayton and Chillicothe. And registered nurses may find jobs paying up to $3,000 a year in the latter two cities and in Cincinnati.

Social workers are needed in Youngstown, Lorain, Cleveland, Chillicothe and Akron. And they are offered up to $3,600 a year provided they have the necessary educational and experience qualifications.

Other types of workers in demand and the communities in which the demand exists are as follows:

Electrical engineers — Akron, Canton, Cincinnati and Columbus.

Pharmacists—West Union, Sandusky, Cincinnati, Chillicothe and Youngstown.

General Farmhands — Wooster, Mt. Gilead and Youngstown.

Machinists— Youngstown, Canton and Cleveland.

Refractory Bricklayers — Canton and Youngstown.

News In The World Of Religion

By W. W. Reid

The United Church of Raleigh, North Carolina, was recently the recipient of a "citation for its contribution to interracial and interfaith understanding through its "Institute of Religion" which has now been in operation for ten years and has attracted nationwide attention. The award was made by the Board of Home Missions of the Congregational Christian Churches, and by the Southern Convention of the same denomination. Dr. Stanley U. North, of New York, making the presentation of the citation to the pastor, the Rev. Frederick B. Eutsler, said that the Institute had been supported by Protestants, Jews, and Catholics of Raleigh, and that it had insisted that "the crucial issues of the day be exposed to the light of forthright discussion and criticism."

The Methodist Theological Seminary, at Gothenburg, Sweden, is celebrating the 75th anniversary of its founding. The Seminary trains Methodist and other evangelical "free church" ministers for all the Scandinavian nations. Participating in the ceremonies was Bishop Theodor Arvidson, Methodist bishop of Scandinavia, an alumnus and former president of the institution: and Methodist leaders from the United States, Great Britain, Norway, and Finland. Methodism was first established in Sweden by returned immigrants from Sweden to America who had joined parishes in the U. S. A.

The same year in which the American flag was raised in Puerto Rico, the first evangelical missionaries from the United States entered the Island. That was after the Spanish-American War. Now the thousands of evangelical churchmen of twelve denominations are celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the event. The anniversary program included a public parade through the streets of San Juan, and a mass meeting in the ball park on Sunday. Speakers included Dr. W. Stanley Rycroft, of New York, secretary of the Committee on Cooperation in Latin American. Bishop Charles W. Flint, of Washington, D. C., and Puerto Rican church leaders.

Twice each Friday from April 1 through September 30, Dr. Francis C. Stifler, of the American Bible Society, will broadcast messages from the Bible over the facilities of the American Broadcasting Company and affiliated stations. This will be Dr. Stifler's eleventh annual series of such messages. Originating in Station WJZ, New York City, the broadcasts will be heard at 8:45 a.m., and at 11:30 p.m., EST.

"The evidence coming from several areas in Europe make it clear that there is a systematic attack upon the churches by communist-controlled governments," says a declaration on religious freedom recently adopted by the Federal Council of the churches of Christ in America. "It's plain that totalitarian states under communist domination are determined to prevent the churches from having any influence in public life. In the light of recent developments in Hungary, Bulgaria, and elsewhere, the design of these states to bring the churches into subservience is no longer open to doubt. . . . The threat which the churches confront in other lands is a ringing call to Christians, in lands that are still free, to redouble their efforts in behalf of social justice and human rights. It is in the soil of misery and injustice that communism thrives. For Christians to struggle constantly to establish both freedom and justice for all people, remembering especially the poorest and most oppressed, is to strengthen the church for its most effective witness today."

Under the leadership of the Rev. T. Kimata, of the Church of Christ in Japan, the Japan Christian Rural Fellowship, which was active among the rural peoples of Japan in the pre-war years, is being brought into existence again to serve the need of the countryside. The Fellowship will consist of both ministers and laymen interested in the agricultural-religious needs of men and women; it will be inter-denominational; have a rural magazine; issue a bulletin for ministers and church leaders, and a second bulletin for farmers; and conduct summer schools for the rural education of ministers and church members. The Fellowship will be related to Agricultural Missions Inc., Dr. John H. Reisner, of New York, executive.

Two million pounds of used clothing — "from layettes to overcoats" — are being sought by Church World Service (214 East 21 Street, New York City) from the Protestant and Orthodox churches and members in the United States for shipping to Palestinian refugees at the urgent request of the United Nations. Besides the used clothing some $200,000 in funds are asked to employ and equip teachers in sewing schools and workshops and to ship the clothing overseas. According to Dr. Stanley I. Stuber, CWS executive, this need of the refugees "is a most urgent and critical situation."

The Sunday School Teachers and Officers will meet at the home of Mr. Clarence Hulls, 166 Binns Blvd.

This is the second year of this cooperative endeavor by these two neighborhood churches.

There will be four Departments:
Beginners or Nursery—ages 4, 5
Primary—ages 6, 7, 8
Junior—ages 9, 10, 11
Intermediate or Junior Hi—ages 12, 13, 14.

The Reverend Arthur Duhl is the dean of the school and the Reverend Howard W. Buckley is the treasurer.

There will be a varied program of Bible stories, handwork, recreation, worship, music and visual aids. Special emphasis this year will be on "The Church."

Already plans are being made to show slidefilms illustrating this theme nearly everyday during the two week session.

This is an opportunity for children in this neighborhood to receive Christian education. All are invited. There will be no registration fee.

The Ohio Avenue Church is located on South Ohio Avenue just north of Whittier at Stanley. The Wagner Memorial Church where the Intermediate Department will be held is located just two blocks east at Oakwood and Stanley.

Dye Last Summer Casuals

Last summer's casuals, regardless of their fabric-type, needn't any longer be relegated to the scrap heap simply because they've lost much of their original color through sun-fading and laundering.

You can recapture the original colors of faded slacks, blouses and shorts—or change to exciting new ones—by the simple process of dipping them into the dye-bath.

An all-fabric dye (available in department, drug and variety stores for a dime) is recommended for the process, since this type of dye makes it unnecessary to know the kinds of fabric you have. It works on natural and man-made fibers alike, including acetate rayon, "Celanese" and nylon, and costs no more than ordinary dyes.

If your outdoor wearables have faded unevenly, as is often the case, or if you want to change to an entirely different color, the use of a color remover frist is advised by the Tintex Home Economics Bureau.

The color remover, obtainable at the same counters as the all-fabric dye, will take out enough of the color, without boiling, to enable you to re-dye.

The dye, which also requires no boiling or added salt, comes in about 50 colors, so you're sure to find the shades you prefer. Directions, which should be followed carefully for best results, are printed on the outside of every box.

Wm. H. C. Thompson Yellow Dog Returns

Mr. William H. C. Thompson, for many years a prominent resident of the south side, has returned to Columbus after an absence of 15 years. Mr. Thompson has been living in Bainbridge, O.

Twenty-five years ago a Yellow Dog Club was organized with Kennels at the Court House, City Hall and The South Side Settlement House. Mr. Thompson belonged to the Settlement House Kennels. He is very anxious to know if any of the old time yellow dogs are still around town and thinks it might be a lot of fun for those who are left to hold a reunion.

Mr. Thompson was an inspector for the Board of Health for 18 years. He organized the South Gate Masonic Lodge and for many years was on the South Side Industrial Board of the Y. M. C. A. Many of the younger folks may recall Mr. Thompson as he entertained quite often at their schools and churches as a magician.

Mr. Thompson is back in Columbus and is anxious to renew old acquaintances. If there are any yellow dogs still howling around town, please contact him by calling Di 1531 evenings or you may visit his home at 299 E. Merrill Ave. where he is now residing. Mr. Thompson has graciously offered to donate 50 young black walnut trees to be distributed through the Booster in time for planting next Arbor Day.

Good citizenship is good Americanism and all of us at Reeb Avenue School want to feel that we are making a contribution each year as we daily impress upon our girls and boys the importance of getting along with each other in a nice way and being willing to do little extra things that make our schoolhome more pleasant for everyone.

Our Reeb Avenue School Staff is happy when, in later years, it hears of good reports about the young folks who used to work with us and we are also saddened when we hear of some former pupil falling into sin and becoming a problem for society. May we continue to remind ourselves that as parents we are responsible for our children every minute of every hour of every day. If we do not know where they are, we are lax in our duties as parents. In line with this ideal, we want every parent to know that during the school hours spent at Reeb we are doing our best to help in this most important work of training children "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord".

—R—

Reeb Avenue School, through its principal, Mr. C. O. Callahan, wishes to thank our South Side Booster Editor, Mr. C. R. Walcutt, for the space which he has so willingly made available to us for our school news during this last school year. This is the seventh year that we have had this unusual service and we feel that it is one of the factors that has contributed very definitely toward the fine school spirit that is in evidence throughout our school district and the progress which has been made in carrying on our school program.

Red Cross Needs Workers

The Franklin County Red Cross is making an urgent appeal for volunteers to work at the Regional Blood Center, 30 E. Town St., during the summer months.

To put it very plainly - volunteers are needed to help in the operation of the Center- as gray ladies, staff aides and motor service drivers.

The Center cannot operate without the help of women who have time to give during the day. As more donors are coming to the Center now, it means more records to be kept and more people to care for.

"We have been providing about one hundred volunteers a week at the Center alone", points out Mrs. Fred L. Donally, Chairman of Volnuteer Services. "Many of these women are going on vacations and others, having young children at home cannot be regularly scheduled. Therefore, we are asking for many more women to serve at least during the summer months."

The urgent need now is for Gray Ladies who act as hostesses, making the donor comfortable and at ease. Gray Ladies must be at least 21 years of age.

Drivers in Motor Service also must be at least 21 years old. They drive doctors and nurses into adjoining counties on day trips with the bloodmobile. Others stand by at the Blood Center to make emergency deliveries of blood to hospitals in the participating counties and to local hospitals.

Staff aides must be recent high school graduates, college girls or older women. They serve at the information desk, register donors and assist the Centers staff in typing and filing records.

Women who enjoy any of these types of volunteer service and can give a day or half day each week are urged to call the Volunteer office of the Red Cross, FL-1511 or MA-7421.

Chairmen of these Services or representatives will be at Red Cross Headquarters, 30 E. Town St. from 9 until 5 each day for personal interviews.

You can help your Red Cross and your commnuity by being a Red Cross Volunteer.

Big Car Race At Powell Speedway

Powell Speedway will have its first bg car race in two years on Sunday, June 19, Valli Enterprise Inc. announced today. The local half-mile track is located on Route 750, two miles east of the Columbus Zoo.

The big car race will draw all the top drivers and cars of the CSRA circuit and points earned here will be figured in the CSRA national point standings.

Harry Gilchrist of Columbus, general manager of Powell Speedway, said all races on the June 19 program will have reverse starts. The fastest cars will be given last starting positions and will thus handicap the faster cars.

"This should give us practically blanket finishes in all the races," Gilchrist declared.

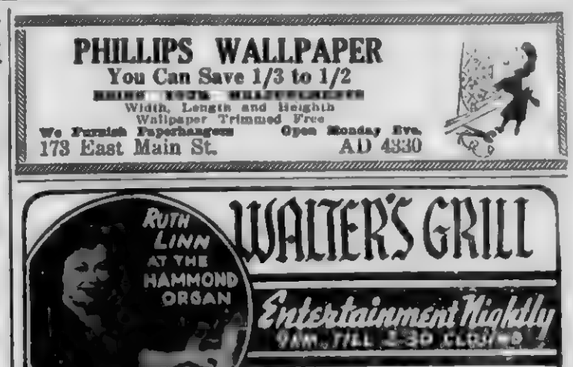
Sea Scout Ship 77 Commissioned

The Senior Group of Young Men have voted to enter the Sea Scout Phase of advanced Boy Scout Work, in the program recently started at Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church. Several members of the regular Scout Troop at this Church, having completed their First Class or various Merit Badge achievements, expressed a wish to enter a degree of Scouting for Senior High School boys. The Youth Activity Committee of the Church staged a series of meetings for all interested young men of several South Side Boy Scout Troops beginning last February. After careful study, the Group decided on entering the Sea Scout Field as Ship 77, with the Social Hall at 225 E. Gates Street as their Home Port. Mr. Earl Mac Leod, prominent South Side Floor Man, who is deeply interested in all Youth Affairs, has invited the Group to hold its first meeting on the water, at his Summer Home on the shores of Lake Madison.

With the Gigantic Building Program ready to be announced at any date, Reverend Paul C. Kaefer is to be complimented on being the pastor of one of the few Churches in this city that has a complete program of Scouting, with Cub Pack 84 headed by Cubmaster Dicke, Troop 77 headed by Scoutmaster Clingman, and Sea Scout Ship 77 headed by Mr. Todd, Mr. Bray, Mr. Cherry, and members of their committee.

Open House For Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ottman, 1868 Lockbourne Road will hold open house, for relatives and friends, Sunday June 19 from one to four and six to nine, in honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.



Big Plans For Lawn Fete

Plans are now complete for the much talked of Lawn Fete at Schiller Park Saturday, June 11, from noon till 10 p.m. This affair sponsored by the Brotherhood and represented in full form by all of the Groups and Societies of Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church, will be the final effort on the present calendar of the Church. All profits of the Festival will go directly to the Building Fund and it is highly possible that before the receipts are counted, the construction crew will be at work on the New Church Building. The Highly publicized Ground Breaking Date for the New Building was originally set for more than a month ago, and plans were all complete, but the unfortunate Demise of the President of the Church forced a temporary delay along with various legal matters that had to be completed to the letter. All committees have been working overtime to make this Lawn Fete one to be long remembered. It is true all such occasions in the past have been held on the Church Lawn, but when this date was selected, the possibility was considered that by June 11, the Church would have no lawn, hence the site at Schiller Park. You are invited to attend on Saturday, June 11, to eat some of those famous cakes that only our own South Side ladies can bake, and then listen to the Moose Band, see a good talking picture, and talk to the Young People's leaders about any of their future activities. Mr. Frank Cherry and Mr. Max Borst are in full charge of the Hard Working Lawn Fete Committee which will sell soft drinks, ice cream, sandwiches, and baked goods.

Aux. 310- Participating- All Divisions of Ry. Trainmen, B. of L.E., O.R.C., B. of L.F. & E. and their Ladies Auxiliaries. All R. R. Men invited.

Change Of Clothes For Each Occasion

A matching pair of gloves for every ensemble in your warm-weather wardrobe can now be yours—easily and inexpensively.

A few quick drops in the dye-bath are all you need to do the trick.

Since the same pairs of gloves can be re-dyed as often as you please, you won't need an extensive glove wardrobe for the purpose—and the money savings could be considerable by the time winter weather arrives.

If your gloves are white or light-colored, you need but take your choice of the 50 colors available and then dye, according to the Tintex Home Economics Bureau. The types of fabric won't matter if you get the all-fabric dye sold in department, drug and variety stores for a dime a package.

On the other hand, if your gloves are dark-colored or unevenly faded or spotted, the bureau advises use of a color remover of the fast-acting kind that requires no boiling first. It isn't necessary to take out the old color completely to enable you to re-dye, the bureau also points out.

Women of Moose To Meet

Women of The Moose Chapter 806 will hold a casserole dinner on Thursday, June 9, at 6:30 p.m. at the Moose Home, 36 West Sycamore Street.

Business meeting and election of officers will be held promptly at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Marie Hughes, Sr. Regent, 33 N. Eldon Ave., presiding.

Annual Penny Fair

The Needle & Thread Guild of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church under the presidency of Mrs. Clara Kristoff is sponsoring its Annual Penny Fair on the church lawn on June 26, Sunday afternoon beginning at 3 p.m. Many articles of magyar origin will be offered to the public. Everyone welcome.

Vacation School For South Methodist

Vacation Church School will be held at South Methodist Church, corner Morrill Ave. and Sixth St. for a two week period June 20 to July 1 from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Mabel C. Trigg will direct the school consisting of three departments, Kindergarten, Primary, and Junior. All children between the ages of three and thirteen years are invited to attend and may enroll the first morning June 20.

Activities of interest including music, stories, handwork and recreation will be in each daily program. The keynote of the school is "Happiness", and it is hoped that its full meaning will be realized.

S. S. Y. M. C. A. Softball News

In the South Church intermediate games last Thursday, Washington Ave. E. U. B. behind the steady hurling of Bob Dunham downed St. Pauls Evangelical, 8 to 5. St. John's Evangelical defeated Southwood Church of Christ, 8 to 1. Wallace of the losers made several sensational catches in left field. The Southwood Club downed the Glee Club 17 to 9. A Roman Catholic cannot fulfill his obligation to hear mass on Sunday and on holy days by sitting at home and viewing it over television, according to the new Catechism of Christian Doctrine which has just been approved and released by all the Catholic bishops of the United States. According to the Catechism, "A person who is a notable distance from the worshippers is not bodily present at the Mass"—and this seems to settle a question which has for some time perplexed members of the Church.

Triple S Camp To Open

Many boys and girls from South Side will soon be packing up to enjoy the thrills of camp life at Triple S Camp. Triple S Camp is located three miles southeast of Sugar Grove Ohio and is operated by the South Side Settlement House for children of our Community, ages 4 to 14.

This year marks the third year of camping at Triple S, having grown from a boy's work camp the first year to a regular camp accomodating 178 boys and girls last year. Overlooking the country side is a very spacious dining and recreation hall built to serve 200 persons. Clustered on the immediate hillside are cabins which at present can house 50 campers, plus their counsellors. A beautiful new headquarters cabin stands at the entrance, having been constructed this summer. In the valley below a small dam forms a miniature lake where the children enjoy daily swims.

The first of eight periods will open on Friday, June 17 with boys of Junior High and High School age inaugurating the summers program of camping. Following three boys periods will be a kindergarten period for boys and girls ages 4 to 7. Three girls periods follow with a leaders period terminating the camp season on August 30.

Many of the year round Staff of the South Side Settlement House plus other counselors and program leaders will direct all kinds of camping activities. A number of Mothers will also attend the kindergartan period and an adequate staff of trained workers is maintained at all times.

Part of the activities offered are sports, hiking, cook-outs, sleep-outs, nature lore, campfires, crafts folk dances, fishing, exploring, games, Indian lore, wood-craft, singing, dramatics and other interests. Swimming lessons and fun swims are held twice daily in our own small lake under careful supervision.

Anyone desiring further information may call at South Side Settlement House, 368 Reeb Ave., or telephone GA 1719. Applications are still available.

Mothers Variety Club Fosters Benefits

The greatest significance of any club is one which would believe in the ideals of that of the Mother's Variety Club. The welfare of children and of the community are the two goals of this club. If any organization would settle down to just one of these goals, they would accomplish something very great indeed. Yet, the Mother's Variety Club has set down both of these as their aim and have followed thru magnificently with them.

The club has given sums of money to the Cripple Children's Ass'n, the Cancer Clinic, South High School Building Ass'n, all of the helpful seal drives and many numerous and beneficent such organizations. Many of the women have donated their time to the Red Cross, either folding and cutting bandages or making clothes for the destitute youngsters abroad. When Christmas-time comes around, some poor and needy family receives a basket of groceries and foodstuff to make their holiday more cheery. This, too, has been a delightful procedure of the M.V.C.

Although the club is fairly small, 36 members in all, they are, great in spirit, and that is the greatest capacity to them.

The present officers of the organization are: President, Mrs. Lucille Spicer, 357 E. Jackson St.; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Ella Frederick, 576 So. Grant Ave.; Sec'y, Mrs. Ada Webb, 161 Blenkner St.; and Treas., Mrs. Florence Hartman, 768 Jaeger St.

Steve Gramelt Wins Second Place

Paul Lorimer, 18, 817 Columbian Avenue, Central High Senior and Steve Gramelt, 19, 648 South Grant Avenue, South High Senior, were declared first and second place winners, respectively, of the 2nd Annual Foremen's Club of Columbus Scholarship Contest, Thursday night, June 2, at the "New Industries Night" dinner meeting of the club in the Southern Hotel ballroom by R. O. Knight, Columbus Public Schools, chairman of the scholarship committee.

In a hotly contested race involving a month of intensive oral and written examinations, the boys slugged it out with three other Columbus high school boys-Kennah Van Dyke, 18, of 1372 East 17th Avenue, from Linden-McKinley; Gerald Crabtree, 17, of 1255½ Oak Street, from East; and Don Longmire, 17, of 573 Kimball Place, representing West High. Chosen by their respective principals from the top third of their class and majoring in Vocational training, the boys took the Ohio State University psychological test, a special Foremen's Club of Columbus Scholarship Program Test of 90 practical questions and a stiff oral interview with members of the scholarship committee.

The committee consisted of men representing the major elements of business activities found in the club membership - industrial, W. F. Ballard, Columbus Coated Fabrics Company; Business, Ertle Cato, Central Ohio Paper Company; Line Foremen, Eugene Gehring, Ranco, Inc.; Personnel, Carl Barnett, Kroger Co.; and Education R. O. Knight, Columbus Public Schools.

First place winner of $100, Paul Lorimer, is the son of a 14 - year veteran Jeffrey Corporation tool maker. He sings in his church choir and is active in the Boy Scouts of America. His hobby is music and he plays a clarinet in three different bands in town. Paul is interested in continuing his education and eventually becoming a electrical or mechanical engineer.

Runner-up Steve Gramelt, who won $50, served a year in the U. S. Army as a Technician 5th Class and is a molder's son. He is in charge of boys' work in his church and numbers among his hobbies hunting, fishing, model airplanes and stamp collecting. Steve intends to become a mechanical draftsman.

Inaugurated by the Foremen's Club during its 1947-48 season, the Scholarship contest has been promoted for the express purpose of encouraging young men showing interest in management and foremanship responsibilities. The program grew out of a series of appearances in Columbus high schools by members of the Club in the interest of management. Their encouraging contacts with enthusiastic industrial leaders of tomorrow led to the establishment of the scholarship program.

Eligibility factors to be considered by school principals in selecting their candidates were: (1) male student in graduating class, (2) with minimum of three credits in Industrial Arts or Industrial Education courses, (3) in upper third of his class, and (4) rated on the following: conduct, character, ambition, initiative, leadership, citizenship and industry in class.

Register For Swimming Classes

Have you registered for Red Cross-WBNS swimming classes yet at the Crystal Pool? They are open to all pool members and registration can be made at the Swimming Pool office.

This is the third annual Water Safety campaign co-sponsored by the Red Cross and Radio Station WBNS. Last year 1500 youngsters were taught to swim in Franklin County and it is hoped that this number will be doubled this year.

Classes under the supervision of Red Cross instructors will be for beginners, swimmers, advanced swimmers and in junior and senior life-saving. They start Monday, June 13.

As soon as a boy or girl learns to swim ten strokes they will be a member of the Polliwog Club and have a Polliwog button to wear. This is a new feature of the campaign this year.

Preliminary meets will be held at each pool before Labor Day with a final meet scheduled for September at the Ohio State University Natatorium.

The Red Cross urges that you get registrations in early.

How To Be Successful At Barrett Jr. High

Life is just a series of changes. Eventho we have to make them every day, some are more difficult than others. One of the changes, which looks mighty big to the 6A pupil, is the step over into Junior High.

As we have the privilege of working with these young folks and appreciate, somewhat, just what change in school life really means to them, we are challenged to do all that seems possible to make it a successful one. With this in mind, as principal of Reeb Avenue Elementary School, I solicited the counsel of our 6th grade teachers and Mr. Robert Darrow, principal of Barrett Jr. High. The latter because all of our pupils, living in Reeb district, take their Junior High work at Barrett.

The following material is in mimeographed form and a copy is given to each 6A pupil at Reeb during a period of class discussion regarding that which is just ahead of them on their educational journey. One can readily see that the factors emphasizing good neighborliness, good citizenship and good Americanism, are being stressed with this growing generation.

If these tho'ts have any value in the lives of Reeb Avenue pupils, perhaps other South Side 6A pupils and parents may be interested.

Southeast Lions Pick C. J. Boso as Outstanding Father

The Southeast Lions Club picked Mr. Clyde J. Boso, 148 Hinman Ave. (of French descent), the father of 11 children as the South Side's leading father of the year for Father's Day, June 19th.

He was honored Tuesday at the club's luncheon and presented with the club's emblem, a lion

Mr. Boso was born at Bellville, W. Va., (near Parkersburg), the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Boso who had a family of sixteen children. He attended schools at Bellville.

In 1917 he came to Columbus and in 1918 he joined the fire department where he is nearing his 31st year in the ——— of our city. At the present time he is at No. 14 Engine House, Hinman & Parsons Ave.

In 1924 he married Miss Arline Shadford of Ridgeville, O., (near Defiance).

The children range in age from 24 to 2 years old. All the children who are old enough, have attended Southwood Elementary School.

Seven of the children have graduated from Barrett Jr. High School. Two have graduated from South High School and two more will graduate in February and another one in June of 1950. The Boso family have two in Barrett Jr. High School and two in Southwood Elementary School.

Two sons are employed. Charles W. Boso is a city fireman and Robert Lee Boso is at the Owens Illinois Glass Co.

The father believes in children working, so three of the boys have paper routes. Also two of these work at the Southland Theater. One boy works on deliveries for Horchers Food Market.

Each of the children have their appointed tasks in their home and garden to help Mother and Dad.

None of the children have had a serious sickness, but, of course, have had their share of children's diseases.

Mr. Boso repairs cars on the side. He says that he repairs his doctor's car and the doctor always owes him more money than his bill for medical services.

The family should be a shining example to the South Side as none of the children have ever been in court and never have the police been to their home except on friendly visits.

Another thing outstanding about these youngsters is that they all have bank accounts which will shortly all be transferred to the Steelton Branch of the Ohio National Bank. All children have War Bonds.

The Dad Mother and every one of the children attend church or Sunday School at the South Methodist Church.

Another shining example of this family is that none of the family including the Dad and Mother, smoke nor drink.

Mrs. Boso is a college woman, having attended Defiance College for one year and Ohio State University for two years. She is not from a big family.

Mrs. Boso taught school for four years.

It is at the table they really shine when all 13 of them sit down at one time. They are not superstitious.

It takes 5 lbs. of hamburger to make chili con carne for this family, or if they are having vegetable soup, Mrs. Boso prepares a four gallon kettle full.

The family has a deep freeze where they store the half hog and half of beef they buy for the meat supply of the family.

They also have a garden which the boys tend

All fruits and vegetables for the winter supply are canned by Mrs. Boso.

We asked Mr. Boso to what he credited the health of his children. He said "Plenty of good milk which we always have in our refrigerator." They buy their milk from the Distelhorst Milk Co. which is delivered to them, 16 quarts every other day.

Mr. Boso says that the spirit of cooperation of his children is his success in rearing his family. He is a pal to his children.

He also says that "Never did a family have a better Mother than Mrs. Boso."

But when we talked to the children and Mother, all with happy smiles and we popped the question to them what they thought of their father that they said practically in unison "He should be picked as the leading Father of the South Side because never was there a better one."

They are planning for their annual vacation which they take every year. This year they will go to Sand Lake Michigan, 200 miles north of Detroit, the whole 13 of them, and are planning to take three of the boys' friends with them.

It is a pleasure to write such a story as this about Mr. Clyde J. Boso, the outstanding father of the South Side. The whole South Side should honor him. He should be a shining example to our community.

New Light On Green Lawn Avenue

Word has been received that a traffic light will be placed at the corner of Greenlawn and Harmon Avenues, according to Mr. Octva Amon, Supt. of Division 6 of the State Highway Dept.

This light has been needed for some time due to the fact of the increase of population in this district and the large number of people going to Greenlawn Cemetery. Also making it necessary was the fact that Harmon Ave. is State Route 104 to Circleville and Chillicothe.

Our thanks to Mr. Amon for recognizing our needs!

Memorial Services

Swears Off Honey

Not by Bea

The story is going around that Jim Link, popular assistant manager of Mooney's Service Station, Mithoff and Jaeger St., went up to Merrick-Miller Auto Co. on E. Chestnut St., to get auto parts.

When Jim came out a swarm of honey bees had settled in his car.

The problem was to get them out of the car.

Jim started swatting them and they really got mad and he had to run for cover.

It was reported that he didn't get home till the wee hours of the morning.

It seems that Jim has lost his taste for honey.

C. R. Walcutt
Editor of the Booster
Dear Sir:

I read your article in the South Side Booster and glory in your spunk for sticking up for South Side. This side of town is no worse than the rest. It's the same all over. I have raised seven children and two grandchildren and learned from experience that children will do anything if not taught right from wrong. My bunch were never allowed in other people's yards or to touch anything that didn't belong to them. The neighbors here simply turn their litters loose on the streets and don't seem to know or care where they are or what they do. I see small tots 2½ and 3 yrs.-old riding tricycles up and down the middle of the street while cars either stop or go around them. I think parents should be held responsible for the safety of these small children who don't know the danger of playing in the streets, also for the destruction of property by older children.

We have trouble with the ones between 10 and 14. They have torn our fence down three times in as many weeks and run thru the yard tramping down flowers, grape vines, and jumping off our front porch onto some expensive evergreens and breaking them down. A couple of weeks ago there were 15 boys on top of our garage. We have asked them several times in a nice way to stay out, not destroy things, but they just grin at us. I was wondering what to do. Two days ago I came home from town to find the cherry tree stripped and also green peaches lying all over the ground.

I don't blame the children as much as I blame the parents. Why doesn't the law force parents to take care of their children? Children are wild animals until properly tamed and trained by their parents. But who is going to train the parents? Anything that burns me up is to see a youngster kick his mother's shins while she yells "I'm going to tell your daddy," and turns to me and says "I just can't do a thing with that child." A good shalala would do the trick very nicely. A friend of mine came to spend the day with me bringing her little 6-yr.-old son. When they left at 7 p.m., the arm on the record-player wouldn't work, the bottom of the screen door was busted, there was mud on the couch where he had wiped his feet after playing with the garden hose, watering flowers, grass, and spraying both porches. I was glad when they left and hope they don't come back for 20 years. Yes, I'm an old lady, raised my share of children and just can't stand what I used to.

7,500 Television Sets In Columbus By July

Total set sales doubled in three months—that's the forecast of television receiver sales anticipated by early July in Central Ohio, when at least 7,500 sets are expected to be in operation. The only Columbus station, WLW-C, went on the air April 3.

As of June 1, a total of 6,404 television sets were reported by distributors in the Columbus area. This is an increase of 1,013 sets since May 1.

A check on April 13, ten days after WLW-C began commercial operation, indicated a total of 3,724 television sets in the Columbus area. By May 1, 1,667 additional sets were distributed.

Despite the "natural, expected" slump in sales at this time of year, these totals are well ahead of original forecasts in Central Ohio.

Ran across this little poem and thought it was worth passing on-

A Family Man by Choice
To think that he could still
Be a gay, deceptive blade.
But not against his will,
His heart away he gave.

Now it seems he has found
The life that's really grand!
Two feet upon the ground-
A healthy, growing band.

He's happy with his lot,
And the particular YOU he's got.
Show that you feel the very same way.
Honor YOUR Father on Father's Day.

There's just no working with Walter Tompkins' (our advertising manager) these days. I suppose it just won't be news to anyone by this time, but Sunday afternoon Tompkins and his wife went to Sellers Point at Buckeye Lake fishing. Seems Tompkins had just thrown in his line and was putting a soft craw on a line for Mrs. T. when a fish struck. Tompkins swears he caught two of the prettiest big mouth bass, one right after the other, in only five minutes. He says other fishermen around who saw him pull them in just put their things away and quit for the day. Walt is going back tonight to try his luck again. So if he's been in a little hurry getting his work done today don't blame him too much, it's Buckeye Lake and the big mouth bass that's calling him.

SICK BOY RECEIVES DOG

In the above picture are Mr. & Mrs. McBride and the little Boston Bull Dog which was given to Delaney McBride, the little sick boy we told you about last week.

We feel very proud and grateful to know that such sympathy and understanding for a sick boy longing for a little dog exists among the people of our community.

Harold (Slim) Clevenger of the Clevenger & Redifer Motor Sales, located at Parson and Thurman Ave., read about Delaney. Slim scanned the papers and found an ad selling Boston Bull puppies. He immediately went to the address and bought the most loveable little 12 week old A.K.C. registered Bull pup you ever saw. That same evening he took it to the home of Delaney's parents and gave it to them for their boy.

Mr. and Mrs. McBride told us they took the puppy to the hospital in a paper shopping Bag. They put the shopping bag on Delaney's bed and out crawled the little dog. Words can not express the surprise and delight of the boy when he saw his little dog. His Mother said he asked a million questions about it. She said he just held the little dog and laughed and cried all at the same time.

Delaney has to undergo another operation Today. He is not worried about that. His concern now is to get well and be home with his puppy.

The Booster thanks everyone who called or sent donations. The donations will be returned as Slim Clevenger gave the puppy as an outright gift.

News In The World Of Religion

The Rev. I. George Nace, D. D., of St. Louis, Mo., has been named co-executive secretary of the Home Missions Council of North America, and will assume his post on October 1. He will succeed Dr. Mark A. Dawber, who retires on that date after service since 1937. (The other co-secretary of the Council is Miss Edith Loury who continues to serve.) Dr. Nace is now general secretary of the Board of National Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. Previously he had been sec'y. of the Council of Churches Portland, Ore., and a missionary in Japan. Dr. Nace is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, and of Union Theological Seminary.

The Phelps-Stokes Fund, cooperating with the Home Missions Council of North America, has undertaken an extensive program for the training of young Negro college and seminary students, especially from the southern states, for serving in the rural ministry among their own people. As a beginning of the program some fourteen specialized rural church departments have been set up in as many theological seminaries in ten southern states. Last year 247 students were enrolled in special courses offered in these departments. Not only have the departments greatly increased enrollments in Negro seminaries, they have also given a new and practical emphasis to theological education. In addition, the Home Missions Council has an extensive program of service to ministers-in-service: last year these varied ministries reached 2,143 Negro pastors and other church workers in rural institutes; 486 in extension classes; and 450 or more in community improvement projects.

Pastor Robert Salau, a native of the Solomon Islands and a minister of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, is now on a visit to the United States from his Pacific Island home, for the express purpose of making the acquaintance of as many as possible of the 500 American crewmen whose lives were saved by the ex-cannibal natives when planes were downed over the Solomons during the recent war. These Islanders, many of them Christian and members of the Adventist communion, maintained a 24 hour-watch f their coastline and their canoemen went out to the rescue of crews of scores of planes that were shot down by the Japanese. Thep nursed many of them back to health. Some Islanders were tortured to death because they would not reveal or surrender pilots they cared for. Pastor Salau is director of Adventist church work on the island of Mussau; he has been brought to America by the Church's General Conference. All men rescued in this area of the Pacific have been urged to communicate with the Pastor through the Conference at Takoma Park, Washington 12, D. C.

Cheeloo Christian University, one of China's foremost missionary-supported educational institutions, has moved four times within the past ten years to get out of the paths of Japanese or communist armies. Today some 240 of its students and faculty are ten miles out from Hangchow, in the cold and windy corridors of a Buddhist temple among the hills. Here they are studying in makeshift classrooms, laboratory, library, chapel — all beneath the glare of a frowning giant Buddha — after traveling as refugees for hundreds of miles. And they may soon again be on the move.

The National Lutheran Council, serving the major Lutheran communions in the United States, has sent more than 1,146,000 books to Europe since the close of World War II. The shipments in 1948 included 315 packages of books sent to pastors and theologs in prison-of-war camps in France, England and Egypt; 535 packages to pastors, schools, institutions, congregations, and refugee and displaced persons camps in Germany, Italy, Austria, Africa and Yugoslavia; 308 cartons to U. S. Army chaplains in Germany and Austria, and to Lutheran agents in Germany for distribution among congregations, schools, refugee and displaced persons camps; and 26 cases, mostly Bibles and hymnals, to "Hilfswerk" for Germany.

To help celebrate the golden jubilee of the present edifice of St. Stephen's Methodist Church, in the old Kingsbridge section of the Bronx, New York City, the Rev. William A. Tieck, the pastor wrote and published a history of the parish and of the historic setting —an old Dutch settlement — in which it is placed. The volume is entitled, "God's House and the Old Kingsbridge Road." Much historical research went into the book which is valuable portrayal of changing New York. Now the church announces that the jubilee was climaxed by the presentation by Mr. Tieck to the building fund of the church of more than $1,250, his royalties on the work.

Dean H. B. Trimble, of the School of Theology of Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia, has gone out with his staff and lamp in search of one outstanding rural pastor in each of fourteen southern states—"a rural preacher who is especially active in community wide as well as religious projects"—and will reward each with a scholarship to the "School for Town and Country Religious Workers" at Emory this summer. The Dean says that the rural pastor is the key man in the religious life of most states, but that the recognitions and awards have gone to the city pastors. He will welcome nominations made by any person: they should be sent to his associate, Dr. James W. Sells, 321 North 18th Street, Birmingham, Ala., by June 10. The states in which the "rural preachers of the year" are sought are: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Dr. Walter G. Lowdermilk, of Berkeley, Cal., internationally famous agricultural economist, and former assistant chief of the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is visiting central, west and south Africa this year under the auspices of Agricultural Missions, Inc. Dr. Lowdermilk will advise African governments and Christian missions in six countries on methods and techniques in making modern scientific knowledge available to the native peoples "in line with the missionary tradition of making scientific knowledge available to so-called backward nations." Dr. Lowdermilk was formerly an agricultural missionary in China; and later the creator of the Jordan Valley Authority for the redeeming of lands for agricultural use in Palestine. He is the author of "Palestine, Land of Promise," and of many scientific treatises.

Dr. Albert Schweitzer, regarded by many as the world's most noted Christian missionary, famed also as a Bach recitalist on the organ, as an organ builder, as a theologian, and as builder and physician of the Lambarene Hospital, Africa, will be in the United States for a brief visit this summer, according to Dr. Emory Ross of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, a personal friend. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Ross. The Alsatian-born genius, who at thirty-five held four doctorates (philosophy, theology, music, and medicine), is now 75 years of age, and is reported physically fatigued. Because of this, he will make only one speaking engagement on this trip: at Aspen, Colorado, early in July, where he will take part in a Goethe anniversary service.

Leading evangelical churchmen of many communions across the world will be in Chichester, England, from July 9 to 15, to endeavor to start some "actions" in the field of international relations, based on Christian principles pointed up by the recent assembly of the World Council of Churches. The meeting will be of the Council's central committee of 75 members. The "east-west cleavage" of ideologies, aims, and principles will be before the group. Among Americans attending will be: Dr. Angus Dun, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Washington, D. C.; Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church; Dr. Douglas Horton, head of the Congregational Christian Churches; Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam, Methodist bishop of the New York Area; Mrs. Anna C. Swain, president of the Women's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society; and Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, president of Union Theological Seminary, New York.

Bishop Titus Lowe, head of the Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief, reports the receipt of this letter from the Pacific Northwest—a letter and gift he compares to "the widow's mite": "Dear Sir: I have received word of the lamentable conditions in the blind school at Foo Chow, China. It makes me feel so helpless to contemplate it. My total income is the milk from one cow, but anyway, I am not starving; I have plenty of food and a good cottage to shelter me. Find enclosed $10 which you may apply wherever you think best, since you have a knowledge of the whole field."

The Rt. Hon. Lord Mackintosh of Halifax, and Dean Luther A. Weigle of Yale University Divinity School, president and chairman respectively of the World Council of Christian Education, have issued the official "Call" to the Thirteenth Quadrennial World Convention on Christian Education to be held in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, on August 10-16, 1950. It is expected that 5,000 delegates from 75 countries will attend the mid-century sessions on the campus of the University of Toronto and in neighboring churches. This will be the first such World Convention to be held since that of 1936 in Oslo, Norway.

Asks Investigation Of City Auditors Office

May 25, 1949

Hon. Joseph Ferguson,
Auditor of State,
State Capitol Bldg.,
Columbus, Ohio.

Dear Sir:

On April 21st last I wrote you the following letter. To date I have had no response from you or any evidence that my request as contained in such letter has been complied with. May I expect some action on this matter from your office? The letter sent you follows:

As a citizen and taxpayer of Columbus, I demand that your department open an investigation of the records and offcial acts of the city auditor of the city of Columbus, R. Pierre Barthalow, especially with regard to his connection with the Kahn Jewelry Co. of this city. They have been selling various articles of jewelry to the employees of the garbage and rubbish collection departments and Barthalow's office has been collecting the money from these city employees for the Kahn Company. After an expose' in a neighborhood paper last summer, Barthalow promised to discontinue these collections after Jan. 1st, 1949. He has done that as I have personally checked his payroll records for the period ending March 31, 1949 and find that there have been no collections during that time. But the fact remains that it did go on before that and undoubtedly would to-day if it had not been for the expose' above referred to. As these collections amounted to approximately $1000 per week it would have meant a pretty nice sum for whoever made the collections based on the usual fee of 5%—did Mr. Barthalow receive a fee or did he allow someone in his office to do so—in either case they were guilty of misfeasance and malfeasance in office and should be exposed and punished for the same.

I trust you will do this immediately and that a report of your findings be made public so that we may be fully informed in the matter.

With kindest personal regards,
Respectfully yours,
R. F. Williams

Conference With A Cure

No sooner did the West begin to celebrate the lifting of the blockade than the Iron Curtain came slamming down again as the party line took another twist. Since May 23 the Big Four Conference has been in session in Paris. Germany is the bone of contention. The East has consolidated their zone and is playing the tune of a united Germany while the West is banking on the Atlantic Pact and the Western German government.

Whether the West will be able to maintain its unity in the f... Soviet strategy may depend on the Franco-German relation... French hate and distrust of Germany has been a nagging canker at past conferences. The healing of this canker and the evidence of unity on the part of France and Germany would go far to win the peoples of Europe to the democratic idea.

Millions place their hopes on the Paris Conference.

Cocktail parties, smiles and handshakes gloss over the surface, but underneath in every statesman's heart is buried fears, hates and the frustrating problem of how to stem the ideological riptide of the East.

Meanwhile high in the Swiss Alps at Caux another conference will be getting under way. Under the leadership of Dr. Frank Buchman, initiator of Moral Re-Armament, the senior representatives of many nations will gather on June 4th. In past summers the Caux Assembly has been a beacon of hope in a sea of chaos.

Typical of the thousands of delegates who have come from over 50 nations is Madame Irene Laure, past president of 3,000,000 Socialist women of France. Hot in her heart was a hatred for the Reich that had trampled her country and tortured her son before her eyes. She had vowed never to speak to a German again. At Caux her heart was melted and she said, "A Bridge has been built across the Rhine." To back that up she has been travelling throughout the Western Zones of Germany telling her former enemies of her own change of heart. She says that this change can become the common ideology between France and Germany.

Whether or not the Paris Conference will succeed there is hope coming from Caux. Could the ideology of Caux bring peace to the Paris Conference?

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank (Dude Ranch) Koch

If you are a Deer and happen to read this, we want to put you wise to something. If the urge to roam from your woodland home strikes you; Don't come to Columbus! I want to tell you a story about one of your friends who, tired of wild grass and herb roots, took out to find better pickins and landed in a Graveyard.

Seems like there were some humans who had never seen the likes of you, wanted to either get a real close look, or else see how many MPH you could do no hard pavement. We agree that carrot tops, lettuce and young cabbage plants are delicacies, but I'd steer clear of them, if you plan on raising a large rack of antlers. People are Funny and more so in different localities. So, if any of you plan on a hike in the future and happen around Columbus, DO NOT ENTER!

Wonder what would have happened if this same incident took place in a town in Michigan. Certainly those who took part in it would have been reprimanded, even fined and maybe jailed, (or both). We believe it a wise move the way the thing was dropped right now. TSK-TSK-TSK. We only brought it up to give you our view of the thing. May it NEVER happen again. Black eyes in Conservation circles are hard to get rid of.

Mr. Wm. Luepnitz, of whom we wrote some time ago; has given us permission to reproduce "An Early History of Moran" at some future date. It will take you back to 1880 and show you the hardships these U. P. Pioneers encountered. How they started from scratch with a handful of Wheat and other grains and a few potatoes. Their farm implements were hand made. Logs were hewed and homes built. But the first great undertaking was to clear the Forest of Trees so the soil could be tilled. They had to eat. You can't work on an empty stomach. Not at THAT kind of work, at any rate.

There's a fellow in the Brevort Lake area by the name of Louie Crystal. Some of you probably were guided by Louie when he acted as Guide out at the Massey House. Jim Cox, former Governor and Mr. Kessler of the Kessler Distilleries were two of the many well known men Louie took out on fishing jaunts. Louie is one of those Guides that takes you where the fish are on the first day. This is not the system these present day Guides use. They want to get in a few days of pay before letting you hit the Jack Pot. Sure —it's a wise system although expensive to the fishermen who hire them.

Louie is around 60, but doesn't look it. He has been active in the Forest and on the Lakes practically all his life. Lately, however, he doesn't get around very well, having crushed both limbs at the pelvis when a W.P.A. truck loaded with gravel, backed over him. Louie was Foreman on Road Improvement at the time W.P.A. was going strong in this area.

Complain? You never heard a word out of him. If you plan on going to Brevort Lake this season, look Louie up. He'll show you some fine trophies and photographs of some of his Game hunting expeditions.

Before we sign off here's a tip from the State (Michigan) Highway Department of value to you if you plan on crossing to the U.P. this summer. Capt. John Kelsner, Supt. of State Ferries announced that on June 1st and thru the summer months, the Ferries will run on the following schedule:

Out of Mackinaw City there will be hourly trips leaving on the half-hour starting at 6:30 a.m. thru 11:30 p.m. Then one at 1:30 a.m. and 4:30 a.m. (Northbound).

At St. Ignace hourly service will commence at 6:00 a.m. thru Midnight. There will be an "Owl Boat" at 3:00 a.m. (Southbound). And Sgt. Raymond Mohr, head of the Michigan State Police Barracks a St. Ignace wants you to "be courteous and careful while driving or walking on or near a thoroughfare." That's good advice in any state.

HOW NOT TO UNIFY OUR ARMED FORCES

One of the objectives of the recent changes in the structure of our Defense Departments was the determination to unify the Army, Navy and Air Arms of our services. General Dwight Eisenhower was called in to head up the job and until his recent illness was reportedly making strong progress in this direction. Within a few weeks after his enforced removal from the Washington scene to recuperate, most of Eisenhower's efforts have been nullified.

Our new Defense chief, Louis Johnson, has opened his administration by forcing the resignation of the Secretary of the Navy, John L. Sullivan. It was obvious that Mr. Sullivan would quit under the circumstances. He was neither consulted nor advised in advance. Nor was any other important official in our Navy Department given the opportunity to discuss the issue raised by the sudden order cancelling all work on the super-aircraft carrier under construction by the Navy.

Entirely apart from the merits of the controversy, it ought to be clear enough by this time that you will never get a unified and effective control of our defense forces by methods as arbitrary and ill-considered as those employed by Mr. Johnson in this highly important instance.

WILL THE SOVIET THROW US A HERRING?

Our Government is doing its utmost to stir up popular interest in the possible settlement of the Berlin Blockade. Every avenue of publicity is being used to focus attention on this area. There can be no doubt whatever that the problem is important. But in the light of the tragedy already in the finishing stages is China, it looks very much as if the Soviet Union is tossing the West a herring while it gobbles up the main course.

Lenin once wrote that Communism will conquer Europe through the capture of Asia. To all intents and purposes, every long range program laid down by Lenin has become the policy of the Stalin government. With the raw materials and vast manpower of the Far East at their disposal the Communists are in a position to devote their energies to consolidation of the incredible gains they made as the direct result of the recent war.

Our national policies in the entire conduct of World War II, our tremendous efforts in the Pacific, all of which were directed primarily at the attempt to maintain the integrity of China have been nullified, and it appears that the Administration is writing China off as a lost cause.

SENATOR TAFT AND THE HOOVER COMMISSION REPORT

The report of the Hoover Commission is one of the monumental studies of Big Government in operation. It bears out in the utmost detail the truth of the remark of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt that our government is a "higgledy-piggledy patchwork of duplicate responsibilities and overlapping powers." Mr. Hoover's report is by no means the first of its kind. We have had groups working on this ever since the days of President McKinley.

Just what its fate will be remains to be seen. But it is already very clear that the danger so eloquently and repeatedly portrayed by Senator Taft is a tangible factor in our national life. Taft has been insisting that although we recognize the existence of Big Government as a fact, we must take steps which will prevent that Bigness from crushing the life of the individual by making him no more than a number in a system.

The Hoover findings serve to seal the case. Our Washington bureaucracy is losing touch with reality as it mushrooms into an organism feeding on and in turn being fed by endless reams of paper. Senator Taft can be relied on to do his utmost to carry into effect the constructive suggestions of this vitally important study.

THE CONSTITUTION AMONG POLITICIANS

By J. E. Jones

Washington, D. C., May—

The prophets who tell us that there will be "Constitutional Reforms" in our Government are "talking through their hats."

A large part of the "Solid South" still fights for so-called "race supremacy"—meaning that the Negroes must be kept in the lower brackets and paid the lowest kind of wages.

There doesn't need to be any further delay in recognizing margarine as a legitimate food product, in competition with butter. They are both substantial food products.

Among important economic matters before Congress is the effort to authorize construction of a deep seaway thru the St. Lawrence River. There is no pro...

Under the Constitution, the District of Columbia was a territorial Government at the close of the Civil War. The rights of the people of the District were recognized and protected from the time the National Capital was moved from New York and Philadelphia to Washington. The people of Washington had the same rights to vote in those times as all other established States and territories.

But a disloyal Congress passed A LAW to rule the so-called District of Columbia in 1874.

Even the Dixiecrats who have been shouting their heads off for lo, these many years, are defying the Constitution because that ancient document doesn't agree with their alleged States Rights policies.

Let's recall the "tip" the Governor of North Caroline gave the Governor of South Carolina: "What's the Constitution among friends?" And then they sealed it with two glasses of gin.

Buckeye Girls State June 10-26

For the third consecutive year, the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Ohio, makes its realistic contribution to training young women for citizen participation and leadership in a democracy by again sponsoring Buckeye Girls' State. From June 19 to 26, on the campus of Capital University, Columbus, 420 of Ohio's outstanding members of this year's high school junior class, regardless of race or creed, from private, parochial and public schools, will assemble to organize this mythical forty-ninth state.

Each girl is sponsored through the American Legion Auxiliary Units, either directly or by an interested public-spirited organization. Her high school principal or superintendent attests to her definite interest in government, high qualities of scholarship, moral character, courage, mental alertness, and to her willingness to take the initiative and assume responsibility.

Definite plans for procedure have been completed according to Dean of Government, Mrs. L. M. Merritt, 654 Wilson Ave., Columbus, and her assistant, Mrs. O. Linn Perry, of Copley. An unusually well-qualified staff of counselors has agreed to guide the all-important government activities. Dr. Kenneth J. Martin, Bexley, Chairman of the Department of Political Science, Capital University, will again supervise the executive branch. Senator Margaret Mahoney, President Pro Tem of the Ohio Senate, of Cleveland, will counsel the Senate, while Mrs. Marion Wells of Newark, Executive Secretary of the Ohio Mental Hygiene Association, will direct the activities of the House. Judge Myron B. Gessaman, Columbus, of the Franklin County Court of Common Pleas, will counsel the judiciary.

The supervision of County government is under the direction of Mrs. Fred Ruffner, 247 Kenworth Road, Columbus, and Mrs. Paul Lindimore, 1089 Wellington Boulevard, Columbus, while the Cities will be counselled by Miss Catherine Carney, 1609 Rose Place, Cincinnati, Miss Lois Volkman, of 4861 LeBlond Avenue, Cincinnati, Miss Mrajorie Woodyard, 55 No. 24th Street, Newark, Miss Gloria Dill, 1242 Livingston Ave., Columbus, Miss Mary Ann Wolfe, 231 E. Mound Street Circleville, Mrs. Mary Eastman, 422 So. 5th Street Ironton, Miss Carole Katona, 560 Melrose Ave., Columbus, Miss Virginia Hill, 2558 Madison Road, Cincinnati, Mrs. Betty Lockwood, 867 Melrose Ave., Columbus, and Miss Jane Herrman, Saginaw, Michigan.

Each girl is assigned to one of two political parties, Idealists or Realists, to a city and to a county. The State is organized with two counties—Frogley and Clark—named for two deceased past Department Presidents of the Ohio American Legion Auxiliary, and ten cities—Bacon, Bickerdyke, Carey, Catherwood, Hayes, Oakley, Sherman, Sherwood, Storer, and Woolsey. Each city is named for a famous Ohio born woman.

Insofar as possible the routine of governmental procedures parallels the actual. Naturally, because of limited time and numbers, considerable telescoping and some modifications must be made. Party caucuses are to be held, boards of election—county and precinct— appointed, petitions and declarations of candidacy circulated and filed, primary and regular elections held, certificates of elections and commissions issued for the regularly elected state, county and city officials.

Speakers will include Dr. Harold L. Yochum, President of Capital University; W. A. Schneider, Mayor of Bexley; Judge Myron B. Gessaman, Columbus; Mrs. F. M. Quinn, Columbus; Parlimentary Procedure: Chief Justice Cary V. Weygandt; Justice Charles B. Zimmerman; Lt. Gov. Gerald Nye; Finance Director H. Defenbacher; Senator Margaret Mahoney; Judge Constance Keller; Congresswoman Frances Bolton; Mrs. Christine Conaway, Dean of Women, O.S.U., as well as American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary officers.

Under the direction of Mrs. E. C. McCarley, 130 So. Roys Ave., and Miss Nelle Flautt, 1845 Sullivant Ave., a bus tour of governmental points of interest in Columbus, is planned.

The most colorful program of the week will be the inauguration on Wednesday evening. Following the inaugural dinner, Franklin Post Band, American Legion, will give a concert and Chief Justice Weygandt will administer the oath of office to the six state officials. Lt. Gov. Gerald Nye will represent Governor Lausche.

The girls will make use of helpful reference material including the publication "Ohio Government Digest."

It is anticipated that through this rigorous and realistic experience by personal participation in government activities these young women will gain not only knowledge but an appreciation of the intricacies of governmental functioning and thereby be ready and willing to assume duties and responsibilities upon which their rights and privileges depend. The challenge to democracy and the American Way can be met most effectively by an alert and informed citizenry. Buckeye Girls' State is one definite effort in that direction.

Adventist's Camp Opens Tuesday

Several boys and girls from Columbus, Grove City and Worthington will attend Seventh-Day Adventist Junior Camp for Ohio in the Tar Hollow State Forest About 18 miles northeast of Chillicothe. The junior boys' camp started Sunday, June 12. Their camp will continue until Tuesday, June 21. The girls' camp will convene June 21-30. The camp is under the direction of H. R. Nelson, Ohio youth leader. Miss Fern Lesie, 2389 Agler Rd., will be a division leader and Miss Jean O'Connell, 244 N. Vine St., Westerville, will be a junior counselor at the girls' camp.

The camp is one of 46 sponsored by the denomination in North America. During the summer approximately 9,000 juniors between the ages of 9 and 16 and 3,000 seniors will attend these camps, Richard T. Minesinger, pastor of the local Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 36 N. 21st Street, said.

Camps are open to children of all faiths or no faith at all, the pastor said, since church leaders are convinced that wholesome, outdoor life is often the final factor in causing wavering children to become Christian adults and good citizens.

Activities at the camp will include supervised recreation, and craft and nature study. Emphasis will be placed on daily Bible study and lessons in Citizenship.

Competition Keen

Columbus, June 15—Competition is expected to be keen at Sunday's big car race program at the Powell Speedway, Harry Gilchrist, track manager, said today.

Entries already received by Valli Enterprise, promoters of the race, indicate that all top drivers in the CSRA circuit will be here.

Next, two car owners will have brand new cars here. Both owners apparently are not satisfied with their old cars although the present racers are one-two in the current CSRA speed ratings.

Dr. L. D. Morris of Carmel, Ill., has purchased a $15,000 Curtis Kraft Offenhauser. He also owns another Offy driven by Gene Aldridge of Fort Branch, Ind., and stands first in the CSRA speed ratings.

Frank Merkler, Fort Wayne, Ind. sportsman, has his famous "404" racer in second place in the CSRA standings, but he too has purchased a new car. Billy McGee, former Zanesville coal miner now living in Columbus, will drive the new "404." Glenn "Peewee" Northern of Wabash, Ind., will continue behind the wheel of the old "404."

Powell Speedway is located on Route 750, two miles east of the Columbus Zoo. Time trials start at noon with the first race at 2:30 p.m.

Wedding Bells

Mr. John Hunyadi of 495 Woodrow Ave., and Miss Elizabeth Varady of Darlington, Penna. will be married in the Hungarian Reformed Church on Saturday, July 2nd with the Rev. Stephen Szlarto officiating.

That doctor who said kissing shortens life no doubt meant single life....

Mariann Kramer Wed Recently

A double ring ceremony united in marriage Mariann Kramer and John Edward O'Brien at 10:30 a.m., May 21, at the Corpus Christi Church. Father John Graf officiated at the ceremony, before the altar decorated in ferns, white snapdragons and iris.

Miss Kramer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kramer, 1615 Berkeley-rd, and Mr. O'Brien is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. O'Brien, 1000 Linwood-av.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin dress with the bodice fashioned of chantilly lace over satin and a round neckline and cap sleeves. The shirred waistline topped a full circular train and featured a Victorian bustle. Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a bonnet fashioned of heirloom lace. She wore satin gauntlets and carried a round bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley centered with a cluster of gardenias.

The maid of honor, Geneal Kramer, and another sister, Dolores Kramer, as bridesmaid, wore identical gowns of white marquisette with full skirts and bateau necklines with petal etched in pastel green. The green was repeated in huge sashes tied in bows in back. They wore white horsehair braid picture hats and carried cascade bouquets of white iris and English ivy foliage.

Harold McCabe acted as best man and seating the guests were Bernie Wiemels and William McGee, all Phi Kappa fraternity brothers of the groom.

A breakfast for the immediate families followed at the Southern Hotel.

The bride's mother greeted guests at the afternoon reception in beige crepe with which she wore a blue cornflower and hybrid rose corsage. Mrs. O'Brien wore gray shadow lace crepe with a corsage of pink cornflowers and bountiful [illegible].

For the wedding trip to Indian Lake in the Adirondack Mountains the bride wore a toast gabardine suit with black accessories, a Kolinsky fur scarf, and her gardenia corsage from the wedding bouquet.

They will be at home at 61 N. Broadleigh-av.

The new Mrs. O'Brien is a graduate of the Laboratory Institute of Fashion Merchandising in New York City. Mr. O'Brien attended Ohio State University.

THANKSGIVING DAY IN THE WEST INDIES

Perhaps ten years late, proper recognition will be accorded President Rafael L. Trujillo of the Dominican Republic as the first chief of a Nation to sincerely offer a haven to Jewish refugees from Nazi persecution.

At a time when Nations talked but did not act, Trujillo gave 26,000 acres of his personal property as a sanctuary for people oppressed by Hitler.

Announcement has just been made by the colonists of Sosua, a thriving refugee's colony on the north coast of the Daminican Republic, that they will commemorate the tenth anniversary of President Trujillo's humanitarian act.

Self-governing Sosua, comprising 375 happy, industrious refugees, has earned over the past decade the reputation of producing the best dairy products in the West Indies, the finest essential oils from fragrant grasses that previously grew wild, and exquisitely designed items from native tortoise, gold and mahogany.

The fitting tribute to Trujillo will be simple—a prayer of thanks by the entire community—in the only synagogue in a predominantly Catholic country where racial and religious prejudices are unknown.

OPTIMISM OF NEWSPAPER CHIEFS

According to the American Newspaper Publishers Association American people are overwhelmingly in favor of the Atlantic Pact.

Unemployment, where it exists, is of minor proportions.

Bank deposits and savings remain high—in some places higher than ever.

Farmers and ranchers have used their boom profits to pay off loans and take up mortgages.

Crop prospects generally are good, despite the hard winter in the West.

The cost of producing newspapers is stretching the business thin, especially in the case of local Family papers, printed in the Heart of America (Grass Roots).

The price peak has been passed, but price decline in no way shows signs of tobogganing.

Labor, especially in the West, is beginning to realize a dead golden goose lays no golden eggs. The employer is getting a higher return in work for his dollar than he did two years ago.

Publishers were uniformly interested in television and saw it as a competitor of the book and magazine business, but not of the newspaper business.

POOR OLD NEW YORK

A first page story in the New York Times tells the terrible truth about city relief and the jobless. The report goes on to say that there was an addition of 6,441 cases in the city's public assistance rolls in the month of March—and that was the largest single monthly increase in eleven years. How come?

The city authorities in New York explained that the slump is entirely due to unemployment. And the news report says that 4,000 people a week lost even these benefits because they have been unemployed for six months.

• • •

WHAT DO OUR FOLKS WANT?

There are lots of answers to that question, but boiled down to a simple paragraph the farmers want guaranteed incomes, and veterans want increased pensions.

Old people want to be left alone and not made to spend all of their savings for taxes, and on monkey-shining political changes.

Gov't Red Tape Is Taking Your Money

The Hoover Commission findings are worth much more public attention than they have received. Perhaps the reason why Mr. Truman has indicated a willingness to accept many of the committee's recommendations lies in his reluctance to provoke too much public interest in the facts.

Nevertheless, the facts should be known. Did you know, for example, these interesting bits of information.

The paperwork done on every government purchase costs more than $10 in labor and materials. But, approximately half the purchase orders which the government issues are for less than $10. This means that the overhead is more than the cost of the goods themselves.

Our Veterans Administration has 15,432 persons at work on 7 million insurance policies. The average load amounts to 450 policies per worker. In private industry, each employee has 1,762 policies.

We have 30 government agencies lending, guaranteeing, or insuring loans.

Sweat on, Mr. Taxpayer. Or better still, get sore—and let's do something about all this costly waste in our Federal Government.

Robert Ryan and Barbara Hale head the supporting cast. "BORROWED TROUBLE" starring Hopalong Cassidy completes the program.

"Tulsa" At Southland Theater Sunday

"Tulsa," Walter Wanger's Technicolor spectacle opens this Sunday at the Southland Theatre. "Kiss In the Dark" starring Jane Wyman and David Niven, will complete the double feature program.

Columbia Theater

The Sunday and Monday billing at the Columbia Theater offers plenty of laughs and fun for fans of Abbott and Costello. The double features playing are "It Ain't Hay" and "The Ghost Chasers," both pictures being extremely funny as are most of the pictures in which Abbott and Costello have played. For an evening of real entertainment, take the family.

"3 Godfathers" At Ideal Theater

Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater is showing "3 Godfathers" with John Wayne and Harry Garey, Jr. This Technicolor picture is a bold and sweeping story of the early west. RUSSELL THEATER

This Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presents "John Loves Mary" with Ronald Reagan and Jack Carson. This comedy is possibly the funniest picture you'll see this year. It is the most deliciously daffy romantic mixup two people ever got into. Also showing is "Clay Pidgeon" with Bill Williams. A Color Cartoon completes the bill. Tuesday and Wednesday the Russell is showing "The Pit." This is probably your last chance to see this great picture.

The wedding will be Sept. 7 at Our Lady Chapel at the University of Notre Dame. After a wedding trip to California, a reception will be held at Valley Dale on Sept. 29.

Miss Alice Lauber Is Married

The Rev. Fr. Robert R. Schmidt performed the ceremony in St. Leo's Church which united in marriage Miss Alice Marie Lauber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie M. Lauber, 301 Southwood Ave., and Mr. Jack L. Burdette, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Burdette, 1431 Harrisburg Pike, May 21, at 9:30 a.m. White gladioli and snapdragons, blue delphinium and palms decorated the altar.

Wearing a gown of Skinners white bridal satin, the bride was escorted down the aisle by her father. The gown was fashioned with a mandarin neckline and a plastron front of matching Venice lace. The same lace trimmed the points of the long fitted sleeves. The circular skirt featured a panier hip interest and a bustle back, and terminated into a scalloped circular train. The fingertip veil of English illusion was held in place by a matching satin bonnet trimmed with Venice lace cutouts. A white orchid encircled with stephanotis on streamers adorned the prayer book carried by the bride.

Gowned in blue marquisette, the following attendants preceded the bride down the aisle: Miss Lois Ann Lauber, sister of the bride, maid of honor, who carried a cascade bouquet of blue carnations and white daisies; Miss Irene Romer of St. Henry, Ohio, cousin of the bride, and Miss Joan Wagenbrenner, bridesmaids, who carried cascades of white carnations and daisies. Their gowns were made with sheer yokes edged in matching Chantilly lace and berthas of marquisette. The basque bodices complimented the bouffant skirts. Ruffles of matching marquisette formed bustles in back and extended down the back and around the edge of the skirts. Matching mitts and Chantilly lace mitts completed their costumes.

Mr. James Theado was best man. Guests were seated by Mr. John Kinkley of St. Mary's, Ohio, and Mr. Paul Budd.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and is employed by the National Surety Corp. The bridegroom attended South High School and is associated with the display department

"Borrowed Trouble"
Hopalong Cassady
LISTEN TO ROGER GARRETT AT THE ORGAN, WCOL, TUES. thru FRI., 6:45 P. M.; SUNDAY AT 12:45 P. M.

WHERE ARE WE?

Russia is carrying on its propaganda and war-whoops. Those who hope for an honest settlement at the conferences in Paris and other fronts are likely to be disappointed. There is no reason to believe that Russia will give up its efforts to prevent the United States from bringing about a genuine peace. The Communists aren't to be trusted.

Forty thousand people marched through the Russian sector of Germany carrying banners which read: "Down with the Atlantic Pact." The Soviet policy is not likely to change over night, or in a long time.

Apparently Germany has changed under protection of the American Government. Germany has already become a strong part of Europe. The Western powers have occupied a part of Germany that now has a population of 67,000,000. Those Germans are competent and skillful and have the "know-how."

The United States, Britain and France apparently have created a new Nation in Western Germany. They have a new Government and a Constitution of their own. Let us hope that the Germans will appreciate their luck when Hitler was bumped-off. Now if they have half the sense they are credited with, the German Nation will kiss Russia good-bye and go ahead. Nobody knows better than the people of the United States that the German settlements in our own country have succeeded under our form of Government. Milwaukee, for instance, is one of our best-governed cities.

It is easier to look wise than to talk wisely....

Sylvester Says:

"You've got a choice here!" The only country in the world where you can still choose your own style of clothing; choose to build a home of your own; choose the materials and location. Take away the right to choose, to select, and to own and you destroy democracy. On a nationwide scale here's how Americans choose to spend their incomes.

They spend four times more for food than they do for housing and rent. They spend 1½ times more for clothing and 1½ times more for household expenses. They spend as much on liquor and tobacco as they do on homes and they spend twice as much for liquor, tobacco, travel, entertainment, horseracing, recreation and other things rarely referred to as necessities than they do on housing.

It's a great country. You still have a chance to choose between freedom and governmental controlled regimentation.

Three South Siders Off To See The World

George W. Lockett, Sr., USNEV, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lockett of 69 Benfield Ave., Donald H. Martin, Sr., USNEV, son of Mr. Floyd H. Martin of 747 Reinhard Ave. and Ralph B. Osborn, Sr., USNEV, son of Mr. Ross B. Osborn of 2476 South High Street were sworn into the United States Navy today at the U. S. Navy Recruiting station at the old Post Office Building in downtown Columbus.

Lockett and Osborn attended the Hamilton Twp. High School. Lockett and Osborn both played basketball and football on the school teams. While Martin enjoyed his favorite sport of swimming.

All three young men gave their reasons for enlisting in the Navy as to further their education, learn a trade and travel. (These boys will receive their recruit training at the naval training center, San Diego, Calif.)

"Our Dads"

Let's all rise and give a big toast
A friendly toast in honor of dear ole Dad.
Among all men, he means the most
For he's the best pal a fella ever had.

Let us bestow our welcome
To that grand king of all our hearts.
After all is said and done,
He reigns supreme in his loved ones' hearts.

His work he never fails to do,
Day in and day out, through the years.
He is faithful to both me and you,
Through joy, sorrow, laughter and tears.

We go straight to him to help us out
When our problems become involved.
And sure enough, without a doubt,
He soon has them all clearly solved.

So, let's honor him royally today,
Let his majesty reign fully supreme.
And pray that he succeeds in every way,
To the fullness of his fondest dream.

By - Charles W. Widmaier.

Heyl Graduates 71

The Heyl P. T. A. board had their unusual party for the graduating class on Tuesday June 7, at 2:00 p.m. There were game, singing and refreshments. Mrs. Georgia Sickles was general chairman for this party.

On Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock at South High School following an interesting and entertaining program, Heyl Avenue School graduated 71 6A students. To the following Junior Highers we wish much success and happiness: Gloria Antle, Carol Bennett, Goldye Berman, Joan Bodin, Beverly Borror, Annette Brodt, Donna Chavman, Marilyn Comeras, Vilma Debelich, JoNell Forbes, Eleanor Foster, Ruth Foster, Barbara Gerhard, Carolyn Henry, Nancy Johnson, Ruth Johnson, Marilyn Knorr, Jean Koterba, Nancy Krause, Sylvia Lipes, Diana Long, Janet Loomis, Linda Lucks, Helen Maser, Janet McAboy, Jeanne McAboy, Barbara Miller, Madeline Miller, Shirley Moore, Judith Mottashed, Jann Partee, Shirley Price, Minnette Ross, Mary Jane Secrest, Sandra Shackett, Barbara Shipley, Ruth Spangler, Rosie Vick, Maedell Washburn, Carol Weber, Roberta Workmaster, John Beck, Herbert Berry, Gregg Boggs, Martin Brody, Ronald Byrd, Donald Clifton, Ronald Dumm, Stanley Freedman, Cliff Gaver, Herbert Greff, Joe Herron, Robert Kinnell, Kenneth Leach, Jerry Lopper, Ralph Merts, Tommy Miranda, Norman Montague, Michael Pharr, Thomas Powers, Robert Schatz, Donald Trimmer, Herbert Uts, Donald Wharton, Ralph Wildermuth, Robert Winebar, George Wonnell.

Ervin Hoffman Laid To Rest

Ervin G. Hoffman, 51, general foreman at the Bonney-Floyd Co. for 7 years, died in Mt. Carmel Hospital, Sunday evening, June 5th, after an illness of three weeks. Mr. Hoffman, who resided at 1480 Elmwood Ave., less than one year formerly resided at 1366 S. 3rd St. and on the South Side for a number of years (32) and was active in Bowling and in several leagues. He is survived by his wife, Erma M. Hoffman, Past State President of the Blue Star Mothers of America; two sons, William B. Hoffman and Jerry Hoffman in Grade School at Our Lady of Victory; one sister, Mrs. Marie Merritt, 244 W. Pacemont Rd.

Mr. Hoffman was a member of St. Leo's Court No. 1475 Catholic Order of Foresters, the Holy Name Society of Our Lady of Victory Church where funeral services were held Thursday, June 9, with Requiem High Mass. Interment was in St. Joseph Cemetery by John Quint and Sons. Friends were received at Maeder-Quint funeral home, 1068 S. High St., where the Foresters conducted their services, Wednesday. The Holy Name Society recited the Rosary, Wednesday.

Dr. M. Hajos Still Here

It seems that there is an erroneous story prevailing thruout the South Side that Dr. M. Hajos, of 1271 Parsons Ave., has quit practice and moved from the city.

This is not true. Dr. Hajos is still practicing in his regular location.

The doctor who left the city was Dr. W. Hegedus, not Dr. Hajos.

Ex Sgt. Armstrong With Navy

Sgt. C. W. Armstrong, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Armstrong, 1277 S. High St., has been visiting at his home for the past month. Sgt. Armstrong was stationed at Rome New York Air Field and later sent to San Antonio, Texas where he was to receive his honorable discharge.

He entered the service November, 1939, at Ft. Thomas, Ky. He received his honorable discharge at West Point, New York and reentered the service in November, 1941, and was sent to Europe. He was discharged in Geratetton in December of 1945, where he again enlisted for three more years.

Sgt. Armstrong has been with the 501 Parachute and 842 Infantry in combat and has the Expert Infantry Badge, Combat Badge, Bronze Star, Purple Heart, Good Conduct, American Defense medals, American campaign, three Bronze Service Stars; the French, Belgium, and England High Honors Paratroop Wings, and Expert Automatic Rifleman.

Sgt. Armstrong was one of the first Columbus boys to join the 501 Paratroop at Ft. Benning, Ga. in 1940. He received his wings from the late President Roosevelt in 1940.

He is now stationed at Port Columbus in the Navy for four years as a parachute rigger. His mother has received a letter from the president and war department in regard to the high, honorable and faithful service in the past nine year with the army and air force.

Siebert P.T.A. Wins Fight For Repairs

Repairs are now under way on the Siebert Street Elementary School which received considerable publicity several weeks ago.

Men are now working on the roof to put this school in shape.

The Board of Education announced Tuesday, June 7, that two fire escapes would be placed this summer and that the observation well on the second floor will be closed thus eliminating the fire hazard in the school.

The Board also announced that windows in the school will be tightened to keep the cold air out in the winter so that classes for the children will no longer have to be held in the halls.

The officers of the Siebert St. P.T.A., members of the P.T.A. and especially its president, Mrs. Donald Ryan, are to be commended for the fight they put up to make the school safe for the children.

We still say the schools' furnaces need repairs and we will see if we can't get the work done.

Get Acquainted At Playgrounds

The playgrounds are open again. This is "Get Acquainted" week at the Southeast Lions playground. Friday, June 17, is Family Night. Make it a point to bring the kids over and see how your playground is managed. Many special events and contests are in the offering, watch the bulletin board for dates.

Buckeye Lake Rumors Investigated

Division of Conservation fish management and pollution control officials this week were continuing an investigation of recent reports that fish caught in certain sections of Buckeye Lake have a musty taste.

Rumors and exaggerations which have developed have grown to such an extent that Division officials are having a difficult time separating fact from fiction and imagination.

In a recent test, on five fish taken from the most heavily vegetated area of the lake, ten persons tasted a number of species and the opinions expressed provided no conclusive evidence that there is anything unusual about the flavor of the fish. Some said they thought they detected a slight musty taste, others considered the flavor excellent and some weren't sure.

All the fish taken for the experiment appeared vigorous and healthy and no foreign odor was detected either when alive or in preparation for cooking.

Division of Conservation men believe that there must be some basis for the reports and therefore are continuing the investigation, although there is a possibility that the unusual taste may have been due to preparation or cooking.

Very few people can stand prosperity...if it's the other fellows.

Old Age Pension Cut Employees Are Not

On Wednesday June 8 an announcement was made by Mr. Marion W. McIntyre, old age pension chief, that old age pensions would be cut $2 per month.

The top pension for aged people is $55 but the average is nearer $46 per month.

We contacted Mr. McIntyre and asked him if his wages were cut. The answer was "no." We further asked him if the wages of the investigator and his employes had been and he said "no."

We further asked him if his workers average wages were not more per week than the average pensioner receives per month. He said "yes."

It seems to be the opinion of most people in this department that they have an exaggerated opinion of what they are worth.

Although living has gone down we wonder how Mr. McIntyre would like to get along on an average of $46 per month. With the $2 cut it will now be $44 per month.

One of Gov. Lausche's campaign pledges was that the old age pensions would be maintained at their present level or higher.

It seems to be the opinion of these new dealers that they are the select of the country and the old age, the poor and the helpless can take what is left.

Gov. Frank Lausche has asked for a budget increase of approximately $135,000,000 for the next two years more than ex-Governor Thomas Herbert spent in his two years of office.

Gov. Lausche problem seems to be how to get rid of more money and to ape the New Deal spenders in Washington.

Editor's Notes—We predict that Gov. Frank J. Lausche will ask for an investigation of the pension cut.

If the cut is restored (which it should be) it is a pre-arranged plan to return the cut to the pensioners so that he can say look what I have done.

If so, it is a cheap political trick to harass this group of old folks to whom $2 looks like a $100, and has already caused them the mental anguish that it has, just for the sake of gaining votes.

Lucky Father To Get $150

Who will be the lucky man to become the father of the first baby born on Father's Day, June 19th?

It will be a doubly lucky day for him as the Father's Day committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will present that fortunate father with a check for $150.000 or its equivalent in baby merchandise.

Hospital maternity wards in the city have been alerted by the Jaycees to keep accurate timing of all new babies born after Saturday midnight.

Members of the committee, of which Gordon Mead is chairman, will make a careful check of hospitals on Sunday morning and will then make the presentation to the lucky father.

Sterling silver spoons were presented by Jaycees to seventeen fathers who completed the six-lesson Red Cross Baby Care class last Tuesday evening. Sponsoring this class was part of their Father's Day promotion.

Bass Season Opens Today

The Ohio black bass season opens June 16 for the state's streams and a few lakes not included in the liberalised waters where closed seasons, bag limits and minimum legal lengths do not apply.

Although most of Ohio's streams have been below normal for the spring spawning season, which is protected by the closed season, the hatch of young bass has been good. Heavy rains and high water of the past several spring seasons has retarded bass production by washing out the nests and in some case because of the low temperature of the water, the nesting season was prolonged into July.

The bass season in the Lake Erie fishing district which closed May 25 will not open until June 30 at midnight. The bass season at Pymatuning Lake in northeastern Ohio opens at midnight, June 30, along with the wall-eye pike season.

Bass fishing in the state's 86 lakes, where normal restrictions of closed seasons, bag limit and minimum legal length have been lifted, has been exceptionally good generally and record catches have been reported to Division of Conservation headquarters in Columbus.

Watch Home Accidents

Increased summer activity around the home means added effort to reduce the appalling number of home accidents.

Safety authorities suggest an immediate check of those accident sources around your house:

Store storm windows and other winter equipment safely. Poor storage is one of the big reasons accidents and fires.

Repair broken outdoor furniture, broken porch floors or steps, railings and fences.

Clean up glass, nails, and other objects. Make sure the children's sand pile is sifted and free of such hazards.

Check the window screens. Make certain that weak frames and wire are strengthened and screens held securely to keep children from falling out.

Put garden tools, insecticides, weed killers and the like out of reach in a safe place when finished using them.

Have guards on all electric fans and keep them placed out of the reach of children.

Open windows increase the possibility of gas pilot lights being blown out. Make sure curtains cannot blow across a gas flame.

The Faster You Drive The Harder You Hit

THE FASTER YOU DRIVE THE HARDER YOU HIT!—

That's the sober warning being emphasized by safety authorities during the Fourth of July holiday and the summer vacation period.

If you have an injury accident while driving at 45 m.p.h., the National Safety Council says, the chances of your being killed are 1 in 16. But boost your speed to 65 and the chances of someone being killed are only 1 in 4.

The jump from 45 to 65 almost triples the chance of someone being killed if you have an injury accident.

If it were possible to maintain a steady speed of 65 in a 400-mile drive, you would only save two and a half hours over a steady driving time of 45 m.p.h. Higher speeds increase driver fatigue and nervousness, slow down reaction, create more driving strain.

When you take that trip, judge your speed by these factors: age, ability and physical condition of the driver; the mechanical condition of the car; degree of traffic congestion; the condition of the road and visibility

Take it a bit slower and get there safely!

Another Successful Year For South P.T.A.

As the School year comes to a close, we can't help thinking over the past year of happy experiences we had in serving our children and school.

The Parent-Teacher Association of South High School sponsored dances for the pupils after the football and basket ball games, and had a most interesting and enjoyable field day. We contributed toward the electric organ, purchased thirty Honor Society pins and bought many bonds for the improvement of the Athletic Field.

Mrs. Guy Maise, president, wishes to thank Mr. C. L. Dumaree, Miss Elsie Grove, the faculty, and the members for their support and cooperation.

The new officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Fred R. Basler, president; Mrs. J. L. Wright, 1st vice-president; Mr. C. L. Dumaree, 2nd vice-president; Miss Elsie Grove, 3rd vice-president; Mrs. Clarence Nolle, secretary; Mrs. Edgar DeLong, Treasurer; Mrs. L. R. Thorpe, Mrs. Cecil Smith, Mrs. J. E. Bronson, Representatives to Council; Mrs. Merle Kenny, Mrs. Allen Campen, Mrs. O. L. Coddington, Alternates to council.

On June 16 a picnic will be held at the South Side Y. M. C. A. park for the board members.

Wood Honored Again

William P. Wood, 760 Thurman avenue, local agent for the Farm Bureau Insurance companies, has added another laurel to his long list of honors with the companies.

On April 19th he was presented the Hi-Lo trophy representing the highest 1948 production in all lines of insurance, of over 100 agents in central and southeastern Ohio.

The trophy was presented by Sales Supervisor George Wolf of 1688 King Avenue in the presence of all Franklin county agents. In presenting the trophy, Wolf attributed Woods success to his boundless energy and unfailing efforts to be of the best service to his policy holders.

Wood, who has been an agent for the companies for nearly four years has been a member of their Challenger Club each year. He was also one of the Top Ten producers in all three Farm Bureau companies for the past year.

Previous to his affiliation with the Farm Bureau, he was a glider pilot in World War II.

Wood has his eyes on winning this year's European Trip sponsored by the companies to study economic conditions and insurance practices in the old world.

This is the fourth year the Farm Bureau has sponsored these trips for Top Producers representing different state territories served by the companies.

The companies offer these trips in the interest of better understanding and the cementing of good will international relations. Their agents have appeared before many groups of people giving their own experiences as an American talking things over with the people of the countries they visited.

At present, Wood is leading the entire agency force of over 2500 agents serving Ohio and the Eastern United States.

The Company's home offices are at 246 North High Street.

Red Cross Receives 10,367 Pints Blood

A total of 10,367 pints of blood have been donated thru the Red Cross Regional Blood Center, 80 E. Town St., according to a report made this past week by Anthony L. Schmieg, Center Director.

In the report which covers the first six months of operation at the Center, it was disclosed that of the amount collected 5,194 pints of blood were distributed to hospitals in Franklin County, the remainder being used to meet the needs of hospitals in the participating Counties.

All of the needs in eleven of the seventeen hospitals in the County have been met, and the Center has supplemented the existing blood banks in the remaining six hospitals. For the past four months, 78 percent of all blood needs of the County have been met, stated Schmieg.

Emergency deliveries of blood have been made within the State and on one occasion outside the State, using the quickest means of transportation available—commercial and private planes, bus service and on three occasions, the State Highway Patrol has rushed blood outside the city.

Mr. Schmieg pointed out that the continued cooperation of the public and the hospitals and the volunteers will mean the success of the Center. It will mean that eventually Red Cross blood will be available to all who need it, when it is needed, and in the amounts needed.

Independent Grocers Are Cheaper

Here's a suggestion for you housewives. Compare merchandise in the chain stores with your Independent Grocer. Check can for can, package for package; check the sizes and weight and we're sure that you'll save many dollars by shopping your independent grocer. He wants and needs YOUR business and that means, that it's necessary for him to give you the best value possible for the least amount of money.

Let's compare last week's food prices here in our community with chain stores and see if you, Mrs. Housewife, are losing money by buying from the chains:—

Earl Wins First Place

For the second consecutive year Earl's Sunoco Service at 1011 Parsons Avenue was judged the first prize non-integrated station in the Columbus district, in the Sun Oil Company's annual clean up, paint up drive, and merchandise display. This station was in competition with 32 other stations of this type. Another South Sider, Lyman E. Marsh, of 666 Reinhard Ave., with a station at Sullivant and Powell Avenues, won first prize in the integrated station class. Mr. Schweitzer and Mr. Marsh received certificates of merit and, accompanied by their respective salesmen, went to Detroit for two days with all expenses paid, including a trip thru the Ford River Rouge plant and ball game between the Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees.

All stations in the Columbus District were so fine that forty Regional Managers of the Western District which includes Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky, made a tour of all Columbus stations June 15th, riding by some and stopping at Earl's Sunoco and Marsh's Sunoco long enough to inspect thoroughly the prize winning stations.

Lions Club Entertained By Film

Members of the Southeast Lions Club, at their meeting Tuesday, June 21st, were entertained with a film which was produced and exhibited by the Ohio Bell Telephone Company. The picture depicted giant tractor trains pushing into Western wilderness tracts to complete the first transcontinental telephone cable. The film was in color and the many scenes of picturesque Western landscape made an ideal subject.

Stadium Improvement To Start Soon

According to Cleo Dumaree, the improvements on Mahaffey Stadium at South High School's Athletic field will start some time within the next week.

All that is needed to start the improvement is the "OK" of the Board of Education's architect.

While most of the money has been raised thru the selling of Stadium Improvement bonds there is still about $3,000 worth of these bonds yet to sell.

If 300 of South's alumni or business men will buy one $10 bond each they would do the community and South High School a great service.

When the football team starts football practice in the fall, South will have one of the most modern athletic plants in the city.

Included in the improvements will be dressing rooms both for South High athletes and opposing teams as well as showers and toilets for both teams. There will also be toilets for the spectators. There will be storage rooms for athletic equipment.

If you want to buy that bond, call the Booster Ga 9262 or Ga 71121, call Nelson Hennis at Mennis Grocery or Cap Hoover at the South Side Y. M. C. A.

Honors Married Couples

On June 5, at a special evening service, J. E. Bronson, Minister of Southwood, Church of Christ, honored all those at whose marriages he had officiated during his six years in Columbus. Those in the picture above are a portion of the group that attended the service.

Dumaree To Be Principal Of Summer School

Cleo Dumaree, Principal of South High School, will be the principal of the summer term of high school this year at Central High School.

He will again resume his position at South High School in the fall.

Tomorrow

Tho, today may be rainy and dreary,
With overcast clouds dark and grey.
Buck up, for tomorrow will be cheery,
The sun will chase the gloom away.

Why fret, if today, luck's against you,
And your troubles have all mounted high?
Tomorrow the blue skies will come into view,
Then you can bid your worries good-bye.

If you're surrounded with failures today
And life seems to hold no pleasure in store,
Just remember, tomorrow is another day,
Filled with successes that you've not had before.

It takes courage and work to keep going,
Especially, when the course is so rough.
But luck always returns like a bad coin,
And you'll have luck if you have the stuff.

So, let's try to forget trouble and sorrow,
Keep looking forward to life's better side.
Look eagerly to a brighter tomorrow,
And we'll be much more satisfied.

By-Charles W. Widmaier.

Saw The Blue Sky, Thanked God

The Southeast Lions Club's outstanding program is sight saving.

Many youngsters and adults in the South Side have had specialists examine their eyes and have been fitted with glasses through the financial assistance of this splendid organization.

Recently Jack Poole of Mithoff St., was operated on by a specialist for cataracts through the assistance of the Lions Club.

Mr. Poole said when the bandages were removed from his eyes, "I looked up and saw the beautiful blue sky, then I thanked God for the return of my sight and then I cried."

Every body in the South Side, who has turned in sales tax stamps for the Southeast Lions Club has helped Mr. Poole and many others to save their sight.

You, too, can participate by turning in your sales tax stamps.

There are Lions Club boxes in many South Side stores or if you have a large amount of them you can hand them to a Lion member in your neighborhood.

Among the Southeast Lions Club members you can turn them in to are: J. W. Bullis, at Bobb Chevrolet Co.; Dr. O. L. Coddington, 978 Jaeger St.; Clarence Duffee, 817 S. High St.; Arthur Eicher, Eicher's Shell Service Station, Sycamore and S. High Sts.; C. M. Henry, High - Mithoff Pharmacy; Wm. P. Hoermle, 1894 Parsons Ave.; Geo. Meyer, Meyers Grocery, 1829 S. 5th St.; Dr. Henry Sachs, 1293½ Parsons Ave.; Carl Snedeker, Snedeker's Grocery, at Morrill and S. Fifth St.; Walter R. Snider, 965 Parsons Ave., Dr. W. A. Sherard, 1009 Whittier St.; or to C. R. Walcutt, South Side Booster, 1542 Parsons Ave.

Turn your sales tax stamps in and save a South Sider's sight.

Do it today,—don't put it off!

Melt butter, do not brown. Stir in flour, mix thoroughly. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add pepper. Place pan over low fire and continue to stir constantly until the sauce boils and thickens. Cook for about 2 mintues. Be careful not to scorch. Pull chipped beef apart into small pieces. Add to cream sauce and simmer for 6 to 7 minutes. Stir constantly. Season to taste. Serves 8.

HOW TO BAKE POTATOES

Choose potatoes about the same size so all will be done at the same time. Scrub them well. Place them in hot coals and cover with embers while the rest of the fire is built up for food which is still to be cooked. If this isn't done, all too frequently baked potatoes are brought out half raw and half done. Medium potatoes bake in about 1 hour. If you want to hurry them, parboil potatoes at home and cover them with the hot ashes around the edge of the campfire.

SOME MORES

16 graham crackers
8 marshmallows
4 plain flat chocolate bars

Break a chocolate bar and put each half on a graham cracker. Toast a marshmallow, put it on top of chocolate and cover with another cracker. Serves 8.

Fish Need Careful Handling

Thousands of pounds of fish are wasted annually by fishermen who carelessly toss stringers or creels into cars for a two or three hour ride homeward in hot weather.

Not only is valuable meat lost but delicate flavor of freshly caught fish is impaired.

Most seafood fanciers claim that the sooner fish are cooked and served after they leave the water, the better the flavor and some species of fish, especially the popular crappie, spoils rapidly or at least loses flavor if not properly attended and preserved between catching time and the skillet.

Veteran fishermen often clean each fish as they are caught, at least the gills and insides are removed. Green grass or water plants are stuffed into the cavity and each fish individually wrapped in water lilies or burlap. If a creel is available the fish is placed immediately in it and sprinkled lightly.

As long as fish are alive they may be kept in the creek tied to a root or slung over the side of a boat until the angler is finished for the day. If they are dead they should be cleaned immediately or partly cleaned and placed in chipped ice.

Since the average fisherman might find it rather inconvenient to carry a supply of ice the same results may be had by wrapping the catch in wet burlap which is kept moist and where the air will get at it. The natural evaporation will keep the fish about 20 degrees cooler than the surrounding air.

If the fish are to be transported a great distance they should be cleaned and kept in chipped ice but never allowed to touch the water from the melting ice.

Fish carried home dry on a stringer will become strong in flavor and scaling is more difficult than when kept moist but not wet, or they will become water logged and tasteless.

With a little extra care fishermen will save many pounds of delicious eating and protect that fresh-caught flavor that is lost by too many anglers each year.

URBANA IS OHIO'S SMALLEST ARTS COLLEGE

Approaching its one hundredth anniversary in 1950, Urbana Junior College at Urbana continues to take pride in its distinction as Ohio's smallest liberal arts college.

Urbana accepts each year about fifty men and women, most of whom at the end of two years of basic studies go on to larger universities for advanced work.

According to President Edward F. Memmott, Urbana desires to remain small in order that it may continue to give close personal attention to all students. The college has one faculty member for every five young people.

The top photos show President Memmott conferring with Marion Ralston, Stout, O., one of this year's 14 graduates, and two Columbus girls attending Urbana—Patricia Sturdevant and Marianne Greenlee. In the center are the two main college buildings; other buildings include dormitories for men and for women.

Since Urbana doesn't go in for intercollegiate athletics, students find recreation in tennis, baseball, picnics, and impromptu parties, like the one pictured below. At the right below is Charles Phillips of Costa Rica, also a 1949 graduate, with another of Urbana's foreign students.

Inactive during the summer, Urbana is now receiving applications for its new year starting September 21.

COLUMBIA VALLEY

The Interior Department of the Federal Government suggests that we could apply the lessons learned in the Tennessee Valley and step-up things along the Columbia River and its tributaries in the Pacific Northwest. There is a deep interest in Congress in the proposals for conservation and utilization of our natural resources.

The fact that the Northwest has been visited by many damaging floods, power shortages and unemployment, calls for attention to the Columbia River Basin which suffered property damage amounting to over $100 million dollars in the floods last Spring.

Mr. C. Girard Davidson of the United States Department of Interior told a gathering in Washington recently that there is no longer a question about the necessity of speeding up Federal action for the development of our natural resources. He reminds us that Oregon has increased almost 50 per cent in population since 1940. And he says something—plus—must be done without any delay, to take advantage of all resources in the Pacific Northwest. Of course we all know that floods in the Columbia Valley last year inflicted terrible damage. The floods not only washed away the land, but the same floods threatened to ruin a million dollar a year salmon fishing industry.

LABOR LEGISLATION

Maybe you're a foreman, and you like your job, but you wonder what's going to happen to it.

All Americans should be interested in this: A great drive is now under way to amend the Taft-Hartley Law, so that it will be lawful to unionize and regiment foremen. It will affect your pay, your chance to get ahead, your security, your independence.

The attack goes even further than that. Actually it will affect millions of progressive, real American folks like you in our country.

Under the old Wagner Act, when the dictator of the coal mines struck out with an iron fist to unionize supervisors in western Pennsylvania coal mines, the children of the supervisors were made targets in school. Supervisors' wives were intimidated. Their homes were stoned while their husbands were away at work. They were put through a campaign of being bumped when shopping in mining towns. They were telephoned at night—threatened with the acid bottle if their supervisor husbands did not join a union.

Clearly, such actions should continue to be outlawed, as they are now under the Taft-Hartley Law.

Labor Bosses still have a long way to go to gain control of Congress. What seemed to be a major victory last November leaves labor short of the votes it needs to get acceptance of the laws it wants.

This fact has been apparent behind the scenes ever since the election. It now has been nailed down by a count of votes in the House of Representatives. There has not yet been a test of labor's strength in the Senate. But 54 of the Senators—five more than a majority—voted for the Taft-Hartley Act in the 80th Congress.

JUNE DESSERTS

Fresh pineapple is served in many new and interesting ways.

By BETTY NEWTON

When fresh pineapple is available, it is fun to use it in as many new ways as possible. Pineapple can be used in many courses—not at the same meal, but at as many meals as you like. Your family will find the fruit cup, salad and dessert to which pineapple is added have an interesting tangy flavor. Canned pineapple is a great favorite, too. Try either!

Grapefruit, Avocado, and Pineapple Salad Bowl

Segments from 3 grapefruit
1 large avocado
1 head lettuce
1 can pineapple chunks, drained
1½ oz. blue cheese, crumbled
½ C. French dressing

Prepare grapefruit, removing all membrane. Cut avocado in half, pare, seed, cut in crosswise slices. Break up lettuce; arrange in alternate layers with grapefruit, avocado, pineapple, and cheese in salad bowl. Add French dressing; toss. Makes 6 servings.

Red Raspberry and Pineapple Cup

1 C. fresh, chilled raspberries
2 C. diced, fresh or drained, canned pineapple
¾ C. chilled orange juice
Mint sprigs

Arrange fruit in layers in 6 sherbet glasses. Pour some of orange juice over each. Garnish with mint. Makes 6 servings.

Pineapple and Strawberry Delight

Whip ¾ C. heavy cream stiff. Add 1½ tsp. vanilla flavoring and 2 Tbsp. granulated sugar. Fold into ¾ C. sliced strawberries and 1 C. diced canned pineapple combined. Chill thoroughly. Spoon lightly into 3 or 4 sherbet glasses.

Mite-y Mighty!

No mean electronic personality herself, Wendy Wells compares latest electronic development, smallest pentode vacuum tube in commercial use, with a standard radio tube, both of which deliver the same amplification.

The new tube, which is about the size of an ear-ring, was developed by Sonotone Corporation and will be used for the first time in its two new hearing instruments. The power it is responsive to need only be one-billionth of one-billionth of the power needed to light a 100-watt bulb! Yet it is enough to increase hearing when used in the new Sonotone hearing aids.

Through a series of three of these tubes, electrical power is amplified 10 billion times — which is comparative to increasing the weight of a pin to the combined weight of 300 automobiles. The midget tubes are part of new Sonotone controls scientifically calculated to provide greater understanding of what is heard, and are so adjusted that the volume for any hard - of - hearing person is maintained at the same level of comfortable hearing.

Michigan's Upper Penninsula

Had this writing all planned up to Saturday and whatdoya suppose happened? The Brevort Lake writer shows up in the U.P. and gives me so much dope I have to change my plans.

"Sim" F. Christensen writes for the St. Ignace News-Enterprise and his articles are very amusing. He writes and I quote, "Glad to hear that Mrs. Bertha Crystal is back from her trip to Europe by Plane. Her being my mom makes me feel like a Roosevelt. Never know what airport Mom will land in. I just hope she does not begin writing "My Day." And, "Saw my great uncle Cesspool the other day. He looked swell, but I could not figure out how he got such a nice sun-tan. He said, 'It's wonderful, my boy.' I says, 'What's so wonderful?' He says, 'Those sun lamps they are installing in the bars now.' What an idea, boys. You can mix with the boys now, then go home and tell your ever-loving wife you were FISHING."

Also, "Columbus, Ohio: Frank (the Dude) Koch is getting ready to go up north and open his wayward "Dude Ranch" on Brevort Lake real soon."

He (Sim) must have stooges scattered in every state, else how'd he know what our plans were. But, like I said, he really gets around. He used to write about the goings-on in the Blue Room at Moran and here's what he has to say about it: "After all the build-up I gave the Blue Room, they double-cross me and paint it GREEN." Sim is the chap that plastered the moniker "Dude Ranch" on our cottage at the Lake. We were going to name it Seven Pines, or have a contest giving away Ten Bucks to the person submitting the most appropriate name. Literally, Sim saved me Ten Bucks, but figuratively, he has guzzled that much beer at the "Ranch" since naming it. Sim's Mom was former operator of Crystal's Resort at Brevort. A son, Johnny Christensen is the present operator.

Dr. L. C. Shaftoe was re-elected president of the Board of Education of Mackinac County. Doc is our family Physician while we're up north. Congratulations, Doctor!

Someone crossed me up. I read where Judge "J. D." Erskine has painted the inside of his store at Allenville. I thought that was going to be my job this summer. Wait'll I see J. D.

Wonder what Eddie Novenski did to rate a race track from Charley Evans, of Detroit? Looks like Charley is trying to make a gambler out of Eddie. Eddie is beer etc. dispensor at Litzner's Tavern at Moran.

We see where Harry Pechta Groceryman and Supervisor of the Township has competition. Louie Litzner has opened a Super Market at Moran. Going to be open Sundays, Louie?

One thing I would like to get straight. Where does Nick Koski hang his hat and coat? Does he live in Ozark or Gros Cap? or maybe St. Ignace? Or has he become a traveling salesman? If the latter is true, then we'll have a lot of stories to listen to when we go up. We hope the "Wib" Acheson's are having nice weather this week at the "Dude Ranch." They left last Saturday morning and will take two days stopping at Lansing for the night.

How many of you ever witnessed a Scandinavian Festival? It's an annual affair, traditional ceremony. It will be held June 26th at the little village of Brevort on U. S. 2, north of St. Ignace. There will be the traditional raising of the colorfully arrayed Midsummer Pole at 3:30 in the afternoon, followed by the blessing of the fields of harvest. Vespers of the Day of St. John the Baptist will be offered at Trinity Church a 7:30 p.m. Public is invited. If you're in the U.P. at that time, drop around Brevort (not the Lake) and witness this colorful event

NOTE: The town of Brevort is at the head of Brevort Lake on U. S. 2. It was formerly known as Warehouse, being the sight of the Mackinac Lumber Co's. Warehouse. It's at least 2 miles from the head of the lake near Carl Worth's Trading Post on "old" U. S. 2.

Blind Evangelist At Sunshine Mission

Rev. Sammy Kaye, Blind Evangelist and Musician, will be at the Sunshine Mission, 116 Barthman Ave., this Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. which is Young People's meeting. He is well known thruout the city. Rev. Ray Leach is president of the group. Everyone is welcome. Rev. Harry Scott is pastor of Sunshine Mission.

Rev. Carl Hicks To Assume Pastorate Sun.

The Rev. Carl E. Hicks will preach his first sermon in his new charge, the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church, Sunday morning at 10:30 a.m.

Born in the little Ohio River town of Chesapeake, Ohio, where he attended grade school and graduated from High School, he received his A.B. degree at Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va., and his B.D. degree at Bonebrake Seminary, Dayton, Ohio.

His first charge was in his home church, the Chesapeake Methodist Church. His next church was the Bethel Methodist Church, northwest of Columbus.

He next went to the New Jasper Methodist Church near Xenia, O.

His last charge before coming to Gates-Fourth Methodist church was at Malta Methodist church at Malta, Ohio, on the Muskingum River.

We know the Rev. Hicks will be popular in our community because he has a nice sense of humor.

The men will like him because he likes to hunt and fish. He says there is nothing he likes better than a good baseball or football game.

From things we hear, he really preaches a good sermon.

The Rev. Hicks and his wife, with three daughters, are occupying the parsonage. The daughters are Carlotta Faye, 11 years old, who will attend Barrett Jr. High School; Lynda Ellen, 5 years old, who will attend Southwood Elementary School, and little two year-old Ina Karen.

The church will soon hold a reception for the members to get acquainted with their new pastor.

Adventist Churches To Have Offering

An offering to build a hospital in Basutoland, South Africa, will be received in the Seventh-Day Adventist churches of the city Saturday, June 25.

The government, and other agencies there, have called upon the church to establish this hospital in an area where there are 250,000 people without hospital facilities. The 2,782 North American Adventist churches have agreed to adopt it as a project.

The new hospital is planned to accommodate 100 patients, as well as a dispensary for out-patients. The denomination operates a total of nine hospitals and 27 dispensaries in South Africa, as well as two leper clinics treating more than 500 patients. A tenth hospital is under construction, and others are planned. The church has 110,000 adherents in South Africa.

Nursing classes for native girls, and home making and nutrition classes will be organized. The worst sufferers there are the children neglected because of lack of training in mothercraft. In May 1948 over 300 children died of diphtheria within walking distance of the hospital site.

"Our missionaries tell us that there has been a series of ritual murders in this area, and our hospital will war against superstition and the inhuman rites still practiced by many of its witch-bound millions," Richard T. Minesinger, pastor of the Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church, said.

"National Leprosy Week"

Dr. Raymond P. Currier, executive secretary of the American Mission to Lepers, announces that the week of October 9 to 16 is to be observed in churches of 48 denominations and groups throughout the country as "National Leprosy Missions Week." This will be the first observance of what is hoped will become an annual event of "special prayers and offerings, and projects to provide medical and other equipment and supplies, and operating expenses" for the work of missionary doctors and nurses among victims of leprosy. The American Mission which spends close to a half million dollars per year in supplies for leprosy workers from the [illegible] churches, will hold its forty-second annual convention in Boston, Oct. 19 and 20.

Communists in Hungarian Church

According to an announcement from Budapest issued by the National Lutheran Council (American): "The communist-dominated government of Hungary has succeeded in gaining control of the most important offices of the Hungarian Lutheran Church . . . Either party members or collaborators with the present regime have been named to fill various posts in the Church in order to insure leaders with democratic spirit who will make cooperation with the State peaceful and fruitful for the benefit of the masses of believers.' As president or inspector-general of the Church, the communists forced the election of Dr. Ivan Kerk, a leading left-wing member of the Small Landholders Party."

Slum Clearance Experiment

At the instigation of the American Friends Service Committee (Quakers), a unique project in slum clearance is to be undertaken in a North Philadelphia block of row houses erected about the time of the Civil War. Today 114 families occupy the block, and most of them live in one room each. The City Council will allocate funds to purchase the buildings from present owners; an FHA mortgage will finance the rehabilitation. But 99 familes of the present 114 will be organized into a cooperative housing association, and will buy the new and modern apartments for a monthly sum slightly less than their present rent. The Friends Neighborhood Guild has already begun the training of men and women of the block in certain building skills, and as much of the rehabilitation work as possible will be done by them under supervision. The work done by the tenants (owners-to-be) will be accepted in lieu of cash down-payments. The Friends hope this will set a pattern for clearances of slum areas elsewhere in the nation.

Christians Not Communists

"The Christian churches are not communist," says Charles P. Taft, of Cincinnati, former president of the Federal Council of Churches. "There are very few Christians who are soft-headed enough to consider themselves communist. There are a few apologists who close their eyes to realities. There are many who want to be sure that we do not close any doors to reconciliation. There are many in communist countries who must profess their faith with some compromise as long as that is allowed. But no Christian churches are communist, and Christian leaders are not communist. Protestant, Catholic and Orthodox Church leaders are sometimes called communist, because they advocate social reforms. As Christians who believe in a gospel of perfection, they must be social reformers. They must fight for greater equality, and they cannot sit quietly when people are denied a livelihood, an education, an opportunity for advancement, because of race or color . . . Christians are not communists because communism denies spiritual power and the importance of personality and insists that only the way we earn our livings in production is the driving force in the world. Communists look for perfection in history and perfection only thru one class; the proletariat. Christians will never accept the unquestioning obedience to the State and its propaganda line, or close their eyes to ruthless methods. We Protestants will always put our duty in conscience to God as we see him in Jesus every earthly power. So the churches cannot be communist."

STRIKES & CONGRESSIONAL LEGISLATION

The strikes in automobile plants in Detroit have undoubtedly disturbed Congress. The Labor Bill is likely to be the Taft-Hartley Act, which will carry on—even if it is called by some other name. Mr. Truman is in for a licking in labor legislation.

Strikes will slow down because more than 3,000,000 workers are out on jobs; and that is almost twice as much unemployment as there was five or six months ago. Reliable Washington, D. C., reports that "as things stand, one worker in ten may be job-hunting next year." The Capital is warned that lay-offs by industry are increasing again, after a lull.

Economic Highlights

As Fortune put it, the slump in business was recently made official. This happened when Dr. Edwin Nourse, top economic advisor to the President, reported that the Federal Reserve Board's industrial production index had dropped to the lowest point since July of 1947. Dr. Nourse, who has never been regarded as a conservative in his economic views, urged the President to hold down Federal spending, and to go easy on urging increases in taxation.

U.S. News & World Report offered its view of the situation in these words: "The country, at this time, is in the middle of a tug of war between buyers holding out for lower prices and sellers trying to avoid price cuts . . . Business is slowing in one line after another, while this price war goes on." The magazine then forecast that, before the end of 1949, the general price level will be 10 to 15 per cent below the postwar peak, but still more than 80 per cent above the 1939 figure. It added: "When buyers are convinced that prices once again are firmly set, demand for goods is expected to revive and business to move ahead."

If this view proves to be the correct one, it is clear that the current slump is not the beginning of a depression. It is, instead, an adjustment of a boom condition which was based on a tenuous foundation. When the war ended, there had been four years of increasing shortages and the war-enforced cash savings of the people were at an all-time high. The inevitable result was a buying spree that took in practically every kind of commodity, no matter how high the price or how poor the quality. Much of the money has now been spent, the shortages have almost all been made up, the national income is down from the peak, and the spending spree has come to an end.

During the course of the adjustment, the attitude of labor will be important—the cost of labor is a dominant factor in determining the selling price of the bulk of commodities. Some labor groups are now working for increased pay, but this is not universal by any means. A number of the top union officials are displaying considerable caution. In some lines, it is reported that productivity per manhour has been rising—when business slackens workers naturally put out more effort in order to keep their jobs. Also, the fairly substantial layoffs that have taken place in major industry have largely been confined to the least efficient workers, and the better men have remained on the job. Thus, labor costs may diminish in various fields, even tho' wage rates remain at high levels.

All in all, business trends are being watched with extreme care in all quarters. But, there is little real pessimism.

The first advertising agency in in 1828. Now they are all over the place, rendering notable service in promoting clear understandings in honest publicity that tells exactly the uses of thousands of commodities on sale locally, and throughout the Nation. These agencies cover detail of public relations.

There is one notable defect in the handling of public relations, to wit: The Public Relations Experts in most large organizations and corporations are men who have won their spurs as writers, correspondents and members of the staffs of newspapers in metropolitan centers, where they were trained to believe that a copy of their morning or evening sheet controlled politics from Albany, New York to Independence, Missouri. But, those local family newspapers in the grass roots brought home the bacon for Truman.

Practically all of the 11,000 family newspapers do not—will not—carry liquor and cigarette puffs. The grass roots leave that kind of publicity to the magazines and metropolitan dailies—because it is not fit material for the columns of family newspapers.

What of these great industries: Sugar public relations seems to be controlled by selfish American sugar refineries. Steel and the railroads, the chemical industry, oil, farm machinery, life and fire insurance companies—all have poor records in Public Relations.

Where all think alike, no one thinks very much. . . . .

THE ART PRESERVATIVE — Washington, D. C., — The Maryland Gazette was published at Annapolis, Maryland in 1727, and the Virginia Gazette at Williamsburg, Virginia in 1736. These two States relinquished territory and lands for the District of Columbia when it became the Nation's Capitol in 1800. The New York Evening Post came into existence in 1801, after the Capitol moved from that city. The American Daily Advertiser in Philadelphia was the first daily published in the new Nation—in 1782. It was going strong when Philadelphia inherited the Capitol. The Government parked there for a time on its way towards Washington, D. C. in 1800.

In 1801 there were 200 weeklies and 17 dailies in the United States. Today there are 2,000 dailies and 11,000 weeklies.

And these figures sustain Bulwer Lytton's declaration, in the long ago: "The pen is mightier than the sword."

the United States was established

THE MARSHALL PLAN

Secretary of State Acheson discussed the Marshall Plan before a hearing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the House Foreign Affairs Committee a few days ago and he supported the Administration's drive for another 15 months of the program, which will cost $5,580,000,000.

While this was expected, the terrific expense will have to go on according to Acheson, because we would "lose all that has been gained and lose also the object to bring the program to full completion."

Secretary Acheson is spokesman for the President and the Administration and what he says has all the force that backed General Marshall and the support of the United States Government.

The Secretary told Congress that the Marshall Plan is succeeding and he linked it with the Brussels Defense Pact of five European nations, led by Britain and France, as a necessary part of a drive for "increasing strength and confidence in Western Europe."

Well, we are all hooked-up to go—and we are going to keep right on going. All the directions of the American people lead toward World peace, and apparently there is only one obstacle that is blocking the way. Russia never has been a good Government and never will be. Under all circumstances, all of us will have to be patient and hopeful that what is being done has an honest purpose, plus a little hope to avoid the necessity of engaging in a war with Russia. We aren't afraid of such a war because we can win it in hours with the atomic bomb, but all of us hope that will not be neccesary.

AN EQUILIZATION PATTERN

There has been nationwide interest in the subject of Federal aid to education for many years. The National Congress and State Legislatures and prominent educational leaders are advocating what they call an "Equalization Pattern."

This term, however, does not clearly describe the plan. The objective of this plan of Federal aid is not to make either an equal education for all children and youth in the country or, for that matter, to make possible an equal financial expenditure. This plan provides for a financial partnership between the States and the Federal government in somewhat this manner: The Federal Government now makes this proposition to the States; that it is their job to manage and control the schools

"Little Women" At Southland Theater

June Allyson appears as Jo in Louisa Mae Alcott's famous novel, "Little Women" opening Sunday at the Southland for a three day run. Included in the cast are Peter Lawford, Elizabeth Taylor, and Margaret O'Brien.

AYH Granville Tour

Why not enjoy this weekend with an adventurous bicycle tour of the Welsh Hills and visit the picturesque campus of Dennison University? Buckeye Trails Division of the American Youth Hostels, Inc., is sponsoring such a tour starting Saturday, June 25.

The group plans to leave from Oakland Park and High Street at 6:30 p.m. and take the 37-mile trip in a leisurely manner. This promises to be one of the most enjoyable jaunts on AYH's Summer calendar; not only will the roads traveled be cool and shady, but Granville itself offers a variety of Saturday evening entertainment. Sunday will be spent in swimming and sight-seeing and the hostelers will return to Columbus early the same evening.

Why not call at UN 7059 right now and make your reservation with Ann Gustin for a week end of fun that's "different"!

The Atlantic Pact

Something so sweetly regarding the North Atlantic Treaty has come from the State Department in reply to a protest against ratification. Quoting this radio address of the Secretary of War, Mar. 18:

"This country is not planning to make war against anyone. It is not seeking war. It abhors war. It does not hold war to be inevitable. Its policies are devised with the specific aim of bridging by peaceful means the tremendous differences which beset international society at the present time." This was a solemn pledge—reminding one inevitably of Franklin D. Roosevelt's historic, "Again and Again and Again"—and its tragic sequel.

The Secretary of War further declared: "Democracies do not and cannot plan aggressive wars" ignoring the conspiracy between Churchill and Roosevelt to get United States support for Britain if and when she should start World War II. This she did by attacking Germany in '39 and we protested—85 percent of us at least. It took deliberate goading of Japan to bring about the attack on Pearl Harbor. So much for "democracies not planning aggressive war!" Memories of government officials are lamentably short—but those of the people who must suffer and fight the wars are very long.

So the State Department for the North Atlantic Treaty leaves one very cold—as the New Yorker said: "I do not believe a word of it." Moreover, we people resent being considered so dull—so mentally deficient—as to let ourselves be so deceived. We know the State Department's "Treaty" is a war pact, pure and simple. We people know something of history, even if our State Department does not.

Observer

Heavy Rains Spoiled Bass Season

Muddy waters in most of Ohio's streams kept bass fishermen at home for the opening of the black bass season on June 18.

Bass fishermen who prefer stream fishing are simply killing time until the water returns to normal after early summer rains which blanketed most of the state last week.

The bass season for Lake Erie fishing will not open until midnight June 30.

Reports reaching Division of Conservation headquarters in Columbus indicate that fishing was only fair for the state as a whole during the early part of June due to low water in the streams and below normal levels of most of the lakes. Fishing is expected, however, to be good following recent rains.

Creel census takers of the Division reported good fishing in only two lakes the first week of June. At Seneca Lake in Noble County fishermen averaged .97 fish per hour consisting fo 62.3% crappies and 32% bluegills. At Leesville Lake in Carroll County the average per hour was 2.3 made up of 64% bluegills and 31% crappies.

Fishermen, particularly in northeastern Ohio, are looking forward to the annual opening of the walleye pike season at Pymatuning Lake on July 1. Two years ago opening day provided one of the biggest catches in the history of the lake but last year's opening day, because of the cold, wet weather, was only fair although a number of from 9 to 12 pound walleyes were taken.

"The Bribe" Showing At Southland Sunday

Ava Gardner, whose kisses with Clark Gable in "The Hucksters" helped skyrocket her to overnight Hollywood stardom, can expect a still bigger boom in her screen career.

In this new suspense drama, "The Bribe" coming to the Southland Theatre, she and Robert Taylor team in an even dozen torrid clinches ranging from the most romantic to the dramatic in their settings.

Also starring in "The Bribe" are Charles Laughton, Vincent Price, and John Hodiak, under the direction of Robert Z. Leonard.

Co-featured with "The Bribe" is "Crime Doctor's Diary," starring Warner Baxter.

"Man From Colorado" At Ideal Theater

This Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater presents "Man From Colorado" with Glen Ford and William Holden. This is a Western Melodrama in Technicolor, Glenn Ford as the brutal judge, William Holden as his sheriff and Ellen Drew as the heroine were never better, and all players are well cast. Columbia Theater

In this picture Susan Hayward wins new acting honors as Cherokee Lansing, the wildcat of the Southwest. Also on the double bill is "Fighting Fools" starring Leo Gorsey.

A Connecticut Yankee At Russell Theater

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presents "A Connecticut Yankee" with Bing Crosby and Rhonda Fleming. Bing was never better. This technicolor new version of the greatest story Mark Twain ever wrote is an avalanche of spectacle and allure. It is an all-star masterpiece of romantic adventure. "Danger Street" with William Gargan is the second picture. A Disney cartoon completes the bill.

Final Plans For July 4th Celebration

The regular meeting of the Executive Committee of the Council of South Side Organizations will meet at the South Side YMCA this evening, June 23rd at 8:00 p. m. Plans will be completed for the July 4th Celebration. All members are urged to be present.

LUNCHEON TREAT

Cream of Potato Soup, Deviled Crab and tomatoes filled with Cole Slaw.

By BETTY NEWTON

This platter of Deviled Crab with crisp cold salad in the center will make an ideal luncheon or porch supper. It is always nice to start a meal like this with a hot soup. Try these recipes the next time you want a change.

Deviled Crab

- 13-oz. can crab meat
- ¼ C. butter or margarine
- 2 Tbsp. flour
- 1 Tbsp. minced parsley
- 2 tsp. lemon juice
- 1 tsp. prepared mustard
- ½ tsp. bottled horse-radish
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 C. milk
- 2 minced, shelled, hard-cooked eggs
- ½ C. soft bread crumbs
- 2 Tbsp. melted butter

Remove tough tendons from crabmeat. Meanwhile, melt ¼ C. butter in double boiler, stir in flour; add next 5 ingredients. Stir in milk slowly. Cook over boiling water, stirring, until thickened. Add crab meat, eggs. Spoon mixture into custard cups or ramekins. Sprinkle with crumbs combined with 2 Tbsp. butter, bake at 400 degrees for 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Quick Potato Soup

To 1½ C. boiling water in saucepan, add 3 C. diced, pared potatoes, 1 minced, peeled, small onion, 2 beef bouillon cubes. Cover; cook till potatoes are very tender—about 15 minutes. Don't drain. Partially mash with fork. Then add 2 C. milk, or part milk and part thin cream. Stirring often, heat till bubbles form around edge. Salt and pepper to taste. Makes 4 servings.

TRUMAN'S MOVEMENT IS SLOWING DOWN

The Administration's appeal for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase has been given the cold shoulder by Congress. One of the reasons why the President wanted such a huge increase of taxation was explained by him as an effort to reduce the National debt and allow for unbudgeted expenditures. We have often wondered whether this sort of a "national emotion" would be any better than taking money out of the right-side pocket and putting it into the left-side pocket of a pair of pants.

The Administration tells us that the budget for the present year will be at least $43,000,000,000. There is an economic down-trend. More taxation cannot cure the trouble.

The big puzzle is how labor Bosses can force employers to pay higher wages. Congress has a lot of mathematicians in the National Capital but very few of them have the right answers.

Miss Lucille Sopha Married Recently

Through an aisle bordered with tall cathedral candles garlanded with plumosis and white satin bows, Miss Helen Lucille Sopha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Sopha, 1251 S. Ohio Av, approached the altar of Trinity Lutheran Church April 23 to become the bride of Mr. Donald Carlton Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Francis of Green Bay, Wisc.

The wedding service was read by the Rev. George S. Schultz at 7:30 o'clock before an altar decorated in seven-branch candelabra, palms, ferns and tall vases of white gladioli, snapdragons and white stafice.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of blush bridal satin with a fitted bodice buttoned high to a Peter Pan collar. The long fitted sleeves tapered to points over each hand and the fullness of the skirt shirred to the fitted bodice was accentuated by two two-inch circular tucks over the hips back with a long cathedral train. Her tiara of blush satin and seed pearls held her fingertip veil of imported candelight illusion. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Robert Flint, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Her colonial styled gown was of pink tissue faille. Mrs. Forrest Becker, bridesmaid, wore an identical styled gown. Their sheers were pink set, and they carried colonial bouquets of pink and blue carnations.

Mr. Forrest Becker was best man for Mr. Francis, while groomsmen included Mr. Earl Hively, Mr. Robert Wittenmyer and Mr. Earl Becker.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the Columbus Mayflower.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and is now associated with Radio Station WHKC.

Mr. Francis is now attending Capital University as a pretheological student.

Double Ring Ceremony For Wedding

At a double ring ceremony performed at 8:30 p.m. March 18, at the home of the Rev. Mr. Arnold Klick, Virginia J. McCasland, daughter of Mrs. Anna M. Jackson, 1648 E. Livingston Av, and the late E. C. Jackson, became the bride of Mr. John H. Flesher, son of Mrs. Cecile Flesher, 611 S. Lazelle St.

The bride wore an aqua suit with brown and pink accessories and a corsage of pink camillas.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hoskinson attended the couple. Mrs. Hoskinson wore a beige suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart Commercial High School and is employed by Remington Rand, Inc., as office manager. The bridegroom is a graduate of South High School and also is employed by Remington Rand, Inc., as an inspector.

The couple is residing at 976 Oakwood Av.

Mrs. Howard Glass, son Richard and daughter, Mary, are very happy with the appearance of their home. The inside has been completely redecorated and the outside has been painted cream with a black trim. Can't blame them from feeling proud as from what we heard it looks pretty nice.

At last, at last, some one we know actuallly won a prize on a quiz program. Mrs. H. B. Gettys of 296 E. Jenkins Ave. was called Thursday night on the Guy Lombardo program broadcast over WCOL radio station. Mrs. Gettys knowledge of popular songs really paid off. When called she answered the question by naming the three songs played and won a beautiful Gruen Curvex wrist watch. It just goes to show if you listen to a program long enough you too may be called. Congratulations Mrs. Gettys.

Fireworks To Follow Dedication

The South Side will again have their visual hang up Fourth of July celebration when they dedicate Southview Park (formerly Greenlawn Project) located at Greenlawn Ave. and the Scioto River.

Closed For Five Days

The H B Furniture Store, 1692 Parsons Ave., will be closed from July 3rd to July 8th. During this time Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brink will be on vacation.

Urges Caution For July 4th

Police Chief Frank Harrison of Columbus announced today that extensive traffic safety program will be conducted in connection with the three-day Fourth of July holiday celebration this year.

"Our enforcement program over the Fourth of July will bring Columbus into a united effort by cities and states throughout the nation to hold down the holiday death toll which usually occurs over the Independence Day celebration." This nation-wide program is being coordinated by the National Safety Council and its local representative, the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

"The police department urges everybody to take special precautions in an effort to save both lives and property over the Fourth. It will be a time of real hazard because of the long weekend, the festive spirit of the holiday traffic."

Chief Harrison emphasized that motor travel will increase during the Fourth of July celebration because the three-day weekend will tempt many summer vacationists to use it as the beginning or end of their regular vacation periods. National figures already show a substantial rise in vehicle mileage so far this year.

"Let's all work together to make certain that death and disaster do not mar the holiday celebration of anybody in Columbus," Chief Harrison said, adding that, "The Fourth of July should be a joyful and safe celebration of our nation's independence and it can be—if everybody remembers to try and make it so."

Fireworks Saturday Miles Auto Theaters

Miles Auto Theater which include Miles West Broad, Miles East Main, East & Shady Lane Rd., Miles Scioto Drive, Riverside Drive at Griggs Dam, will feature a spectacular display of fireworks Saturday, July 2, after the first main feature.

The public is invited.

The Council of South Side Organizations, merchants, maufacturers and organizations have not spared expenses for this huge celebration.

At 5 p.m. there will be a girls Soft Ball game between the South Congregational Church and the Wyandotte Athletic Clubs.

At 6:45 p.m. the Southway Post American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps will parade to Southview Park and will play throughout the program.

At 7:00 p.m. will come the Dedication of Southview Park to the veterans of all branches of the armed services in World War II.

The dedication of Southview Park will be by Rev. Paul C. Kaefer of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Monsignor Edmund Burkley of St. Marys' Roman Catholic Church, Rabbi Harry Kaplan, Director of B'nai Brith Hillel Foundation and the Rev. H. H. Teague of the Hosack St. Baptist Church.

There will be a welcoming by C. L. Lensenmeyer, Chairman of the Council of South Side Organizations.

The call to Assembly will be by Tom Cronin, Commander of the Southway Post, American Legion.

The plans and purposes of the celebration and presentation of the flag and flagpole to the City of Columbus will be by Mr. C. L. Dumaree, Past President of the Council of South Side Organizations.

Accepting the flag and flagpole for the City will be Mr. Nick Barack, City Director of Recreation.

Senator Roscoe R. Walcutt

Following this there will be the principal address by Senator Roscoe R. Walcutt, of the Ohio State Senate.

Fully 40,000 people will enjoyd the new Southview Park for this big celebration, an increase of at least 5,000 over last year.

Following the dedication there will be a men's softball game to entertain the people. The game will be between two top teams of the city, Falter Packers and Buckeye Motors.

Following this, at 1 p.m. will be a huge fireworks display, the biggest the Soubt Side has ever had.

We want to caution our people that the fireworks cannot be seen properly if they stand on the Greenlawn Ave. bridge as the fireworks will be shot from the river bank and ground pieces can not be seen from there.

Plans are in process for a memorial to be placed in Southview Park. In this memorial will be sealed the names of more than 6000 South Siders who served in World War II.

All South Siders are welcome to attend this huge celebration on the Fourth of July. Remember it is in honor of your sons, brothers, husbands, fathers, sisters, daughters and mothers who served in World War I and II.

Come early and make it a big afternoon and evening. Let's show the rest of the city that we have the best attended celebration a the city and that the South Side is really patriotic and has a pride in its community.

Washington Week

By Charles L. Egenroad

Washington D. C.—Experienced observers on Capitol Hill are watching with great interest the maneuvers of the Administration in its preparations for the threatened depression.

Roosevelt spent his way thru nearly 10 years of depression under a pump-priming program that shot the national debt far beyond any imagined limits.

The same leeway does not exist in the nation's financial position as the Truman depression creeps along toward becoming a grim reality.

With the national debt now soaring above $250 billion and Government peace-time spending exceeding the income from the nation's most prosperous years in history the Truman "brain-trusters" are having to turn to other methods of obtaining pump-priming funds.

Pump-Priming Back Again

Armament and foreign relief spending are being looked upon by Government economists as forms of pump-priming, but they are hoping to go beyond these factors and that is the real reason for the socialistic legislative program that is being pushed.

Payroll deductions for welfare funds of all types have been used for Government expenditures and replaced with Government bonds to the tune of about $5 billion dollars.

It has been a lucrative system of Government revenue outside the scope of direct taxation.

Therefore increased welfare coverage enlarged benefits that will need enlarged payroll deductions and new phases of welfare such as socialized medicine will mean more funds for use merely by replacing them with Government bonds.

U. S. Faces Economic Slavery

Hitler found Germany's health insurance program known as the Krankenkasse a most lucrative source of funds for arming Germany.

He used exactly the same tactics.

The funds paid into Germany's health program were replaced with Government bonds and the money used to meet the cost of rebuilding Germany's war strength.

Diversion of these funds into Government spending along with the funds collected from direct taxation tends to confirm the recent remarks of former Supreme Court Justice James Byrnes that additional socialistic programs will make "economic slaves" out of the American people.

Nevertheless some of the pump-priming in Mr. Truman's depression program would be made possible through the welfare schemes that have been offered.

Of course, it should be remembered that the Government bonds now held in the welfare trust funds and any additional Government bonds used to replace money taken from those funds become a part of the national debt and can only be retired by additional taxation.

Portion of Deer Creek Closed

The Ohio Conservation Commission has officially closed that portion of Deer Creek in Madison County to public fishing between State Route 665 and the northern extremity of Lake Madison. The restriction is effective June 25, and affects approximately 600 yards of stream.

The action was taken to eliminate highway parking traffic hazards on Route 665. The birm on either side of the bridge is not wide enough for safe parking.

Fishermen have been using that portion of Deer Creek not only for fishing but as a convenient entrance to Lake Madison.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank (Dude Ranch) Koch

I want you to meet the No. 1 U.P. Personality. I'm introducing Mr. W. S. (Stewart) Woodfill, owner-manager of the largest Resort Hotel in the world, namely The Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island. Like us, Mr. Woodfill lives out his winters in Chicago, where he is a business executive. The St. Ignace News-Enterprise carries an article of interest to all of you U.P. summer visitors. The article, in part, follows:

"For sixteen years, Mr. W. S. Woodfill, owner-manager of The Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island, has contended that Mackinac Island and the "Grand" should and could enjoy a longer summer season. This year Mr. Woodfill has made his contention good. The "Grand" opened June 11th and will run thru the greater part of September. As the Grand goes; so goes the island. Formerly the Hotel opened around July First and closed on or around Labor Day. Being the main attraction on the Island; The Grand is a form of barometer regarding visitor activity on the Island. When the Grand closes—the tourist season closes, so Mr. Woodfill lengthened his stay on the Island this year considerably, to—in turn lengthen the tourist season as a whole.

This "out-of-this-world" Hospice is booked thru June and September with conventions and July and August will be left open for the regular summer patronage. Since taking over the owner-managership of this Historic Hospice in 1933, Mr. Woodfill has spent nearly a million dollars beautifying the grounds, and the interior of the Hotel. This spring alone, $100,000.00 was expended in refurnishing, carpeting and modernizing the lobby and supper room. The Bigelow Hartford, Sanford carpet; especially woven for the Hotel's lobby with red background and Greek key pattern in two tones of gray, cost $22,000.00. The walls of the lobby are in two tones of gray to pick up the carpet pattern shades. The drapes are of a gold material and the venetian blinds blend with the gray walls. Murals are at either end of the Lobby. These murals were painted by an artist in Paris last winter especially for the Grand and reached New York by air freight two weeks ago. The color of the murals blend with the color scheme carried in walls and carpeting, etc. The new furniture also harmonizes with this lovely color-scheme set-up.

The supper room, formerly known as the Blue Room, has been done over completely and is now known as the Terrace Room. Its entrance is terraced by a riser that is elegantly appointed with very long and gay upholstered sofas against the lighted mirrored walls. Four hand painted lamps, done in Paris, also, are equipped with huge gold shades. New chairs and tables lend a striking effect with maroon and white service plates on pink tables. Controlled lighting permits intensity of lighting to fit any mood or occasion.

The Presidential and Governor's Suites, together with many other suites, have also been re-decorated.

To the casual observer it appears that Mr. Woodfill has but one interest: that of the Grand Hotel. But this, however, is not the case. He is thoroughly interested in Mackinac Island, its people and all of the resort section of the Upper Peninsula. He loves the Island with its thickly wooded drives and owns one of the most pleasant summer homes in Mackinac County and/or the North Country. While he has a Chicago address for business purposes only, he nevertheless has chosen Mackinac Island as his permanent home. His winters are spent in the "Windy City," because his business makes this necessary. His business is advertising Mackinac Island, drawing people to the "Fairy Isle" for rest, recreation and relief from Hay Fever.

The movie titled "This Time for Keeps," was filmed on Mackinac Island, only thru the efforts of Mr. Woodfill himself. Jimmy Durante, Esther Williams, Margaret O'Brien and many others visited the island on Four different occasions, summer and winter, to make this picture. (Yours truly saw the Summer scenes shot in and around the "Grand" and its swimming pool). Also, thru his efforts, Governors from almost all of the 48 states met at an Annual Convention on the Island.

This year promises to be the greatest one in history as tourist trade goes, not only for the island but for the Upper Peninsula as a whole. Mr. Woodfill deserves lots of credit for breaking away from the old customs, and making it possible for vacationers and residents of the summer colonies to share in the efforts of a job well done!" Why don't you go up and see him sometime? We're sure you'll be most welcome!

Nation Powerful Thru God

"As Christians we believe that this nation (U.S.A.) holds its power under the providence of God, to whom all nations are subject," says a recent statement of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ. "We reject all interpretations of our destiny which would ascribe it merely to historical accidents without moral or religious meaning. We equally reject all interpretations which would regard this power as chiefly the fruit of virtue. We seek that our nation shall resist both the temptation to use its power irresponsibly and the temptation to flee its responsibilities."

Ministerial Internes

The Methodist Church of Brazil —daughter of the missions of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, from North America—has one of the most cosmopolitan training schools for ministers found anywhere in the world. The School of Theology, located in Sao Paulo, enrolls students who were born in Japan, Syria, Hungary, and Czechoslovakia, and others whose parents came from Portugal, Africa, Germany, France, and Italy. During the last two years of training, the students are assigned to churches in and around Sao Paulo as supply pastors or ministerial internes.

Relieve Human Suffering

"The American Friends Service Committee representing the Religious Society of Friends, attempts to relieve human suffering wherever it is found and to ease tensions between individuals, groups or nations" says an announcement of the Committee. "It operates on the belief that there is that of God in every man and that love, expressed through creative action can overcome hatred, prejudice and fear. Specific projects include relief and rehabilitation work in 13 countries in Europe and Asia; service units in Mexico; educational projects in race relations and economic relations; work and study projects for young people; cooperative self-help housing project and seminars and institutes on international relations. All parts of the work are open to anyone regardless of race religion nationality or political affiliation."

Pleads for Women Ministers

Dr. Nathaniel Micklem, noted Congregational theologian of England, is making a plea for the acceptance of women as ministers of the free churches of the world on the same basis as men are accepted. Recently he said: "I am told that a powerful and pathetic appeal was sent to the Lambeth Conference from the Anglican Church in China begging for the approval of the ordination of women to the priesthood there, and that the petitioners received short shrift. That is something tragic about that. Here is a church that should not inherit the conventions of western society, that has no call to be bound by the traditions of the Middle Ages in the west, a church that under communist pressure may very soon have to go underground. It declares thru its representatives that, as it hears the voice of the Spirit, it is called to the ordination of women ministers. Such a plea should not be rebuffed."

55 Young Missionaries

Fifty-five young people were recently commissioned by the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church for missionary service—43 overseas, 12 as home missionaries. They are part of the 1,000 the Church plans to add to its missionary staff by 1953. Two of the new missionaries are ex G.I.'s. Emmett D. Steele served in the Aleutian Islands and in the Philippines with the U.S. Army, and there decided to be a missionary; the Rev. Gunnar J. Tellmann, Jr., chaplain with the 30th Infantry Division was a prisoner of the Germans for nine months after landing on Omaha Beach on "D-Day plus six." Those commissioned for the Division of Foreign Missions are: the Rev. and Mrs. Alfred F. Schneck, Colo, Iowa, going to the Belgian Congo in educational service; the Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Reeve, Calhoun, Ga., evangelistic work, the Belgian Congo; the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Lee Mansure, Alliston, Mass., evangelistic work, China; the Rev. and Mrs. Haniel Jones, Phenix City, Ala., evangelistic work, South America; Mr. and Mrs. Harleigh D. Economic Highlights

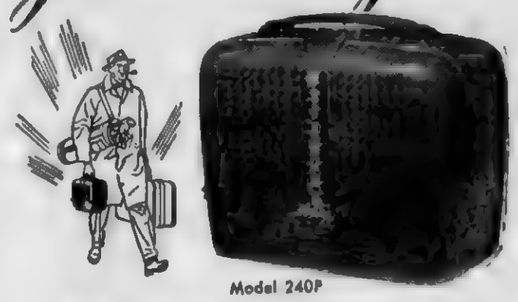
As Felix Morley points out in "Nation's Business," we have so far taken three major steps in our effort to contain communism. The first was the Truman Doctrine, with its military aid to Turkey and Greece. Next came the Marshall Plan now officially known as the European Recovery Program, with its multi-billion dollar economic aid to 15 Western European countries. Finally, we have the recently signed Atlantic Pact whose purpose is to form a defense line in Europe to bar the red tide.

Mr. Morley writes, "Obviously these three steps form a series of hastily concocted emergency measures, impossible to dignify as a carefully planned policy. If the purpose was to contain communism within a certain geographical area, then we should have established eastern as well as western barriers . . . The final debacle in China . . . is painful evidence that communism is not being contained. And if Asia goes red, the cost of subsidizing a line of independent outposts in western Europe will soon become prohibitive even for the fabulous wealth of the United States."



It would be folly to minimize the reverse the western powers have received in China. At the same time, it is easy to exaggerate the possible immediate effects of the great victories the Chinese communist armies have won. A red China is a very different thing, for example, than a red France or a red Italy would be. The Chinese communists, so far as anyone can see, have neither the intention nor the means to do much for communism as a world-wide force. They have before them a staggering task—to attempt to organize and to pull from the nether depths of poverty and oppression, a vast, overpopulated nation which is largely illiterate, and measured by current western standards, is almost wholly primitive in living and outlook.

The main energy of the masses of the Chinese people is pretty much absorbed in seeking a place to live a daily ration of rice, some relief from murderous and unproductive toil. The past governments have been incredibly corrupt. Government officials, the warlords, the commercial interests—all have exploited the nation unmercifully. Going by reports from American businessmen and reporters in Shanghai since the communists took over, a real effort is being made to eliminate graft, and the old system under which no one could do business in China without bribes. At the same time, these reports emphasize that the new administrators are inexperienced that it is difficult to find anyone with real responsibility, and that administrative problems are a long way from solution.

Communism is not being contained. But it is finding the path far from smooth.

Flint, Michigan Is Scene Of Wedding

Miss Rita Jeanette Kurtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kurtz of Flint, Michigan, exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Irve Silverman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Silverman, 709 E. Kossuth St., in the Hotel Durant Ballroom in Flint on June 5 at 5:30 p.m.

A canopy of white gladioli and Easter lilies flanked by baskets of flowers in pastel shades banked by palms provided the setting for the service read by Rabbi Morton Applebaum.

Camilla satin trimmed with inserts of Chantilly lace featured the bridal gown. Lace cutwork adorned the deep oval neckline and panels of the same cutwork also trimmed the full skirt. A crushed tulle coronet adorned with pearls held in place her three quarter length veil. She carried a prayer book on which were mounted three orchids with showers of stephanotis.

Mrs. George Feuerman of Detroit was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Justine Sillman of Columbus, Miss Eleanor Middleman of Cincinnati, Miss Phyllis Kirstein of Chicago, and bridesmatron was Mrs. Murray Barnett of Columbus. They wore identical gowns of mint green satin and marquisette. The honor attendant carried Piccardy glad bells and garnet roses, while the others carried Pinocchio roses and glad bells.

Mr. Herkie Styles, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Mr. George Feuerman, Mr. Leon Margulis, Mr. Al Sillman and Mr. Murry Barnett.

The new Mrs. Silverman attended the University of Illinois and the bridegroom is a graduate of Ohio State University.

Free Tennis Instruction at Schiller Park

If you are interested in acquiring skill in tennis, Bob McCormick, the recreation director at Schiller Park. Classes for adults are being held on the park court at 7 p.m. on Tuesdays. Bring your own rackets and balls, the lessons are free of charge. Instruction will be given in practically all phases of the game; namely the forehand, backhand, rules and regulations, serving, doubles and singles, etc.

Let's have large turn outs for these classes, because it is a chance to learn a sport which will be of vital use in filling many leisure hours in the future. Aside from the health obtained from tennis, it is loads of fun. So, come on over to Schiller on Tuesdays at 7 p.m.

Classes for teen agers will be slated at a later date.

Harmonica Lessons At Schiller

Two weeks ago Mr. Leo Hall held the first of his meetings concerning harmonica lessons for 9-14 years of age. This is a very worthwhile and entertaining project and deserves a much larger turn out. The next meeting will be Wednesday at 2:30 in the Schiller Park auditorium.

Mr. Hall is interested in providing the children with an opportunity to learn to play the harmonica well. In doing so, it will supply many leisure hours with a very entertaining hobby and strike a spark of music within the child.

Remember this is open to both boys and girls from 9 thru 14 yrs. of age. So come on over to Schiller and let Mr. Hall teach you to play the harmonica.

Instruments may be secured from the instructor in case the individual child has none.

Lots Of Grandparents

James Wm. (Billy) Kennedy, 8-years-old, and Richard J. (Rickey) Kennedy, 7-years-old, are well represented with grandparents, having a total of 11. Of course, these include Grandparents, Great and Great-Great Grandparents.

There are six on the mother's side and five on the father's side.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kennedy who live at 302 Southwood Ave.

We think this sets some kind of a record for grandparents.

The Kennedy family are originally from Meigs County, where most of the grandparents live.

Danny Ridgeway Makes Trip Alone

Danny Lewis Ridgeway is visiting with his aunt, Mrs. Roy Ridgeway of 1749 S. 5th St. This in itself is not real news, but the fact that Danny is only 8 years old and made the trip all the way from Tampa, Florida, alone, is.

This is the first trip Danny has ever made alone. His mother sewed little tags with his name and address and the address of Mrs. Ridgeway in Columbus, into his clothes just in case he should get lost. It took three days to make the trip. Danny had to change trains three times. On one change he had an hour and a half layover. Danny told us he didn't have one bit of trouble. He arrived in Columbus at 8:55 a.m. Sunday morning and Aunt Marie was right there at the Station waiting for him.

Danny will stay with his Aunt Marie until school opens again, that is, if he doesn't get homesick for his mother. Danny's home address is 3414 Hawthorne Road, Tampa, Florida.

Ohio Game Protectors Sport New Hats

Law enforcement officers of the Ohio Division of Conservation within a few weeks will be sporting Stetson hats for full-dress wear.

The Ohio Conservation and Natural Resources Commission at the June meeting at Put-in-Bay voted to replace the garrison-type cap, now worn by game protectors, with hats similar to those worn by Ohio Highway Patrolmen. The action followed several months of consideration and discussion.

Dr. Ben Talbut, Toledo member has led the crusade to "dress-up" the Division's game protectors claiming, "The Ohio protectors have made an enviable record in law enforcement and in handling the details of the Division's program on the county level and are considered throughout the nation as a top-notch field force; it's time their uniforms reflected their respected positions."

Our Home

You'll find no costly rugs upon the floor,
Nor a stately butler to answer the door.
As you enter and look around here and there,
You'll find it belongs to no millionnaire.

Yes, we are content, my wife and I,
Love it more as the time goes by.
There we find contentment and happiness
With everything that we both possess.

As we look around us, we gleam with pride
With our possessions, we are satisfied.
All the things we have in our little home,
Belong to us, for they are our own.

Above all, we've love and contentment,
Toward no one do we hold any resentment.
Our hearts are happy, our love sincere,
The future for us holds no aspect of fear.

Everyone is welcome to come and visit us there,
To enjoy too, the bliss and joy that we share
So if you'll stop sometime for a rest or chat,
We assure you a welcome in our cosy little flat.

Ground Breaking Set For July 17th

With all legal and construction matters completed, July 17th will be Ground Breaking Day for the New Church at Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed, 225 East Gates Street. Construction will start the following day. All interested persons in the Great South Side are invited to be present at the ceremonies to be held on the site where excavation will begin the following day. Reverend Paul C. Kaefer will be in full charge of the festivites, and his complete schedule of services will be announced next week. The New Edifice will be a thing of rare beauty and of ample size to accomodate the Congregation which is rapidly growing. On June 26 with the mercury hovering near 90 Reverend Kaefer received Eight New Members in his popular Church. Youth activities are also expanding and all groups will have their own place in the new Religious Center.

This Ground Breaking has been planned for many months and was originally set for May First, but many things completely unforeseen caused its postponement until the July 17 date. The actual building will be of Cut Stone and Brick, with the popular Center Aisle in the sanctuary. Interior woodwork will be Oak, with Red Carpeting throughout. Steam heat will be in the entire structure and the Beautiful Gethsemane Window will be in a huge Circular Frame just over the Chancel, where all worshippers can see it.

Services will continue at St. Pauls during the construction period, but Temporary places of Worship have already been offered in case the present site becomes inadequate.

Plans will be made for the Society's part in the Parish Picnic which will be held on July 17. Arrangements will also be made for members to assist with the annual summer festival for the House of the Good Shepard (St. Euphrasia School) on July 30th.

The Council entertained their husbands at the last meeting which was held June 7th in the school hall. A crowd of over 200 wives and husbands attended. The choral group under the direction of Mrs. Carl Specht entertained and then all joined in a community sing. Mrs. Berman Kaiser and Mrs. Clovis Schall presented a skit to "A Bicycle Built for Two." Refreshments were served, games played and prizes awarded.

The committee thanks everyone for coming and also extends their appreciation to all who helped make it such a wonderful success. All who attended enjoyed themselves and expressed a desire to have more of these affairs in the future.

Patricia Ann Blum To Wed In October

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Patricia Ann Blum, 1976 Linwood-av., to Cecil A. Clapham, 7050 Sunbury-rd., is announced by the parents of the bride-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin P. Blum.

The wedding will be an event of Oct. 22 in Corpus Christi Church.

Joanne Theado Wed At St. Paul's Church

Palms and baskets of white gladioli decorated the candlelit altar of St. Paul's Evangelical & Reformed Church for the marriage June 17 of Miss Joanne Dorothy Theado, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Theado, 1157 S. 22nd St. and Mr. Robert C. Skinner, 951 Linwood Ave. The Rev. Mr. Paul C. Kaefer officiated at the 7:30 p.m. service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white marquisette over satin with a high round neckline and long fitted sleeves coming to points over the hands. The sweetheart shaped yoke was emphasized by a wide ruffle of Chantilly lace. The lace was repeated in a panel of ruffled tiers which fell from the pointed bodice to the hem of the full skirt which was styled with a Cathedral length train. The finger-tip veil of imported illusion was bordered with lace matching that on the gown, and held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and frosted beading. Completing her costume was a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Marjorie Watkins was maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a gown of pale blue organza with cap sleeves and peter pan collar. She wore matching hat and gloves and carried a bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium.

Mr. William Shrieves was best man and seating the guests were Mr. Don Theado, brother of the bride, and Mr. Jack Wittcamp.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Southern Hotel. The hostesses at the reception were Miss Lillian Skinner, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Jack Wittcamp and Mrs. William Shrieves.

The bride is attending Ohio State University and is a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority. Mr. Skinner is attending Ohio State University.

BRIDAL PARTIES

Wedges of fluffy angel cake with strawberries and whipped cream and glasses of punch.

By BETTY NEWTON

June and parties for the bride go hand-in-hand. Here is a suggestion that you many want to use as a dessert, after luncheon or as an evening refreshment with coffee.

Angel Cake

1 C. sifted cake flour
1½ C. sifted granulated sugar
1¼ C. egg whites
¼ tsp. salt
1¼ tsp. cream of tartar
1 tsp. vanilla
¼ tsp. almond flavoring

Sift flour once, measure add ¼ C. sugar, sift four times. Beat egg whites and salt with rotary egg beater or flat wire whisk. When foamy, add cream of tartar, continue beating until eggs are stiff enough to hold in peaks, but not dry. Add remaining sugar, 2 Tbsp. at a time, beating with beater or whisk after each addition until sugar is just blended. Fold in flavoring. Sift about ¼ C. flour over the mixture and fold lightly; repeat until all is used. Turn into ungreased 10 inch tube pan. Cut gently through batter with knife to remove bubbles. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Remove from oven and immediately invert pan 1 hour, or until cake is cold. Cut into wedges. Serve topped with whipped cream and sweetened sliced strawberries.

Fruity Punch

1½ qts. grapefruit juice
9¼ C. orange juice
½ C. lemon juice
1⅝ C. lime juice
3½ C. canned crushed pineapple
2 tsp. almond flavoring
Ice
Orange and lemon slices to garnish
Sprigs of mint

Combine first 6 ingredients. Chill; serve over ice, garnished with orange and lemon slices, and mint. Makes about 25 servings before adding ice.

Note: Double the recipe for 50 servings.

State To Purchase Million Rose Plants

An appropriation of $15000 was approved last week by the Ohio Conservation and Natural Resources Commission for the purchase of a million multiflora rose plants to be used in the state's Wildlife Habitat Development Program next year.

The Division, as well as farmers generally, has adopted the multiflora rose as an ideal fence row planting furnishing food and cover for many species of wildlife and at the same time provides a stock-proof fence requiring a minimum of care and replacement.

Unlike the well-known hedgerow found on many farms, which farmers are now attempting to remove, the rose hedge does not spread easily and has a small root system which does not rob adjoining farm land of fertility and moisture. It grows rapidly and in the past several years the demand for plants has exhausted the nursery supply within the state and many neighboring states.

The Division controlled lands throughout the state provide around 300,000 plants a year but a larger stock is needed for the land under lease as wildlife habitat development areas.

Communism Rears Its Ugly Head

For a great many years, that is, since the advent of FDR, our people were taught to put Russia first. Communists were given responsible positions in Washington; they were fawned upon while anyone opposing such acts or daring to say a word against Russia was hooted at, or worse if it happened to be within FDR's power to punish the too daring individual.

It is small wonder that we now find it is a hard job breaking down and de-graying all this pro-Russian sentiment. People who for years have had it pounded into their heads that Russia should have first consideration in everything, that we must even lie down and be walked on by that predatory nation, if necessary to keep the peace, do not change views so quickly as we wish they might.

Ideas, cemented into our people's heads by evil forces, have a way of holding fast, and it will take something like an atomic bomb perhaps to dislodge those ideas. Seven Presidents before FDR's ruinous reign refused to recognize Russia as a nation after the Communists took her over. But, Roosevelt, motivated by what force we do not know, unless it was greed for power promised by Stalin, reached out across the sea and took the bloody hand of God-hating Joe Stalin in comradship.

How different would be the American scene if such a calamity as FDR's election had not taken place we can well imagine. The Communists never would have gained a foot-hold in our beloved land; neither would we have had war. We would have gone on in the sensible American way of our brave forefathers, working and progressing. But, alas, our people fell for worthless promises.

A burly chief bos'un's mate introducing himself to his subordinates boasted "I can lick anybody on my force." A still burlier sailor stepped forward and said, "You can't lick me." The chief eyed him can't lick me." The chief eyed him aside with, "You are no longer on my force."

"South of St. Louis" At Southland Theater

"South of St. Louis," gigantic Technicolor epic of the lawless west, has Dorothy Malone playing a frontier role for the first time. Joel McCrea, Alexis Smith, and Zachary Scott share honors with the Texas beauty in the film which opens Friday at the Southland Theatre. The second feature is "Act of Murder" with Fredric March.

National Scout Jamboree

The Boy Scouts of America has selected Valley Forge, Pa., for its second National Scout Jamboree in 1950, according to word received by the Central Ohio Council, Boy Scouts of America whose headquarters are at Columbus, O. The selection of the site was announced by Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive of the organization.

Over 30,000 Boy Scouts from every state and all U. S. territories will camp together from June 30 to July 6, 1950 on the site notable as the winter encampment of General George Washington and his Continental Army from December 19, 1777 to June 19, 1778.

Valley Forge Park is owned, maintained and preserved by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Invitation to hold the Jamboree there was received from Governor James H. Duff by the Boy Scouts of America and accepted by its National Executive Board, Dr. Schuck announced.

The National Jamboree will be the climax of the Boy Scouts' two-year Crusade to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty."

Gov. Duff's invitation to the Boy Scouts was accepted after a dozen sites in all sections of the United States were inspected by the Engineering Service of the Boy Scouts of America.

Gov. Duff's invitation addressed to Dr. Schuck follows:

"On behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Valley Forge Park Commission, I wish to extend to the Boy Scouts of America a cordial invitation to hold their Jamboree at Valley Forge Park during the summer of 1950 at such time as their executives may elect.

"I am fully acquainted with the Boy Scouts' program for the year 1950 — to 'Crusade to Strengthen the Arm of Liberty' — and it was my privilege last February in an address at Gettysburg to sponsor this crusade for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I can visualize no more appropriate location for its climax than Valley Forge where the sacrifice and training were undergone on the basis of which our heritage of liberty was won.

"You may be assured of the full cooperation of the Commonwealth and its agencies. The Valley Forge Park Commission will make available the facilities it has at its disposal during the period of preparation. Should your National Executive Board accept this invitation, the Valley Forge Park Commission will be designated as the coordinating agency of the Commonwealth with which you should develop your detailed plans in so far as they involve the Commonwealth."

Boy Scout officials announced that the Jamboree Camp will probably occupy 600 of the 2,033 acres in Valley Forge Park. This would provide 32 sectional camps for a maximum of 40,320 Scouts and adult leaders and a headquarters camp for 460 leaders. Valley Forge Park is 20 miles northwest of Philadelphia and seven miles west of Norristown.

The first National Scout Jamboree was held in a 480-acre tent city on both sides of the Potomac River at Washington, D. C., from June 30 to July 9, 1937 at the invitation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. It brought together 27,232 Scouts and Leaders whose fees paid for the expenses of the entire Jamboree. President Roosevelt not only visited the huge Jamboree Camp but took part in the "Stand Still Parade" in his honor on Constitution Avenue. The Scout campers lined the entire length of the historic avenue and were reviewed by the President as he drove between their lines.

Boy Scouts of twenty-four other nations were guests at the encampment.

Boys Can Become Scouts At Age 11

In an unprecedented move, the Boy Scouts of America have lowered the entrance age for its three programs of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting, and Senior Scouting, effective next September 1st.

In announcing the far-reaching change authorized by the National Executive Board of the organization, Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, said that the decision was reached after a three years' exhaustive study during which opinions were obtained from experienced leaders as well as parents.

After September 1st, boys may become Cub Scouts at 8 years of age instead of 9; Boy Scouts at eleven instead of twelve; and Explorers at fourteen instead of fifteen years of age.

The program known as Senior Scouting, Dr. Schuck announced, now becomes "Exploring" with its scope broad enough to include land sea and air activities as well as life exploration. Units specializing in seamanship or in aviation will be known as Explorer Ships or Explorer Squadrons, respectively.

Plans are being made in the Central Ohio Council to cope with expected expansions this fall by organizing new Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Units. Additional information can be secured by calling or writing the Central Ohio Council, 26 No. Grant Ave., Columbus, Ohio for details as to how institutions, churches, Service Clubs and Citizens' Groups etc., can sponsor Scouting.

Bing Crosby At Southland

Bing Crosby has had plenty of film difficulty getting girls away from Bob Hope, but all that was as nothing compared to what happens to him in "A Connecticut Yankee" when he steals gorgeous Rhonda Fleming from under the nose of stalwart Sir Lancelot, in the towering person of Henry Wilcoxon!

For love of Rhonda, which arrives Sunday at the Southland Theatre, Bing has to clamber into armor and joust with the spear-hurling knight in what is reported to be one of the funniest scenes ever filmed.

The second feature at the Southland Theatre is "Gun Smugglers" starring Tim Holt.

"The Kissing Bandit" At Ideal Theater

Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater presents "The Kissing Bandit" with Frank Sinatra and Kathryn Grayson. This musical Technicolor picture portrays the romantic long-ago when California was a colony of Spain. Then, even as today, there were three classes of men: rich men, poor men and bandits. Sinatra was the most daring and reckless of them all. The second picture is "Racing Luck" with Gloria Henry and David Bruce. News and cartoon complete the bill.

Mother Is A Freshman At Russell Theater

The Russell Theater presents this Sunday and Monday, "Mother Is a Freshman" with Loretta Young and Van Johnson. Inspired by the presence of thousands of GI's in colleges today, this Technicolor comedy is charming and full of appeal for the teen-ager's as well as the younger parents who haven't yet started talking about "the good old days." Fighting O'Flynn with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and a color cartoon complete the play bill.

"Luxurious Treason"

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday—"The Barkleys of Broadway," starring Fred Astaire. In this picture Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers are together again, dancing and singing together. You'll hum the new tunes, you'll dance the new steps, you'll cheer the reunion of the unchallenged King and Queen of the dance. Also and the double billing is "Incident" starring Warren Douglas.

Legion Sponsors Rodeo

First annual Mid-western Rodeo and Horse Show to be held at the Coliseum July 9 and 10 will feature calf roping and cutting, teenage horsemen and a huge Friday night parade.

Staged to raise funds for American Legion Junior baseball, child welfare and veterans service, the rodeo-horse show is sponsored by Franklin County Council, American Legion, and Western Horse Exhibitors association of Ohio.

Regular performances will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday with a 2 p.m. matinee, Sunday, free to children in county homes. Free halter classes will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday and 9 a. m., Sunday.

Among the entrys will be 10-year-old Sandra Nowacki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Nowacki, 4200 Sunbury Rd., Ohio reserve champion last year and undefeated in competition this year.

Sandy has won 39 ribbons and nine trophys on her seven-year-old Royal Flush.

General chairman for the Legion committee is Leo O'Connor, 1170 S. Champion Av. Earl Lambert, of Royal Oak Farm, west of Columbus, is president of the horse association.

Tickets are on sale at Heaton's Music Store, 50 N. High St., or from any post or auxiliary.

Free Chest X-Ray

The Franklin County Tuberculosis Society will offer free chest X-Rays at the South Side Settlement House July 5-6-7-8. They will be available from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. These X-rays are free to any persons over the age of 15 years.

This is being sponsored by the Breakfast Club Mothers.

Boys and Parents Assessed Park Damage

Several weeks ago there was much ado about destruction in the Lincoln and Southeast Lions Parks.

Due to the excellent work of Ed Munday, of the Juvenile Squad, 22 boys were tracked down and arrested for this vandalism.

On Wednesday, June 23, these boys and their parents appeared before Juvenile Court Referee Genevieve Taylor (who does 95% of Judge Clayton Rose's work in that court) and they were told by her that they and their parents would have to pay the $1,200 damages that they had committed.

If the court will stick to this policy the people of the South Side will be grateful and we will say they have done a good job. But we are withholding judgment because of past investigations and actions where the court ordered collections they have all too often fallen down.

If they will stick to it and collect for this vandalism it will be about the first time.

The Juvenile Court has a record of too many probations and being too easy. Much of it arises thru Genevieve Taylor who does much of Judge Rose's work.

Chillicothe Woman Wins $4,900

When Mrs. Lawrence Blair of Chillicothe, Ohio, was notified that she had won second prize of $4,900 in the '49-er Gold Rush contest, the first thing she and her husband thought of was a new home.

"It means that now we can have that six-room, cinder-block home we have been saving up to build on a lot which we bought during the war," her husband said.

The same company—Colgate-Palmolive-Peet, which staged the contest in which Mrs. Blair won $4,900 is now holding a "Fabulous New Life Contest" with an $18,000 house and lot, and furnishings, together with an annuity, an annual vacation fund and a cash backlog as first prize.

Or the first prize winner may have $40,000 in cash, just for completing the last line of a jingle.

Mrs. Blair, like Mrs. Raymond Thiel of Norwich, Conn., who won the $49,000 first prize in the '49-er Gold Rush contest, won her prize by writing 25 words or less about a Colgate product.

According to the latest contest, someone may win the home and all that goes with it, or $40,000 in cash, for from six to ten words. And the contest is open until July 10. Second prize is $7,000, almost double the second prize of the earlier contest.

All grocery stores and supermarkets in the neighborhood have entry blanks. Each entry blank should be filled in, accompanied by a box top, and mailed to Fab, Box 49, New York 8, N. Y., before July 10.

Monopoly At Its Worst

Many years ago Congress passed a series of anti-trust laws to prevent monopolies and combinations in restraint of trade in this country. These laws apply to industry and finance alone. They pointedly exempt labor organizations. Yet, at this time, certain labor leaders and labor unions are wielding power to an extent which was never dreamed of by the "robber barons" of the last century.

One of the most startling examples of this is found in John L. Lewis' order to the United Mine Workers, which he controls lock, stock and barrel, to close down the coal mines of the United States for a period of a week. It was claimed that this was not a strike in the ordinary meaning of the term, that coal stocks above ground were at a high level, and that a brief shutdown would not seriously affect the industries of the nation. But these excuses are entirely beside the point. If Mr. Lewis can close down a vital industry at his whim for one week or one day or one minute he could cause a breakdown in such essential industries as the railroads, the electric utilities, and steel, which cannot function without coal. He could tie up ships carrying coal under the Marshall Plan to other lands, and thus undermine a foreign policy which has been approved by the President and Congress. Could we have a more glaring example of absolute monopolistic power than this?

It makes no sense to criticize Mr. Lewis for what he has done in the past or what he may do in the future. The real fault lies in laws which do not recognize that industry-wide bargaining creates as serious a monopoly as this country has ever faced. So long as this kind of bargaining is permitted, one union, dominated by one man, can tell the nation whether or not it shall have a commodity it cannot do without.

Congress is now considering a proposal to give the government the power to seize and operate strike-bound plants and industries. This is an expedient which totally overlooks the principle at stake. It would establish bureaucratic statism of the Hitler type in this country, and labor would be among the greatest losers. The only way out is to abolish labor monoplies precisely as we have abolished industrial and financial monopolies—to make all of them equal in the eyes of the law. The time for action is now.

Dale Stump Urges Youth Training

LAKESIDE, O., June 23—The need for more spiritual guidance and religious training for our young people is the greatest challenge confronting churches today, Dale Stump, prominent Columbus attorney, declared here today in an address at the annual meeting of the North East Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Stump, one of Ohio's most active church laymen, called specifically for Methodists to expand their Wesley Foundation programs through which the church works with students at the five state universities in Ohio.

"Our college and university students today will be tomorrow's leaders," Mr. Stump said. "We must not neglect their religious training.

"The world of tomorrow will hold even more challenges for Christianity than it holds today," Mr. Stump said. "If civilization is to meet these challenges, the Church must exert a vital, spiritual influence on family life, on community affairs and on the political and social life of our state, our country and our world.

"If we are to have the kind of Christian leadership needed for the world tomorrow, we must start developing our youth into leaders who appreciate the value and understand the power of religion."

Mr. Stump pointed out that the state-supported universities cannot, themselves, provide religious training because of constitutional limitations.

"We have enrolled in our 54 colleges in Ohio today a total of 117,395 students," Mr. Stump said. "Nearly one-fourth of these students are Methodists, so the challenge facing the Methodist church is tremendous in its size and scope.

"There is one encouraging note, however. All faiths and denominations, including the Methodists, are beginning to recognize their responsibilities to college students and are beginning to develop sound religious training programs at our colleges and universities."

Oakwood Church Wedding Scene

Miss Joanne Pauline Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Warner of Ashtabula, Ohio, exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Richard Q. Burris, son of Mrs. Helen Burris, 662 S. 18th St. on June 5 in Oakwood Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m.

Tall cathedral tapers lined the aisles of the church while baskets of white gladioli and regal lilies, huckleberry and palms lighted by tapers in seven branch candelabra decorated the altar.

The bride wore a white satin gown styled with a small round collar trimmed with Chantilly lace and self-covered buttons which highlighted the front of the fitted waist which fastened to a full gathered skirt that extended into a wide circular train. The long sleeves tapered to points over her hands. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was held in place by a bonnet of the same lace that trimmed her dress. She carried a prayer book adorned with a white orchid, stephanotis and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Robert R. Macklin was the bride's matron of honor and only attendant, attired in a Nile green taffeta gown designed with an off-the-shoulder neckline trimmed with lace, a fitted bodice and a full gathered skirt. On her head she wore a halo of braid matching her gown. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and carnations with a variegated ivy ruffle.

Mr. Harry Hamilton McIlwain of Cincinnati, was best man. Ushers were Mr. James Leonard and Mr. George R. Schrock.

Marjorie Whitney Is Married To Geo. J. C. Smith

White and light blue delphinium mingled with baby breath banked high with palms and illuminated by the glow of tapers in seven-branch candelabra decorated the altar of Thurman Av. Methodist church on June 19 at 4:30 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Marjorie Louise Whitney, 1318 Lockbourne Rd., and Mr. Walter M. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. C. Smith of Pataskala. The service was performed by the Rev. Mr. Leonard Mann.

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, Dr. Gordon F. Sherwood, the bride wore a gown of white satin which featured a yoke of deep illusion outlined with lace and seed pearls and long sleeves which came to points over her hands. A tiara of seed beads and pearls held in place her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a prayerbook mounted with a white orchid.

Mrs. Wade Stone, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and Miss Irene Snowden was bridesmaid. Their gowns were made of marquisette over taffeta, Mrs. Stone's being pale yellow and Miss Snowden's light blue. Both wore hats matching their dresses and carried bouquets of purple asters and shattered white carnations.

BOOSTER STARTS ITS 30th YEAR

Sifferlin Demands Barthalow Resign

On Wednesday, June 29, Herbert V. Sifferlin, 136 E. Whittier St., candidate for City Auditor sent the following request to the City Council asking the resignation of R. P. Barthalow, the present City Auditor.

The South Side Booster exposed the jewelry racket a year ago this week in an article in that issue and we are quoting that article verbatim.

"Ever since the advent of enter ing the City Auditor's Office as it's head, R. Pierre Barthalow has used his office as a collection [illegible] for the benefit of a large Credit Jewelry Co. and a large Health and Accident Association.

Over a period of the last four weeks, we find entered on the pay roll sheets, an average of 63 people who had deductions taken from their pay checks of from $2 to $15 each, for the benefit of The Jewelry Company alone. All of these people were employes of the City Street Cleaning Department.

On the City Engineering Payroll, we found numerous deductions for the benefit of both of these concerns.

Personally, We didn't investigate other city department pay-rolls.

But, it is only natural to presume, that other departmental payrolls had deductions for both the large credit company and the Health and Accident Ass'n.

What we would like to know is, does the large Credit Jewelry Co. or the large Health and Accident Assn., pay anything for this service to the City Auditor's Office.

If they do pay, who do they pay? R. Pierre Barthalow, some one in the City Auditor's office, or the City Treasurer?

Again, if they do pay, how much is charged for these services?

If they don't pay for the collection service, why don't they pay? Why if they don't pay for this service why is this service only rendered for two business concerns and not any other of the many business concerns of the city?

Just to be sure that they were not collecting this money for garnishments we went to the Municipal Court records and [illegible] was only one garnishee [illegible] a city employee as of Wednesday, July 14.

Personally, we believe that the City Auditor's Office, on city time, has no right to collect for any business concern as the city's expense.

We will appreciate any answers that City Auditor R. Pierre Barthalow, cares to make about this article and print the same for his and our reader's benefit.

But personally, we believe that little R. Pierre Barthalow will be as quiet as a mouse.

We do not believe City Council is aware of this situation. We suggest that they appoint an investigating committee, for the purpose of investigating, this situation."

The Mother Coon was killed and the babies were brought home by Pat Gerstner (recently deceased). Mr. Gerstner, Pat's brother, adopted the baby coons and has been raising them on a bottle. The little coons are fed a regular babies formula and are even given vitamin pills each day. George Robey Jr. was in this week and showed us an excellent picture he took of Mr. Gerstner feeding Ruff House Willie, one of the little coons. The picture is scheduled to run on the magazine page of the Citizen in the near future. The other little coon's name is Oscar.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mooney of Jager and Mithoff Sts., are spending their vacation at Sages Lake in Michigan. From word they have sent back we understand they are catching a number of good sized fish.

Speaking of fish, Billy Heimmiller's dad, Louie Heimmiller, is up in the Northern part of Canada doing some fishing. He sent home some of the prize Muskies he caught for Billy to put in the cooler for him. We are sorry to say that due to the very long trip back and the hot weather the fish were slightly spoiled on arrival. We know Louie will be disappointed as he planned a fish fry for his friends when he returned. However, when Billy tells you about the big ones his dad caught we know he is telling the truth. The fish his dad sent home were the kind fishermen dream about.

Some Plant Vacation Employes Eligible

An employe laid off during a plant wide vacation period and who draws no pay for that period may be eligible for unemployment benefits provided he meets the other requirements of the Ohio Law, the Unemployment Compensation Board of Review ruled yesterday.

The Board's decision, a two-to-one member dissenting opinion in the case of a Dayton man who filed a claim for benefits following a two week plant wide vacation shutdown carried through in keeping with a company-union agreement. Under that agreement, the man was entitled to full pay for the first week of the vacation period, none for the second.

Modifying a previous referee's decision, the Board pointed out that the man could not be considered as unemployed during the first week of the vacation period for which he had been paid for that week. However, the Board stated, he was fully unemployed for the second week inasmuch as he had received no pay for that week.

In allowing the man's claim for the second week of the vacation period, the Board cited that section of the Ohio Law which reads: "An individual shall be deemed totally unemployed in any week during which he performs no services and with respect to such week no remuneration is payable to him."

The Board said that the claimant 'met the "totally unemployed" test of the Law during his second week despite the fact that that week was part of the plant-wide vacation period.

The dissenting member of the three-man board, in asserting that the claimant should have been denied benefits, pointed out that the latter had failed to establish that he was (1) "able to work and available for work" within the meaning of the Ohio Law during the second week of the vacation period, (2) "unable to obtain work in his usual trade or occupation or any other employment for which he was reasonably fitted."

Mr. Nick Branch [illegible] Recreation Department raised the flag and gave the [illegible] "The city of Columbus is very fortunate to have such an organization as the Council of South Side Organizations. It is only in America that such public spirit takes place."

Senator Robert F. Wagner gave the principal address saying that "We hope that there will be no more wars, but if it is necessary they will put our country ready to put an end to this legalized murder of innocent human beings."

"We have the same ideals as we have always had and always will have the rights guaranteed under our constitution: freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom of the press and other freedom according to our bill of rights."

We cannot pass over the dedication of Southview Park without mention of our own Mike V. "Cap" Hoover through whose vision and hard work over a period of years secured this new park for the people of this community.

It would be a fine gesture for the people to send a card to the Council of South Side Organizations telling how they enjoyed the celebration.

Last but not least let us tell you that the fireworks display was the finest in the city. How the youngsters enjoyed it. Of course, pop and mom did too.

Bacon-Cheese Buns

Give finger buns a filling of cheese and a bacon wrap, and grill or bake to make delicious picnic sandwiches.

Here is a different way to use those frankfurter buns the youngsters like so well.

Fill buttered buns with a thick, but narrow strip of American cheese, wrap with bacon and grill in an outdoor fireplace or in the oven. Serve with a crisp carrot and cabbage slaw and milk.

Let the youngsters fix bacon-cheese buns for their lunch now that school is out and they are always asking, "Mother, what can I do?" You can point out a lesson in nutrition, too, for the enriched buns are an important source of B-vitamins and food iron, making buns a perfect supplement to calcium and protein in the cheese.

Bacon-cheese buns are a good flavor combination and an easy-to-prepare luncheon. Next time you stop at your bakeshop, get a supply of enriched finger buns to make a quick meal.

BACON-CHEESE BUNS

Long finger buns
Mustard
Butter or margarine
Cheese
Bacon

Split buns. Spread one side with mustard, other side with butter or margarine. Place thin strip of cheese inside bun. Wrap strip of bacon around each bun and fasten securely with toothpicks. Grill or bake slowly until cheese melts and bacon is cooked.

National Industries News

A NEW WONDER MAN

J. E. Jones

Washington, D. C., July—Charles Franklin Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture is a possibility for President of the United States to succeed Mr. Truman. He has a Program which he says "serves the whole people—farmers and consumers alike—in at least six different ways." These are the ways:

1. It helps prevent depression by stabilizing purchasing power.

2. It helps build firmer markets for industrial products and increases opportunities for steady employment.

3. It encourages abundant production by agriculture.

4. It aids conservation of our land resources by encouraging farmers to shift from soil-depleting crops to more grassland and livestock agriculture.

5. It tends to maintain reserves of grain and other commodities which might be urgently needed for National security and World needs.

6. It strengthens the rural community as the wellspring of our population resources.

The Brannan Plan became a red hot National issue following the July 2 1949 issue of Collier's Magazine. You can now believe the old prophecy re "the power of the press" by reading the article in the magazine. It is written by Frank Holeman and Charles Dexter Morris. It is the most remarkable explanation of a half born plan that has appeared in print for many long moons. From Capitol Hill to the White House this article entitled "Charlie Brannan and His Wonderful World," won political support. The Democrats leaped behind Charlie Brannan.

There is no doubt but that the article by Holeman and Morris is the biggest and best magazine story of the year and while we may still be studying "Charlie Brannan and His Wonderful World," we have been certain from the start, that Collier's has scored the greatest scoop in journalism since Truman was elected.

The politicians in Washington are talking about Brannan and his plan. He wasn't very popular in the beginning, until Collier's stirred things up so fast that they are now talking about making him top leader to the Democratic party.

THEY NEED EACH OTHER

A lot has been said and written about the mutual dependence between "big" and "little" business in our country.

Perhaps as good an example as any of how this philosophy works in actual practice was noted in Detroit the other night. There, more than 400 General Motors car and truck dealers gathered to express a heartfelt "thanks" to Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board, and Donaldson Brown, board member. They were not there to express thanks for the good business since the war.

They were there because, back in 1929, the GM executives originated and executed an idea which helped these dealers establish themselves in business. Messrs. Sloan and Brown held at that time that the efficient distribution of cars and trucks was as important as the styling, engineering and manufacturing. They wanted the right dealer in the right location at the right time. However, it was noted that some prospective dealers were long on ability but short on capital. So, Messrs. Sloan and Brown established the Motors Holding Division of GM with an original revolving fund of $1,000,000 to co-invest in each dealer setup. The dealers were to repay from profits.

All of these dealers at the dinner had their "diplomas" by repaying in full, and had become independent and successful businessmen. They recognized that without GM's financial aid, they might not have been there. GM realized that without its great [illegible] it would have [illegible]. The theme of the meeting was expressed on a banner behind the speakers: "We All Did It Together."

And what has gone on between General Motors and its dealers is typical of the relationships between countless other "big" and "little" businesses. It represents the real strength of our democratic [illegible] system.

TOO BAD

[illegible] days is over in most colleges, universities and public schools throughout the country. The college presidents and professors report that 350,000 graduates who have received diplomas this year are looking for jobs. Twenty five to fifty per cent of the graduates will not make the grade.

The tough part of the story is that new college graduates will need an average pay of $250 a month in order to "face the music" and go ahead. It's a troublesome condition.

REPUBLICAN GRASS ROOTS MEETINGS

At the sessions of the Republican National Committee last January in Omaha, the committee named a special group to consider a future policy conference on GOP attitudes. This committee has now determined to sponsor a series of regional meetings to consider the important issues before the nation. These meetings will take place next autumn and will be largely devoted to the assembling and analysis of public opinion.

By the time these groups gather Congressional action on many of the crucial questions of our time will have been taken or at least foreshadowed. It will be possible to evaluate their effect upon the nation. But more important from the viewpoint of the Republican Party must be the steps taken by the National Committee in the direction of convening a National Convention of the GOP early in 1950 to chart the course of the campaigns of this crucial year.

Children of Han Keep Pace With New World Progress As San Francisco's Chinatown Phone Exchange Goes Dial

CHARLES GEE, aged 81, makes his first dial call.

San Francisco's Chinatown Telephone Office

This was the Chinatown Telephone Exchange before it was changed to dial operation. It has since become a telephone business office.

San Francisco's world-famed Chinatown telephone exchange, established in 1894, and only Chinese telephone office outside of China itself, has "gone dial" and the old central office designation of "China 5" has become "Yukon 2".

While to many San Franciscans the change to dial marked the end of an interesting chapter in local history, Chinatown's 12,000 sons and daughters of Han looked on the transition as another milestone in the Americanization of their colony. Despite their deep regard for tradition, San Francisco's Chinese are forward looking citizens, keenly interested in civic progress and advancement of Western culture.

The quaint little central office building, with its three-pagoda roof, continues in the role of telephone business office. The switchboards have been removed, but the colorful carvings of the building's interior remain.

Telephone service in Chinatown began with a public telephone in the office of the Chinese newspaper, "Mun Kee", in the early 'Nineties. The Chinese used the telephone mainly for calls from out-of-town points, having to do with sales of produce and the employment of farm laborers. In 1894 a small switchboard was installed in another location and initially served 37 telephones.

There was continuous growth from then on and there were 200 telephones in service when a larger switchboard was installed in 1898. At that time a Chinese manager was placed in charge. His name was Lee Kum Shu, whose grandfather was one of the first Chinese immigrants to land in California back in the gold rush days. Lee Kum Shu managed the exchange for 28 years and died in 1926 at the age of 62. His son, Lee Yee Kern, succeeded to the managership.

In 1902 the company opened a central office in the heart of Chinatown which was resplendent in colorful and beautiful carvings and decorations. It was designed to become a showplace of the city. But the earthquake and fire of 1906 erased all vestige of this picturesque office. On the same site the present building, with an ornate eight-position switchboard, was opened in 1909.

Telephone operating in the exchange came to be somewhat of a family tradition, as mothers and their daughters handled calls. They, in turn, were the children and grandchildren of the men operators of 50 years ago. The women and girls not only knew the names and numbers of all subscribers in Chinatown, but also were able to answer calls in English, as well as five Cantonese dialects—the Som Yup, Hoong Sam, Gow Gong, Say Yup and Aw Duck.

Chinatown's telephone directory, which has also been discontinued, was unique in that it was entirely hand-lettered. The listings were drawn with sepia ink and brush and the manuscripts reproduced by regular photo-engraving process and printed. Chinatown listings have for many years been published also in the main San Francisco directory.

Loo Yee Kern, the present manager, took his first telephone job at the age of eight, when he and his brother distributed Chinese telephone directories in a little pushcart. When he became 13, he learned to operate the switchboard. Florence Chow, his sister, is chief operator.

Ohio Hunters Have Better Luck

Ohio hunters for the state as a whole bagged more small game during the 1948 season than in 1947 but there were about 90,000 more hunters in the field in 1948 which partially explains the extra baked pheasants and fried rabbits.

Figures just released by Eugene Dustman, Leader of the Ohio Wildlife Research Unit at Ohio State University, show that hunters killed 3,843,000 rabbits in 1948 compared to 3,068,000 in 1947, an increase of 25.3 percent. For pheasant, the increase in 1948 over 1947 amounted to 19.4 percent. In 1947 hunters took 592,000 compared to 707,000 in 1948.

For fox squirrel the recent game kill survey figures show that hunters killed 1,043,000 in 1947 and 1,155,000 in 1948, an increase of 10.7 percent. The increase for the gray squirrel kill in 1948 was .8 percent and for muskrat, 16.3 percent.

The greatest increase was noted in the take of raccoon amounting to 59.4 percent with a kill of 574,000 in 1948 compared to 360,000 in 1947.

Of the hunters returning questionnaires in the survey who reported they bagged at least one pheasant last year, 39 percent bagged one; 26 percent bagged two; 11 percent took three; another 11 percent bagged four; 4 percent bagged five; another 4 percent bagged six; and 5 percent bagged seven or more pheasants. The maximum number reported taken by any one hunter was 30. Eighty-seven percent of the successful pheasant hunters bagged from one to five.

For rabbits, the kill per hunter in 1948 varied from 1 to 72. Of those reporting bagging at least one, 18 percent bagged one; 14 percent took two; 11 percent bagged three; 12 percent, four; seven percent, five; and 25 percent nine or more. Seventy-five percent of the successful rabbit hunters bagged from one to eight rabbits.

MILLION AND A QUARTER FISHERMEN

Harry F. West, chief of the accounting and budget section of the Ohio Division of Conservation reported this week that over a million fishing licenses have now been distributed among license agents of the state.

He predicted that there will be at least a million an a quarter people fish in the state including those who are not required to buy a license because of age or because they fish on their own lands.

Non-resident fishing license sales are expected to reach an all-time high and indications are that the temporary ten-day license sale will reach 25,000 and the annual non-resident, about 15,000.

Old Age Pensioner Complains

1791½ East Russell Street
Columbus, Ohio
June 21, 1949

To Whom It May Concern:

To The People of Ohio and Voters:

No doubt you have heard the State Employees say, "We cannot live on $50.00 per week", and that they wanted a 25 per cent increase.

Mr. Herbert gave 35,000 Old Age Pensioners an increase of $5.00 per month, but 90,000 of these Pensioners got none, even when food costs were so high. These pensioners only get about $38.90 per month, which allows them $7.00 to $8.00 per week to buy food, clothing, medicine, pay rent, electric, gas, and Doctors. Is it any wonder 45,889 Old Age Pensioners have died in the last eight years, yet the Division of Aid For the Aged is not satisfied. It looks as though they want these old men and women to die off faster than they are. If they want to give anyone a cut, why not cut the State Employees 8 to 10 per cent, and also all State Officials who are drawing a salary of $4,000 per year, or even $5,000. Cut them from 25 to 35 per cent and see how it would work. If these Pensioners have to live on $6.00 to $8.00 per week, why not let the State Employees or Officials live a little cheaper. It is a poor rule that cannot work both ways.

Those who are not for the Pensioners, are against them, and who works against them will be remembered at the poles in the November 4, 1950 election. What does the public and voters think about cutting the Pensioners and letting our State Officials and Employees go. Is it fair or not?

This is something for you to remember. These Old Age Pensioners and their sons and daughters, grandsons and granddaughters, daughter-in-laws, son-in-laws, and friends can control from 266,000 to 325,000 votes. They are getting tired of being pushed and kicked around. Who is for them?

Please drop us a card.

Sincerely,
Henry Stone

These Rolling Dollars

It seems to be widely believed that the stockholders of successful corporations are about the luckiest people in the country. During the last few years the money has been rolling into industry's coffers in a golden stream.

What is often forgotten is that the money rolls out just about as fast, before owners can get their hands on a share of it to keep.

Here, for instance, is what happened last year to the income of a middle-sized corporation engaged in the business of processing fabrics.

Its total revenues came to $17,460,000. Nearly half—$8,350,000—went for materials, supplies and services.

Labor came in for the next biggest slice—$6,330,000. The tax collector took almost $1,300,000. About $734,000 was retained in the business for plant expansion and working capital.

A trifle under $750,000 was left. This amounted to 4.3 cents out of each dollar of sales. And it was all that went to the stockholders, in the form of dividends, for the use of the money that made this business and its employment possible.

Original Loan Companies

The Bauer Verein was the orginal building and loan or savings and loan was started in Cincinati, Ohio.

They had their meeting places in grocery stores and saloons.

They were started to help people build and own their own homes.

Today Columbus has 22 of these institutions with a total deposits of $122,000,000.

Practically every home in Columbus at one time or another has been financed through these institutions.

News In The World Of Religion

By W. W. Reid

A testimonial dinner was recently tendered Dr. Fred Field Goodsell, internationally known church and mission leader of the Congregational - Christian Church, in historic Old South Church at Boston, Massachusetts, in honor of his completion of nineteen years as executive vice-president of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Prior to 1933, Dr. Goodsell had served 23 years as a missionary of his Church in the Near East. He worked under three different types of political government in Turkey, also served in Bulgaria, Greece, and Syria, and during World War I was in Russia and Siberia.

Beginning on October 2, 1949 (World Communion Sunday) and continuing through December 31, 1950, some thirty-eight Protestant bodies in the United States — 27 of them constituent members of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America — will conduct a United Evangelistic Advance, under the slogan "America For Christ." A national promotional committee has been named with Dr. E. H. Homrighausen, of Princeton Seminary, as chairman, to direct the Advance, and its more than 2,000 ministerial associates and hundreds of state and 62 members will work with the national religious bodies to enlist the best spiritual and intellectual leadership of the nation and work together to bring the gospel of Christ to all men." Phases of the nation-wide effort will be Preaching Missions in local churches, United Preaching Missions, National Christian Teaching Missions, High School Missions, and University Christian Missions, each directed at specific groups in the population. To help in the larger meetings, the Advance is bringing to the United States such leaders as Dr. E. Stanley Jones, India missionary and evangelist; Dr. T. E. Koo, Christian student leader of China; Dr. Baez-Camargo, head of the National Council of Mexico; Bishop Stephen Neill, of the World Council of Churches, Switzerland; and Dr. Bryan Green, of Birmingham, England, one of Britain's best-known evangelists.

The Methodist Crusade Scholarship Fund, which during the past three years brought more than 750 young people to America from the mission field in which the Methodist Church serves, and which gave them higher training in American colleges and Universities, will be continued during the years of 1949-52, and it is expected that upwards of $1,000,000 will be expended in this extension service of the missionary-educational enterprise. The Fund was established as a phase of the Church's recent "Crusade for Christ", and is being continued as an enterprise of the present "Advance for Christ and His Church." The chairman of the directing body is Dr. James K. Mathews of the Church's Division of Foreign Missions. Miss Eva Deane Kemp, with offices at 150 Fifth Ave., New York City, is the director of the program. Those already granted scholarships have come from 40 different countries, and have been enrolled in 85 different American schools. The larger numbers have been preparing for further service in theological schools, teacher-training, medical school, and scientific institutions. Many of them had been prisoners of the Germans or the Japanese during World War II.

At Shanghai, China, within recent weeks there was held a meeting of Christian leaders of several denominations, some of them from "inside the bamboo curtain," others from Kuomintang territory. One participant gives this summary of experiences: "Morale of Christians, both missionaries and natives, remains high and encouraging. Pastors and workers are on self-support basis as public solicitations for funds from church member is not allowed. Church buildings are treated as public property and public or political meetings are often held in the church. Sunday gatherings are permitted to be held in the church, but quite often the Communists use the church for their political meetings at simultaneous time and the Christians have to give up services. Mission schools are still going on as usual and there has been no interference with the administration, but the collection of fees and other expenses should first secure the approval of a committee composed mostly of students. It does not seem that opted Communists have so far adopted a unifild policy toward Christian movements. In some areas the Communists have given orders for the protection of Christian churches while in other areas their attitude towards churches is antagonistic. Christian hospitals are allowed to function as before, and so far they have not interfered with the administration. But for financial support it is difficult for the hospitals to line up with the sources that used to give support. It is very difficult to carry on social institutionss or relief work in a Communist territory as the viewpoints are diverging on social problems."

South Seas Native To Speak

Pastor Robert Salau, a Seventh-Day Adventist Pidgin English-speaking native of the south seas, will visit in Ohio this summer. He is anxious to greet some of the more than 500 service men whose lives were saved by his organization in the islands.

Pastor Salau has been brought to this country by the General Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists world headquarters in Washington, D. C., and will appear at a number of large convocations in this country. He will be at the Seventh-Day Adventist camp meeting in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, July 12-17 accompanied by Pastor A. G. Stewart.

Service men interested in meeting him should contact the local pastor of the Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 26 N. 21st Street, Richard T. Minesinger, 2561 Glenmawr Ave., La. 0381, or Miss Ruth Michaelis, 177 N. Terrace, Ra. 3851, for additional information.

Pastor Salau, converted to Christianity as a child, was director of church work on Massau during the war and acted as liaison officer between his people and military authorities.

Seventh-Day Adventist natives, left without European leadership throughout Japanese occupation, organized rescue squads for the aid of pilots shot down into the sea, and for men in sinking vessels.

On some islands a 24-hour watch was maintained at five-mile intervals on the coast. When planes were downed, canoemen were dispatched to bring in survivors. One Adventist native, Doni Mark of Put Put, on the island of New Britain, was tortured to death by the Japanese for his refusal to reveal rescue details.

GLORIOUS SOUFFLES

Asparagus souffles that will impress one and all.

By BETTY NEWTON

This may be a new idea or an old one—but you'll think it's good once you try it. It is an especially good way to use the first asparagus which the markets offer. Your family has to come to dinner on time when these are served, or they will miss the puffed up glory of the souffles.

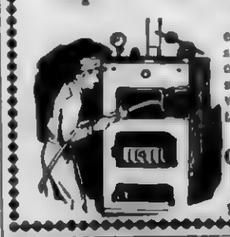
Tomato Souffles with Asparagus

2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
2 Tbsp. flour
½ C. hot tomato juice
½ tsp. salt
½ lb. American cheese, diced
Dash cayenne or [illegible]
3 eggs, separated
Cooked asparagus tips

Make a sauce of the first four ingredients by melting fat in a double boiler, adding the flour, then mixing in the tomato juice and salt, and cooking until smooth and thickened. Add the diced cheese and cayenne and stir occasionally until it is melted. Stir in the beaten egg yolks and cool. When cold, fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Arrange cooked asparagus in the bottom of individual casseroles, then pour in the souffle mixture until casseroles are ⅔rds full. Bake at 325 degrees about 30 minutes and serve at once.

Buttermilk Breakfast Cake

1¼ C. flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. soda
¾ tsp. salt
4½ Tbsp. shortening
½ C. sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 egg
¾ C. buttermilk or sour milk



Mix and sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Cut in shortening until fine. Stir in sugar and cinnamon. Add slightly beaten egg and buttermilk and stir just enough to mix. Pour into a greased 8 x 8 inch square pan and bake at 400 degrees about 25 minutes.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank (Dude Ranch) Koch

All of you know how tough a piece of shoe-sole is. Maybe you have boiled one with beans when things were tough back in '33 to '40. Well shoe leather never was nor could be as tough as meeting a dead-line on a newspaper; Believe me. What with weather we don't need—Heat that is—etc. Does someone want to trade places with me until we start shoveling Snow?

Leo Lewis of the Hatco Co. & Tuller Equipment Co.'s Paint Emporium, together with his friend and former co-worker, Ed. G. Miller, just returned from the U. P. Ed is connected with the Merrick-Miller Co. (or he was when last seen by yours truly). Leo's been trying to get Ed to go north (when their hearts and ambitions are in Fla.) for quite a few years, and moreso since Leo was in the U. P. year before last. Leo tries to sell U. P. to just about every Tom, Dick and Agnes he meets. (I mentioned Agnes because I used to know a gal by that name that chummed around with "Harry" who used to sell radishes on Central Market here and now owns and operates Boulevard Gardens on the river road that's built like a roller coaster). Don't ask me whether the road or Harry is built like a roller coaster because I refuse to go into detail on the subject.

Well, Leo and Ed left last Saturday a week ago for Brevort Lake. They made the 500 mile trip in about thirteen hours according to information we have at hand at the present time. It seems that some where on the road north they picked up some Food (like synthetic beef, sometimes called Horse meat) and what with driving to catch a Ferry Boat across the straits of Mackinac and the tension of the trip itself; their stomachs became sort of up-side-down after they arrived at their destination, not on the first day of their arrival, but the second.

We're told their stay at the Massey House was enjoyed only because they met so many of Lewis' friends there; friends he had met on his previous visit to the "Dude Ranch." There were Kenny and his wife who make periodic visits to the Lake during the summer from Fostoria, Ohio, and Vivian, that's young Massey's wife and Vi Johnson, wife of Jimmie Johnson of Moran. Violet is working at the Massey House this year, probably in the kitchen as head cook. Leo Lewis and Ed Miller also contacted Pete Lowetz who is supposed to care for the "Dude Ranch" while yours truly is down here in Columbus sweating it out and visited the "Ranch" where Bob Dingledine Jr. and wife and party are spending these two weeks. Leo said Bob showed them a fine time at the Hotel. Bob was not at the Ranch when Leo and Ed visited them; he was out on the Lake, but when he came in from fishing and looked at the "Score-board" he immediately went to the Massey House to see his Columbus friends; that Lewis guy and the Miller (new car) boy. All parties agreed that everybody else were swell guys and a good time was had by all (except Leo and Ed).

MORAL:—When you go on a trip and expect to enjoy it to the fullest; see your family Doctor and/or Specialist and find out what you're allergic to; and don't eat or drink it!

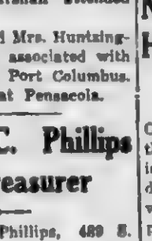
WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT



IN these weekly columns I shall try to tell the people of Ohio in the fairest possible way some of the developments in Washington. I shall try to report just what goes on in Congress and to clarify the issues on controversial subjects.

From time to time I shall also set forth my own philosophy of government and the beliefs which lead me to vote as I do, and to feel an intense indignation when certain other policies are advocated.

What happens in Washington is of vital concern to every resident of Ohio. A fully-informed citizenry is the greatest safeguard we have for the future of our country.

• • •

CONGRESS has now been in session almost six months. In the Senate we have passed the public housing and slum clearance bill and the bill for Federal aid to education which goes, for the most part, to the poorer states of the Southeast. I was one of the authors of both these measures. They were both passed by the Senate of the 80th Congress and I have felt that both of them are necessary to give something like equality of opportunity to families, and particularly to children, who do not have the income to provide a minimum decent living.

The Senate has also passed a bill giving Federal aid to States to enable them to make universal the program of examining all children in school once a year and providing standard treatment for defects found. The broader health program is being studied by the two Congressional committees, but because of the wide difference between President Truman's national compulsory medical care plan, and the voluntary State-aid plans, the Administration apparently plans to put off until next year any basic action on health. We may, however, be able to provide some State aid for the extension of local public health units and some aid to personnel.

THE Spence bill gives the President power to fix prices, fix wages, ration commodities and put the government into business has almost been forgotten by the Democratic leaders themselves. The farm plan proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has only just been presented in bill form and seems to have the opposition of the leading farm organizations. The plan to socialize and nationalize medicine has been postponed until 1950. Shortly after the session started, the Labor Committees of Both Houses by a strict party vote reported out the bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law without even permitting the minority members of Congress to offer amendments. The bill was defeated and sent back to the House Labor Committee. The Administration is still trying to pass its bill in the Senate. The civil rights program has gotten nowhere.

In short, it appears that very little progress has been made on the enactment of the Truman program, except on the measures supported by the Republicans. This, in spite of the fact that the President's party controls Congress with a majority of 12 votes in the Senate and 92 in the House of Representatives. Of course a large number of Democrats differ from President Truman on his more radical proposals.

• • •

IN future weeks I hope to discuss in detail the status of important issues like labor, social security and relief, the Atlantic Pact, agriculture, aid to Europe, civil rights, housing, education, expenditures and taxes and many others.

• • •

I am always happy to hear the opinions of the readers of this news paper on any of the matters before Congress or any other matter affecting the welfare of Ohio. You can write me in care of the Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.

"In The Navy" At The Southland Theater

Bud Abbott, Dick Powell, and Lou Costello are shown together in one of the uproarious scenes from the Realart hit release, "In the Navy". coming Sunday to the Southland. Done It", starring Bud Abbott and The second feature will be, "Who Lou Costello.

Unusual Feature At Southland

"Siren of Atlantis" is coming to the Southland Theatre on Wednesday through Thursday. The co-feature will be "Homicide" starring Robert Douglas.

In "Siren of Atlantis" Maria Montez, typifying the popular conception of pagan beauty, plays Queen Antinea, absolute ruler of the legendary kingdom who is reputed to be a descendant of Neptune. As a youthful French officer who is enslaved by her beauty, Jean Pierre Amount co-stars opposite Miss Montez with Dennis O'Keefe, as the third stellar player.

The supporting cast includes Alexis Minotis, Morris Carnovsky, and many others.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal Theater presents Sunday only "Perils of Pauline" in Color. This is an extremely funny picture a take off of the old serials when Pearl White risked her life each week as Pauline. Betty Hutton as Pauline is at her best. Also on the bill is "Rose of the Yukon" starring Steve Brodie and News and cartoon.

"Frontier Gal" At Russell Theater

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presents "Frontier Girl" with Rod Cameron and Yvonne DeCarlo. This technicolor picture plus Canyon Passage with Dana Andrews, which is also in technicolor, will please many patrons. The Russell Theater is air conditioned for your comfort. Take the entire family for an evening of entertainment.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater present Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "Big Jack" starring Wallace Beery. For the individual and collective fans of Wallace Beery and Marjorie Main and the admirers of the muggling marathons which ensues when they are teamed, this period picture has much to offer. There's plenty of shoot-em-up action, a steady strain of rough-'n ready comedy and fun. Wallace Beery plays a "Viva Villa" type of role as a bandit of the early 1800's, preying on the people of Virginia and Maryland. Fans who loved Wallace Beery (who is now deceased) will be glad of the opportunity to see this beloved star in one of his last pictures. Also on the bill is "Trouble Makers" starring Leo Gorcey.

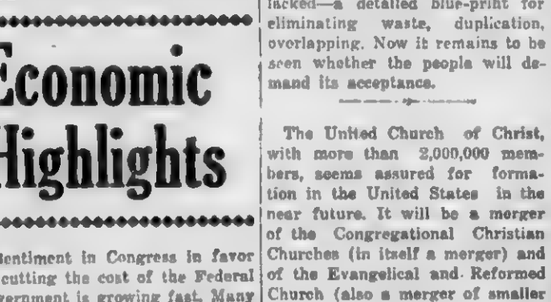
Economic Highlights

Sentiment in Congress in favor of cutting the cost of the Federal government is growing fast. Many things have contributed to it—among them, the decline in business and employment, the fact that a heavy Federal deficit now seems inevitable, and the reluctance of the lawmakers to increase taxes, because complaints from the "folks back home about Federal spending" are increasing.

However, sentiment in favor of cuts in spending, and practical action toward that end, are two different things. Congress is always bedeviled by pressure groups, all of whom are in favor of cutting the appropriations that go to someone else and increasing their own. As an obvious example, there is hardly a chamber of commerce that doesn't pay lip-service to the cause of economy—and then whoop it up whenever it sees a chance to get a slice of Federal tax money for its own area.

In the long run, the decisive factor will be public sentiment—the wishes of the voters as to fiscal policy. A short time ago the Omaha World-Herald carried on an interesting experiment. It published a full account of a speech made by Senator Byrd, in which he described various spending measures now before Congress, and pointed out that the billions they would cost would have to be paid by all the people. The World-Herald then published a ballot on which its readers could express their views on the matter.



The first question asked for opinion on a straight 10 per cent cut in all Federal expenditures that can be cut. Only 134 who answered were against this, while 5,869 were for it. The balance of the questions covered specific legislative measures such as Federal housing, Federal aid to education, the national health plan, arms to Europe under the North Atlantic Pact, etc. In every instance the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of strict economy. On increased payroll and income taxes, 5,876 said no while a mere 96 approved them.

In conducting its poll, the paper emphasized the certain but often-overlooked fact that "the Federal government hasn't a cent except what it takes from all of us in taxes." It is true that some polls indicate that a substantial majority of the people want Federal handouts. However, such polls are usually so worded as to make the unwary believe that they will get them for nothing—that the money will come from some mysterious source other than the people's pockets.

The Hoover Commission reports have given Congress what it long lacked—a detailed blue-print for eliminating waste, duplication, overlapping. Now it remains to be seen whether the people will demand its acceptance.

The United Church of Christ, with more than 2,000,000 members, seems assured for formation in the United States in the near future. It will be a merger of the Congregational Christian Churches (in itself a merger) and of the Evangelical and Reformed Church (also a merger of smaller bodies). The Evangelical and Reformed Church's General Synod has almost unanimously voted for the merger which now goes to the thirty-eight local synods; the Congregationalists already have approved the plan.

Sylvester Says:

"Trouble with flat-tires—and little housing cares, too."

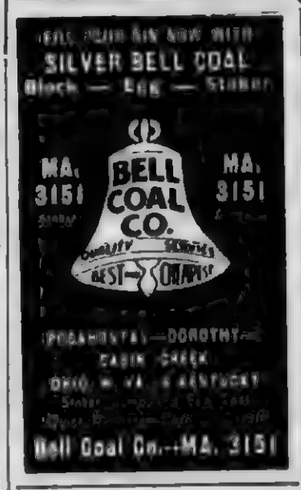
Sylvester wants to leave the room when his friends propose public housing.

He knows official reports show it costs $7. more a month to keep a family in a public housing unit than it costs to rent an average privately owned apartment or house in this country for that same family.

Why not, says Sylvester,—you can't add the payrolls for 17,000 government housing agency employees to construction costs and get a cheaper house.

Your Home
By Frances Ainsworth

Whee! It's corn-on-the-cob time again! Our family is so fond of it we make a complete meal of it! We have a huge helping of green salad, black bread and tons of butter all ready on the table because we like our corn cooked JUST SO! Then we pop just one ear for each of us into a kettle of boiling water and time them exactly 6 minutes. While we are eating the freshly cooked ears, we have another round cooking, and so we have fresh cooked ears every time! We cover the ears with butter, salt them and dig in. What matter if they drip. We keep plenty of paper napkins close by. There's no substitute for a paper napkin at a time like this!



But our great love for summer is hot dogs. Some folks like them with "the works" . . . ketchup, pickles, mustard and just about everything they can think of. Our favorite is Welch rarebit sauce with a goodly dash of Worcestershire sauce to give it zest. We fry our "dogs" in bacon drippings, then split them open, put them on buns and pour the hot rarebit over it all. Of course it's drooly, but we wrap our buns in a paper napkin and have no trouble eating them.

You've guessed it by now. We're a family that believes in fun and comfort . . . hence the party doings. But we don't make work of it. We keep it simple, and we always use paper napkins because we can use them in profusion, throw them away and not worry about the laundry bill.

W. A. Gould Proud Of Bob Adams

Mr. W. A. Gould owner of the Gould Awning Co. located at 1405 S. High Street is very proud of one of his young employees. Bob Adams has been shooting some nice golf in the District Amateur Tournament.

Bob, a 22-year-old Ohio State Freshman, led the field into the 18 holes Tuesday with a one-over-par 72 and a one stroke advantage over Jay Truitt of the home course and John Florio, former State champion from University.

Bob, who is five foot, eight inches tall and 132 pounds, has been playing golf for 11 years, starting first as a caddy at Indian Springs.

Bob's scorecard included 11 pars, three birdies and four bogeys, going out in 34 blows and returning with four more.

In Fridays quarter-finals Heischman ousted Bob 3 and 2. However, Mr. Gould is very proud of Bob and so are all his South Side friends, although he didn't go to the end shows great promise for the future, we will all be keeping our eye on you Bob.

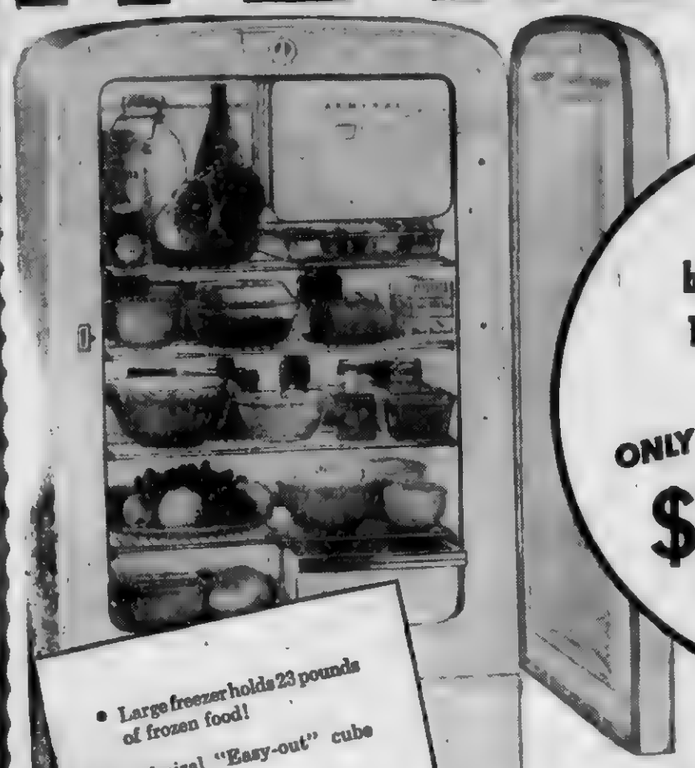
Margarine Bill To Be Voted On

Certainty that the people of Ohio will have an opportunity to vote at the coming November election on the question of enacting a law to permit the manufacture and sale of yellow margarine, was indicated today in an announcement by the Association of Voters for Yellow Margarine that more than 175,000 Ohio voters have already signed that supplementary initiative petitions required to have that question placed on the ballot next November.

"The task of obtaining the required number of signatures is practically completed," said Dorothy Clinger, secretary of the Association. "Approximately 70,000 signatures are required, and we already have more than 175,000 signatures. We also have many more than the required number of signatures from each of more than half of the counties in the state. We surely will have more than 200,000 signatures when the petition is filed with the secretary of state some time in July. The cooperation of people throughout Ohio in the task of getting voters' signatures has been most gratifying. We are confident the people will vote overwhelmingly in favor of yellow margarine at the November election."

A bill to enact a law to permit making and selling yellow margarine in Ohio was introduced in the present General Assembly of Ohio on January 3 of this year, by an initiative petition. More than 200,000 Ohio voters had signed the initiative petition at that time. The Senate passed the bill, but a majority of the members of the House of Representatives voted "to lay it on the table", where it remains at the present time. The supplementary initiative petition which is now being circulated for the signatures of additional voters, when filed and approved by the secretary of state, will cause the question of enacting the proposed law to be placed on the ballot at the coming November election.

"It's too bad," continued Mrs. Clinger, "that a majority of the members of the Ohio House of Representatives continue to refuse to pass the bill. We understand that the House members can vote at any time to take the bill from the table and pass it. They ought to do that. The great majority of the people of Ohio want them to do that. Election officials say it will cost the state at least $50,000, election expenses if the question of enacting the law is placed on the November election ballot. The members of the House of Representatives could easily save the state that money by passing the law. Then it would not be necessary to have a vote on it in November. We certainly urge the House members to pass the bill before it becomes necessary for us to file our supplementary petition with the secretary of state."



Help! The laundry made a mistake and sent me the wrong shirt. The collar is so tight I can hardly breathe." "No, that's your shirt all right, but you've got your head thru a button-hole."

We heard from Slim Clevenger and Bill Devany this week. The boys are on a months cruise on the Great Lakes and Canadian waters. From what we hear they ran into a pretty bad storm in Lake Michigan. They tell us that Bill was so happy when they sighted land and finally docked that he laid right down and kissed the good old earth, We have heard of people doing things like that, but this is the first person we have actually known to do it.

The Boys around the Ideal Sporting Goods Store decided to go on vacations in a real sporting way this year. Chester Vance, Edward Guyer, Donald Vance, Bob Kertzsering and Charles Johnson have all gone on a camping trip to Big Walnut Creek, located about six miles from Columbus. All the boys but Eddie decided to really rough it, so they all took hammocks to sleep in. Eddie likes his comfort a little more so he is sleeping on a cot. The boy's have no cottage, they are camping in the open. We are told they took along three rifles for protection. (I wonder against what?) We would like to hear some of the tall tales told by this group on their return to civilization.

There's going to be some mighty good eating at the home of Bill McCullough of 399 Sheldon Ave. for the next few days. Bill and his wife took a little trip to Big Walnut Creek the other night to do some frog hunting. The night must have been perfect for the big grooners to be out as from what we hear Bill and the Mrs. came home with two large sacks filled with the most beautiful jumbo frogs you ever saw. After the frogs were dressed there were approximately 50 lbs. of good frog legs.

Correction:

In last week's Booster there was an error in Rice's Mkt. advertisement, the ad reading sugar 25 lbs. $1.29, when it should have read $2.29. Rice's Mkt. was in no way responsible for this error.

Super Market Group Outgrows Facilities

The U. S. Super Markets, a co-operative buying organization organized only a little over a year ago by eight grocers in Columbus and vicinity, already has outgrown its original warehouse facilities.

The organization has acquired a larger and more modern warehouse with railroad facilities to be able to handle carload buying.

Since so many of the grocers in Columbus realised that to be able to meet competition today they would have to buy on the same basis as the chain stores, the organization grew to 24 stores. So that they would be able to operate more efficiently, they all went together and put up the money to form their equally owned non-profit corporation, which enables the stockholders to buy their merchandise and eliminate the jobber's profit. The officers of the new corporation are Murrl Cramer, president; Tom Tarpy, vice-president; Harold Fox, secretary; W. T. Wilson, treasurer, and D. F. Bowman, business manager. In addition to the above, the following two are also on the board of trustees—Carl Capretta and Russell Bettker. Mr. Bettker operates the Foreign Grocery at 1954-58 Parsons Ave. Your other two Independent Grocers on the South Side who belong to the U. S. Super Market Organization are: Rice's Market, 765 Parsons Ave., and Snedeker's Confectionery, 1603 S. Fourth Street. Patronize them, you'll save money.

Letters to the Editor

In my ad you will notice O.M.-T.A. (Ohio Music Teachers Assn.) This organization has been endeavoring for years to make known to the public (especially Parents) the qualifications that are necessary for the successful private music educator and teachers should have sound standards and sensible ideals.

There are those who have erroneously accused O.M.T.A. of trying to bar certain music teachers from teaching. Any teacher may become a member if they can qualify on merits. It is a protection to pupil and teacher.

There are too many incompetent private music teachers—lacking a good background of theory, harmony and general study to even teach the first grade or yeas, plus common sense psychology.

My colleagues and I get too many pupils from "salestalk" teachers. Results are always disappointment plus the complaint of wasted money and time. A few are so disgusted they refuse to study again when they find a competent and educated teacher and realize they have been gullable.

I am definitely interested in giving my pupils a thorough background in music plus pleasure and joy.

Very Truly Yours,
Doris Margaret Smith

Mention the Booster To Your Merchant

Prints First Booster

We had a very interesting conversation the other day with Mr. M. A. Birchfield of 1183 S. High Street.

Mr. Birchfield said that he ran the press for the first South Side Booster thirty years ago.

The Booster was printed by the Cott Printing Co., 35 W. Spring Street.

The Booster at that time was owned and edited by a Mr. M. A. Griffith.

It was a four-page regular size newspaper.

Mr. Birchfield recalls that before he printed the Booster in winter months that he would have to come in early to start the fires.

We are going over to Mr. Birchfield's home to see him soon so that we can have a nice article in the near future of the history of the South Side Booster.

Perhaps we will get a nice article on early South Side characters and history.

How Would You Like Wool Shirts?

Why in the world our City Police Force should be compelled to wear wool shirts during this hot weather is beyond your editor's imagination.

It seems that several weeks ago Safety Director C. C. Cole gave orders that policemen must wear wool shirts. The cost $11.75 each.

Most all of the men had cotton shirts, but these had to be discarded.

How would you readers like to wear a wool shirt these hot days?

We suggest that Director Cole rescind his order at once and let our policemen be comfortable or better still set a shining example by his putting on a wool shirt and wearing it the rest of the summer.

Special Professions Still Needed

In the face of a general tightening up of job opportunities, there continues to be a reasonably stable demand for specialists such as nurses, social workers, pharmacists, teachers, cabinetmakers, secretaries, stenographers and dieticians.

A recent survey by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's Employment Service division reveals that the demand for these specialists is particularly heavy in the larger communities. In contrast is an obvious decline in the number of openings for industrial workers, skilled and unskilled.

By and large, experience and educational requirements reflect the overall economic situation. In almost all cases, such requirements have become steadily more stringent since the year began.

Social workers are needed in Akron, Cleveland, Youngstown, Lorain and Chillicothe, the openings paying up to $3,600 a year. Additional information on these and other jobs may be obtained at any one of the BUC's local offices.

Both Dayton and Youngstown have openings for cabinet makers, the Youngstown job paying up to $3 an hour if all requirements are met. Dayton, Cincinnati and Chillicothe report openings for nurses, some of the jobs paying up to $3,000 a year.

Elementary school teachers, in short supply throughout the post-war period, are offered $2,200 a year to start in Massillon. Applicants must have graduated from an accredited College of Education but no experience is required.

Pharmacists are wanted in Akron, Cincinnati, Chillicothe and Newark. And they are offered as high as $85 a week. Dieticians, wanted in Chillicothe and Dayton, are offered as much as $3,000 a year.

Openings for secretaries, paying up to $150 a month, are available in Canton. And stenographers, in demand in Cincinnati and Dayton, can get as much as $50 a week depending upon their experience.

SOUTHWAY HAS SCRAPPY TEAM

This team has won four and lost two. They are really a go-getting, scrappy team.

Bob Schaefer in the first game pitched a no-hit, no-run game.

This is one of the finest teams in the Legion League with practically no player outstanding but exceptionally well balanced and always a fighting threat.

Anti - Diphtheria Campaign In Progress

A campaign to safeguard children against one of their worst enemies—diphtheria—is being conducted by Columbus health officials.

Dr. Ollie M. Goodloe, Columbus health commissioner, contacted the city's some 600 physicians, to seek their aid in reducing the high rate of diphtheria. According to Dr. Goodloe, Columbus has the worst diphtheria record of any of Ohio's major cities.

More than 20 cases have been reported thus far in 1949. Most of these cases involved youngsters of pre-school age. The compulsory immunization required by Columbus schools is reducing the rate of cases among school-age children.

Diphtheria records show there is an upswing in cases in autumn. For that reason, health officials have launched the drive for voluntary immunization during the summer. Children immunized now will have established immunity before the disease strikes the hardest this fall.

Dr. Goodloe urged the city's doctors to help impress parents with the need for immunization against diphtheria. Pointing out that diphtheria is a killer that claims one out of every 15 victims, he said that methods of treating the disease have not improved in the last 25 years.

"The only sure cure is prevention," Dr. Goodloe asserted.

Immunization shots are recommended at the following ages for almost sure prevention of diphtheria: A series of one, two or three shots as early as 6 months; a booster shot at 2 years; another when the child starts to school, and a third booster shot at the age of 10 years.

"Parental love and responsibility should demand that a child be protected against diphtheria," Dr. Goodloe said. "If the parents cannot afford the shots, they should see that the child is taken to one of the city's Well Child Clinics."

Let's Make Better Pictures

Last week I suggested that you try facing people away from the sun to eliminate the black shadows and the squinty eyes. This week let's do the same thing, but add some light to the face by using a reflector or a flash bulb.

A piece of square white paper will work very well. Just have it held so that the sun will strike it and bounce to the face. The illumination will be increased but will be softer than direct sunlight. Try it and see how improved your pictures will be.

Many of the lower priced cameras today come equipped with flash arrangements. Most newspaper photographs of people are made with flash, even outdoors. The flash fills in the shadows in the eye sockets, under the nose and chin. Try the flash.

During the coming weeks this column will try to help the beginning photographer make better pictures not with a lot of high priced gadgets but by simple means. If you would like some particular information, drop an inquiry to the Booster. I'll try to give you a satisfactory answer.

Washington Week

Washington, D. C.—There seems to be little doubt among both Democrats and Republicans on Capitol Hill that Mr. Truman's followers in the House of Representatives will do everything in their power to prevent any new labor management legislation from passing this session of Congress.

In the event the Labor Relations Act of 1949, recently passed by the Senate, gains the favor of House Members over Administration objections, there is no doubt President Truman will veto the bill when it arrives at his desk.

These being accepted probabilities, just cause is given to review honesty of the Democrat Administration to its 1948 labor platform.

For example, the Democrat convention did not stop with advocating repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. It went further. It said:

"We advocate such legislation as is desirable to establish a just body of rules to assure free and effective collective bargaining, to determine, in the public interest, the rights of employees and employers, to reduce to a minimum their conflict of interests, and to enable unions to keep their membership free from Communistic influences."

New Labor Act Applauded

One-third of the Democrats in the Senate, in fact, a wide majority of all Senators, apparently felt, in voting for the 1949 Labor Relations Act, that they were supporting revisions in the existing act which would "assure free and effective collective bargaining, to determine, in the public interest, the rights of employees and employers."

Why should there be any opposition to fulfillment of that part of the platform? More than a score of changes were made in the act with the approval of the great majority of the people's representatives in the Senate.

Then, there is that now-famous last phrase in the Democrat labor platform which reads:

". . .and to enable unions to keep their membership free from Communistic influences."

Trumanites Would Abandon Anti-Red Oath

More again is reason to question the honesty of the Administration toward both its 1948 platform and toward labor, in particular.

When the Administration labor bill was introduced by Utah's Democrat Senator Thomas, it strangely omitted the only definite legal restriction ever placed as a bar to Communism in the ranks of organized labor—the loyalty oath.

Not only did the Senate save the Administration's promise by retaining the loyalty oath for workers while rewriting the new bill, but the Senate went a step further than the Democrat platform by imposing the same type of oath upon employers.

The Democrat Administration is not true to its platform, nor is it sincere toward organized labor in its efforts to sabotage highly constructive new labor gains in the Labor Relations Act of 1949.

MONEY! MONEY! MONEY!

The poor working man and the lone widow are short of money. The chart for the financial World shows the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics to be as poor as church mice. That's good!

Most of Africa seems to be bumping the bumps and the Scandinavian countries are using 25 cent pieces when dollars are needed.

Canada, United States, Mexico, Venezuela, Brazil, Bolivia, Chile, are rolling along in good shape.

The only thing the matter with our own country is that we are not only trying to save a good part of the World from suffering, and starvation but—WE are trying to make the whole World comfortable, and to keep our wheels of industry earning food, comfort and clothing for all.

The United States has held up well despite the failure in behalf of permanent World peace. How long we can afford to continue such terrific spending policies is something nobody knows.

TAFT TO CHART G.O.P. PLANS FOR 1950

There is no longer any question about who runs the Republican show. In years gone past there were always those who insisted that the defeated candidate for the Presidency was entitled to call the tune. This year there is no such talk anywhere. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio is the man who determines basic policies and makes the issues.

With the success of his efforts on the retention of the Taft-Hartley Act in the headlines everywhere, the announcement that Bob Taft will call together a meeting of G.O.P. leaders to chart the 1950 campaign comes as a public recognition of the quality of Taft's work. No man in Washington has done more to evolve a rational approach to the complex problems facing the nation with as little effort to claim personal credit for their solution. The widespread belief among his colleagues that Senator Taft has the most alert mind in a Senate notable for outstanding people has gained renewed confirmation from the brilliance of his fight to preserve what was good and to modify what was faulty in the Labor-Management Act of 1947.

YEAR!

It took four or five columns of explanations in one of the great daily papers of the city to bring the issues covering the labor act down to date.

Everybody knows that the defeat in the Senate for the President was a knock-out. From there, th eproblem branches out to a conclusion that Senator Taft is the fair-haired boy who gained the support of the Senate and gave President Truman a thrashing he will not forget.

President Truman strikes out again in hopes for better luck. In short, Washington views the whole fight as a victory for Taft. Republican leaders are ready to hail him as their candidate for the Presidency.

Well, no matter what you think of either one of these illustrious gentlemen, the fact remains that President Truman talks through his hat a good deal of the time while Taft stands flat-foot for the National issues he supports. He is as convincing in his judgment and argument that he wins on his merits as a statesman. And this prompts us to ask you: Is Mr. Truman a statesman or just a lucky politician?

Sylvester Says:

"Meet your government [illegible]."

You may be supporting your wife, children, a mother-in-law, and perhaps Aunt Lucy's nephew. But don't forget the man your taxes support. Every 9 workers in the U. S. pay the income for 1 government employee and his family.

Let me ask it: How far will your paycheck stretch?

Eastwood Adventists Go To Camp

The Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church will be represented by approximately 200 members at the denomination's annual statewide camp meeting held at Mt. Vernon July 7 to 17.

The local pastor, Richard T. Minesinger, has been designated as a member of the camp hospitality committee and will have supervision of the large pavilion. He will also speak at several of the meetings. In company with other Adventist ministers of the state, he has been on the grounds for the past two weeks to help in the work of pitching tents and setting up camp.

Approximately 4000 are expected to attend the camp meeting. It is held on the campus of Mt. Vernon Academy, the denomination's secondary school for this state. Campers live in the dormitory rooms, in tents and in the surrounding community. The school's cafeteria will be in operation for the campers.

The camp program will include a full schedule of devotional studies and special features. Activites and programs are planned for each age group. Addresses will be given by leading church officials from Washington, D. C., and by returned missionaries.

Grandparents who saved their pennies as children to help build a Seventh-Day Adventist mission ship for the South Pacific are looking forward to meeting a Christian native from that area. Pastor Robert Salau, a pidgin English-speaking native and son of a former head hunter of the Solomon Islands, will be at the Ohio camp meeting July 12-17 and will be a special feature of the meetings. The rescue squads organized by this Christian native are credited with saving the lives of over 500 servicemen during the war who were shot down into the sea and in sinking vessels.

FARMER-LABOR ALLIANCE FOR DEMS?

Whatever some folks in and out of Washington may think of the Truman administration, the plain fact is that the Republican leadership is, rapidly awakening to a realization that there are some very shrewd brains functioning behind the scene within the Democratic Party. The coalition of farmers and labor developed by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the Dems to a series of political victories in major elections from 1932 through 1948, and the Des Moines conference coupled with the Brannan Agricultural Plan furnish convincing evidence that the same line of planning is still being pushed for all its possibilities by the brain trust.

No one has ever succeeded in maintaining this kind of alliance for so long a period before, and it remains to be seen whether or not the heavy farm area vote for the Democrats in 1948 represents a loss for the Republicans of a section long regarded as sure-fire conservative and traditionally G.O.P. Whatever the analysis of voting trends may ultimately reveal, it is clearly time for the Republican leadership in Washington to present its own viewpoint on a farm program which will maintain farm income on a high level. A policy of frenzied and masterly inactivity will get the G.O.P. precisely nowhere in 1950.

BATTLE ON BUSINESS — WHAT TIMING?

The New Deal fight on the nation's businessmen was front page news for years. It was tactfully soft pedaled during the war years when every industrialist suddenly became a great friend of the administration, and dollar a year men were heroes in the capital.

Now the respite is over, and the war against business is on again. General Motors, United States Rubber and the Du Ponts have been named as defendants in giant lawsuits filed by the anti-trust division of the government. Whatever may be the merits or demerits of the actions, the question of their timing is still of great moment. Mr. Truman refuses to recognise it, but the nation's leading economists, including the Federal Reserve Banking system, say that we are in a definite business recession. There is disagreement as to the depth reached by this trend to date, but the evidence is mounting that [illegible] are going to get worse before they get better.

To pick a time like this, with uncertainty [illegible] us, with our economic strength a matter of life or death not only to the nation itself, but to the entire world as well, to begin a fight on the country's biggest producers would appear to be the height of folly. It may make headlines, but it certainly does not help to make jobs.

"China's Communists will want educational institutions so much that they cannot for the present afford to disrupt the American Christian universities (of which there are 13 in China)," Dr. Henry Smith Leiper, of the World Council of Churches, has informed the United Board for Christian Colleges in China. "We have either to decide to stick at the job as long as possible, even under the difficulties and uncertainties which are inevitable, or run away and leave the impression that we do not have either enough faith in our cause or enough patience and determination to make sacrifices for it." The Association reports that despite uncertain political conditions in China, faculties and student bodies are still on the job.

Sifferlin Demands Barthalow Resign

Re-run because of improper set-up.

Herbert A. Sifferlin

On Wednesday, June 29, Herbert A. Sifferlin, 136 E. Whittier St., candidate for City Auditor sent the following request to the City Council asking the resignation of R. P. Barthalow, the present City Auditor.

* * *

Hon. Joseph R. Jones, President
Columbus City Council
City Hall
Columbus, Ohio

Dear Mr. Jones and Members of City Council:

May I respectfully call to the attention of the members of City Council that there is now in progress an investigation of the office of City Auditor R. P. Barthalow, relative to the unlawful practice of using the Auditor's Office as a "collection agency" for a Columbus credit jewelry firm.

The payroll records of the auditor's office will reveal that over a period of time deductions were made from the salaries of city employes to reimburse the jewelry firm for items purchased by the employes.

The method of making each deductions from salaries of some employes, who only had small salaries due them for reasons of absence caused by sickness, etc., should also be of vital concern to your august body. I have been informed that on several occasions, certain employes were unable to furnish their families the necessities of life because of these ill-timed and questionable deductions from their salaries.

Due to the fact the present City Auditor R. P. Barthalow is directly responsible for these questionable activities in his office, and that the investigation should be permitted to proceed without the hinderance of his presence, I feel that it is incumbent upon the City Council to request Mr. Barthalow's resignation immediately, with the provision that he be reinstated if the investigation does not prove overt acts on his part.

This request is made to you in the best interest of the public, and to restore the confidence of the people in our Democratic form of government. It would, indeed, be a sad comentary on the fair name of our great city if a petty public official is permitted to commercialize a public office with the sanction of the legislative body.

In view of these facts, gentlemen of the council, may I respectfully implore that you give this request your serious consideration and immediate action.

Sincerely,
Herbert A. Sifferlin

Columbus, Ohio

The South Side Booster exposed the jewelry racket a year ago this week in an article in that issue and we are quoting that article verbatism.

"Ever since the advent of entering the City Auditor's Office as it's head, R. Pierre Barthalow has used his office as a collection agency for the benefit of a large Credit Jewelry Co. and a large Health and Accident Association.

Over a period of the last four weeks, we find entered on the pay roll sheets, an average of 63 people who had deductions taken from their pay checks of from $2 to $15 each, for the benefit of The Jewelry Company alone. All of these people were employes of the City Street Cleaning Department.

On the City Engineering Payroll, we found numerous deductions for the benefit of both of these concerns.

Personally, we didn't investigate other city department payrolls. But, it is only natural to presume, that other departmental payrolls had deductions for both the large credit company and the large Health and Accident Ass'n.

What we would like to know is, does the large Credit Jewelry Co. or the large Health and Accident Ass'n., pay anything for this service to the City Auditor's Office.

If they do pay, who do they pay? R. Pierre Barthalow, some one in the City Auditor's office, or the City Treasurer?

Again, if they do pay, how much is charged for these services?

If they don't pay for this collection service, why don't they pay? Why if they don't pay for this service why is this service only rendered for two business concerns and not any other of the many business concerns of our city?

Just to be sure that they were not collecting this money for garnishments, we went to the Municipal Court records and there was only one garnishee against a city employee as of Wednesday, July 14.

Personally, we believe that the City Auditor's Office, on City Employees time, has no right to collect for any business concern as the city's expense.

We will appreciate any answers that City Auditor R. Pierre Barthalow, cares to make about this article and print the same for his and our reader's benefit.

But personally, we believe that little R. Pierre Barthalow will be as quiet as a mouse.

We do not believe City Council is aware of this situation. We suggest that they appoint an investigating committee, for the purpose of investigating, this situation."

NEVER ANSWERED

Through this exposure and subsequent articles the city administration ordered Barthalow to discontinue jewelry collections. Which he did after waiting almost six months on January 1, 1949.

Barthalow has never answered the South Side Booster's article printed above.

Normal charge for credit jewelry collections are 8 percent.

Since the approximate sales of the credit jewelry firm to City Employees was $1,000 per week. Then the normal collection savings should have been $80 per week

We are still asking who got this money, or was it done by the Auditor's Office free?

The annual basket picnic given by the members of Corpus Christi parish will be held on Sunday, July 17, at Y Park. It is planned as an all-day affair.

The picnic is planned under the direction of committees from the various societies. Contests have been planned for both young and old. Free lemonade and coffee will be served from noon until 2 p.m. and in the evening from 5 to 6 o'clock. Those attending are asked to bring their own cups and pitchers. Sandwiches, ice cream and soft drinks will be available on the grounds all day.

All present and former members of the parish and their friends are invited to attend.

St. Pauls To Break Ground

The big day for the members of the St. Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church, 221 E. Gates St., will come Sunday when they will break ground for the big new addition to their church.

The financing of St. Paul's has been taken care of largely through the efforts of the late Edward Trautman.

Ground breaking will start promptly at 10:30 a.m. with Rev. Paul Kaefer turning the first spade full of dirt.

This should indeed be a happy day for the congregation which has outgrown its facilities.

The St. Pauls congregation was organized in 1906.

They moved into the present site immediately which was purchased from the German Shooting Club. The building being about eighty years old.

During the forty-one years, they had only five pastors the present pastor, Rev. Paul Kaefer, is in his 22nd year with the church.

The shovel for the ground breaking was presented to the pastor by the Columbus Chapter Loyal Order of Moose.

Rev. Paul Kaefer extends a cordial welcome to his friends and all South Side Organizations to be present at the ceremonies.

Church Services will continue to be held in the present building.

The erection of the new St. Paul's Church will be in charge of the architect Gen. Stegmiller.

Mention the Booster To Your Merchant

"It's Ten To One"

It's ten to one, if you're happy,
You can make others that way too.
For a pleasing air will drive away care
And is refreshing as the morning dew.

Happy smiles are contageous
Because they quickly spread all around.
It's ten to one, you'll find the sun
If you wear one instead of a frown.

It doesn't take too much effort
To smile, tho you may be in no mood.
When you're at ease, you better please
Then, when your actions tend to be rude.

Now, I'm not a gambling fellow
Nor is betting a pasttime of mine.
But I'll bet ten to one
When all's said and done
Your smile will bring joy if given the time.

Enlists 'Tract Distributors'

The American Tract Society (21 W. 46th St., New York, N. Y.), which annually distributes millions of Christian leaflets, booklets and tracts throughout the nation, is now in the process of enlisting 100,000 "tract distributors," each pledged "to give one tract to someone each day and to pray definitely for the recipient." In this manner the Society hopes to increase its work by several million tracts per year. Dr. Henry G. Perry executive secretary is in charge of the movement.

Await American Sponsors

Dr. Stanley I. Stuber chairman of the campaign which Church World Service is waging to resettle displaced persons in American communities under the guidance and care of Protestant churches, reports a sharp rise in the number of DP's arriving under its auspices. From May 1 to June 11, 773 DP immigrants, assigned to CWS arrived; and there are assurances received from churches (assurances of jobs, homes, and welcome by communities) for 1,539 more. But there are still thousands of persons of all faiths in the DP camps of Europe, awaiting only American sponsors, Dr. Stuber says.

Erect Memorial Hospital

The world-famed Chandag Heights Leper Colony, which was organized more than fifty years ago high in the Himalaya Mountains of India by the late and sainted Mary Reed, a Methodist missionary, is now in charge of Dr. Katherine Young, of the Scottish Church Missions. The American Mission to Lepers, and its associated Mission in London, are erecting a Mary Reed Memorial Hospital at Chandag Heights in honor of the founder who died there at the age of 88 in 1948. It is one of three mission-supported leper colonies in India under the auspices of the Methodist Church.

Reformation Day—October 30

Protestant churches of all denominations across the nation will be marking "Reformation Day" on October 30 with special services and united community mass meetings. Sermons for the day will note the causes of the Reformation, the meaning of Protestantism for the year 1949, and the need for unity among Protestant forces. Within the last few years there has been a growing consciousness of Protestantism's distinct point of view and teachings. Most churches are endeavoring by educational means to inform their members of the meaning of their distinctive beliefs.

There are 176 missionaries of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church still in service in China, despite the fact that seven annual conferences served by the Church (covering north China and the Shanghai areas) are in communist control, Dr. Frank T. Cartwright, associate secretary of the Board, reports. Of the total number of missionaries, 88 are representatives of the Board's Division of Foreign Missions, and 88 are women missionaries of the Woman's Division of Christian Service. Only thirty-two missionaries have been evacuated to the United States because of the political conditions, and most of these are mothers with young children, he says. "The Christian witness is still being lived and preached in China," adds Dr. Cartwright. "The work of Christian schools, hospitals and churches goes forward with surprisingly little hindrance. Methodist missionaries inside communist territory are allowed to move freely in the cities of their residence, but with few exceptions they are not yet free to travel to other cities in the countryside.'

In calling the 13th quadrennial World Convention on Christian Education to meet in Toronto, Canada, August 10 to 16, 1950, the president of the World Council of Christian Education—Lord Mackintosh of Halifax — says: "The years since 1936 (when the last convention was held) have been long and bitter and filled with anxiety and pain, furits of ignorance and sin. Man has used his genius to release nature's enormous powers, but these have been turned to the enslavement of body and mind. Idealism without God has become the weapon of fanatics. Even man's understanding of man has become a tool for cruelty and oppression. The very meeting of East and West has become the occasion of suspicion and conflict. But even in these dark times, God has not left himself without witnesses. Men have kept the faith. Christ has been proclaimed with joyous and steadfast devotion. There has come into the Universal Church a new sense of world-wide unity in Him who 'is the revelation of what God is and what man through Him become' . . . . The purpose of this Convention is to extend and strengthen Christian Education throughout the world, that always and everywhere in their daily lives children, young people, and adults will manifest in word and deed their allegiance to Jesus Christ as Teacher and Lord." Five thousand delegates are expected to attend from 75 nations and every continent.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank "Dude Ranch" Koch

If you happen to be in the vicinity of Brevort Lake and decide to fish and see a rod and reel shoot past your boat in the water; don't think you're seeing things for it's probably the real thing. Judge "J. D." Erskine from Allenville, Mackinac County, tells about a tourist at the Massey House "hooking a big Muskie on July 4th that nearly cost him his life." The fish, after being hooked, dived under the boat and upset it. It's a good thing the water was only 5 ft. deep at that point. The fish got away with Hook, Line and Rod. Wonder what the thing weighed? Hm, Hm.

Billy Massey, the 24-year-old youngster who owns the Massey House at Brevort Lake, has been pretty ill with diabetes, but is much improved at "J. D.'s" last writing. We hope he gets back in the groove very soon. His son, Lawrence, is doing a grand job of running the Hotel this season, according to Bob Dingledine, Jr. and Leo Lewis and Ed Miller, who are back in Columbus after an extensive stay at the "House" and "Dude Ranch."

From Gros Cap, a small fishing village west of St. Ignace, bypassed by the new Scenic Highway along the Straits of Mackinac and Lake Michigan, comes this interesting bit of news: "The highest temperature in June was 86.5° on June 30. The lowest was 28° on June 8th. We could use some of that HIGH stuff right here in Columbus. The LOW, however, wouldn't fit in here at the present time, for we have our topcoats in mothballs.

Here's a tip from Yours Truly that might be of value to you if and when you visit the U.P. Don't seek too much information from the natives around Gros Cap if you happen to become lost. Consult your road map! If your road map doesn't show these side roads and trails, why not write me, c/o South Side Booster, and, for one buck ($1.00) we can furnish you with one of our own maps showing all of these trails, etc. We drew it while on a Michigan State Tax Survey. The information contained in this map was collected in the "Field" while remapping Mackinac and Chippewa counties. We were mapping for the State of Michigan at the time. So, if you care to have this "Blown-Up" map of that small portion of "The Gateway to the North," shown on your roadmap, drop us a line and a Dollar.

The Gros Cap scribe writes and I quote: "I hear that Eleanor DeForest gave directions to her uncle how to get to Brevort Lake from Gros Cap and they came out in the Third Ward in St. Ignace." (Castle Rock). See how important a detailed map of that area would have helped? Compasses are nice things to have around if you care to brave the heavy timber, also.

Here's news from the Mackinac (pronounced Mackinaw) Conservation Club of which Yours Truly is a member: "Mackinac County's Conservation Club was signally honored at the Michigan United Conservation Club's Convention at Charlevoix (Lower Peninsula) on June 16, 17, 18, 19, according to H. L. Taylor and George Michalka delegates attending the meet.

"Out of 200 clubs in the State; five were given honors for outstanding work in Conservation, and Mackinac County was one of those foremost five," Michalka said. "Many local folks do not realize the outstanding work of our Conservation club which benefits Mackinac County. We want everyone to enjoy the club as he can and invite all members and prospective members to attend our next meeting, which will be in September."

Like the Scioto Preservation Club, of which I am also a member, the Mackinac Club dispenses with meetings during the summer months. The last meeting I attended in Mackinac County was October 1948, and on one point on the floor at the time, George Michalka broke in and remarked (after listening to a heated argument on local stuff (up there)): "I think we should change the name of our club to The Mackinac 'Conversation' club instead of 'Conservation' Club."

On this point I half agreed. But it only goes to show that we in the Upper Peninsula and foremost Mackinac County will fight to see that Conservation is carried out to the letter!

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

OUTDOOR MEAL

Meat loaf with a layer of dressing—for an outdoor meal.

By BETTY NEWTON

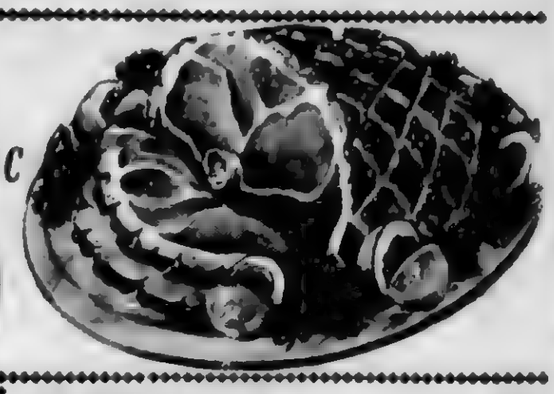
In this warm weather it is especially wise to choose foods that can be cooked and served in the same dish. Then they can be taken to the back yard or the front porch. It would be possible to make and bake these foods at home and take them along to the cottage. They would be the backbone for a week-end's meals.

Ribbon Meat Loaf

Meat:
2 lbs. ground beef
½ C. minced onion
Salt
Pepper
½ C. milk
1 egg
Horseradish
Dry mustard

Filling:
2 C. soft bread crumbs
½ C. minced onion
1 tsp. poultry seasoning
1½ tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. hot water

Combine first 6 ingredients in a bowl. Divide in half. Place one-half in the bottom of a 9 x 9" pan or a large loaf pan. Mix the filling and spread it over the meat. Cover with the second layer of meat. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour (or longer if a deep pan is used). Cut in squares or thick slices and serve hot or cold.



Big Chocolate Cake

½ C. soft butter
1 lb. brown sugar (2½ C., firmly packed)
2 eggs, beaten
2 sq. chocolate, melted
½ C. buttermilk
1 tsp. vanilla
2½ C. sifted cake flour
½ tsp. salt
1 C. boiling water
2 tsp. soda

Light the oven, set at 375 degrees. Cream the butter, gradually add sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat hard. Stir in melted chocolate, then buttermilk and vanilla. Gradually add cake flour sifted with salt, beating thoroughly after each addition. Last of all, stir soda into boiling water and stir into batter. Pour the extremely thin batter into a greased 9 x 12 x 2 inch pan and bake at 375 degrees for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake about 30 minutes longer, until done. Leave cake in pan if you wish; or turn out on rack to cool, then put back into its pan; frost if desired.

A SQUEAK FROM THE RAILS

Admittedly the railroads are having hard times—but they always know what to do whether they are right or wrong.

Evidently they haven't shown any enthusiasm over the action of the Government, which alleges it was overcharged 2 billion dollars by the railroads for movement of troops and other personnel and shipping during World War II.

Believe it or not, the railroads are supported by the Railroad Brotherhood, Chambers of Commerce, and others in many places. The City of Seattle has a "traffic association" and it ties in with the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, to intervene in behalf of the railroads.

As usual, the railroads complain that they are being abused. That is their old, bold method and practice which in the end has usually won out with compound interest for the railroad associations.

WORLD PROBLEMS

The problems of World trade have been explained in a short item in the New York Times to which credit is given for the following editorial comment:

"The most important fact in post-war World economics is this: The United States, rich in resources and highly productive, has been selling to other Nations more than it buys from them. The result has been a chronic dollar shortage abroad. The other Nations have been unable to obtain enough dollars, through sales to the United States, to pay for the goods they need from the United States.

"To deal with this problem the Marshall Plan was launched in April, 1948. Its basic aim was to promote the economic recovery of Western Europe so as to stem the advance of Communism. It sought to do so by granting dollars to sixteen Western European Nations in order (1) to tide them over their immediate dollar deficits, and (2) to help them reconstruct to the point where they could eliminate most of their dollar deficits by selling more in dollar markets. The target date for completion of the plan was June 30, 1952."

RISE AND FALL OF COMMUNISM
J. E. Jones

The United States has furnished relief for England. That country now boasts that everybody has jobs. Britain will adjust itself to a World of competition and that will lower America's Marshall Plan expenses.

If the United States Congress has its way our Government will soon be building homes for low income families, veterans, farmers and civilians. Our National Administration says that about $8,800,000,000 will be paid out in subsidies for help that will furnish enough different kinds of houses for almost all of our American people.

And low income families are encouraged to believe that more than 800,000 public housing apartments and row houses are to be built and rented at approximately $30 a month. Local agencies that want to build houses and operate the buildings will get tremendous subsidies over the next quarter of a century.

Farmers will be able to get loans for building or modernizing farm homes, in sums of about $2,-600 per family. That will be in charge of Government loans.

The Government agencies will lower the cost of housing and make it possible for small bidders to share in the plans developed in Congress.

The indications are that Congress will authorize more than $12 billion dollars on housing for the people of our country. And, as we said in the beginning the United States Government will furnish enough different kinds of houses for almost all of our American people. That will chloroform Communism in the United States.

MAD POLITICIANS ALWAYS COOL DOWN

While most people have been cocerned about the confusion regarding questions and quarrels between the politicians in Washington, who—sorry to relate—have been devoting too much time to strikes forced upon the Government, the wheels of PROGRESS are beginning to turn rather slowly. The American people must have cheaper money, easier credit, and a determination to put the American economic system in motion.

And believe it or not Russia will not be able to stall progress throughout the World indefinitely—in truth, we offer herewith a prediction that the year 1949 may end ALL war scares; and also we believe the World will outlaw Russia and its disreputable Communists.

It has been a long, long road that civilized Nations have traveled to conquer Russia. But they are losing ground every day in the year. Stalin misrules ALMOST ALONE.

"PORK BARREL"

Former President Hoover has appealed to Congress to eliminate "pork barrel" features from Aid to Education and to crash down possible "dictatorship" interests in pending legislation.

Mary Lou Palermo Is Captain

Mary Lou Palermo

Mary Lou Palermo is captain of the Columbus girls in the present Roller Derby at Red Bird Stadium which runs through July 20. Columbus is going against Brooklyn.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "The Stratton Story" starring James Stewart. In this picture new greatness comes to the screen in a compelling triumphant story of a man struck down by overwhelming tragedy. Laughter and tears, romance and heartaches, tragedy and a man's refusal to quit. They're all here and they're all true in this gripping, thrill packed saga of a hero among modern men, also on the bill is "Trails End," with Johnnie Mack Brown.

SUNDAY ANLY AT THE VICTOR

"CANADIAN PACIFIC"
Randolph Scott & Jane Wyant

"Barkleys Of Broadway" At Southland

Ginger Rogers and Jacques Francois, romantic French actor making his American debut in "The Barkleys of Broadway," showing Sunday through Tuesday at the Southland Theatre. The second feature will be "Gun Smugglers" starring Tim Holt.

A Great Baseball Story At Southland

One of the great American stories comes to the screen again in "The Pride of the Yankees," now showing through Saturday at the Southland Theatre. It is the story of a boy from the tenements, a son of emigrants, who rose to fame beyond his dreams. Lou Gehrig, baseball's immortal hero, is played by Gary Cooper; Teresa Wright is seen as Eleanor whose love he won, and who lived through the strange events that ended his great, brilliant career.

The supporting cast includes Walter Brennan, Virginia Gilmore, Babe Ruth, and many others. The second feature is "Tall in the Saddle" starring John Wayne and Ella Raines.

Roller Derby At Stadium

There is little question what annual event is at once a top sport and a real amusement. It is of course the Roller Derby, which shows nightly at the Red Bird Stadium through July 20.

It is a sport because two hand-picked teams of five each are picked and they really battle it out for honors, with advantage sometimes going to the "Columbus" team and sometimes to the visitors picked for opposition.

It is an amusement because of the spectacular nature of the goings-on and because of the flares of temper that develop among the skaters when an opponent gets rough. This is especially true of the feminine contingent. You may have seen a female on the warpath, maybe in your own home, but you ain't seen nothin' yet until you have seen Midge Brashun get riled. When "Toughie" gets on her fightin' garb sparks really begin to fly. Of course she is a brilliant skater, too, and that goes for a number of other girls. There will be four teams, two men's teams and two of the women.

Tickets may be bought downtown at Heaton's or, after the Derby starts, at the stadium box office.

Russell Shows "South of St. Louis"

"South of St. Louis" with Joel McCrea and Alexis Smith will be the feature picture at the Russell Theater this Sunday and Monday. This is a technicolor historical western which deals with the smuggling of arms from Mexico to the Confederate army. It is a mighty drama bursting with the glory of America's most exciting days. Also showing is Hollywood Barn Dance with Ernest Tubb. "Cheyene Cowboy" is also on the playbill.

Mr. Birkhimer on WRFD Sunday

Mr. Fred Birkhimer, 939 Linwood Ave., will be on the Sunday program of "Feast for the Old Folks" on WRFD at 3:00 P. M. This program is to benefit the aged who are in the various homes. Every Sunday a different home is the recipient of the gifts. The public is invited to listen and also to send gifts to the particular home designated on the program.

Gifts which the old folks can use or eat are asked for. Some suggestions are tobacco jellies, preserves, canned goods and handkerchiefs.

Coroner Creek At Ideal Theater

The Ideal Theater presents Coroner Creek with Randolph Scott and Margaret Chapman this Sunday.

This western technicolor picture is the story of a man's unswerving desire for revenge in a mighty drama of America's westward surge. It is a picture of courage and adventure. The second picture is "Frolic on Ice," featuring the sensational stunt skater, Irene Dare. News and Cartoon completes the bill.

Purple Hearts Plan Picnic

The Annual Family Picnic of the Capt. Colin P. Kelly Chapter 148 Military Order of the Purple Heart will be held July 15th (Friday) at Maple Shades Picnic Grounds, 1506 Demorest Road, 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. Plans will also be completed for the flower (Viola) drive which will take place Saturday, August 13th in downtown Columbus. Commander George S. Dean, Chairman; Auxiliary Commander Christine Cormack, co-chairman.

Mothers Variety Club To Hold Meeting

Mother's Variety Club met for the final meeting of the summer vacation at the home of Mrs. Ella Fredrick, 678 Grant Ave., for a business meeting and luncheon. A donation was given to one of the members on account of sickness.

The annual picnic will be held July 31st at Behm's Farm. Bring your baskets.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

THE House of Representatives this week passed the public housing and slum clearance bill, which I supported in the Senate. This bill has been subjected to the most violent attacks which entirely misrepresent the character of the bill.

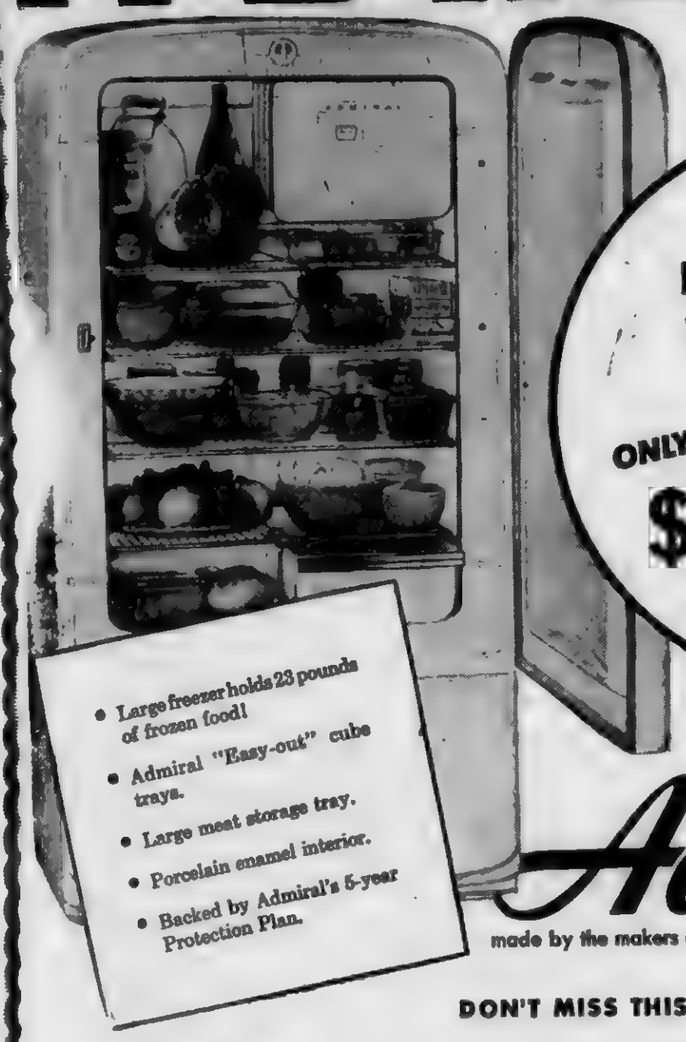
The housing problem is about the most difficult economic problem we have today. It arises out of the high cost of housing. There are probably 20 million families in the United States who can't afford to pay the rent or carrying charges on new houses built at present costs. The building industry has priced itself out of the mass market. Of course, most of the lower income families find old houses in good condition at rents they can pay, but a considerable number in the lowest range can afford to pay only such low rents that the landlords can't pay taxes and expenses and still keep the property in decent repair. That's what makes slums.

This same slum creation has been going on under private enterprise for the last hundred years. It is just one of those defects which justifies some government remedy.

* * *

THIS bill gives help to cities to tear down the old slums. It provides a subsidy for those unable to pay an adequate rent on the basis of which subsidy local communities can borrow the money to build public housing so that new slums will not take the place of the old slums destroyed.

I have always been for a public housing program since before I was elected to the Senate. This is not a new program, but merely continues that which was inaugurated in 1937. It should not be confused with the vast government war housing program. It is not socialism any more than giving free medical care to poor people through public general hospitals is socialism.



England and the United States have always recognized the interest of the state in providing a decent minimum standard of living in food, clothing, medical care and education for those unfortunate enough not to be able to pay for it in full themselves. Housing is only an extension of the same principle to decent shelter which certainly is absolutely necessary if the children in a family are to have anything like equality of opportunity.

* * *

THE bill is entirely different, for instance, from the so called national health insurance which proposes to socialize and nationalize all medical care and the medical profession. That bill taxes the people 6 billion dollars a year and promises free medical care to all, including those who can afford to pay for it. This housing bill is not a federal program, but one of aid to the States and cities to be used by them only if they desire it. It does not scatter government service to the entire population at huge cost, but only to those who cannot, by any other means, obtain decent housing. Altogether, government housing may cost the federal government 250 million dollars a year for the duration of the program, which will be about forty years. That seems a small items for such an important thing as housing in a federal budget of $42 billion. The Armed Forces alone are spending about $15 billion a year, or fifty times the annual cost of this program.

If the localities take full advantage of the program, they will borrow and spend $1 billion a year in public housing construction during the next six years. Private industry is spending about $7 billion a year, so that it will still provide by far the greater portion of all the homes. It is no reflection on private industry to say that it never has and probably never will meet the serious low income problem in the housing field.

Miss Jean Howerton Wed Recently

White imported Chantilly lace over skinner's satin distinguished the gown selected by Miss Jean Howerton for her wedding to Mr. Sheldon L. Craig.

Dr. Samuel R. Dunham solemnized the service June 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Oakwood Methodist Church before an altar decorated with white gladioli, palms and candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Howerton, 1090 Siebert St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Craig, 404 Chittenden Av.

Featuring the bridal gown was a sheer yoke forming a broad sweetheart effect, bordered with a beaded design of seed beads and pearls. The basque bodice complimented the circular skirt which ended in a cathedral train and was high-lighted in back by a peplum of matching lace. The long sleeves came to points over her hands. A lace sweetheart hat trimmed in orange blossoms held the fingertip veil of imported illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Phyllis Alban, wore a white organdy dress over yellow taffeta, while the bridesmaids, Mis Jeanne Ashton and Miss Nancy Hope, wore white organdy over lime green. They carried arm bouquets of daisies. White organdy gloves and natural straw hats completed their attire.

Mr. Gene Satchell was best man. Guests were seated by Mr. James Howerton, brother of the bride, Mr. Keith Pickard and Mr. Donald Cain of Cincinnati.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Hostesses were Miss Carol Weatherington and Miss Jean Vrugits.

The new Mrs. Craig is a graduate of South High School and is employed by International Harvester Co. Mr. Craig is a graduate of North High School and is a student in the college of engineering at Ohio State University.

The couple is living at 749 E. Broad St., Apt. 8.

Steelton Merchants To Send Boys To Camp

The Steelton Merchants Ass'n at its regular monthly meeting on July 12 voted to send from four to six boys to camp for a week.

This is one of the ways this fine group spends the money received from the Steelton Merchants Carnival.

These boys will be picked from St. Stephens and South Side Settlement Community Houses and will include boys who can not afford to go to camp.

These boys will be the type of youngsters who need a week in the country.

Thus again, the Steelton Merchants Ass'n is promoting a community need.

When you go to the Steelton Merchants Carnival your dimes and quarters are helping the youth of the South Side.

A Few Comments 4th July Celebration

We think some of you South Siders would like to hear what some people thought of the dedication of Southview Park on the 4th of July and the fire works display which followed.

Said Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ariedge of Circleville, O., "a fine fireworks display, heavy traffic well directed by both police and scouts."

Said Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Miller, "The best firework display we have ever seen."

Said Mrs. Harry Sherman, "a wonderful entertainment, much better than Schiller Park."

The Herrel Family said, "after the disappointment of Franklin, your display at Southview Park was very much appreciated."

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kaderly of Galloway, O., said, "The display of fireworks and program on July 4 at Southview Park was the best we have seen in Columbus."

Ed. Remarks:—The South Side should be proud of their annual 4th of July Celebration. We doubt if the people of the community realize just how much work is necessary to prepare for such a celebration. Mr. C. L. Lensenmeyer and his committee who were in charge of preparations for the Council of South Side Organizations, did a wonderful job!

We hope they make him permanent chairman of all future 4th of July celebrations.

Letters To The People

Editor of the Booster

Columbus Citizens and the whole South Side turned out to the 4th of July Grand Celebration at the New Southview Park. The Council of South Side Organizations and the South Side Booster should be congratulated for such a wonderful job they have completed. The writer has visited many of these celebrations but found nothing to equal this one.

Good Luck to the Booster and all those that have spent their valuable time to make this such a wonderful success.

Yours,
Jos. J. Hellenthal

Moves To Eliminate Parsons Bottleneck

Walter Snider, our member of City Council from the South Side, has suggested an ordinance to that group to remove two bottle necks in Parsons Ave.

The bottle necks to be removed are from E. Broad St. to E. Town St. and from E. Main St. to E. Fulton St.

This would be done by prohibiting parking on the East side of Parsons Ave. from 8 a.m. to 6 p. m.

This we believe would be a good move temporarily.

We believe the permanent solution would be the widening of Parsons Ave. by taking three feet off the sidewalk on each side of the street which would provide another lane for traffic.

Heimandale Grove Sold Recently

Heimandale Grove on Groveport Pike, just north of the city limits, which prior to a few years ago was the scene of many outings which will be remembered by the old-timers of Columbus, was sold during the past week by the Heimandale Realty Company, 16 East Broad Street, to Joe Swartz, of 350 Eastmoor Boulevard.

Mr. Swartz plans to offer for sale the already platted lots at the north end of the grove. His plans for improving the grove are indefinite at this time, but he hopes that the park will be in readiness for the 1950 season. This park is close to Columbus and would no doubt be again a favorite gathering place.

J. E. Powell and E. W. Abicht, Real Estate Brokers with offices at 1086 Oakwood Avenue, represented both parties in the transaction.

Chester Vance, Eddie Guyer, Donald Vance, Bob Kertizering and Charlie Johnson, the Boys around the Ideal Sporting Goods Store, who decided to rough it at Big Walnut Creek on their vacation, are home again, and can now really appreciate the advantages and comforts of home.

From what we hear (and I'm sure it was only the mildest part of things that happened) they had some very funny experiences. The first night the boys were all tucked in their hammocks (Eddie in his little cot) when a friendly Owl decided to serenade them. Don Albright couldn't take the eerie sound and got up and dressed and walked the six miles back to town.

Don Vance, while playing around, got hit in the beak by a rock. The boys had to carry him back to camp and put him in his hammock for the rest of the day.

On the fifth morning the boys woke up to find their supplies and equipment floating down stream. Scrambling around in the creek, they saved part of it and decided to pack up and come home. Their car was parked on the opposite side of the creek and so they loaded their boat to cross. While crossing, Chester Vance fell out of the boat and had to wade the rest of the way across. We are told the party caught two small fish in the five days. However, they are getting a lot of fun out of kidding one another about things that happened, so all in all, we take it that the vacation was a big success.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eisels of 771½ Barthman Ave. are the proud parents of a daughter born on July 13th at St. Ann's hospital. Mr. Eisels is a radio operator at Lockbourne air base. Mrs. Eisels and the baby are now home from the hospital and doing nicely. The little girl will be named Sandra Carol.

Has To Bat Fish From Hook

Recently Art Bogen of the Home Furnace Co., Harold Eigensee of Borcher Carpet Cleaning Co., Steve Haban of the Haban Saw Co. and Cap Hoover of the South Side YMCA, took a fishing trip to Collins Inlet near Killarney, Ontario, Canada.

It seems they acquired some nick-names:—Bogen was known as the Snake Catcher, receiving the name for his ability to snag snakes with a hook. Eigensee was known as the Bottom Snagger because of his ability to snag something from the bottom of the lake. Steve Haban was known as the dog catcher because of his ability to catch fish.

Cap Hoover was known as the Fish Batter, because the fish were so anxious to get on his line that he had to keep a ball bat near to hit them so they wouldn't crowd the hook. Cap says he did this because he believes in a single line of traffic to his hook.

Retailers Condemn Wasteful Government

A large retail association, which represents 7,500 merchants in this country and Canada, has appointed a committee to oppose waste and extravagance in government, and to "arouse all retailers to the advantages of the Hoover Commission's report on reorganization of certain government agencies."

The resolution went on to say, "With a probable decline in Federal revenues, the terrific waste and extravagance of government are cause for serious alarm. Therefore, we call upon all members of our trade to insist upon a policy of rigid economy in government."

Retailers know that the kind of waste which characterizes government activity would be fatal if it were allowed to exist in their own business. Competition is getting tougher. Instead of shortages, we have surpluses in many lines. So the retailer must practice strict economy if he is to supply goods at an acceptable price, maintain his standards of service at a high level, and so hold his trade.

It is often argued that government cannot be operated on a business basis. That just doesn't hold water. There is no excuse for having half a dozen costly agencies when one would suffice to do a given job. There is no excuse for the size of the Federal payroll. And there is no excuse for the incredible amount of duplication of effort that is found throughout government in all its branches.

Every retailer—and every other businessman as well—should take part in the fight for efficient, economical government. Only public pressure can bring it about. No bureaucrat will economize unless he is forced to. Billions of our tax money can be saved—if we demand it. Only by cutting down inflated government can we save a free nation and ourselves from destruction by taxation

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

WHEN the Democrats organized the 81st Congress, their first move was a bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act. They asserted loudly a mandate for immediate repeal, although a majority of the Senators and Congressmen who voted in 1947 to override the President were reelected by the people in 1948.

Under violent pressure from labor union officials, the Administration attempted to repeal the Act without hearings, and the Committee reported the repeal bill without even offering an opportunity for amendments. The labor union officials rejected every idea of a compromise and demanded complete repeal or nothing. This had been their propaganda line. They could not afford to discuss details, because most of the features of the Taft-Hartley Act met the definite approval of more than a majority of union members.

Fearful of the result, the Administration delayed the bill for months after the committee report. Senator Smith, Senator Donnell and I considered all the complaints against the Act. Then, instead of repeal, we offered a series of amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act, correcting many features against which labor had publicly complained, but retaining the basic principles of equality between employers and unions, of free collective bargaining, and of legal responsibility on unions and their officials equal to the vast power which union officials have acquired. We offered 28 amendments and corrections to the Taft-Hartley law, all but two in the interest of labor and in answer to their requests.

After a bitter fight on the Senate Floor for four weeks, the Senate adopted our amendments by a vote of 49 to 44. Instead of repealing the Taft-Hartley bill, they amended it to remove every legitimate complaint.

* * *

AT once, we were denounced by union leaders, and every Senator who voted for amendments in the interest of labor was threatened with political extinction by William Green, Philip Murray and A. F. Whitney. Mr. Green sent his imperious orders direct to the Senate and Senator Lucas had them read to the Senate by the Clerk. It is now said that under orders from these officials, the Democratic Party will suppress the bill in the House or, if passed there, the President will veto it.

This would be a complete denial of democratic legislative principles. We can only maintain a republic in this country if legislative proposals are considered on their merits. No group or class can be permitted to enjoy the special privilege of dictating to Congress unless we want to abandon liberty and adopt fascism as our way of life.

In effect these officials are saying: "We would rather have the Taft-Hartley Act in force so we can continue our 'slave-labor' propaganda, instead of having it improved in the interest of labor." They must have exactly the power and privilege they seek without modification or they will purge every Congressman who refuses to obey their orders. Fortunately, the American people have enough common sense to realise that the position now taken by the labor leaders is pure prejudice and not reason, so that the propaganda purge is bound to backfire.

I only wish that some of the union officials who shout so loudly for outright repeal would read the letters I get from the rank and file members of labor unions who support the law. They are particularly interested in the protection against unfair action by their own leaders, against strikes called without reasonable notice, against time wasted and pay lost in jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. They are in favor of financial reports and non-Communist oaths and many other provisions.

* * *

WHAT the union officials are interested in is their own power. They don't talk much about the closed shop and the secondary boycott, because they know they are not very popular. Wise labor leaders have never found these weapons necessary. The closed shop has been forbidden under the Railroad Mediation Act for years. Brandeis, Frankfurter and Franklin D. Roosevelt denounced it as contrary to American ideals. Few men are willing to defend openly the secondary boycott.

Repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act would have restored one-sided special privileges conferred on union officials by the Wagner Act and other laws. It would have made unions and their officials again utterly irresponsible for arbitrary damage which they may cause. It would have given them the power to dominate their own members, to ride high over the public interest and to become the bosses of Congress and of the United States.

"God or Chaos"

Some Communists in Illinois were discussing a new Party member. All agreed that the man under discussion would make a good Communist. One member said, "The mere fact that he goes to church every Sunday shouldn't stop him from joining the party.

"We must explain to him that the Communist Party is a nonsectarian organization and respects all religions. The Soviet Union recognizes religious freedom. Stalin even granted interviews to priests and ministers.

"We must tell him that the fundamental basis of Christianity is Communism. But over the years the capitalists have worked themselves into the church and are using religion for their own purpose. The capitalists now see the writing on the wall and in their desperation will resort to anything. It does not matter what they do; their end is near. We can see it in China, in India, in Palestine, and on the march with the progressive forces all over Europe."

Another group of Communists deliberately set out in an Eastern city to proselyte a respected minister of considerable prominence in the churches of his denomination. Their cynical campaign was successful. In due time, the naive old gentleman was calling himself a "Christian Communist."

Still another Communist group on the Pacific Coast, discussing the problem of recruiting new members agreed that the Party should concentrate on church people who, once recruited, would be instructed to stay in the churches. One comrade, misconstruing the tenor of the discussion and seeking to curry favor, admitted that he had been considering joining a church himself. The presiding Party functionary put this man's thinking straight and brought him back to communist fundamentals by remarking, "To hell with religion. The church is the thing we have to oppose."

The rebuked comrade dorilely knuckled under, as all well-trained Communists do, but attempted to save face with words.

"Yes," he said, "I guess you are right. The Communist Party is a kind of religion, and the Communist Party follows the Ten Commandments in advocating the 'brotherhood of man'."

It is doubtful that he had ever read the Ten Commandments, but he was correct in saying that the Communist Party tries to develop the lie that Communism is a religion.

Worshipers of Materialism

This, in fact, is the real menace of Communism. It is a 'materialistic way of life, inflaming in its adherents fanaticism that can be placated by nothing less than the complete destruction of all creeds except its own. Whether the religion is that of the Christian, Jew or Mohammedan makes no difference. The Communist is against God and the worship of God.

The latest Constitution of the Communist Party, U.S.A., in the very first sentence of its preamble states, "The Communist Party of the United States is the political party of the American working class, basing itself upon the principles of scientific socialism, Marxism-Leninism."

This new constitution means a rededication of the Party to the revolutionary tactics of overthrowing the Government of the United States by force and violence. But what has this to do with religion?

Marx, who coined the phrase, "Religion is the opium of the people," wrote in the Communist manifesto, "...Communism abolishes all religion, and all morality, instead of constituting them on a new basis; it therefore acts in contradiction to all past historical experience."

Marx denied the existence of God and held that atheism could not be separated from the Communist concept. In fact, Marx advocated, "The criticism of religion is the beginning of all criticism."

This was so fundamental that Communism has always held to the conviction that "Atheism is a natural and inseparable part of Marxism, of the theory and practice of scientific socialism."

No religion, denomination or sect has been spared the fury and contempt of the Communists. God is their foe, and God's power over the civilized world is a barrier to their advances.

In America

The American Communist will be quick to answer that the statements I have referred to were made in a foreign country and do not apply to the American brand of Communism. But these statements of Russian Communists were printed in the United States, and their writings have been widely circulated among American Communists.

The American Communists, however, display no originality in their opinions on religion. They take ther cues from the principles of "Marxism-Leninism."

For example, William Z. Foster now head of the American Communist Party, in discussing what would happen if the Communists succeeded in creating a "United Soviet States of America," says, "The churches will remain free to continue their services, but their special tax and other privileges will be liquidated. Their buildings will revert to the state. Religious schools will be abolished and organized religious training for minors prohibited. Freedom will be established for antireligious propaganda . . God will be banished from the laboratories as well as from the schools."

Persecution and Venom

As the followers of Christianity have been the object of Communist persecution and venom, so the believers in the world's oldest religion — Judaism — likewise have been among those singled out for repression and scorn. Truly, Communism is anti-God and against all religions.

The American Communists for a long time soft-pedaled their anti-religious propaganda and sought to ingratiate themselves with religious people by featuring the names of a few prominent Communists who, by tradition, family connections and childhood training, were associated with religious organizations.

The reason the Party has been less articulate on religion in recent years was aptly explained in a recent discussion among Party members. They have recognized, it was stated, that church groups could be of assistance in community campaigns and in furtherance of the Party program. Hence widespread public condemnation in opposition to religion has been discouraged.

Divide and Conquer

The Party today, however, is becoming more open in its stand on religion. A few of their more versatile Communist writers have unlimbered their guns, particularly at the Roman Catholic Church, for a twofold purpose. In the first instance, it is part of the Party line because of the large numbers of Catholics in the satellite countries, and second, being masters of the "divide and conquer" tactic, they hope to divide Christendom and stir up strife between Catholics and Protestants.

The Communists have demonstrated time and again their mastery of deception in injecting their slogans and propaganda into Christian groups on the themes of "peace," "democracy," and to the "poor" and "civil liberties." They are just as facile in dealing with Jewish groups in passing the lie that there is no "anti-Semitism in Russia." To the Jew they say that Palestine is the natural home of the Jews, and to the Mohammedan they deplore Jewish encroachment upon the Arabs. Selling and pandering the hellish hates of Communism, they represent themselves as all things to all people.

Individuals who, if they are not Communists, have followed every twist of the Party's line have defended themselves on the basis of their self-declared nominal affiliation with the Church. When the Catholic War Veterans asked a group of Communists to declare themselves, as laymen in any church have a right to ask a brother, they replied variously from "none of your business" to "the suffering of an individual as a result of such attacks is small compared to the sufferings of Christ."

Many Communist fronts have operated under the guise of some church commission or religious body. It is ghastly to see the monster atheism being nourished in the churches which it seeks to destroy. Church leaders can stop this nefarious infiltration by taking vigorous action in the boards and commissions under church supervision. Individual ministers and church members can avoid being hoodwinked if they will stay close to the fundamentals of their faith. Any minister who cannot find in his Bible sufficient argument for the cause of liberty and social justice—who has to borrow the double-talk of the Communists—is in the wrong profession and should be carefully watched by his official supervisors and his congregation.

Religion is the only force that can save our civilization. Only in religion can men learn to live at peace with one another, because only religion puts total emphasis on serving others rather than self. In the twilight of despair which is settling on so many areas of the earth, we must turn to the Fatherhood of God.

The zeal of early Christians stamped out paganism in Rome and conquered the savage gods of the northern barbarians. That same zeal could convert godless Communism. It is up to the churches of America to recapture the militant spirit of Paul and to fulfill the magnificent prophecy of John:

"And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Candlelight Services Feature Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony, Miss Pearl Gorelich, 1286 Wilson Ave., exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Edwin Rosenfeld, son of Mrs. Sara Rosenfeld of Atlantic City, N. J., and Mr. Bert Rosenfeld of Jacksonville, Fla. The ceremony took place in the Agudath Achim Synagogue at 7:30 p.m. on June 5.

A canopy formed an arbor effect, decorated with southern smilacs, huckleberry, wisteria, palms and ferns and was flanked with several candelabra and huge vases of gladioli, delphinium and baby breath.

The soft candlelight bridal gown was fashioned of brocaded damask satin in classically simple lines. The tight fitting basque bodice had a sheer net yoke. The long sleeves tapered to points over each hand. An inset panel molded the slim waistline and the skirt fell into a full circular train. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was candlelight to match her gown and was edged in a deep row of Alencon lace. It was held in place by a diminutive lace cap, which was trimmed with traditional orange blossoms. She carried a white orchid on a white prayer book.

Miss Natalie Gorelich, the maid of honor, chose a floor-length gown in rose satin, fashioned with a ruffled bateau neckline and heavy cording across the bouffant skirt. Mrs. Sanford Finke, the matron of honor, also wore satin in a soft gold shade with a sweetheart neckline and a draped skirt. The bridesmatron, Mrs. Leonard Gorelich, and the bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Horowitz, wore identical gowns, fashioned of turquoise tissue faille. All four attendants wore matching mitts and flower-trimmed net bonnets. All carried colonial bouquets filled with roses, delphinium and baby breath.

Mr. Rosenthal was attended by Mr. Leonard Gorelich, and the ushers were Mr. Sanford Finke, Mr. Burt Goldenberg and Mr. Maurice Carbin.

Miss Rita Harrison Married To John Seelig

A double ring ceremony united Miss Rita Mary Harrison and Mr. John R. Seelig in marriage at Corpus Christi Church June 18 at 9:30 a.m. The altar was decorated with a background of palms and ferns, four vases of white snapdragons and larkspur, amid seven-branch candelabra.

The bride wore a gown of candlelight satin accentuated by a sheer marquisette yoke outlined with a satin ruffle inset with lace. The long fitted sleeves formed points over each hand. Her full skirt fell into a circular train and her fingertip illusion veil was held in place by a rosepoint lace cap. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Ruth Jane Huisinger of Phoenix, Aria., acted as maid of honor. Her gown was of chartreuse marquisette designed with a sheer marquisette yoke. The basque bodice complimented the extremely full skirt which cascaded over an old-fashioned hoop, matching ruffles on the skirt draped softly to form a back interest. Her open crown picture hat was made of horse hair braid, covered with Chantilly lace which matched her gown. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow tea roses and shattered carnations.

The bridesmaids' gowns and picture hats, in pastel shades, were identical to the maid of honor's, Miss Caroline Joe Harrison, cousin of the bride, wore orchid. Miss Marilyn Seelig, sister of the bridegroom, wore pink. Miss Ruth Ann Higgins' dress was of yellow. Mary Ann Stowell of Pittsburgh, Pa., cousin of the bride, was junior bride and her dress was of white satin, similar to the bride's. Her small colonial bouquet was of white roses. William J. TEMPTING FRUITS

Big fruit salad plate with cottage cheese, individual fruit salad and fruit for dessert.

By BETTY NEWTON

There is no more colorful and tempting dish than one of fresh fruits and berries. Fruits combine well with other foods, such as crab meat, chicken, etc. Once you've had your fill of the fresh fruit and berries, you may want to use them atop ice cream or in dessert sauces.

Luncheon Salad Bowl

1 grapefruit
1 avocado
1 can (7-oz.) crab meat, or ½ lb. fresh crab
1 small head of lettuce, shredded
¼ C. mayonnaise
¼ C. chili sauce

Pare grapefruit and separate into segments. Cut avocado in half, peel, cube, and combine immediately with grapefruit to prevent discoloring. Flake the crab meat coarsely, removing all sharp pieces. Combine all these with shredded lettuce in a bowl, and salt and pepper lightly. Dress with the mayonnaise and chili sauce which have been blended together. Serves 6 to 8 as a first course salad; 4 or 5 as a main dish for luncheon or supper.

Fruit Salad

2 grapefruit
2 oranges
¼ C. pineapple syrup
¼ C. honey
2 slices pineapple
1 pomegranate, if desired

Pare the grapefruit and oranges; remove sections. Add pineapple syrup mixed with honey, and chill several hours. Drain. Cut pineapple slices in pieces and arrange with grapefruit or orange sections in lettuce cups, or in fruit cocktail glasses. Dot with rosy pomegranate seeds. If served as salad, dress with French dressing, and top with a fluff of cream cheese whipped smooth with a little milk. If served as cocktail, simply pour some of the honey and fruit juice over each serving. Makes 6 salads or 10 to 12 cocktails.

The National Security Plan

The National Security Plan, known as the Townsend Plan, which is now before the Ways and Means Committee in Washington D. C. would pay to all people past 60, those who are crippled or blind, widows with children and also the disabled at any age, according to present figures, $156.35 per month. The number of people eligible at the present time is 16,000,000.

This amount per person would be paid from the revenue collected at 2% on all incomes over $250.

If you are interested in this plan, drop a card to Fred Berkheimer, 939 Linwood Ave. or call EV-6548.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank (Dude Ranch) Koch

By Frank "Dude Ranch" Koch

An automobile is a nice thing to have around. It's a luxury of course, but a convenient one. By the same token, a deer rifle is nice to possess also. And you can't say it isn't a luxury, for it is. Some folks rent automobiles, some borrow deer rifles; just everyone doesn't possess the means to own either one, so they're Luxuries. We believe they have a place and use in our daily lives each all its own. The car for pleasure and transportation; the rifle for big game hunting and the pleasure we derive from hunting.

I would like to quote an article in the St. Ignace newspaper concerning game killed by the motorist while traveling along the U.P.'s scenic and well kept highways: "The U.P. conservation officers are burying an increasing number of deer and other wild game killed by vacationers, it is reported by the department of conservation. An occasional collision with wildlife cannot be prevented, but many motorists take no precaution to prevent killing game which at the same time heavily damages their vehicles, the department points out. In a one-night check on the 29 miles between Rudyard and St. Ignace, Conservation Officer Ray Walker counted the following dead game: one deer, 27 rabbits, 3 woodchucks, 2 partridge, 2 porcupines, 2 red squirrels and one muskrat."

As the Conservation department stated "an occasional collision cannot be prevented," but this is Slaughter!

So, let's be a little cautious while driving along the U.P.'s highways and back roads especially, so when we do have a chance to use that deer rifle; there'll be some game left to shoot at!

Just received a letter from Mrs. Bertha Crystal, whom I wrote about recently regarding airplane round trip to Germany. In part she wrote: "I enjoyed my trip very much. The airplane ride sure was interesting, but the people over there sure have a hard time. Such poor food. I got very sick from their food. At last my cousin's wife brought me a part of a white loaf of bread that the British threw out of the window. I was happy to get it to eat. She then told some of the British she had American Company, so they kept me in good home-made bread. I was over there over five weeks and didn't see a good store where I could buy good food. I sure was glad when the plane started back across the Atlantic toward home. My uncle came here last Sunday from over there. He is staying with my brother, Frank Luepnitz. He is very happy. He says he feels as if he is in Heaven. Now he can eat good. He is nearly 89 years old and is in good health. I have an aunt and a lot of cousins who would like to come over. They think we all are 'rich.' They asked me how the work was over here. I told them anyone who wants to work can make a good living in America. They sure are smart and ambitious people and very kind hearted. I got the paper. Thanks. Best regards from B. Crystal."

When we go up north, we will drop in on Mrs. Crystal and see what additional information we can get regarding living conditions in Germany. (The above letter was reproduced just as it was written).

You will recall an article in the "Booster" last November regarding our visit to the "Gateway Jubilee," August 14, 15, and 16. They celebrated the 25th anniversary of the first State (Michigan) Highway's Ferry Boat across the Straits of Mackinac. This year there will be another similar celebration on August 5, 6, and 7. This will be the second annual Strait's Celebration and Pere Marquette Day. A reigning queen will again be selected from a collection of candidates from various parts of the U.P. A second swimming race from British Landing on Mackinac Island to St. Ignace, will be under the direction of Coach Charles McCaffree of Michigan State College. A 32-year-old Swim Champ from Kronk Inst. Detroit won the race last year. He was in the water more than two hours. Out of a field of 22 entrants, only four completed the hazardous trip in the Straits wild waters. Two girls, twins, completed the trip third and fourth, being in the water more than four hours. The swim was the number one highlight of the celebration and promises to be just that this August 5, 6, and 7. There will be boat races all afternoon and flying contests. We cordially invite you to attend.

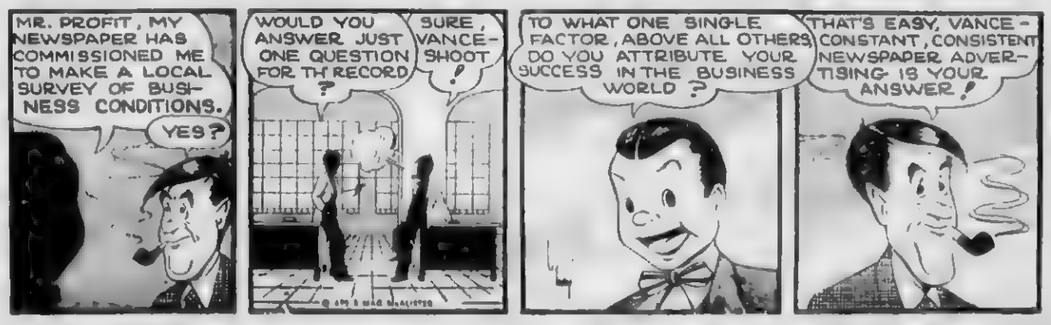
A "Little Bit" Of Socialism

There is a saying to the effect that a "little bit of socialism" is a good thing for a country—that it puts free enterprise on its toes and keeps it humping.

However, having a "little bit of socialism" is much like having a "little touch of leprosy." It always grows and feeds upon itself. And in time it consumes everything that stands in its way.

As an example on June 8 the New York-Telegram carried a revealing news story. It said that "Britain's Labor government served notice that if it wins next year's parliamentary elections it will transform the United Kingdom into a collectivist state as soon as possible." It will demand and undoubtedly enact a law giving the government permanent authority to impose rationing and other such controls. It has marked at least six more major industries for socialization including sugar refining, meat wholesaling, cement making, and various forms of insurance. A high labor spokesman warned that "people must be ready to change their jobs and managements to change their lines of production if the need arises." He said further that private industry must watch its step.

The meaning and intent of all this is certainly clear. If the labor party wins, "a little bit of socialism" will be made all inclusive, and a total, regimented economy established by the government. All the principal instruments of production and employment will become possessions of the state. Labor will be a tool of the state, to be used in what ever way the bosses think best.



It is only a step from this to police state that exists behind the iron curtain. When you have a dictated economy, you eventually have a dictator and lost liberty. Powerful political forces in the United States want us to go the way of Britain, and are using every subterfuge to sell us on a similar program, before the people are aware of the danger.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

WHEN the Democrats organized the 81st Congress, their first move was a bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act. They asserted loudly a mandate for immediate repeal, although a majority of the Senators and Congressmen who voted in 1947 to override the President were reelected by the people in 1948.

Under violent pressure from labor union officials, the Administration attempted to repeal the Act without hearings, and the Committee reported the repeal bill without even offering an opportunity for amendments. The labor union officials rejected every idea of a compromise and demanded complete repeal or nothing. This had been their propaganda line. They could not afford to discuss details, because most of the features of the Taft-Hartley Act met the definite approval of more than a majority of union members.

Fearful of the result, the Administration delayed the bill for months after the committee report. Senator Smith, Senator Donnell and I considered all the complaints against the Act. Then, instead of repeal, we offered a series of amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act, correcting many features against which labor had publicly complained, but retaining the basic principles of equality between employers and unions, of free collective bargaining, and of legal responsibility on unions and their officials equal to the vast power which union officials have acquired. We offered 28 amendments and corrections to the Taft-Hartley law, all but two in the interest of labor and in answer to their requests.

After a bitter fight on the Senate Floor for four weeks, the Senate adopted our amendments by a vote of 49 to 44. Instead of repealing the Taft-Hartley bill, they amended it to remove every legitimate complaint.

* * *

AT once, we were denounced by union leaders, and every Senator who voted for amendments in the interest of labor was threatened with political extinction by William Green, Philip Murray and A. F. Whitney. Mr. Green sent his imperious orders direct to the Senate and Senator Lucas had them read to the Senate by the Clerk. It is now said that under orders from these officials, the Democratic Party will suppress the bill in the House or, if passed there, the President will veto it.

This would be a complete denial of democratic legislative principles. We can only maintain a republic in this country if legislative proposals are considered on their merits. No group or class can be permitted to enjoy the special privilege of dictating to Congress unless we want to abandon liberty and adopt fascism as our way of life.

In effect these officials are saying: "We would rather have the Taft-Hartley Act in force as we can continue our 'slave labor' propaganda, instead of having it improved in the interest of labor." They must have exactly the power and privilege they seek without modification or they will purge every Congressman who refuses to obey their orders. Fortunately, the American people have enough common sense to realize that the position now taken by the labor leaders is pure prejudice and not reason, so that the propaganda purge is bound to backfire.

I only wish that some of the union officials who shout so loudly for outright repeal would read the letters I get from the rank and file members of labor unions who support the law. They are particularly interested in the protection against unfair action by their own leaders, against strikes called without reasonable notice, against time wasted and pay lost in jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. They are in favor of financial reports and non Communist oaths and many other provisions.

* * *

WHAT the union officials are interested in is their own power. They don't talk much about the closed shop and the secondary boycott, because they know they are not very popular. Wise labor leaders have never found these weapons necessary. The closed shop has been forbidden under the Railroad Mediation Act for years. Brandeis, Frankfurter and Franklin D. Roosevelt denounced it as contrary to American ideals. Few men are willing to defend openly the secondary boycott.

Repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act would have restored one-sided special privileges conferred on union officials by the Wagner Act and other laws. It would have made unions and their officials again utterly irresponsible for arbitrary damage which they may cause. It would have given them the power to dominate their own members, to ride high over the public interest and to become the masters of Congress and of the United States.

"God or Chaos"

Some Communists in Illinois were discussing a new Party member. All agreed that the man under discussion would make a good Communist. One member said, "The mere fact that he goes to church every Sunday shouldn't stop him from joining the party.

"We must explain to him that the Communist Party is a nonsectarian organization and respects all religions. The Soviet Union recognizes religious freedom. Stalin even granted interviews to priests and ministers.

"We must tell him that the fundamental basis of Christianity is Communism. But over the years the capitalists have worked themselves into the church and are using religion for their own purpose. The capitalists now see the writing on the wall and in their desperation will resort to anything. It does not matter what they do; their end is near. We can see it in China, in India, in Palestine, and on the march with the progressive forces all over Europe."

Another group of Communists deliberately set out in an Eastern city to proselyte a respected minister of considerable prominence in the churches of his denomination. Their cynical campaign was successful. In due time, the naive old gentleman was calling himself a "Christian Communist."

Still another Communist group on the Pacific Coast, discussing the problem of recruiting new members agreed that the Party should concentrate on church people who, once recruited, would be instructed to stay in the churches. One comrade, misconstruing the tenor of the discussion and seeking to curry favor, admitted that he had been considering joining a church himself. The presiding Party functionary put this man's thinking straight and brought him back to communist fundamentals by remarking, "To hell with religion. The church is the thing we have to oppose."

The rebuked comrade docilely knuckled under, as all well-trained Communists do, but attempted to save face with words.

"Yes," he said, "I guess you are right. The Communist Party is a kind of religion, and the Communist Party follows the Ten Commandments in advocating the 'brotherhood of man'."

It is doubtful that he had ever read the Ten Commandments, but he was correct in saying that the Communist Party tries to develop the lie that Communism is a religion.

Worshipers of Materialism

This, in fact, is the real menace of Communism. It is a materialistic way of life, inflaming in its adherents fanaticism that can be placated by nothing less than the complete destruction of all creeds except its own. Whether the religion is that of the Christian, Jew or Mohammedan makes no difference. The Communist is against God and the worship of God.

The latest Constitution of the Communist Party, U.S.A., in the very first sentence of its preamble states, "The Communist Party of the United States is the political party of the American working class, basing itself upon the principles of scientific socialism, Marxism-Leninism."

This new constitution means a rededication of the Party to the revolutionary tactics of overthrowing the Government of the United States by force and violence. But what has this to do with religion?

Marx, who coined the phrase, "Religion is the opium of the people," wrote in the Communist manifesto, "...Communism abolishes all religion, and all morality, instead of constituting them on a new basis; it therefore acts in contradiction to all past historical experience."

Marx denied the existence of God and held that atheism could not be separated from the Communist concept. In fact, Marx advocated, "The criticism of religion is the beginning of all criticism."

This was so fundamental that Communism has always held to the conviction that "Atheism is a natural and inseparable part of Marxism, of the theory and practice of scientific socialism."

No religion, denomination or sect has been spared the fury and contempt of the Communists. God is their foe, and God's power over the civilized world is a barrier to their advances.

In America

The American Communist will be quick to answer that the statements I have referred to were made in a foreign country and do not apply to the American brand of Communism. But these statements of Russian Communists were printed in the United States, and their writings have been widely circulated among American Communists.

The American Communists, however, display no originality in their opinions on religion. They take their cues from the principles of "Marxism-Leninism."

For example, William Z. Foster now head of the American Communist Party, in discussing what would happen if the Communists succeeded in creating a "United Soviet States of America," says, "The churches will remain free to continue their services, but their special tax and other privileges will be liquidated. Their buildings will revert to the state. Religious schools will be abolished and organized religious training for minors prohibited. Freedom will be established for antireligious propaganda . . God will be banished from the laboratories as well as from the schools."

Persecution and Venom

As the followers of Christianity have been the object of Communist persecution and venom, so the believers in the world's oldest religion — Judaism — likewise have been among those singled out for repression and scorn. Truly, Communism is anti-God and against all religions.

The American Communists for a long time soft-pedaled their anti-religious propaganda and sought to ingratiate themselves with religious people by featuring the names of a few prominent Communists who, by tradition, family connections and childhood training, were associated with religious organizations.

The reason the Party has been less articulate on religion in recent years was aptly explained in a recent discussion among Party members. They have recognized, it was stated, that church groups could be of assistance in community campaigns and in furtherance of the Party program. Hence widespread public condemnation in opposition to religion has been discouraged.

Divide and Conquer

The Party today, however, is becoming more open in its stand on religion. A few of their more versatile Communist writers have unlimbered their guns, particularly at the Roman Catholic Church, for a twofold purpose. In the first instance, it is part of the Party line because of the large numbers of Catholics in the satellite countries, and second, being masters of the "divide and conquer" tactic, they hope to divide Christendom and stir up strife between Catholics and Protestants.

The Communists have demonstrated time and again their mastery of deception in injecting their slogans and propaganda into Christian groups on the themes of "peace," "democracy," and to the "poor" and "civil liberties." They are just as facile in dealing with Jewish groups in passing the lie that there is no "anti-Semitism in Russia." To the Jew they say that Palestine is the natural home of the Jews, and to the Mohammedan they deplore Jewish encroachment upon the Arabs. Selling and pandering the hellish hates of Communism, they represent themselves as all things to all people.

Individuals who, if they are not Communists, have followed every twist of the Party's line have defended themselves on the basis of their self-declared nominal affiliation with the Church. When the Catholic War Veterans asked a group of Communists to declare themselves, as laymen in any church have a right to ask a brother, they replied variously from "none of your business" to "the suffering of an individual as a result of such attacks is small compared to the sufferings of Christ."

Many Communist fronts have operated under the guise of some church commission or religious body. It is ghastly to see the monster atheism being nourished in the churches which it seeks to destroy. Church leaders can stop this nefarious infiltration by taking vigorous action in the boards and commissions under church supervision. Individual ministers and church members can avoid being hoodwinked if they will stay close to the fundamentals of their faith. Any minister who cannot find in his Bible sufficient argument for the cause of liberty and social justice who has to borrow the double talk of the Communists—is in the wrong profession and should be carefully watched by his official supervisors and his congregation.

Religion is the only force that can save our civilization. Only in religion can men learn to live at peace with one another, because only religion puts total emphasis on serving others rather than self. In the twilight of despair which is settling on so many areas of the earth, we must turn to the Fatherhood of God.

The zeal of early Christians stamped out paganism in Rome and conquered the savage gods of the northern barbarians. That same zeal could convert godless Communism. It is up to the churches of America to recapture the militant spirit of Paul and to fulfill the magnificent prophecy of John:

"And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Candlelight Services Feature Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony, Miss Pearl Gorelich, 1286 Wilson Ave., exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Edwin Rosenfeld, son of Mrs. Sara Rosenfeld of Atlantic City, N. J., and Mr. Bert Rosenfeld of Jacksonville, Fla. The ceremony took place in the Agudath Achim Synagogue at 7:30 p.m. on June 5.

A canopy formed an arbor effect, decorated with southern smilax, huckleberry, wisteria, palms and ferns and was flanked with several candelabra and huge vases of gladioli, delphinium and baby breath.

The soft candlelight bridal gown was fashioned of brocaded damask satin in classically simple lines. The tight-fitting basque bodice had a sheer net yoke. The long sleeves tapered to points over each hand. An inset panel molded the slim waistline and the skirt fell into a full circular train. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was candlelight to match her gown and was edged in a deep row of Alencon lace. It was held in place by a diminutive lace cap, which was trimmed with traditional orange blossoms. She carried a white orchid on a white prayer book.

Miss Natalie Gorelich, the maid of honor, chose a floor-length gown in rose satin, fashioned with a cuffed bateau neckline and heavy cording across the bouffant skirt. Mrs. Sanford Finke, the matron of honor, also wore satin in a soft gold shade with a sweetheart neckline and a draped skirt. The bridesmatron, Mrs. Leonard Gorelich, and the bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Horowitz, wore identical gowns, fashioned of turquoise tissue faille. All four attendants wore matching mitts and flower-trimmed net bonnets. All carried colonial bouquets filled with roses, delphinium and baby breath.

Mr. Rosenthal was attended by Mr. Leonard Gorelich, and the ushers were Mr. Sanford Finke, Mr. Burt Goldenberg and Mr. Maurice Carbin.

A reception, following the ceremony, was held at the Agudath Achim Synagogue.

The bride's mother wore a cinnamon crepe gown trimmed in bronze beads. Mr. Rosenfeld's mother chose a gown of navy blue lace with a sweetheart neckline. Both mothers wore identical orchid corsages.

Miss Rita Harrison Married To John Seelig

A double ring ceremony united Miss Rita Mary Harrison and Mr. John R. Seelig in marriage at Corpus Christi Church June 18 at 9:30 a.m. The altar was decorated with a background of palms and ferns, four vases of white snapdragons and larkspur, amid seven-branch candelabra.

The bride wore a gown of candlelight satin accentuated by a sheer marquisette yoke outlined with a satin ruffle inset with lace. The long fitted sleeves formed points over each hand. Her full skirt fell into a circular train and her fingertip illusion veil was held in place by a rosepoint lace cap. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Ruth Jane Ruisinger of Phoenix, Ariz., acted as maid of honor. Her gown was of chartreuse marquisette designed with a sheer marquisette yoke. The basque bodice complimented the extremely full skirt which cascaded over an old-fashioned hoop, matching ruffles on the skirt draped softly to form a back interest. Her open crown picture hat was made of horse hair braid, covered with Chantilly lace which matched her gown. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow tea roses and shattered carnations.

The bridesmaids' gowns and picture hats, in pastel shades, were identical to the maid of honor's, Miss Caroline Joe Harrison, cousin of the bride, wore orchid. Miss Marilyn Seelig, sister of the bridegroom, wore pink. Miss Ruth Ann Higgins' dress was of yellow. Mary Ann Stowell of Pittsburgh, Pa., cousin of the bride, was junior bride and her dress was of white satin, similar to the bride's. Her small colonial bouquet was of white roses. William J. Curran was junior bridegroom.

Doty of Arlington, Ohio, officiating at the double ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Fred Ross, pastor of the church, before an altar decorated with white gladioli and palms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a sheer white gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and round neckline, long sleeves and full hooped skirt. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and dainty pink rosebuds.

Before an altar banked with gladioli, delphinium and palms, the Rev. Fr. Robert Schmidt assisted by the Rev. Fr. Linus Dury and Rev. Fr. Frank Riehl performed the Solemn High Mass.

Skinners ivory satin fashioned the bridal gown which featured a sheer yoke appliqued with berths of matching imported Chantilly lace. The basque bodice complimented the bouffant skirt, worn over an old fashioned hoop, and was appliqued with a ruffle of Chantilly lace forming a bustled effect in the back and extending around the entire skirt and the full circular train. Her fingertip veil of English illusion was held by a tiara of seed beads and pearls. She carried a white prayerbook topped with a white orchid having a purple throat and showered with babys breath, knotted to satin streamers.

Mrs. Jerry Forst, wore a lilac marquisette gown styled with a deep round neckline, bertha of matching Chantilly lace, basque bodice extending into a bouffant skirt which had inserts of the lace and was worn over a hoop. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and pink carnations intermingled with baby's breath. TEMPTING FRUITS

Big fruit salad plate with cottage cheese, individual fruit salad and fruit for dessert.

By BETTY NEWTON

There is no more colorful and tempting dish than one of fresh fruits and berries. Fruits combine well with other foods, such as crab meat, chicken, etc. Once you've had your fill of the fresh fruit and berries, you may want to use them atop ice cream or in dessert sauces.

Luncheon Salad Bowl

1 grapefruit
1 avocado
1 can (7-oz.) crab meat, or ½ lb. fresh crab
1 small head of lettuce, shredded
½ C. mayonnaise
½ C. chili sauce

Pare grapefruit and separate into segments. Cut avocado in half, peel, cube, and combine immediately with grapefruit to prevent discoloring. Flake the crab meat coarsely, removing all sharp pieces. Combine all these with shredded lettuce in a bowl, and salt and pepper lightly. Dress with the mayonnaise and chili sauce which have been blended together. Serves 6 to 8 as a first course salad; 4 or 5 as a main dish for luncheon or supper.

Fruit Salad

2 grapefruit
2 oranges
¼ C. pineapple syrup
¼ C. honey
2 slices pineapple
1 pomegranate, if desired

Pare the grapefruit and oranges; remove sections. Add pineapple syrup mixed with honey, and chill several hours. Drain. Cut pineapple slices in pieces and arrange with grapefruit or orange sections in lettuce cups, or in fruit cocktail glasses. Dot with rosy pomegranate seeds. If served as salad, dress with French dressing, and top with a fluff of cream cheese whipped smooth with a little milk. If served as cocktail, simply pour some of the honey and fruit juice over each serving. Makes 6 salads or 10 to 12 cocktails.

The National Security Plan

The National Security Plan, known as the Townsend Plan, which is now before the Ways and Means Committee in Washington D. C. would pay to all people past 60, those who are crippled or blind, widows with children and also the disabled at any age, according to present figures, $156.35 per month. The number of people eligible at the present time is 16,000,000.

This amount per person would be paid from the revenue collected at 3% on all incomes over $250.

If you are interested in this plan, drop a card to Fred Berkheimer, 938 Linwood Ave. or call EV-6548.

An automobile is a nice thing to have around. It's a luxury of course, but a convenient one. By the same token, a deer rifle is nice to possess also. And you can't say it isn't a luxury, for it is. Some folks rent automobiles, some borrow deer rifles; just everyone doesn't possess the means to own either one, so they're Luxuries. We believe they have a place and use in our daily lives each all its own. The car for pleasure and transportation; the rifle for big game hunting and the pleasure we derive from hunting.

I would like to quote an article in the St. Ignace newspaper concerning game killed by the motorist while traveling along the U.P.'s scenic and well kept highways: "The U.P. conservation officers are burying an increasing number of deer and other wild game killed by vacationers, it is reported by the department of conservation. An occasional collision with wildlife cannot be prevented, but many motorists take no precaution to prevent killing game which at the same time heavily damages their vehicles, the department points out. In a one-night check on the 29 miles between Rudyard and St. Ignace, Conservation Officer Ray Walker counted the following dead game: one deer, 27 rabbits, 3 woodchucks, 2 partridge, 2 porcupines, 2 red squirrels and one muskrat."

As the Conservation department stated "an occasional collision cannot be prevented," but this is Slaughter!

So, let's be a little cautious while driving along the U.P.'s highways and back roads especially, so when we do have a chance to use that deer rifle; there'll be some game left to shoot at!

Just received a letter from Mrs. Bertha Crystal, whom I wrote about recently regarding airplane round trip to Germany. In part she wrote: "I enjoyed my trip very much. The airplane ride sure was interesting, but the people over there sure have a hard time. Such poor food. I got very sick from their food. At last my cousin's wife brought me a part of a white loaf of bread that the British threw out of the window. I was happy to get it to eat. She then told some of the British she had American Company, so they kept me in good home-made bread. I was over there over five weeks and didn't see a good store where I could buy good food. I sure was glad when the plane started back across the Atlantic toward home. My uncle came here last Sunday from over there. He is staying with my brother, Frank Luepnits. He is very happy. He says he feels as if he is in Heaven. Now he can eat good. He is nearly 89 years old and is in good health. I have an aunt and a lot of cousins who would like to come over. They think we all are 'rich.' They asked me how the work was over here. I told them anyone who wants to work can make a good living in America. They sure are smart and ambitious people and very kind hearted. I got the paper. Thanks. Best regards from B. Crystal."

When we go up north, we will drop in on Mrs. Crystal and see what additional information we can get regarding living conditions in Germany. (The above letter was reproduced just as it was written).

You will recall an article in the "Booster" last November regarding our visit to the "Gateway Jubilee," August 14, 15, and 16. They celebrated the 25th anniversary of the first State (Michigan) Highway's Ferry Boat across the Straits of Mackinac. This year there will be another similar celebration on August 5, 6, and 7. This will be the second annual Strait's Celebration and Pere Marquette Day. A reigning queen will again be selected from a collection of candidates from various parts of the U.P. A second swimming race from British Landing on Mackinac Island to St. Ignace, will be under the direction of Coach Charles McCaffree of Michigan State College. A 32-year-old Swim Champ from Kronk Inst. Detroit won the race last year. He was in the water more than two hours. Out of a field of 22 entrants, only four completed the hazardous trip in the Straits wild waters. Two girls, twins, completed the trip third and fourth, being in the water more than four hours. The swim was the number one highlight of the celebration and promises to be just that this August 5, 6, and 7. There will be boat races all afternoon and flying contests. We cordially invite you to attend.

A "Little Bit" Of Socialism

There is a saying to the effect that a "little bit of socialism" is a good thing for a country—that it puts free enterprise on its toes and keeps it humping.

However, having a "little bit of socialism" is much like having a "little touch of leprosy." It always grows and feeds upon itself. And in time it consumes everything that stands in its way.

As an example on June 8 the New York-Telegram carried a revealing news story. It said that "Britain's Labor government served notice that if it wins next year's parliamentary elections it will transform the United Kingdom into a collectivist state as soon as possible." It will demand and undoubtedly enact a law giving the government permanent authority to impose rationing and other such controls. It has marked at least six more major industries for socialization including sugar refining, meat wholesaling, cement making, and various forms of insurance. A high labor spokesman warned that "people must be ready to change their jobs and managements to change their lines of production if the need arises." He said further that private industry must watch its step.

The meaning and intent of all this is certainly clear. If the labor party wins, "a little bit of socialism" will be made all inclusive, and a total, regimented economy established by the government. All the principal instruments of production and employment will become possessions of the state. Labor will be a tool of the state, to be used in whatever way the bosses think best.

It is only a step from this to police state that exists behind the iron curtain. When you have a dictated economy, you eventually have a dictator and lost liberty. Powerful political forces in the United States want us to go the way of Britain, and are using every subterfuge to sell us on a similar program, before the people are aware of the danger.

"Grit"

Difficult tasks often arise
Tasks we all dread to do.
But in those tasks a moral lies;
"The grit to see them through."
Rewards are never given
To men who 'little do.'
Accomplishment is livin'
And grit to see things through.
Grit is that determination
To tackle life's tasks with vim.
To attain our destination
We must work and not give in.
So, if you've a very special dream
That you really want to come true
Work and plan your every scheme
And with grit you'll see it through.

Construction Started At St. Paul's

Excavation machinery began biting huge chunks of earth at 225 East Gates Street Monday Morning July 18. This great project is definitely under way as scheduled, and plans call for constant work until completion. The roof on the present Social Hall and Sunday School room will be razed in the very near future when the old and new structures are joined.

The Reverend Paul C. Kaefer announces Sunday School and Church will still be held JULY 24th AT THE REGULAR HOURS IN THE PRESENT BUILDING.

A new wall will be installed in the front section of the Old Church and a second wall just east of that over the present Social Hall. During this period the quarters will be decidedly cramped and The Church Council will use one of Reverend Kaefer's alternatives, either Schiller Park, or the Parsons Theatre. If this temporary transfer of Services becomes necessary, The South Side Booster will be informed in sufficient time to publish the change. An immense crowd was on hand at the Ground Breaking Ceremonies July 17 and a constant stream of interested onlookers has been watching the construction engineers at work. You are cordially invited to look on at any time and watch the Building of the Friendly Church in a Friendly Community.

Ohio Plays Host To Record Crowds

Reports reaching Division of Conservation headquarters in Columbus indicate that Ohio's lakes are again this year serving near record crowds of both "short-stay" visitors and vacationists in spite of the fact that the amusement business generally is said to be about 20 percent off from last year's figures.

Lake officials claim that altho' families spend some money getting to and from the lakes, the fact that the recreational facilities of the state-owned lakes are free might account for the no apparent reduction in attendance.

In 1946 record breaking crowds visited the lake areas following difficult travel conditions and lack of spare time of the war years. Crowds dropped off considerably in 1947 but picked up again in 1948. The 1949 attendance is expected to be as good or better than last year.

The abnormal high temperatures over the July 4th holiday kept fishermen in the shade and drove fish to the deeper areas of lakes providing good fishing only for the more experienced anglers.

The only good fishing reported by Division of Conservation creel census takers was at Charles Mill and Pleasant Hill Reservoirs in Ashland and Richland counties and at Seneca Lake in Noble county.

At Charles Mill fishermen averaged 1.43 fish per hour made up of 59% crappies, 17% bluegills, 17% carp and bullheads and only 1% bass.

At Pleasant Hill fishing was reported good, in comparison to some waters, where anglers averaged .33 fish per hour, principally crappies and at Seneca Lake the average per hour was 1.5 fish, 81% bluegills and only 11% crappies.

Fish management men of the Division of Conservation passed out this hint for better fishing last week advising fishermen to try the deeper holes in both lakes and streams. When the air temperatures remain high day after day the water for several feet down remains too hot for most species of fish and consequently they simply move to the cooler depths.

News In The World Of Religion

The Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief (Bishop Titus Lowe, chairman) is urging that each of Methodism's 572 superintendents' districts undertake to give a formal "assurance" that it will resettle a displaced persons family from Europe somewhere within its borders. The "assurance" guarantees that the DP family will have a job, a home, that transportation from the port of entry to the new home will be paid, and that it will not become a public charge. The Committee is hoping, under the government regulations, to be able to bring 2,000 persons to America before the end of 1949, and these "assurances" of work and care by church groups are necessary to their resettlement. In 1950 it is hoped to resettle in America, under Methodist Church auspices, an even larger number of DP families.

Under the leadership of the Rev. William Dye, principal of the Union Theological Seminary, Bareilly, United Provinces, India, and the Rev. A. Ralla Ram, of the U. P. Christian Council, a committee has in preparation a new hymnal which will bear the imprint of the United Provinces Christian Council. Not only will it contain translations of hymns from English and other languages (as do most Indian hymnals now), but it will also have a number of original Indian hymn-poems and hymn-tunes together with a large selection of native Ghazals and Bhajans which are peculiar to the worship of Indian Christians. The new hymnal will be used by all the cooperating Protestant churches which compose the provincial Council of Churches.

The Rev John Alexander Clarke, who translated the New Testament into Kiluba, of the Belgian Congo languages, twenty-five years ago and who last year completed the translation of the Old Testament into the same tongue, is celebrating his golden jubilee as a missionary on furlough in Australia. In the spring of 1899, Dr. Clarke landed from Australia in Benguella, Angola, and then started on foot along the trail into Katanga (then called Garanganze) which was blazed by the pioneer Arnot. Through the half century he has been a member of the Garanganze Evangelical Mission as evangelist, teacher, and Bible translator.

Champion McD.Davis, president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, is an active member of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and active in its missionary organizations. Recently, when he heard that there were churches of his faith in Liberia, Africa, that were eager to have bells that had been "retired" by his railroad. Now they will be active in their new posts for many years to come.

From fourteen different nations fifty young people met recently on the campus of De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind., to discuss their experiences as foreign students in the United States during the past two years, and to counsel regarding the schooling and housing of the 300 or 400 more who will be arriving during the next three or four years for similar graduate studies. Those young people, men and women many of whom, on both sides of World War II, knew the hardships and tragedies of military life, prison and concentration camps, and near-starvation — have been given educational training as "Crusade Scholars" of the Methodist Church. The Church has already expended more than $1,000,000 in bringing some 300 young people from the fields in which it carries on missionary work to America under funds of its "Crusade for Christ" movement, and will provide another $1,000,000 in its current movement, "The Advance for Christ and His Church." Not all the "Crusade Scholars" are Methodists, but all are Christian workers and recommended by Methodist leaders overseas. Most of them are taking post-graduate studies in 40 schools in theology, or in education, but there were half a dozen doctors in the group in Greencastle, a dentist, some agricultural specialists, several engineers, an atomic physicist, a chemical expert, and a journalist. They came from the Philippine Islands, Okinawa, Japan, Korea, China, the Malay Peninsula, India, Pakistan, Norway, Sweden, Germany, Poland, Brazil, Argentina.

The Baptist Missionary Society (British), the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, and the Swedish Missionsforbundet are planning the erection of a first-class medical training center near Kimpese, in the Belgian Congo, Africa. So interested in the project are the Belgian Government and a Belgian philanthropic foundation that they expect to contribute half a million dollars as capital expenditure for this center which promises to be the largest best-equipped in the Congo. The Protestant mission boards expect to add $115,000 to this amount.

Construct Approach

The most rapidly growing project in the history of the United States, according to the American Medical Association, has been the voluntary prepaid hospital and medical care plans. The movement started slowly, and for a considerable time it was in an experimental stage. At the end of its first seven years, the largest organization in the field had only 2,870,000 subscribers. Now it has 32,500,000. And more than 20,000,000 people are enrolled in other groups.

These voluntary plans make it possible for most Americans to provide, at a very reasonable cost, protection against the financial emergency that comes with illness or accident. The board of trustees of the AMA has proposed an inclusive 12-point program for bettering medical care, which stresses the extension of voluntary insurance. Other points call for government aid to the small proportion of the population which is indigent, for care of the chronically ill, for the establishment of a Federal Department of Health with cabinet status, and for other needs. In each case, emphasis is placed on protecting the public and the medical fraternity from the evils of political control and bureaucratic domination.

Here is a constructive, commonsense approach to an important problem. It stands out in sharp contrast to the scheme for subjecting everyone, regardless of need or desire, to a compulsory government health insurance plan which would probably cost $6,000,000,000 a year or more in payroll withholding taxes by the time it got in full swing. This kind of scheme has been tried, in all its essentials, in various countries abroad and its most conspicuous achievement has been to lower the standards of medical care and to make the cost of service exorbitant.

Picking Your Pockets

Too much of the present slump in business must be laid to the President Harry S. Truman and his insistence of more taxes.

His constant harping against big corporations and profits are just a little tiresome.

In his recent speech over the radio in his "I did this" and "I did that" he used the word so much the U. S. Bureau of printing ran out of the letter "I" when they printed his speech.

What Truman fails to realize is that the vast ownership in large corporations are owned by small stockholders who have 10 or less shares each.

That, thru high taxes he and his party have driven risk money from the market, by taking that money thru taxation.

Formerly this money was used to promote new industries and expand those already in business. It is no use to invest money when the government takes almost all of it away for taxes. Then too, no expansion or new business, no jobs.

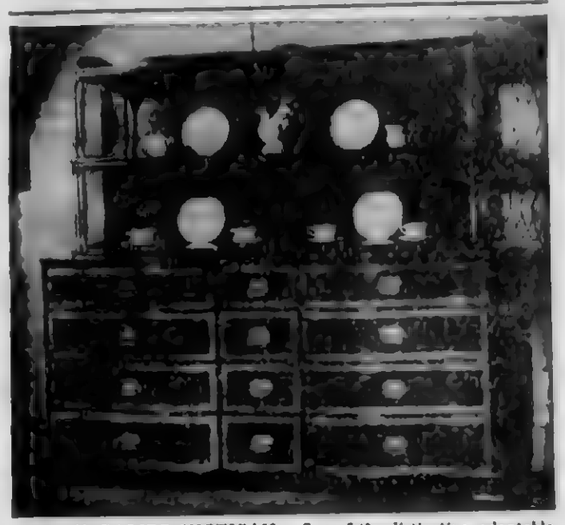
What Truman fails to realize is that there is only one tax payer and that is you, the consumer.

Every tax increase must go into the product that you, Mr. Consumer, buy.

In, let's say, a DeSoto automobile, there is almost $500 in taxes. If you include sales tax there is another $70 to $75 more.

In a pair of shoes there are 500 different taxes. Every one of these you, Mr. Consumer, pay.

Thirty cents out of every dollar of your take-home pay goes for taxes.



Times will not be better until taxes are reduced. You, Mr. Consumer, pay all the taxes. If you didn't, every manufacturer and business man would go out of business.

Protest every tax raise and vote against every legislator, Governor or President who wants tax increases.

You would put a pick pocket who got in your pocket in jail. Well, tax increases pick your pocket just so surely as a pick pocket would pick your pocket.

Throw the tax pick-pockets out of office. It's time to call a halt to this racket.

CORN PUDDING

Cutting fresh corn from cob for canning or eating "as is."

By BETTY NEWTON

Fresh corn has such a short season that most everyone likes it served often. It is fun to have "roasting ears" when you have an outdoor picnic. Many enjoy fixing it the way their grandmothers did—in a pudding. Try it all ways.

Old Fashioned Corn Pudding

3 to 12 ears uncooked, milky, sweet corn
1½ tsp. salt
1¼ C. light cream

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Husk corn. Split corn grains lengthwise of ears with a sharp knife. Then scrape kernels out, with back of knife, until you have 2 C. corn pulp. Combine with salt and cream and pour into buttered 1½ qt. casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Serve, piping hot with butter. Makes 4 servings.

Roasted Corn

Remove coarse outer husks and loosen inner husks, removing silk carefully; trim ear if necessary. Brush kernels generously with garlic butter or margarine. Tie inner husks into their original position, and lay on grill above glowing coals. Turn frequently. It will take from 10 to 25 minutes to roast the corn. Garlic Butter: Slice 3 or 4 cloves of garlic and add to ¼ lb. soft butter or margarine. Mix well and let stand at room temperature for an hour or longer, stirring occasionally.

Sauteed Corn

Cut whole kernels from cob, but do not scrape cob. In a heavy skillet heat 2 to 3 Tbsp. butter and in it cook 2 or 3 C. of cut corn for 5 to 6 minutes, stirring constantly. When kernels are tender and delicately browned, add ¼ C. sweet cream and salt and pepper to taste. Serve at once. For a Spanish touch, add chopped green or red pepper and cook gently with the corn. Makes 4 or 6 servings.

increased from 50 to 100 per cent. The reports show that some of the big companies are increasing rents about $7.50 a month.

The City Council of Dallas is holding rents at present levels. Other cities can and ought to do the same.

OF ALL THINGS

Attorney General Tom Clark has filed an anti-trust suit in Chicago demanding the dissolution of the DuPont organization of Wilington, Delaware.

Your correspondent published a newspaper in Washburn, Wisconsin about 40 years ago when that company decided to build a "dynamite plant" in a spot located on Lake Superior. From that time on this same correspondent has been in contact with friends ranking high in the DuPont Company. Three months ago we had a little reunion with several men here in Washington who had begun their work with the DuPont Company in that same local branch which was created by the DuPonts. There has always been a fraternal comradery among those who have been connected with the DuPont enterprise through the years. Any one of those old-time friends of the DuPonts in Wilmington, Wisconsin, and other parts of the country have never had reason to weaken their allegiance to that great organization which has been running along in our land of progress for more than a century.

In the beginning the DuPonts made black powder in Wilmington. The United States of America has won every war since 1812 when DuPont plants became the principal source of powder.

But this is more of an item of review. Having "watched" the big enterprise at Wilmington, Delaware for about half a century the writer of this news item chooses to turn the pages of history ahead a good many pages.

About 25 or 30 years ago the DuPont Company took the lead in establishing the chemical industry of America, including rayon, plastics, nylon, cellophane, antifreeze, Duco and the best dyes in the round World.

Miss Naomi McCloud Wed Recently

The wedding of Miss Naomi McCloud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCloud of Obets Station, to Mr. Robert L. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson, 3301 S. Parsons Ave., took place May 27 at 7:30 p.m. in Zion Lutheran Church.

Miss Lenora Edinger was maid of honor and May Ann Johnson was flower girl.

Mr. Thomas A. Hoops was best man. Ushers were Mr. Guy McCloud and Mr. Theodore Ray.

Hostesses at the reception held in the parish house were Miss Rosemary Janisch, Miss Vivian Baier and Miss Erma Schwarts.

The bride attended South High School and is employed at the Ohio Farm Bureau. The bridegroom is employed at the Lustron Corp.

The couple is living at 157 Chillicothe Av.

"EYES WIDE OPEN"

Senator Ferguson of Michgian tells his fellow Senators to make a decision on the Atlantic Pact, and with their "eyes wide open."

Twelve Nations are at the present time "considering" setting up military forces that will be strong enough to win a war in Europe should the Russians and Communists think they are going to lick these Nations.

If an international army for defense against Communism and Russianism and Stalinism is to be set up it will cost your Uncle Sam one billion-and-a-half dollars for the arms. And—as they say in Washington; that's only the beginning.

What is this all about? The politicians don't give the answers but the Senators have about made up their master-minds that we are getting nowhere with Stalin and his puppets, who from all appearances seem to be figuring definitely on the possibility of another war. The Iron Curtain and the Cold War have encouraged the Communistic countries.

The Senate and House will both have to pass one way or another on the Atlantic Pact. In spite of the warning by Senator Ferguson that the 12 Nation Compact could, and might lead the United States into war, we go fiddling along with our terroristic Russian enemies. The United States Congress will debate the so-called 12 Nation Compact. Meanwhile our country should keep its "eyes wide open" and if the Russians are determined to fight, present Stalin & Co. with some of our surplus atom bombs.

RENT CONTROLS IN DALLAS

The City of Dallas, Texas, has abolished rent controls.

And the CIO and AFL promptly objected to the action of the Dallas Council and charged the City Government with being dominated by the real estate interests.

Most of the complaints in the Texas City are by lower-cost rental tenants—some of whom report that rent boosts have been in-

Economic Highlights

By now, the American public must be thoroughly confused over the various communist-spy cases that have been in the headlines so long. The Hiss-Chambers trial, with its mass of charges and countercharges, has all the quality of a wild movie melodrama. So, to a lesser extent, had the Judith Coplon trial.

The judges and the juries will decide on the merits of these and other cases. However, certain recent developments, dirertly affecting the FBI and the Department of Justice, need clarification.

There has been a widespread criticism of the publication of an FBI report which indicated that a number of very well known people may be communists or communist sympathizers. The impression is that this report represented the FBI's considered opinion, and that the bureau is making a practice of tarring people with a red brush on insufficient evidence.

The FBI report in question was never supposed to be made public, and was never supposed to be conclusive evidence. As the Washington News put it, "These papers read in court are for the most part only unsubstantiated complaints and accusations. They are merely worksheets in proposed, pending and inconclusive investigations. As the first line of defense against the communist underground, it is the FBI's duty to run down reports it receives, wherever they may lead, even though it knows most of them may wind up in blind alleys." In other words, any police force worthy of its salt must gather and keep all possible information on cases that come before it including that which later proves to be untrue.

This being so, why was such a report ever made public? That is an interesting and important story. The goverment, in the Coplon case, wanted to restrict the read-of it to the judge and jury. This gave Miss Coplon's lawyer just the opportunity he was looking for. It is a cardinal principle of American justice that defendants be protected from secret evidence. The judge backed the lawyer up—obviously he had no choice in the matter. He said, "If this case endangers the Government, the Government should not be here." In other words, the Department of Justice had the choice of producing and making public the alleged evidence, even though in the FBI's opinion this would endanger the national security, or it could refrain from producing it and let its case against Miss Coplon go by default. The Department took the first alternative, over FBI objections. As David Lawrence said, "Had it been left to the FBI, the case would have been dropped because the bureau values its sources of information more than it does the winning of a single case." Most commentators tend to believe the FBI was right and the Department was wrong.

NEW MILESTONE IN AVIATION RESEARCH

We may still be far from the age of completely guided missiles and possibilities of robot-controlled mechanisms for all phases of aviation, but the progress of research is still amazing to the layman. At the experimental grounds at White Sands, New Mexico, a Navy rocket soured into the sky at a speed of 2250 miles per hour. This fantastic achievement does not even surprise its launchers. They look for still more dazzling results.

With such experimentation going on, it appears more likely that the next big industrial expansion in our country will be in the field of private plane ownership. There is extensive helicopter research now in progress, and if the price of these planes can be brought within reach, the next twenty-five years should see the birth of a new industry comparable in magnitude and influence upon American living with the automobile.

Observer

Editor's note:

Here in the South Side we have done something about the communists.

Several months ago a communist nest was stoned out of the community.

It is beyond your editor's imagination why "any white man or black man would wish to be ruled by Asiatics."

This is communism fostered and bred in Russia by Asiatics who have again risen their ugly heads in the first sweep across Europe and even further since Gengis Khan.

Russell Shows "The Three Musketeers"

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater will show "The Three Musketeers," a technicolor drama with Lana Turner and Gene Kelly. This Alexander Dumas' Classic has everything—fast action, emotional appeal, suspense, outstanding acting, and a wealth of humor and striking backgrounds gorgeously photographed. Kelly, in the part formerly played by Douglas Fairbanks, performs all the acrobatics which audiences loved in the old film and even adds a few. The sword play and horseback riding is frequent and furious. Also on the program is "Gay Ranchero" in color, with Roy Rogers. A cartoon completes the bill.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday and Monday "Flamingo Road," starring Joan Crawford and Zachary Scott with an unusually good supporting cast. The picture is packed with dramatic thrills. You'll hail it as an emotional triumph. It's the unforgettable story of an unforgettable girl, who fought her way out of a network of scandal to find love. What was the secret she was so determined to keep, that she was even willing to kill? Don't miss the Year's Dramatic triumph. You liked Joan in "Mildred Pierce," you'll love her in "Flamingo Road."

"Mickey" At Ideal Theater

Sunday the Ideal Theater is showing "Mickey," a technicolor picture which introduces Lois Butler. Hattie McDaniel is also in the cast. This is a light comedy in which Miss Butler portrays Mickey, a tomboy, more interested in baseball than in boys, and is completely ignorant of the facts of life. She and her friends connive to prevent her widower father, Bill Goodwin, from marrying a designing widow, Rose Hobart. At the same time they promote a romance between Goodwin and Irene Hervey. Lois Butler has a pleasant soprano voice and lots of personality. Also on the bill is "Shep Comes Home" with Robert Lowery and Flame, the wonder dog. News and Cartoon completes the playbill.

'City Across the River' At Southland

"City Across the River" is coming to Southland Theatre, Wednesday through Thursday. It stars Stephen McNally, Barbara Whiting, and a cast of new faces.

McNally is seen as "moral force" in his role of community center director who tries unsuccessfully to keep Peter Fernades a right thinking boy. McNally does an exceptional job in keeping his characterisation human, yet forceful.

The second feature will be "Jacare."

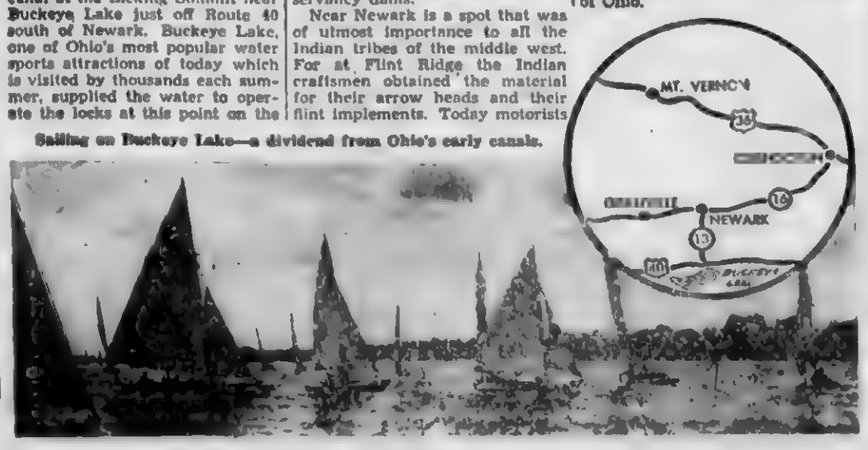
EARLY CANALS AND ROADS

COURTESY—THE STANDARD OIL CO. OHIO

Five cents bought a chicken, eight cents a bushel of corn or $1.25 a barrel of flour in central Ohio in 1824. Transportation difficulties in those pioneer days almost stopped the early development of the frontier country of that day.

The success of the New York State-Erie Canal inspired Ohio to undertake the construction of a canal system to connect the inland areas with the Ohio River and with Lake Erie.



On July 4, 1825, Gov. De Witt Clinton of New York dug the first spadeful of earth on Ohio's first canal at the Licking Summit near Buckeye Lake just off Route 40 south of Newark. Buckeye Lake, one of Ohio's most popular water sports attractions of today which is visited by thousands each summer, supplied the water to operate the locks at this point on the Ohio and Erie Canal, for a half century during Ohio's earlier canal era.

This particular section of Ohio was of great importance in the days of the Mound Builders and the Indians alike. The city of Newark is built upon the site of one of the most extensive of the Mound Builders' works. It has been estimated that if all of the mounds in Ohio were gathered into one spot, they would represent some thirty million cubic yards of earth, nearly two and a half times as much earth as was moved by power machinery in building the 14 Muskingum Conservancy dams.

Near Newark is a spot that was of utmost importance to all the Indian tribes of the middle west. For at Flint Ridge the Indian craftsmen obtained the material for their arrow heads and their flint implements. Today motorists can visit Flint Ridge State Park on Route 668. This Flint Ridge is just north of where the Shawanese War Trail crossed Ohio from Chillicothe to Mingo Junction on the Ohio River. To the north, passing through Mount Vernon, was the Indians' Walhonding Trail along which route the Wyandots drove the Moravian Indians from Coshocton to Upper Sandusky.

In Black Hand Gorge, east of Newark, the Indians left many signs and relics of their era. This gorge, cut by the Licking River, is one of Ohio's most scenic spots.

On Route 3, at Centerburg, is the geographic center of the state of Ohio.

Sailing on Buckeye Lake—a dividend from Ohio's early canals.

Announce Engagement

The wedding will be held in mid-winter.

Schiller News

The Staff at Schiller Park has new equipment in the form of badminton sets, volleyball and tennis equipment, balls and bats, horseshoes, games, etc. We urgently invite the public to come over and make use of the equipment. This week on Saturday, there will be a horseshoe and foul shooting tournament at Schiller. Boys and Girls are asked to consult the staff members between now and then for try-outs in each event. Prizes will be awarded.

Foods In Summer

During the summer months the body adjusts to warmer weather by circulating a larger volume of blood to provide an efficient "cooling system." Body heat is carried to the surface by the blood and is given off through perspiration. Additional fluids are required in order to have body mechanisms run smoothly. Thirst usually causes people to drink more liquids in hot weather, but those having no desire for liquids should make a conscious effort to drink more water, milk or fruit juices.

The fatigue and exhaustion that many people experience during summer months are often due to poor eating habits because improper diet can cause poor appetite, loss of weight and headache. It is no less important to include body building foods in the meals in August than in January.

Even though most people like crisp cool foods when the mercury soars, it is a good idea to include at least one hot dish, such as cooked green vegetable, or potatoes, or beverage, in each meal. Hot food gives a greater sense of satisfaction and seems to aid in digestion. Vegetables are essential in the diet because they contain iron which is needed to maintain a healthy red blood supply, and B vitamins which aid the nerves and digestion. Using fresh fruits for desserts will cut down on the time spent in the kitchen, and will add extra vitamins to the meal.

Those who eat adequate meals three times a day during summer months, and drink plenty of liquids will find hot weather easier to take. They will be in better condition when winter arrives.

Let's Make Better Pictures

By Albert B. Gregg

The sweetest thing there is to see
Is baby smiling up at me.
I'd give the world to catch and
[illegible]
His lovely looks 'till he grows old.
They travel o'er his little face
And dance and laugh, then enter space.
And in my memories come to stay
To brighten up another day.

I wrote this little bit of verse back in 1938 to accompany an advertisement for children's portraits. The verses appeared on a card with a beautiful portrait of John Kramer, the baby son of the present Columbus Public Prosecutor. This card and picture of the baby still attracts attention. It is one of the nicest baby pictures I have ever made. I'll tell you how to make one of your child just like it right in your own home and with only a very small amount of equipment.

Use your present camera. Buy two inexpensive reflectors to accommodate No. 2 and No. 1 photoflood bulbs. Use the No. 2 bulbs for these first home portraits. With this small amount of equipment you are all ready to duplicate some of the finest child portraits.

Seat the youngster on a bench five feet from a plain wall, preferably a light wall, then place your camera five feet in front of the child on a level with his eyes. Place your lamp at the lens or as close to it as you can and aim it at the child's face. Place the other lamp two feet higher than the child's head, two feet to the side of the child and two feet behind aimed at the center of the background.

After your first portraits, you will be able to tell whether you need more exposure or less than the first attempts. Try 1-25th second as a starter and vary from there. Let me know how you come out. If you need a little advice, I'll try to make it constructive. Just address me in care of the Booster.

Worker Can't Refuse Work

A worker who refuses to accept work for which he is reasonably fitted because he expects to return to a previous job from which he had been temporarily laid off is not eligible for unemployment benefits, the Unemployment Compensation Board of Review ruled recently.

The Board—with one of its three members dissenting—handed down its decision in the case of a Cleveland woman. A garment worker, the woman had turned down a permanent position with an employer to whom she had been referred by a local Ohio State Employment Service office.

She testified that she had offered to accept the job to which she had been referred only on a short-term basis inasmuch as she expected to be called back to her previous job in the near future. The employer to whom she had been referred indicated that he would employ her only on a permanent basis. She thereupon refused to take the job.

In its decision, the Board cited that provision of the Ohio Unemployment Compensation Law which denies benefits to a person who has "refused to accept an offer of work for which he is reasonably fitted, or has refused to accept a referral to a job opportunity when directed to do so by a local employment office of this state or another state."

Camp Meeting Season Closes

The 86th annual camp meeting of the Ohio Conference of Seventh-day Adventists opened on the campus of Mt. Vernon Academy, Mt. Vernon, Ohio, closing on July 17. About 200 members of the local Adventist church were in attendance. Pastor W. M. Robbins, president of the Ohio Conference, in the opening address declared, "This hour in which we live is the most dramatic and thrilling hour of earth's history. Tremendous and awe-inspiring events are taking place with such rapidity that our human minds cannot keep pace with them and 'men's hearts are failing them fore fear.' "

Much the same theme was expressed by Pastor Henry F. Brown from the General Conference world headquarters of Seventh-day Adventists at Washington, D. C., in his address before an audience of 4000 gathered on the camp grounds.

"Seventh-day Adventism stands vindicated," Pastor Brown asserted. "For 100 years Adventists have been telling the world that civilization is headed for destruction and that social, political and economic conditions would become worse and worse until the world would become so corrupt that God would destroy it and create a new world wherein dwelleth righteousness. The world has enjoyed the illusion of progress and has been persuaded by science that socially, politically and economically better and more lofty concepts are evolving."

"Adventists have been called calamity howlers and alarmists, but the moral debasement and beastiality witnessed during the war, the atomic bomb and the failure of peace plans have convinced leading men of all nations that there is no optimism in mere science. The best thinkers of the world agree with Seventh-Day Adventists in their major premise that civilization is doomed," declared Pastor Brown.

Stanley C. Harris, editor of Our Times, a missionary periodical of of the denomination, voiced a similar thought in his address at the camp meeting. "We will never see normal times again," he declared. "In the world of science we can see finis. In the world of society, we can see it is 'as the days of Noah.' There is no limit to the moral degredation to which man can sink under the influence of satan," he remarked. Men are breaking under the strain of trying to solve the world's political, social and economic problems. We are definitely heading for war," he said. "My dear friends," he declared, "We are heading for the end. The elements of nature are breaking loose. Major catastrophies are increasing and we are going to see unusual sights in the future. But these things are being held in check, as set forth in Revelation 7," he said, "so the world can be warned of its coming doom. The religious representatives of this country have the responsibility of upholding the moral standards for the world," Mr. Harris declared.

Playground Assistants At Schiller Park

This summer the Schiller Park Playground is well policed and protected due to the organization of a Junior Patrol.

This patrol, better known as playground assistants, has many duties such as:—

1. Keeping play area clean and free from harmful objects.
2. Keep children from standing on swings or teetertots.
3. Keep children with wet clothes off the playground equipment.
4. Keep bicycles out of playground.
5. Keep order on playground.
6. Secure equipment, such as bats, balls, horseshoes, etc.
7. Run errands.
8. Many others.

Each assistant has a badge showing a specific number and designating his rank. The patrol consists of seven members and two captains.

Atomic Bomb Only Against Rest of World

One of the liveliest and most forthright contributions to the national defense controversy appeared in the Saturday Evening Post for June 25th. Written by Rear Admiral D. V. Gallery, and titled "An Admiral Talks Back to the Airmen," it is a powerfully reasoned refutation of the theory that we can safely base our whole defense plans on long-range bombers and the A-bomb, and largely eliminate such costly [illegible] the Navy and the Army ground forces.

Admiral Gallery holds that the atomic blitz "is a desperation concept which holds good only for a war of the United States versus the rest of the world. It is an all-out business which can't stop at geographical or political boundaries." The reasoning here is simple. If we should go to war with Russia, the Soviet's first move would naturally be to spread out all over Europe. Red forces would be in control in France and Italy as well as behind the iron curtain. In that event, asks the Admiral, "Do we blitz Paris, Rome, and Brussels?" If we did, he thinks, we would advance the cause of communism immeasurably; and "we might win the war in 30 days and lose the peace for the next 300 years."

The engaging arguments of Air Force partisans have pretty well obscured this phase of the problem. But it is a point which is uppermost in the minds of many tence and experience. General Omar Bradley, whom many consider military men of undoubted compete to be one of the great combat commanders of history, has said, "However crippling air attack can be, I am convinced beyond any reasonable doubt that should this nation be forced into atill another conflict, we shall once more be forced to gain the inevitable victory over dead bodies—those of our soldiers on the ground. . . . Ultimately a war between nations is reduced to one man defending his land while another tries to invade it."

The whole history of war amounts to a factual endorsement of this idea. The colossal air pounding Germany took in the last war did not bring her to her knees. It did not destroy her ability to make war, which was the goal of strategic bombing. Indeed, toward the end, the strategic bombing plan was largely abandoned, and the Allied air forces were devoted to tactical bombing of military objectives, as a preparation for invasion by sea-supported ground troops. Admiral Gallery touches on an extremely important point when he observes that the Air Force philosophy has a dangerous popular appeal simply because "it sweeps all the unpleasant facts of war under the rug and promises easy victory without much fighting." Any nation would like to win a great war with a small expenditure of men, money and machines. No nation ever has.

The Right To Work

Writing in Newsweek, under the title of "The Right to Strike," Henry Hazlitt says: "We must never lose sight of the vital differences between the real right to quit work peaceably and the spurious right forcibly to prevent others from working. From time immemorial most union leaders have tried to tie the two together in the same package, and to practice the second in the name of the first.

"But the right to work is as sacred as the right to quit work, and no less in need of protection."

The most obvious denial of the right to work is found in the closed shop which tells the worker, in effect, that he must join a union, adhere to union policy, and pay dues to a union, or he will not be allowed employment at his craft. It is found in only a slightly less obvious form in the union shop plan, under which the worker must join the union after he has been employed for some given length of time. And it is also found in such a technique as mass picketing which is a form of intimidation to prevent people from taking jobs they want.

Labor can never be free until it has the right to work as well as to quit work.

Best Medical Care In The World

Before you go off haywire on free medicine and dentistry, let's consider the facts:

Medical, hospital care and dentistry in the United States is the best in the world today.

German medicine and dentistry used to be rated "tops" but when the government took control, it slowly and steadily deteriorated. The same has been true in all countries having similar systems, while the cost of medical and dental care has increased.

The United States has the lowest sickness rates, death rates, and loss from work.

Let's keep it that way.

The cure, if the Fair Deal wants to do a little investigation, is to build Medical and Dental Colleges.

Doctors and dentists are the same as food, rents, etc. If there is plenty, the prices will go down.

Health insurance is a misnomer which if it is ever put into effect will cost you, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, $3 for every $1 you spend now.

Washington Week

BY CHARLES L. ECKENROAD

Washington, D. C. — They tell the story of the football coach who, while instructing his quarterbacks in a strategy meeting one day, ordered:

"When in doubt, punt!"

President Truman, from his messages to Congress last January and again a few days ago on the economic condition of the nation, must have gotten somewhat the same orders from his $15,000 worth of economic advisors:

"When in doubt, spend!"

At any rate, one who reads the two messages gathers that Mr. Truman feels that deficit spending will cure all evils.

For example, in his message of January 7, 1949, just six months ago, the President said:

"Expectations of continued inflation have added to the incentives for business investment, while the price rise has acted as a brake on the demand of consumers with relatively fixed incomes.

GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES DUE TO RISE

"The proportion of consumer expenditures in the total national product has never been lower in any peacetime year for which statistics are available.

"This is not an immediate problem so long as the sum of Government expenditures, business expenditures and net foreign investment is still rising."

That was his answer to threatened inflation six months ago.

Here is his answer to threatened deflation now:

"These and other Government policies are providing strong support to business activity and are enlarging the opportunities of private business.

"The fact that public expenditures of Federal, State and Local Governments are running at a rate of close to $60 billion a year is itself an element of great stability in the present situation."

In his budget message last January, the President said "A prosperous country cannot afford an unbalanced budget." Then, he proceeded to introduce a budget which he admitted was at least $600,000,000 out of balance and it turned out to be at least $1,800,000,000 out of balance.

TRUMAN FORESAKES BALANCED BUDGET

In his message a few days ago the President said:

"Balancing the budget and reducing the national debt are objectives to be achieved at the earliest feasible time.

"But these objectives cannot be achieved without regard to the general state of the nation's economy."

Then he adds:

"We cannot expect to achieve a budget surplus in a declining national economy."

This raises the question of when can we expect to achieve a budget surplus if it cannot be done in prosperous years and cannot hope to be done in a declining economy?

George Washington said in his farewell address:

"As a very important source of strength and security, cherish public credit. One method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible....."

The man who is early of late used to be behind before, and now is first at last.

Sifferlin Charges Barthalow Is Weak

On Tuesday, August 12, you will vote whether you want a Finance Director or not.

This amendment would clip the wings of R. Pierre Barthalow, the City Auditor, and relegate him to the position of a mere bookkeeper with a City Auditor's title.

"It looks to me that the mayor and City Council recognize Barthalow's weakness, and are putting the Finance Director Amendment to a vote to strip him of that power," says Herbert Sifferlin, candidate for City Auditor.

Mr. Sifferlin goes on to say, "If I am elected, a Finance Director will not be necessary as my many years of experience in municipal auditing thoroughly equips me to do the job."

Mr. Sifferlin further says, "I will not permit the City Auditor's office to be used as an agency to sell jewelry and act as a collection for a down town credit jewelry firm or for any other firm, as has been going on under Barthalow."

We believe Herbert Sifferlin is right that Barthalow has shown his weakness in serving as a collection agency for a down town credit jewelry firm.

This collection was done by Barthalow and may still be going on.

These city employees averaging less than $45 per week, cannot afford to have one cent deducted from their pay, especially for jewelry and baubles, when good food is needed far more in their homes.

We don't believe that the city needs a finance director any more than a cat needs a pair of skates. But if Barthalow is elected, then a Finance Director is necessary.

We believe that if the City Auditor's office is properly operated, with a man like Herb Sifferlin, that all of the functions of that office as it now is, can be handled by him.

We are informed that one or more people connected with the City Auditor's office rarely reports for work before 10:30 or 11 a.m.

If this is true, then the city is paying for services they do not receive. This again is another of Barthalows' weaknesses.

There is one man in the City Auditor's office who is about the most discourteous and insulting man we know. By permitting this man to hold his job and insult the tax payer, time after time, this again shows another of Barthalow's weaknesses.

Herb Sifferlin is a South Side man who married a South Side woman of German descent. The South Siders of German descent practiced and taught frugalness by conserving, saving and accumulating. These people have always been good loyal citizens to their community and their country. It is about time to put some of this into effect and stop the constantly increasing costs of the City Auditor's Office.

No man with weaknesses such as Barthalow's should be elected for such an important position as City Auditor.

Congratulations to Mr. Gustav A. Woerner of 1219 Wager St., who at 74 years of age is active enough and interested enough to make a hobby pay off. Although retired for a number of years, Mr. Woerner is happiest when he is busy. Mr. Woerner's prize tomato crop this year puts him in the Champions class.

He loves working in his garden and the care and attention he has given his tomato plants will net him a nice profit. There are as many as 38 tomatoes on some plants. Mr. Woerner attributes his success to good health and hard work.

Grace Kasler is strutting around the Swan (with that pretty Hankie she usually wears protruding just a little further these days). Grace has just had word from her son, R. E. Hunt, that he is a new daddy. The baby, a boy, was born in Jacksonville, Florida. Mr. Hunt is in the U. S. Navy and is stationed in Jacksonville. The baby's mother, before her marriage, was Juanita Jovine, a Columbus girl. Her mother, Mrs. Fred Mason, lives at 627½ Livingston Ave. Mrs. Kasler and Mrs. Mason are planning a trip to see their little grandson in the early fall. The baby was born on Tuesday, July 19.

We had word that Walt Tompkins (our advertising manager), his wife, Betty, and the children arrived safely in upper Michigan. It seems on the first fishing trip Walt didn't do so well. From what we heard Betty was pulling them in one after another until she had a string of about twenty nice big fish. Poor Walt just sat and watched her; didn't even get a nibble. Seems the little woman should take Walt aside and give him some lessons.

What's this we hear about a barefoot race down Moler Street from Fourth to Bruck St.? According to information at hand the participants were Bill (Thunderbolt Hankinson) and Harold (Lightning) Derflein. There was no photo-finish, so we don't know who won the contest.

Ask Bill Hankinson how his mother got him out from under his car, when the jack slipped and pinned him underneath. We are very glad to hear that he was not seriously injured. Only had a couple of sore ribs for a few days. Think he had better change his nick name to Iron Man instead of Thunderbolt.

Mr. Marion Rice of Rice's Food Market, has just returned from a two-week vacation, spent touring the upper peninsula. Mr. Rice told us his trip covered 2,000 miles. Mr. Rice visited the Lake of the Clouds, Brockway Drive which is 3337 ft. above sea level. Devil's Wash Tub was another of the points of interest Mr. Rice visited. He saw the sunrise over Lake Michinga about 6 a.m. one morning and he said it is one of the most beautiful sights he has ever witnessed. At Copper Harbor Mr. Rice had the pleasure of catching about 40 large bass in only about an hour's time. It must have been a fisherman's paradise there as he said they pulled out one bass right after the other, so many were caught that they gave them away. On the trip Mr. Rice went exploring into the swamps, where he said the wild life such as Deer and Bear was very plentiful. Many of the places visited were so out of reach, that the car had to be left and travel for several miles was made on foot. It must have been a very beautiful trip through the wild country. Mr. Rice was accompanied by his brother.

Finance Director Names Committee

Twenty-six men and women representing all parts of the city have accepted appointment on the Columbus Finance Director Committee, Chairman Charles V. Schwenker, loan attorney, reported today.

The committee, Schwenker and his spearhead an education campaign to win voter approval August 9 on charter amendments providing for the creation of a city department of finance. Director of the department would be appointed by the mayor, subject to approval by council.

Pointing out that six of the seven largest cities in Ohio already have adopted this plan, amendment sponsors assert that 1914 charter provisions scattering financial responsibilities among many city officials no longer serve the needs of municipal financing.

The committee announced today includes:

Arvin J. Alexander, 3725 Olentangy Boulevard, attorney, former councilman and former chairman of the council finance committee; Robert G. Denmead, 425 Rhodes Ave., realtor; Mrs. Robert M. Draper, 74 N. Roys Ave., League of Women Voters; Mrs. Fred Ellsperman, 326 Inbet Road, president Federation of Women's Clubs.

Patrolman Taylor At Lion's Club

Patrolman K. N. Taylor was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Southeast Lions Club, Tuesday, July 26th. He explained that the State Highway Patrol is quickly at hand to render all manner of assistance in case of accident or trouble. Too, they enforce the law, pursue criminals and are available as a source of information.

After months of debating and negotiating with the Council of Social Agencies, Mr. Rudolph Evan, of the Council of Social Agencies, has announced that the Lincoln Park Nursery will stay in its present location in the Lincoln Park Project.

The Nursery which takes care of approximately 35 children, was set up during the war to take care of them while the mothers of these children worked in war industries.

Certain necessary improvements have been set up by the State Welfare Department which will have to be met during the coming year.

Mr. Maurice Hofman, manager of the Lincoln Park, has guaranteed to make all necessary improvements as far as the building and equipment are concerned.

The Council of Social Agencies reported to the Booster some months ago that the Lincoln Park Nursery was to be transferred from the South Side Settlement control to the control of the South Side Day Nursery.

With this switch in mind, came the announcement that the nursery would be moved to the South Side Day Nursery. In as much as the Lincoln Park Nursery had been run well under the management of Mrs. Bonnie B[illegible] of So. Side Settlement, and the South Side Day Nursery was equipped to take care of only nine of the 35 children we immediately protested.

Another cause for protest was the fact that the mothers would have to walk these small children almost a mile each way, each day no matter what the weather might be.

Then too, the Lincoln Park Nursery only received the small amount of $766.64 last year from the Community Fund. The South Side Day Nursery wanted $9,000 to run the Lincoln Park Nursery for the next year. Over 12 times more than the South Side Settlement required to operate last year.

We of the Booster feel that the mothers of these children who are mostly widows or have invalid husbands must work to support their families, should be put to the least trouble possible.

Many of these widows are war widows whose husbands were killed in service and while they get pensions, they are totally inadequate to take care of the high cost of living, so they must work to secure for their children the bare necessities of life.

In settling this case so successfully, Mr. Rudolph Evjen, of the Council of Social Agencies, has made a wise decision. He is to be commended for it.

There is just one more requirement necessary for the Lincoln Park Nursery and that is the setting up of a new board of directors. The Council of South Side Organizations has volunteered their wives to help fill some of the board positions.

The more South Side men and women filling positions in South Side Social Services will tend to have better understanding of the South Side needs.

Economic Highlights

There won't be another Presidential election until 1952. But next year's Congressional elections mean far more importance than usually do, as an indication of [illegible] popular reaction to the Truman program. For the first time in years the country will elect a Congress entirely opposed to the President. Whether that Congress will actually pass any legislation depends on the size of the Republican majority. The labor groups will put everything they have into the campaign to defeat Taft. . . . Business men all over the country are getting behind the Taft campaign." It is probable that the Senator will actually be campaigning very actively a year before the election. Ohio is as perfect a state as could be found for a great test of the issues. It has a rock population, a large electoral college vote, and it is usually a pivotal state. It has large labor groups and large agricultural and business groups as well. It is normally Republican, but not invariably so—last year it went for Truman, and elected a Democratic governor.

If Taft loses to an opponent running on the Truman platform, his wing of the Republican party, which is the only wing that has been strong enough with the Administration, will receive a long-time setback. If he wins, he will have the inside track for the 1952 GOP nomination, and those who hold similar beliefs will take new heart.

Immunization Is Necessary

Parents were warned today that their cooperation will either win or lose the all-out campaign against diphtheria in Columbus.

Dr. Oliver M. Goodloe, Columbus Health Commissioner, said complete cooperation will win the battle to reduce the high toll of cases of diphtheria in the city.

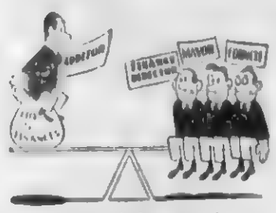
"It's imperative that parents have their children immunized against diphtheria," Dr. Goodloe said. "If children aren't immunized, we can do little to prevent their catching the disease."

The present campaign is seeking immunization of pre-school children and repeat inoculation for those children who have been immunized in the past.

Two or three years immunity is the average protection from inoculations. For that reason, repeat inoculations must be made.

Health authorities suggest a diphtheria inoculation before the age of one year. Other immunizations should be made at the approximate ages of 3, 6 and again at 10 years. This supports a high degree of immunity throughout the years when children are most likely to contract the disease.

The diphtheria record of Columbus has been termed exceedingly poor by health authorities. They point out that Newark, New Jersey, a city half again as large as Columbus, has averaged only two cases of diphtheria a year. In the first five months of 1949, Columbus had 20 cases. And the peak of cases does not usually come until fall.



For that reason, the drive for diphtheria immunization has been timed to urge inoculation before the autumn danger period arrives. Children immunized now will have established immunity before the diphtheria incidence rate surges upward again.

Immunization is a painless, fast procedure. The family doctor can easily immunize the entire family at one time. Whether the doctor prescribes the one, two, or three or five shot method, diphtheria immunity is equally well established.

It is believed that some parents disregard having children immunized because of an erroneous belief that the disease is no longer dangerous with new treatment techniques. Actually, diphtheria is still the same killer and crippler that it was 20 years ago. Despite the newer treatments, diphtheria still kills one in every 15 victims. Many who survive the disease develop permanent damage to the heart, ears, eyes or other organs.

CHECKS THAT GIVE PERFECT BALANCE

VOTE X YES
for the CHARTER AMENDMENT

City charter amendment to be voted on August 9 will GIVE Columbus a badly-needed system of financial checks-and-balances.

Today the City Auditor administers a budget and controls three million dollars a year in income tax alone, not counting a lot of other revenues and fees, and there's no one in city government to audit the Auditor!

Under proposed amendment, the Finance Director will collect taxes and fees, and the Auditor will audit the Finance Director continuously. That's a REAL system of checks and balances.

Blue Bonnet Scores A Hit

Here a smart Blue Bonnet designed by famous milliner, Peg Fischer, introduces a new style becoming sunshades for Summer, 1949. The pretty barbeque cook is Jeni Freeland, who is concocting Blue Bonnet Hamburgers, a savory new version of this classic picnic favorite made with bleu cheese and margarine that scores high for flavor, nutrition and economy.

Combine ½ cup margarine, 1 jar bleu cheese spread, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, and ¼ teaspoon onion juice. Blend thoroughly. Mix together 1 pound finely ground beef, 1 tablespoon margarine, ¾ cup soft bread crumbs, ¼ cup milk, 1 egg, well beaten, 1 teaspoon salt, and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Shape into 6 patties. Saute in 2 tablespoons margarine. Cut in half and toast hamburger rolls. Spread each generously with cheese mixture. Place cooked patties between halved rolls. Serve on plates garnished with pickle relish and ripe tomato slices. Makes 6.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

WITH great reluctance, I decided to vote against the Atlantic Pact, because an examination of the circumstances proves beyond question that it obligates us to a program of arming the nations of Western Europe. I had hoped that the two might be separated, but they were negotiated together. European nations signed with an understanding that they were to get arms, and the State Department, in substance, admits that the Pact and the arms are inseparable. I would vote for the Pact if a reservation were adopted denying any legal or moral obligation to provide arms, but even those who assert that there is no obligation refuse to say so clearly by supporting such a reservation. I would like to be able to vote for a declaration or a treaty which would commit us to go to war if Russia attacks Western Europe. Such a declaration or treaty would be a deterrent to war. But combined with a vast program to arm half the world against the other half, the entire program in my opinion will be more likely to produce a Third World War than to maintain the peace of the world.

• • •

SINCE the days of the League of Nations, I have always favored the United States agreeing to go to war against an aggressor, although I believe it should be done in accordance with the decision of an international body operating under the rules of law and justice. I voted for the United Nations Charter, and I would like to vote for an extension of the Monroe Doctrine by which we would warn Russia that if it attacks Western Europe, we will be in the war. If Hitler had known that we would enter the war, the Second World War might never have begun.

But when the arms program is made part of the Pact, as it is, it becomes a military alliance encouraging every nation in Western Europe to arm itself to the teeth. Of course, it is intended to be defensive only, but the line between defense and offense today is indeed a shadowy one.

The Maginot Line was the essence of pure defense. Today it is the target of ridicule. We cannot have an adequate armament for defense which cannot be converted overnight into a weapon of offense. This Treaty means, therefore, inevitably an armament race and armament races in the past have always led to war.

The Pact standing by itself would clearly be a deterrent to war, but if Russia sees itself ringed about gradually by so-called defensive arms from Norway and Denmark to Turkey and Greece, it may decide that war is inevitable and that it had better come before the arming is completed.

• • •

I believe that the Pact with the arms obligation violates the United Nations Charter. The Charter recognizes the right of collective self defense if an armed attack occurs. A prior undertaking by the most powerful nation in the world to arm half the world against the other violates this provision and the whole spirit of the U. N. Charter. It makes a farce of further efforts to secure international peace through law and justice. It makes permanent the division of the world into two armed camps.

THE obligation to furnish arms is either a mere token obligation, or it is one of vast extent. The President recommends $1½ billion this year. But it would cost $24 billion to equip 60 modern divisions, which may be completely inadequate. We have found the ECA program burdensome, but now it is proposed to enter into a new lend-lease project which once begun cannot be easily reduced or brought to an end.

I do not belive this country can stand two programs, one of economic assistance, and one of military assistance. The first, I believe, has contributed, and will contribute to peace. The second, I think, will make war more likely.

There are approximately 580 acres of strip cropping and contour layout on the Apple Creek State Farm scene of the 1949 Conservation Field Days, August 23-24.

Her finger-tip veil of ice blue English illusion was held in place by a matching satin bonnet embroidered in a design of sequins and pearls. Blue organdie over blue taffeta fashioned the attendants' gowns which they wore with blue crownless picture hats and carried blue and white carnations, except for the matron of honor who carried only blue carnations. Mrs. Richard Yahraus was matron of honor and Miss Patty Yahraus and Miss Dorothy Owen were bridesmaids.

Mr. Richard M. Yahraus was best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Bernard Whaley and Mr. George Walton.

Miss Reva Greenberg Is Wed To Dr. Slaven

Under an altar of white gladioli, huckleberry blossoms, and candelabra, Miss Reva Greenberg and Dr. Sanford J. Slaven were united in marriage on June 19th. The candlelight ceremony was read by Rabbi Nathan Zelizer of the Broad St. Temple.

The bride's gown was of heavy white satin. The bodice was fitted and came to a point in the front of the waistline. The yoke of the gown was a three-collared bertha, and each collar was separately beaded in white seed pearls. The long fitted sleeves came to points over the hands and were beaded to match the neckline. The gown fell into a chapel train. The full length veil was of sheerest imported illusion and was held in place by a French beaded crown. The veil was edged in three-inch imported French lace and covered the entire chapel train. The end of the veil had a large lace bow and lace streamers. The bride carried a white Bible, a gift of the Phi Gamma Sorority, and it was covered with three large orchids.

Matron of honor for the bride was her sister, Mrs. Meyer Hoffman. She wore a gown of pastel pink taffeta and an over gown of sheer organza. The neckline of the gown and the fitted waistline were both scalloped. The skirt fell into a very full ballerina style. She wore a half crown hat in matching material and carried a colonial bouquet of flowers which were backed in matching lace and satin streamers. Bridesmaids were Mrs. J. W. Greenberg, Mrs. H. Meckler, Miss Sara Slaven and Mrs. J. M. Comras. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Ilea Alexander and Miss Marcia Slaven. All wore matching gowns in pastel shades of aqua, yellow, coral, green and blue. They also wore half hats and carried colonial bouquets of flowers backed in lace with satin streamers. Flower girl was Joy Comras. Her gown was of white taffeta with a double skirt of white net. The gown was strapless but her shoulders were covered with a white net stole which was held in place with a small bouquet of white daisies. She wore a head band of twisted net and daisies. In her hand she carried a white satin and lace flower basket of rose petals.

The two ring bearers for the double ring ceremony were Mike Greenberg and Jobie Meckler. Both carried white satin pillows with satin streamers tied around the rings.

Best man for Dr. Slaven was Mr. John Comras and ushers were Mr. Joe Greenberg, Mr. Marvin Greenberg, Mr. Larry Greenberg, Mr. Hy Meckler, Mr. Saul Slaven and Mr. Meyer Hoffman.

Dr. Slaven is practicing at 2434 W. Broad St. He is a member of the Omega Epsilon Phi, Ohio Optometric Association, and Student Optometric Association.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Greenberg, 663 Carpenter St. Dr. Slaven is the son of Mrs. Joseph Slaven, 632 E. Whittier St.

The bride wore a white satin gown styled along princess lines with a deep sheer yoke bordered by lace, long fitted sleeves, a basque bodice fastened in back with tiny buttons, and a graceful train. A tiara of orange blossoms held her veil of illusion. She carried white roses.

Miss Bertha Knoepfel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Marianne Todd was bridesmaid. Corpus Christi Church Wedding Scene

A nuptial high mass in Corpus Christi Church united in marriage Miss Eleanor Herderick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herderick, 1239 Linwood Ave. and Mr. Angelo J. Salvadore, son of Mrs. Anna Salvadore, 1057 Geers Ave., June 25 at 9 a.m.

The Rev. Fr. John Graf celebrated the mass before an altar banked with palms, seven branch candelabra and vases of white gladioli, roses, larkspur and gypsophelia.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of skinner's ivory satin styled with a drop shoulder sheer yoke edged in a bertha of chantilly lace which was held in place by a band of matching satin forming a bow in front. The basque bodice complimented the bouffant skirt and the long sleeves came to points over her hands. The skirt fell over an old fashioned hoop and cascaded into a full circular train. Her fingertip veil of English illusion was caught to a bonnet of accordian pleated satin trimmed in a beaded design of seed beads and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with a purple throated white orchid and tied with white streamers.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were four attendants, wearing powder blue marquisette gowns styled with sheer yokes edged with a ruffle of matching marquisette forming a bertha, basque bodices, tiny puffed sleeves and circular skirts which were worn over hoops and featured a double ruffle around the bottom and extended up the back in row upon row of matching marquisette ruffles. Blue taffeta pleated bonnets dipped in front. The maid of honor, Miss Betty Plank carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and pink bountiful roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Charlene Reeb and Miss Katherine Wirts, and flower girl, Mary Jo Herderick, cousin of the bride, carried white gladioli and yellow roses.

Mr. Robert Kaiser was best man. Ushers were Mr. Charles Gilligan and Mr. John Spohn.

A wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents at 7 p.m.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and St. Mary of the Springs College. She is a teacher in the Columbus Public Schools.

Vacation Time

"It's time for that annual vacation
When we can claim time as our own.
We're free to take trips through the nation
Or, we can stay right at home
Where swimming, boating and fishing,
All are but come to our call
For, we can just sit around wishing
We'd never go back at all.
It's a time to enjoy life at ease
To relax and no fuss for a time.
To free our minds and do as we please
'Til we're back to the daily grind.
Let's make the best of our vacation days,
Rest and have fun and be gay.
For soon, we'll be back at our jobs
When the time rolls our holiday by.

Washington Week

Washington, D. C.—The strange division of Congress on much of Truman's "Fair Deal" program is blamed on the American people by most Congressional observers.

This group, in a discussion of Congressional activity, or inactivity, agree members of Congress are more realistic about the 1948 election returns than is President Truman and his advisors.

They pointed out that many Democrat Congressmen who won seats in States which Truman carried by very scant majorities and in other instances in which Dewey actually was the winner.

Since members of Congress win only on the popular vote and not by any misleading advantage in the electoral college, they keep a sharp weather eye on what the folks back home are thinking.

MAIL TELLS THE TALE

This consideration, the observers said, has been emphasized by a strangeness in the mail being received during the present session.

For example, one Congressman remarked recently that he has received a lot of letters from constituents who admitted ruefully they hadn't voted in the Presidential election last year, but they certainly were going to vote in the next election.

Most of the 435 members of the House of Representatives and many of the Senators who face elections in 1950 are from where any sizable change of mind by those who did not see fit to vote in 1948 would create a hazard.

Many Congressmen, these observers contend, are convinced that most of the 45,000,000 who failed to vote in 1948 are not in favor of the Truman spending program.

Solons to Sample Sentiment

That is why, they say, so many Truman program bills are resting in Committees and why the bills which have been passed have attracted some strange voting combinations.

Quite a number of Congressmen, according to those who get around on both sides of the Hill, are going to let Mr. Truman's program remain quietly in Committees until the second session of the 81st Congress.

In the meantime, those who were elected on Democrat tickets that barely squeaked through in 1948, will go back home and feel the pulse of the people, both those who voted in 1948 and those who didn't.

In other words, President Truman is discovering that a Congressman elected on the Democrat ticket by a majority of only half the eligible voters doesn't necessarily mean that he is going to do exactly as President Truman described in a talk in Reno, Nevada, on September 22, 1948 when he said:

"If anybody in this campaign wants a change, I am the one who wants that change. I want a change from a Republican to a Democrat Congress. I want a Congress to vote along with me—to vote for the people. I want you to elect to Congress Congressmen that I can work with."

TEMPTING FRUITS

Big fruit salad plate with cottage cheese, individual fruit salad and fruit for dessert.

By BETTY NEWTON

There is no more colorful and tempting dish than one of fresh fruits and berries. Fruits combine well with other foods, such as crab meat, chicken, etc. Once you've had your fill of the fresh fruit and berries, you may want to use them atop ice cream or in dessert sauces.

Luncheon Salad Bowl

1 grapefruit
1 avocado
1 can (7-oz.) crab meat, or ½ lb. fresh crab
1 small head of lettuce, shredded
¼ C. mayonnaise
¾ C. chili sauce

Pare grapefruit and separate into segments. Cut avocado in half, peel, cube, and combine immediately with grapefruit to prevent discoloring. Flake the crab meat coarsely, removing all sharp pieces. Combine all these with shredded lettuce in a bowl, and salt and pepper lightly. Dress with the mayonnaise and chili sauce which have been blended together. Serves 6 to 8 as a first course salad; 4 or 5 as a main dish for luncheon or supper.

Fruit Salad

2 grapefruit
2 oranges
¼ C. pineapple syrup
¼ C. honey
2 slices pineapple
1 pomegranate, if desired

Pare the grapefruit and oranges; remove sections. Add pineapple syrup mixed with honey, and chill several hours. Drain. Cut pineapple slices in pieces and arrange with grapefruit or orange sections in lettuce cups, or in fruit cocktail glasses. Dot with rosy pomegranate seeds. If served as salad, dress with French dressing, and top with a fluff of cream cheese whipped smooth with a little milk. If served as cocktail, simply pour some of the honey and fruit juice over each serving. Makes 6 salads or 10 to 12 cocktails.

Hunting Dogs Deserve Special Care

Hunting dogs need and deserve special care during the hot weather of July and August. That's the word of advice offered dog owners by Tim Millar, field trial judge and dog authority of Asheville, Ohio.

Too many good hunting dogs, Millar says, are neglected during hot weather through improper feeding, watering and just plain lack of consideration.

Hunting dogs usually "live a man's life" with all the comforts and attention possible a few weeks before and during the hunting season but are sometimes forgotten throughout the rest of the year.

Plenty of fresh water and clean kennels are most important for man's best friend when it's hot. Overfeeding is to be avoided and too much exercise is hard on a dog during July and August. Some exercise is necessary but if allowed to run unattended a good dog will run himself to death.

"Just treat a dog with the same sort of caution and attention in hot weather demanded by a human being for comfort and you'll be on the safe side" Millar advises.

Take Time to Drive Carefully!

Let's Explore Ohio

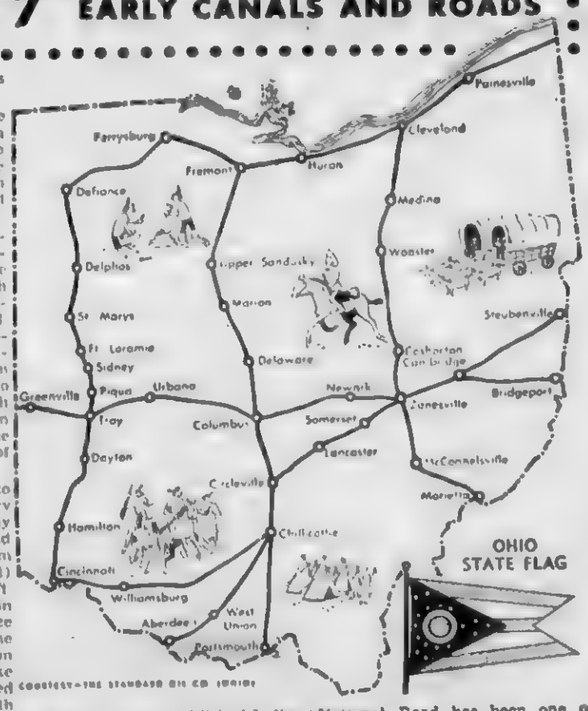
EARLY CANALS AND ROADS

Today, Ohio has fine highways everywhere.

In 1820, Ohio had but three traveled roads from north to south and only three roads from east to west. For the most part these early roads were but crude wagon trails cleared through the forest and not cleared very well at that.

Along the Lake Trail, the ancient war path of the warring Iroquois and Erie Indians, came the pioneers from New England with their pack trains and freight wagons to open this trail as a road. Along this early road they established their settlements in the wilderness. Today Highway 20 from Conneaut to Maumee near Toledo traces the old Lake Trail with Highway 6 through Lorain, Huron and Sandusky along Lake Erie marking the northern branch of the Lake Trail.

It is easy for motorists today to follow the steps of Revolutionary War hero General "Mad" Anthony Wayne, along the Miami and Auglaize Trail of the Indians from old Fort Washington (Cincinnati) up the Miami River valley to Ft. Loramie, across the ancient Indian canoe portage, down the Auglaize River to Fort Defiance on the Maumee River and on downstream to Ft. Meigs and Toledo on Lake Erie. Just west of this traveled early road is the north-south Wabash Trail of the Indians along which Gen. Wayne established a chain of frontier forts: Fort Hamilton, Fort St. Clair, Fort Jefferson, Fort Greenville, Fort Recovery and Fort Defiance—all within easy driving distance from the modern Route 25 to Piqua, Route 66 to Defiance, and Route 24 to Toledo.



The Indians' Muskingum and Cuyahoga Trail was cleared and improved for wagon travel by the pioneers as Ohio's first north and south road from Cleveland to Marietta. Today we can travel this road over Route 8 from Cleveland to Canal Fulton, Route 21 to Newcomerstown, Route 36 to Cashocton, Route 16 to Dresden, Route 77 to Marietta as one of Ohio's most scenic and historic drives.

Zane's Trace, laid out by Ebenezer Zane along established Indian trails by authority of Congress in 1796, provided an overland route from Wheeling through Chillicothe, capital of the Northwest Territory, and on to the Ohio River at Aberdeen. This early road was the first rival of the Ohio River as a travel route for migrating settlers from the east. Zane's Trace can be followed today over Route 40 from Wheeling to Zanesville, Route 22 to Lancaster, Routes 22 and 159 to Chillicothe, Route 50 to Bainbridge, and Route 41 to Aberdeen.

The National or Cumberland Road, built by the United States Government, crosses Ohio from Wheeling along present Routes 40 to Springfield and 71 to Greenville. From the date it was opened, the National Road has been one of Ohio's heaviest traveled roads.

Down through central Ohio, the early road from Fremont to Portsmouth follows the main line of the Warrior's Path along which the Shawnee Indians raided Kentucky's settlements in Daniel Boone's day. Today we follow this road over Route 53 from Fremont to Upper Sandusky, and Route 23 through Delaware, Columbus, Circleville to Portsmouth. Route 23 traverses the historic Scioto River valley along which we can see many of the ancient works of the Mound Builders who preceded the Indians in this territory.

All along Ohio's motor highways are state parks and recreational groups for the use of today's motorists.

Senior Scouts Are Injured

Billy Wildermuth and Leonard Pfeiffer, popular members of Sea Scout Ship 77 Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church, are both recovering rapidly from injuries suffered in a recent accident. The boys were returning from their regular weekly Church Service when their Motor Bike figured in a collision at Gates & Bruck Streets. The Emergency Squad took them to St. Francis Hospital, but both were released today, suffering sprains, cuts and bruises.

CHILLED SALADS

A large platter of chilled fresh vegetables to capture family appetites on summer days.

By BETTY NEWTON

Nothing seems to have as much appeal as the fresh vegetables from your own garden. Be sure that they are well chilled before you serve them. You may want to serve the salads individually instead of on a large platter. Either way, just add a tangy dressing and some crusty rolls and the meal will be a success.

Tomato Juice French Dressing

1 Tbsp. sugar
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. dry mustard
⅛ tsp. paprika
¼ tsp. coarse black pepper
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 Tbsp. grated onion
6 Tbsp salad oil
⅓ C. vinegar
1 C. tomato juice
1 peeled clove of garlic, if desired

Mix dry ingredients in a quart jar; add remaining ingredients cover jar, and shake thoroughly. Dressing may be kept in refrigerator indefinitely, but clove of garlic should be removed after 24 hours or so. Makes 1 pint.

Chef's Salad

Rub a large salad bowl with a cut clove of garlic, then put in 3 Tbsp. lemon juice or vinegar and ½ C. salad oil. Beat well. Tear a small head of lettuce, a bunch of water cress, and the heart of a head of chicory in pieces, put into the bowl, and toss until all the leaves are coated. Add 1 C. diced cooked ham, corned beef, or tongue, 1 C. sliced celery, 3 or 4 peeled and quartered tomatoes, and 3 or 4 chopped green onions. Sprinkle with salt and coarse black pepper, and toss again until well mixed. Chop 4 hard-cooked eggs coarsely, season with salt and pepper, mix with ½ C. chopped parsley, and sprinkle over the salad.

GI's Tall Stories

By Ruth Michaelis

The GI's tall stories of the tall buildings, swiftly moving vehicles on crowded streets and highways and the abundance of fine food to be had in his own country stand verified in the mind of a Solomon Island native whose own eyes have seen a new world of wonders on his first visit to the white man's country.

"We hear many things about America from GI boys about big tall buildings, how go so fast and all your much good food, but I not believe these could be so. But when I come here and see all your things I believe now," said the native Solomon Island pastor, Robert Salau, when he spoke to several thousand people at the 86th annual camp meeting of the Ohio Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists held on the campus of Mt. Vernon Academy at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, July 7-17.

"I myself was heathen boy," continued Pastor Salau. "Wear no clothes but bark. All worship spirits. In my country woman was like something nothing. My father was head hunter. He look after the devil; worship spirits. I go with my father and help him. When I was about 10, a Seventh-Day Adventist missionary, Pastor G. F. Jones and his wife, came to my island, Vella Lavella, and started mission school. I want to go to mission school. My father say no. He say I stay home and learn useful things like how to kill men and take their heads. So I run away from home to go to school. After learn about Jesus, we tell our people to come and worship, because worship is good. Later my father become Christian. All the heads in our hut were taken out and given Christian burial.

"Before missionary come, we go head hunting, kill people of other tribes. We kill white man because he stole Solomons for slaves. Today, Solomon learn of God. We do not fight. We save white boys, take care of them during war when shot down in water. That is way we do now, because you send money for mission school. In my country there are thousands like me We thank you for sending us missionary to tell us of God and teach us better life," said Pastor Salau.

This native boy, Robert Salau, attended the mission school for about 9 years and then became a district pastor. He is about 42 years old now. Twenty years ago he went with Pastor Jones to New Britain to assist in pioneer work in unentered islands. In 1930 he went to the St. Matthias group. Under his direction the 2000 natives of these islands all joined the Seventh - Day Adventist [illegible]

Salau was accompanied to this country by Pastor and Mrs A. G. Stewart who have spent 41 years as missionaries in the South Sea islands. Just as Columbus took back some natives to Europe as proof of his successful voyage, Pastor Stewart has brought back to this country a trophy of the saving grace of God in the person of Pastor Salau. He is just one of several thousand Seventh-Day Adventist converts in the south Pacific since that denomination established its first mission station there 60 years ago.

Salau acted as liaison officer between the U. S. Marines and the natives during the war. The lives of about 500 allied servicemen were saved by Seventh-Day Adventist native rescue squads. Christian natives served as guides for allied forces. In New Guinea, hundreds served as litter bearers for the wounded on the treacherous Owen Stanley mountain ranges. Many of Salau's friends and converts from raw heathenism risked their lives over and over for the white man. His close friend, Deni Mark of Put Put, New Britain, died after severe beatings by the Japs. He had refused to reveal the whereabouts of allied men saved by the rescue system.

Since his arrival in New York, May 24, Salau has met numerous newspaper, radio, magazine and television appointments including, "We the People," "Voice of America," and "Mary Margaret McBride." He is attending Seventh-Day Adventist conventions thruout the United States this summer.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

St. Ignace is due for another celebration this coming August 5, 6 and 7. This year it will be in honor of Father Marquette the Jesuit Missionary-explorer who founded St. Ignace in 1670. There will be plenty of activity on these three days.

Last week St. Ignace merchants received a supply of coins that will be distributed as change in numerous business places to those who care to accept them. These souvenir coins will picture the landing of Father Marquette with his Indian converts in E. Moran Bay at St. Ignace on one side and on the reverse side an explanation of the purpose of the coin, redemption date and trade value. The coins distributed last year showed the Straits of Mackinac, Mackinaw City and St. Ignace with a large ferry boat in the Straits on one side and its value and dates on the reverse. These latter coins were issued as souvenirs in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of Michigan's Ferry service.

It is hoped that the local people will accept this special coin issue with the same interest shown toward the State Ferry jubilee edition last year, Frank Paulos, president of the St Ignace Lions Club said last week. This will make an interesting memento of the 1949 occasion for all who visit St Ignace during this summer.

According to the St. Ignace News-Enterprise the "Highlights of the three-day celebration during the first week in August will be a giant water pageant depicting the landing of Father Marquette, famous missionary of Michigan's early days, whose remains are buried at St. Ignace. A sunrise service at his grave will be observed on August 5. Local Knights of Columbus have launched a drive to raise funds to restore the tiny chapel built here by Father Marquette."

"Other highlights are a queens ball motor boat races, swim from Mackinac Island to St. Ignace and homecoming. The feature event in this group will be the swimming races under the direction of Chas. Meaffree, Jr., Michigan State College swim coach. This swim is one of the most gruelling grinds in swimming circles."

Last year before the race, temperature tests were made of the Straits wild waters and it was found that in the four mile stretch of water from British Landing on Mackinac Island to the mainland, the temperatures ranged from 55° to 75° and very changeable in various spots.

Any long distance swimmer in Columbus wishing to compete in this event can obtain application blanks from Mayor A. G. Phillips, City Hall, St. Ignace, Michigan. Yours truly would like to see Columbus represented in this event.

* * *

Father Marquette's grave is in the little churchyard on State Street opposite the Indian Village. Although Pere Marquette died near Lydington and was first buried there, his remains were bro't to St. Ignace in 1677 and reburied underneath the chapel. A marble statue has been erected over the site. The Chapel was burned in 1706. As I mentioned before, the K. of C. are planning to rebuild this chapel, just as it was almost 250 years ago

Pere Marquette also settled in Sault Ste. Marie (the Soo) in 1668. This was the first settlement in Michigan. Here are the largest locks in the World. The great MacArthur ship lock was dedicated in July, 1943. One of the locks is 1350 ft. long. Pere Marquette was not the first white person at the Soo, but he did establish the first white settlement there. It seems a Frenchman by the name of Jean Nicolet, probably was the first white man in this area. He came here in 1634, but continued into the northwest. It is possible that another Frenchman, Etienne Brule, came here in 1618, because it was at that time the Great Northwest had its beginning here. There is a Pere Marquette monument on Bingham St. at the "Soo," the sight of the first church in the North country.

If you can make it, I know you won't regret attending this celebration August 5, 6, and 7. Mayor Phillips will be glad to have you.

Here's an interesting note:—"The entire upper peninsula was at one time a part of OHIO. At various times, Connecticut, Indiana, Illinois, Virginia and New York claimed what is now Chippewa County.

Support Finance Director Plan

The Citizens Research Committee are sponsoring a bill set up for the city which asks for a Finance Director.

Every big business concern has a finance officer who controls and regulates the finances of their company.

The City of Columbus is big business whose total assets of its citizens amounts to over $500,000,000.

Under our present system the city auditor's office has grown to the extent that more than three fourths of their work is entirely outside the auditing field.

This should not be, as the auditors office should do nothing but audit.

There has been confusion repeatedly in budget estimates under R. Pierre Barthalow the city auditor in his tax estimate and revenues.

Such headings as these have come out of news articles written about financial affairs of our city: Council Investigation of Accounting Sought; Council Charges Fiscal Officials Hide Budget Facts; Specials Punch Budget in Red or Black Hunt; and other contradictory headings too numerous to mention.

In the recent rate set up Barthalow caused his former partner to be hired to investigate Columbus and Southern Electric Co. finance for a new franchise.

Then City Council hired an out of state expert in utilities to do the job over.

If we had a finance Director we would not have these mistakes.

Many of the city's most representative citizens are on a committee endorsing the Finance Director to the city charter. They have given their time and efforts to do something about ending the confusion in City Finances.

The Booster recommends that you vote for the Finance Director next Tuesday.

Missionary Evangelist To Speak

Rev. W. F. Miller

Rev. W. F. Miller, who spent several years as a missionary in Japan and Korea, will speak each evening at the Parsons Avenue Church of the Nazarene, August 2 at 7:45 p.m. and Sunday at 10 a.m.

Rev. Miller travelled nearly 50,000 miles through these countries as a part of a large band of Japanese Christians who placed the Gospel of John in ten million Japanese homes. While thus engaged he had many thrilling adventures, some of which he will relate. Lately, Rev. Miller has conducted evangelistic campaigns throughout the nation and is a very interesting speaker. All are invited to hear him in this series of services.

Hostess — "I have a lonesome bachelor I'd like you girls to meet."

Athletic Girl — "What can he do?"

Chorus Girl — "How much money does he have?"

Society Girl — "Who is his family?"

Religious Girl — "To what church does he belong?"

Stenographer — "Where is he?"

Don't Forget To Vote See Our Endorsements

Tuesday is Voting Day again when you vote in the City's Primaries.

This Primary is important for you pick your Councilmen who will represent you for the next four years.

The present City Councilmen have served us well. They are Joseph R. Jones, Dr. O. J. Fillinger, and Henry Koontz.

Dr. O. J. Fillinger lives in the South Side and has his dental office on Thurman Ave. near Jaeger Street.

They are all Republicans and are all running for re-election.

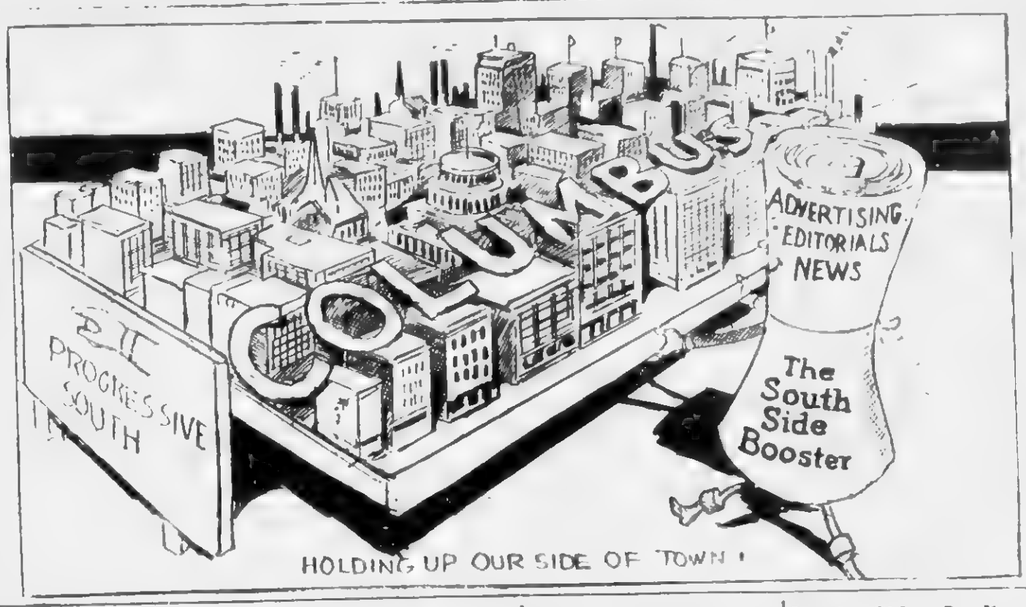
There is also on your ballot Walter A. Shott, a Democrat, and a South Sider, who has lived on Hanford St. for years. He is a graduate of South High School.

He recently married a South Side girl and now lives on Southwood Ave. just east of Parsons.

We believe all other candidates for City Council are good men.

There is an important reference or a Service Director for City City. We have commented on this issue elsewhere in our paper.

The only other fight is for City Attorney. We think you should be the people to decide this issue. Richard Gordon, a Republican, is sure to be nominated for either two, both Democrats, are Henry Holden and George C. Tyack. We are not endorsing any of these candidates.



The most important thing is that a good citizen always votes. He should vote for the best man on his estimation regardless of party.

We wish you especially to vote for Herbert Sifforin for City Auditor. He is a good man with much experience.

We repeal, be a good citizen. Don't forget to vote. We mean you!

She said he was a grand person who was always doing kind deeds for people of the South Side. So folks, let's get busy and shower Mr. Woodyard with good wishes. His address is 1346 S. High Street.

South Side Studio Installs Equipment

While other studios are reporting a increase of volume of business for the summer months, Albert B. Gregg Portrait Studio, 1542 Parsons Ave., is adding to its equipment, according to Albert B. Gregg, owner and operator of the studio. More than one thousand 8x10 proof prints were made for one group alone.

Because of the increased volume of business The Gregg Photo Studio has installed several new fine pieces of equipment. One is an 8x10 enlarger which makes prints from a proof size to 16x20 inches with the same lens from the same negative. Larger prints may be made. Another set-up consists of the large 22 inch Lenz wide-per which will handle more than one hundred portraits 8x10 inch in size at one time. This washer is the finest available and is made from copper covered with lead to eliminate any possibility of contamination. It means photographs which will be absolutely permanent. In the camera room a new rug has been installed fifteen feet by eighteen feet. This is primarily for weddings and other large groups.

The Gregg Photo Studio does all types of photography including portraits of children and adults, displays, real and commercial work. The neighborhood studio next door to most of the people of the East and South Sides is one of the largest and best equipped in the section of the country.

The studio is open from 9 to 5:30 daily and Friday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock. Portraits are by appointment to insure that the setting may be made promptly without waiting.

Mr. Gregg states that he will be pleased to show any visitor through the studio.

Attorney Brooks has stated that he is a candidate because he feels that the City Council does not properly represent the wishes of the people, in that they seem to accept as a fait for the welfare of ... and not the majority of the citizens. Brooks further states that under our system of government we have control on the theory that there should be representation from both the Republican Party and from the Democratic Party, otherwise what you have is a government ... by party and not government by the people. Brooks feels that with only one party in government, the people do not have ... issues can be and are decided by party caucus, which is a bad thing for our democratic form of government which would be the very best in the world if it was only allowed to function as it should.

John Bowers Says City Council Lacks Drive

The present Columbus City Council lacks the imagination, foresight, and drive necessary to cope with problems of a great, modern city, according to John S. Bowers, candidate for City Council at the primary election next Tuesday, August 9.

Power attributed this partly to ... party rule at City Hall. "The ... Council has become ... corporation' which ... different to the needs and de... of the people of our city."

"New blood in Council is badly needed. Columbus wants a fighting Councilman who will stand up and speak his mind on the issues of the day without fear of offending selfish pressure groups," Bowers declared.

As one example of Council's shortcomings he cited the street improvement program which lags far behind schedule due to the failure of Council to provide the technical assistance necessary to draft plans. Bowers also noted the failure of Council to let bids for some of the work for fear of "stepping on a few toes" in the process. As a result less than half of a $2,000,000 program will be completed by the end of the year.

"Council ignored its responsibilities for years by its repeated failure to stop a deadly trickle of contamination from outhouses in a stretch of McAllister avenue on the east side. After five years of inaction Council finally got around to stopping this health menace," Bowers charged.

Mr. Bowers, a native of Columbus, is a graduate of Ohio State University. He is now teaching courses in American Government at the University.

He is a member of the Franklin County Young Democratic Club and is faculty adviser to the Ohio State University Young Democratic Club.

Economic Highlights

In one of his recent columns, Walter Lippmann, who is perhaps the best of the publicists, asked why all our ambitious and costly plans for world rehabilitation have fallen so short of expectations. He put it this way: "Beginning with the world bank and the monetary fund, which were followed by the British and the French loans, which were followed by the Marshall plan, we have tried to reconstruct a world economy in which our partners and friends could earn their way toward a rising standard of life . . . But we have not succeeded, and once again the economic relations of Europe and North America are at a crisis."

Mr. Lippmann's explanation for this tragic failure is an interesting one. He said, "The crux of the problem and the heart of the crisis is that Europe must buy absolute necessities from us whereas there is almost nothing that we have to buy from Europe."

In other words, the United States, even as it has become the dominant Western power, has attained an unprecedented degree of self-sufficiency. With few exceptions, we can produce and manufacture within our own borders everything that we need to maintain and to improve our standard of living, and we are capable of doing this for a far larger population than we have now. In Mr. Lippmann's view, this situation is in itself a result of war. He observes that the story is told again and again of how war has exhausted the wealth and the energy of Europe. But the other side of the story is far less well known. To quote him again, "It is how the wars have affected the United States, causing by forced draught an increase not only in American productivity but also in American self sufficiency . . . Wars in Europe have compelled this country to save itself and to save Europe, including Russia, by developing its own industrial and agricultural production to a point where it is largely self-sufficient with great surpluses in addition."

The present British dollar crisis, which has led the government to drastically curtail buying from this country, is in point. It certainly seems true that some of the policies and practices of the socialists now at the helm in England have speeded up the trouble, and have brought matters to a head a year or two earlier than might've been the case otherwise. However, the fact that we no longer need to buy British goods in any great quantity dominates the whole picture. She had hoped for a great export trade with us which has not materialized. If she cannot ..., she can not long buy, for the ... which go out are not being ... repaid.

... one has yet found a solution to this great problem. It shows how rocky and tortuous we are finding the road to world peace and stability.

Vaughn returns to CBS on October 8 . . . Kate Smith, who has two shows on the MBS network, will be busier than ever starting Monday, August 8. This is the date she'll start her new two-hour disk jockey show on the ABC network. It's also rumored that Kate will do a TV show this fall . . . COLORFUL SALAD

A colorful and filling salad luncheon plate and tall glass of iced tea.

By BETTY NEWTON

When the thermometer gets as high as it will go on an August day, you'll be happy to have the foods in your refrigerator that can be served "as is." It is wise to keep a can of salmon, tuna, corned beef and all of the crisp garden vegetables ready to serve at a minute's notice. Try to serve at least one hot food at each meal. Perhaps a hot soup, a hot bread or just a hot beverage will be the only hot food you need.

Blueberry Muffins

2 C. sifted all purpose flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. sugar
1 egg
½ C. milk
4 Tbsp. shortening
1 C. fresh blueberries

Grease 2½" muffin pans well. Measure flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into sifter set in medium bowl. Sift. Beat egg in small bowl. Add milk and melted shortening and mix well. Make a well in center of flour mixture. Pour in milk mixture all at once. Now stir quickly and lightly — don't beat, until just mixed but still lumpy. Gently fold in the blueberries which have been sweetened with 2 to 3 Tbsp. sugar. Spoon batter into greased muffin cups — filling them ⅔rds full. Bake at 425 degrees for 25 minutes.

Tuna Salad Plate

1 7-oz. can tuna (1 C.)
½ C. minced onion
1 C. finely diced celery
1 tsp. [illegible] scratch
... minced sweet pickle relish
12 stuffed olives, sliced
1 Tbsp. vinegar
1 medium cucumber
Lettuce
4 radishes

Flake tuna; add next 6 ingredients; mix well. Chill, covered, several hours. Pare lengthwise strips of rind from cucumber, leaving narrow alternating strips of rind. Cut cucumber into lengthwise quarters, then cut each quarter in halves lengthwise. Arrange 2 strips of cucumber, 1½" apart, on each of 4 beds of lettuce. Spoon tuna mixture between cucumber strips. Garnish with radish. Makes 4 servings.

Volunteers Feed Hungry

Though the thought of preparing 34,000 meals is a staggering one to the average housewife, that is the number of meals the Volunteers of America has given thus far in 1949, according to Lt. Colonel Susan Thom, head of the Columbus Post of that organization.

In the semi-annual statistical report released to Volunteers of America board members this week, Lt. Colonel Thom points out that more than 24,000 of the meals were given to relief clients and transient men who were staying overnight at the Volunteers of America shelter. The remaining 9000 meals of the total 34,000 went to employees in the Volunteers of America Industrial department.

Additional items in the report include such figures as 1100 persons visited by the Sunset Club visitor; 10,000 books and magazines distributed in prison libraries; 7500 interviews in prisons; 64 job placements in the Volunteers of America free employment service; 24 recreational meetings for boys and girls and 25 meetings of Men's club.

UNION SERVICES MOVE TO ST. JOHN'S

Beginning Sunday, August 7, the Union Services of the Central Community Church and the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church will move to the St. John's Church. These two churches have been conducting annual union services in the two churches during the summer months. During July, the services were held in the Central Community Church with the Rev. Rudy H. Thomas, pastor, filling the pulpit. Through August and the first two Sundays in September the services will be under the direction of Dr. A. E. Klick, pastor of the St. John's Congregation.
All services begin at 9:30 a.m.

Red Cross Needs Nurses Aides

The Red Cross is appealing to women in the South Side who have time during the day to take the volunteer nurse's aide training course.
A recruitment campaign for all volunteer services is planned by Mrs. Fred L. Donnally, chairman, for the first week in September with training classes to start after that date.
However, because of the 80-hour training course for volunteer nurse's aides, recruitment for this service is taking place now, in order that applicants can be interviewed and physical examinations returned in time for an early fall class.
Only day aides are needed at this time to work in hospitals, clinics and at the Regional Blood Center, 30 E. Town St., and with the staff of the blood-mobile unit on visits within Franklin County.
Volunteer nurse's aides are trained to assist nurses and doctors in the many duties that do not require the attention of a registered nurse, which releases the nurse for very ill patients requiring more professional training and skill.
Thirty-five hours of classroom work and forty-five hours of hospital training are included in the course.
At the regional Blood Center they take the temperature, pulse and weight of donors and assist the staff nurses in the donation room.
Nurse's aides in hospitals, working under the supervision of staff nurses, give the patients the added attention to speed recovery and make them more comfortable, by taking temperatures, giving bed baths and seeing to their personal wants. Duties and responsibilities of volunteers vary in the different hospitals—even to helping in the emergency and operating rooms.
In clinics, they assist the doctors and nurses in the treatment of patients.
To be a Red Cross volunteer Nurse's Aide, you must be twenty years of age or over, be a high school graduate and pass a physical examination. Upon completion of the 80-hour course, one must serve a minimum of 150 hours each year.
Arrangements for an interview may be made by calling Volunteer office at Red Cross headquarters, FI-1511 or Mrs. Frank J. Connor, chairman of Volunteer Nurse's Aide Service at EV-0868.
Either Mrs. Connor or one of her vice-chairmen, Mrs. Robert L. Davis, or Mrs. F. E. Traver will interview applicants at Red Cross 30 E. Town St.
If you have time during the day to help—you are needed.

News In The World Of Religion

By W. W. Reid

"The contented cow is not the symbol of the Christian: rather the Christian symbol should be the ox—ready for service, on the one hand, or for sacrifice on the other," Bishop Herbert Welch, of New York, recently told a class of fifty new Methodist missionaries. "You are not going for wealth, or for fame, or for comfort," he told them. "You are going to reveal God. You are to have something about you that will cause you to do what Jesus did: give men an idea of what God is like. Those who need God are to 'see your good works and glorify your Father who is in heaven.' " The bishop admonished them to "keep big; be team-workers, aim at service and leadership will take care of itself; and cultivate a sense of humor to see yourself and all things in true perspective."

Communist authorities who have recently taken over civil as well as military control in Shanghai, China, have expressed appreciation of what Church World Service (American church relief) has been doing for farmers in the rural communities around that city, it is reported by Dr. Robert T. Henry, Methodist missionary assigned as CWS director for all China. Recent fighting in the area has ruined some crops, and prevented the planting of others; so CWS has been distributing soya beans and other seeds for planting in an effort to rehabilitate many thousands of farm families. Because "you are helping the people," the communist leaders have encouraged this enterprise which has "no political connotations."

Churches and synagogues, in America and in Europe and in the distant lands where Christian missionaries minister, as well as some Buddhist and Shinto temples and shrines in Asia, will mark August 6 (or Sunday the 7th) as a Memorial Day of Penance and Peace. This will be the fourth anniversary of the dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima, and it is the Christians of that city, led by the Rev. Kiyoshi Tanimoto, Methodist pastor there, who is now on a visit to the United States, who are urging that the world mark the day as one for the promotion of world peace. Dr. Alfred W. Parker, of Oakland, Cal., is leading in obtaining observance of the day in America; and Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa is urging it among Japanese Christians. But in India and China and Africa, the day will be observed by Christian groups also.

Forty-six young people of the Methodist Church, who will sail for India and Pakistan in September to spend three years as missionaries under the denomination's Board of Missions and Church Extension, are now on the campus of Hartford Seminary, Hartford, Conn., in an intensive six-week preparation for their work. Most of them have just completed college studies, or are leaving pastorates or teaching posts in America, but they will be at the Seminary until August 15, studying the languages of India and Pakistan, the culture of these two nations, how to teach the Bible and Christianity, and the opposing ideologies of Christianity and communism.

The young men who are going to India and Pakistan under the Board's Division of Foreign Missions are: the Rev. Daniel D. Allen of Westhampton Beach, L. I.; John R. Allison, Jr., of Chapel Hill, Tenn.; Edwin L. Bittenbender, of Berwick, Pa.; Richard B. Bridgewater, of Phoenix, Ariz.; Paul Cribbons of Sterling, Ill.; Alfred T. Halsted of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Gerhard T. Johnson of Clarkfield, Minn.; William R. Marlow of Baltimore, Md.; the Rev. Homer L. Morgan of Dornville, Ga.; Ralph Alfred Odom of Amarillo, Texas; John C. Fuller of Claremont, Calif.; Joseph E. Hastings of Tuskegee, Ala.; John R. Lockman of Waukesha, Wis.; Tunnie Martin, Jr., of Detroit, Mich.; John P. Ruggiero of Jamestown, N. Y.; Richard E. Sturgess of Minneapolis, Minn.; Francis E. Sweeten of Oakiyn, N. J

The young women going under the Woman's Division of Christian Service are: Misses Virginia Baldwin of Cleveland Heights, O.; Ellen Barnette of Atlanta, Ga.; Pearl Bellinger of Detroit, Mich.; Joyce J. Carpenter of Lansing, Mich.; Margaret Dieckhuff of Madison, Wis.; Georgiana Falb of Elgin, Iowa; Maxine Finley of Millersburg, Ohio; Colleen Gilmore of Hattiesburg, Miss.; Elizabeth Hempstead of Rockland, Maine; Mary J. WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

PRESIDENT Truman's recent Economic Report and radio address make it clear that he has only one solution for every economic difficulty of the nation—more spending by the Federal government. He was for it when we were threatened with inflation and he's for it now when we're threatened with deflation. He insists that Congress should not cut a cent off the budget of a thousand Federal activities, and he insists that the necessity of government spending is enough to justify every project. Huge government spending has from the beginning been one of the essential features of his 1949 over-all program designed to follow the labor-socialist government of England into a totalitarian state, directing the life and activity of every citizen.

There's little doubt now that the people are concerned. They don't want more taxes. They don't want to see the budget go over the $40 billion figure, which seems so tremendous for federal spending in peacetime.

But the President in addition to a budget of $42 billion, which is $8 billion more than he spent in 1947 under a Republican Congress, has urged Congress to adopt other measures increasing this to almost $60 billion annually. Of these extra proposals, the Brannan farm plan in its full development might cost $6 billion a year in subsidies, socialized medicine would cost another $5 billion, and universal military training another $4 billion.

Even without these extra proposals, our total national tax burden, including taxes collected by states and local governments, today stands at $60 billion a year. It means that we all work, on an average, more than one day in every four for the government. Such a burden increases prices for all consumers, kills the incentive of individuals, and particularly discourages those who want to start new businesses and create new jobs.

* * *

MR. TRUMAN is indignant at the 81st Congress as he was at the 80th Congress for only one reason: because it will not approve his idea of a government undertaking to do the spending for its citizens which they would like to do for themselves, and undertaking to direct all the details of the billions of transactions which occur each week in the United States.

Mr. Truman denounces Congress because it believes in a system assuring liberty to our people; because it believes that we have become the greatest nation in the world only because of that liberty; because Congress will not abandon the free system which has produced the high production, the high national income and the high standard of living, of which he boasts. Excessive taxation is about as certain a way to socialize the country as any other way.

We have come to a point where we must determine the limit of our tax burden and then cut our expenses to meet our income and pay something on the national debt. Every individual in this country has to give up things he would like to have because he hasn't got the money to pay for them. The government is no different from any individual.

It is complete nonsense to say that the government cannot cut its expense. There is not a bureau in Washington which couldn't cut out 10% of its personnel and be more efficient. An average 10% reduction would balance the budget.

* * *

THE welfare of the world depends more than any one thing on the prosperity of the United States. To recover from the present recession and to assure continued prosperity, the first firm foundation must be a solvent efficient government.

The present Congress is not a negative Congress, although its greatest merit will be that it has prevented measures which would change the whole nature of our government. Congress is fighting for the cause of free government; for equality in the relation of labor and management, for equality in the treatment of farmers and city folk, for prosperity and full employment through sound fiscal and credit policies, and for the liberty of our farmers, workmen, businessmen and housewives to live their lives as they want to live them.

Richard W. Gordon Seeks Reelection

Based upon his experience and record as your present City Attorney, which reflects both competence and ability to administer the legal affairs of the city, City Attorney Richard W. Gordon is confident that the citizens of Columwill vote for his re-election as City Attorney in the primary election, August 9th and the general election to be held November 8th.

In the discharge of his duties, City Attorney Gordon has been a true public servant. He is respected, honest, reliable and experienced in this office and he has always guarded the public's interest.

Mr. Gordon, who has resided in Columbus since 1916, is a graduate of the Columbus Public Schools. He attended Ohio State University where he graduated from the Arts and Law Colleges with high scholastic honors, being elected a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the Order of the Coif for high attainments in the study of law.

He began the active practice of law in Columbus in 1929. He is admitted to practice in all state and federal courts. In 1938 he was appointed an Assistant City Attorney by the then City Attorney John L. Davies. Mr. Gordon has been continuously in the City Attorney's Office since 1938, having been elected City Attorney for his first term beginning January 1, 1946. He is a member of the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers and the Association of Ohio Municipalities. This record in the actual administration of the affairs of the City Attorney's Office eminently qualifies Mr. Gordon to be re-elected City Attorney.

Mr. Gordon is a member of the North Broadway Methodist Church and lives at 600 Glenmont Avenue with his wife and three children. Mrs. Gordon is the daughter of George S. Marshall, 221 Oakland Park Avenue, former Mayor and City Attorney of Columbus.

City Attorney Gordon believes the work of a Law Department in a city like Columbus is well worth doing and that the conduct of the office of City Attorney bears and has borne a close relationship to the welfare, development and progress of the community.

Short Supply—

A naughty little girl was put in a clothes closet for punishment. For 15 long minutes there wasn't a sound. Finally, the stern, but anxious mother opened the door and peered inside.

"What are you doing in there?" she asked.

From the darkness came the emphatic answer "I'm thpittin' on your new hat, I'm thpittin' on your new thatin thlippers and ... and ...."

There was a brief pause.

"And what?" cried the mother.

Came the voice of vengeance, "Now I'm waitin' for more thpit!"

"Ma & Pa Kettle" At Southland Theater

"MA AND PA KETTLE" the hilarious sequel to "The Egg and I," starring Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride, is coming to the Southland Theater Sunday for a three-day run. The twin bill will be "Shaggy" starring Brenda Joyce and Robert Shane.

Junior Police Plan Picnic

The annual picnic for the Junior Order of Police is being planned for August 23.

Sergeant Ed Munday, who has charge of the Junior Police for the South Side urges all members to show up at St. Stephens Community Tuesday, August 9, or Barrett Jr. High School Wednesday, August 11. Both meets are scheduled for 6 P. M.

The Junior Order of Police are planning their biggest picnic.

South Side Girl Scout Camp Huge Success

Everyone who attended the seven-days of Day Camp at the beautiful woods of Mr. Climer's Farm remembers with fond memories the fun and joys she experienced.

The Girl Scout program was the theme carried thru the full period of Day Camping.

Cook-outs, lashing, raffia weaving, leaf and flower blue printing, leather work, puppets, corn cob and corn husks, doll making, singing, folk dancing, were some of the activities enjoyed by the campers.

Attendance was over last year; 125 girls plus the leaderships was the daily average.

The South Side Day Camping Chairman, Mrs. Frank D. Reynolds, 680 Siebert St., sincerely wishes to thank the following leaders and co-leaders whose efforts made possible the success of the Day Camp: Mrs. Dorothy Grinstead, 1012 S. Champion Ave.; Mrs. Ella Tinklepaugh, 880 E. Whittier St.; Mrs. Beatrice Wolfe, 781 Columbus St.; Mrs. Georgia Davis R. N., 185 18th Ave.; Mrs. Roxie Oldaker, 21 W. Kossuth St.; Mrs. Margaret Foster, 1428 Oakwood Ave.; Mrs. Lee Sager, 1695 E. Whittier St.; Mrs. Pauline Whittaker, 1326 Kossuth St.; Mrs. Jessie Ruch, 106 W. Castle Road, and her troop committee members: Mrs. Grace Hennes, 264 E. Fulton St.; Mrs. Delmer Iler, 1237 Smith Rd.; Mrs. Betty Smith, 773 City Park St.

"Parents' visiting day," at Day Camp was a new feature of this year's program. In the afternoon, a stunt program was presented by the various units of the campers. A conducted tour of the unit homes, on the camp site, was taken by the parents before leaving camp.

Date-Filled Muffins

There's a sweet date-and-nut surprise in each of these golden, crisp muffins, appropriate for meals or snacks.

Easy-to-make quickbreads always please company, yet make preparing the special meal easy on the hostess. Even the homey muffin can be the glamor feature of a luncheon, as these date-filled muffins prove.

In making them, first prepare the filling of chopped dates and nuts moistened with dark corn sirup so that it will be ready to spoon between two layers of a standard muffin batter. Sprinkle tops of muffins with cereal crumbs before baking to achieve the crumbly effect.

Enough of the date-and-nut mixture will poke through the top during baking to make the muffins look as good as they taste, and urge folks to ask for seconds.

The ingredients used give this quickbread excellent food value. Most economical of all is the enriched flour with its important B-vitamins, iron, and protein.

DATE-FILLED MUFFINS

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
½ cup chopped dates
½ cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons dark corn sirup
2 tablespoons cereal crumbs

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar. Beat egg and add milk and shortening. Add egg mixture to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened. Combine dates, nuts, and sirup. Fill greased muffin pans one-fourth full of muffin batter. Put one tablespoon date mixture in center of each muffin. Cover with more muffin batter to fill pans half full. Sprinkle with cereal crumbs. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 minutes.

Makes one dozen muffins two and one-half inches across.

Ideal Theater Presents "Sun Comes Up"

Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater will show "The Sun Comes Up" with Jeanette MacDonald, Lloyd Nolan and Lassie. This Technicolor picture is the most heart-warming picture you have seen for years. It is the story of plain ordinary folks living out their lives in rugged hill country. Most of the action takes place in mountainous hinterlands, which makes possible the picture's beautiful backgrounds, the quaint humor and homely philosophies. Also showing is "Fighting Fools" with Leo Gorcey and the Bowery Boys. News and cartoon complete the program.

"The Red Pony" At Russell Theater

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presentas "The Red Pony" with Robert Mitchum and Myrna Loy. This technicolor drama is John Steinbeck's sentimental, heartwarming tale of the love of a farm boy for his red pony. Except for one startling and tremendously realistic scene in which a buzzard nearly claws a child to death, this is a placid and mildly dramatic farm idyll completely lacking in romantic interest. Peter Miles is outstanding as a brave youngster and Louis Calhern contributes a rich character portrayal of a tale-spinning grandfather. The second feature is "Scatterbrain" with Judy Canova. A cartoon completes the prgoram.

'A Delightful Scandal' At Southland

"A Delightful Scandal" will open Friday at the Southland Theatre. The companion bill will be "Ladies of the Chorus" starring Adele Jergens.

Robert Young as a tolerant minister, Shirley Temple as his unpredictable daughter, and John Agar as the boy next door have the stellar roles in "A Delightful Scandal." The jams that Shirley gets herself and others into, following her expulsion from boarding school for "unladylike" conduct, motivate the gay plot, but they all stem from the girl's inner honesty and hatred of hypocracy, and for that reason are as believable as they are entertaining.

Included in the cast are Josephine Hutchinson, Johnny Sands and Albert Sharpe.

St. Vincent's Donation Day

Plans for the annual Donation Day being held in October was the highlight of the third quarterly of St. Ann's Guild held in the Guild Room of the Orphanage, 1555 Bryden Road.

Boy: "What well developed arms you have."

Gal: "Yes, I play a lot of tennis."

Boy: "You ride horseback too, don't you?"

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday—"Wizzard of Oz" starring Judy Garland and an excellent supporting cast. If you like pictures full of music and laughter make this one a must. Particularly good for the children but the adults will enjoy Judy Garland singing the hit tunes of the picture. Also showing is "Suzanna Pass" starring Roy Rogers, an excellent double billing.

Colored Singer At Sunshine Mission

Miss Estella B. Steward, colored singer from Lancaster, Ohio, will present a number of spirituals this Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. at Sunshine Mission, 116 Barthman Avenue which is Young People's meeting. She is well known throughout Ohio and appeared at the song fest. All are welcome. Rev. Ray Leach, President, Rev. Geogre Scott, Pastor.

Y Park Square Dance

The next in a series of square dances for South Side YMCA Club and Council members and their friends will be held at Y-Park Friday, August 5, 8:30 to 11:00 p.m.

Mr. James Wagner will do the calling. Don Hart's orchestra will again provide the music.

These every other Friday night dances are proving very popular with the younger set of the South Side and have been well attended.

Paper Hanging, painting, steaming. C. G. Gillilan, GA-8542.

Sylvester Says:

"You, too, may get back nothing but buttons—campaign buttons — if you put your faith in government bureaus instead of looking out for your own future needs."

More than half (51.4%) of the families in the U. S. haven't waited for a Federal housing agency to build them a home. They own their own. In fact, since the war began there has been an increase of 25% in home ownership.

A year ago, in 1947 for example, two million two hundred thousand people bought homes at an average price of $7500.-$8500. $80,000 of these homes were purchased by veterans. Over 4/5 of a million of these new home owners earned less than $3000. per year.

"Ma & Pa Kettle" At Southland Theater

"MA AND PA KETTLE" the hilarious sequel to "The Egg and I," starring Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride, is coming to the Southland Theater Sunday for a three-day run. The twin bill will be "SHAGGY" starring Brenda Joyce and Robert Shane.

Junior Police Plan Picnic

The annual picnic for the Junior Order of Police is being planned for August 23.

Sergeant Ed Munday, who has charge of the Junior Police for the South Side urges all members to show up at St. Stephens Community Tuesday, August 9, or Barrett Jr. High School Wednesday, August 11. Both meets are scheduled for 6 P. M.

The Junior Order of Police are planning their biggest picnic.

South Side Girl Scout Camp Huge Success

Everyone who attended the seven-days of Day Camp at the beautiful woods of Mr. Climer's Farm remembers with fond memories the fun and joys she experienced.

The Girl Scout program was the theme carried thru the full period of Day Camping.

Cook-outs, lashing, raffia weaving, leaf and flower blue printing, leather work, puppets, corn cob and corn husks, doll making, singing, folk dancing, were some of the activities enjoyed by the campers.

Attendance was over last year; 125 girls plus the leaderships was the daily average.

The South Side Day Camping Chairman, Mrs. Frank D. Reynolds, 680 Siobert St., sincerely wishes to thank the following leaders and co-leaders whose efforts made possible the success of the Day Camp: Mrs. Dorothy Grinstead, 1012 S. Champion Ave.; Mrs. Ella Tinklepaugh, 889 E. Whittier St.; Mrs. Beatrice Wolfe, 781 Columbus St.; Mrs. Georgia Davis R. N., 185 18th Ave.; Mrs. Roxie Oldaker, 21 W. Kossuth St.; Mrs. Margaret Foster, 1423 Oakwood Ave.; Mrs. Lee Sager, 1695 E. Whittier St.; Mrs. Pauline Whittaker, 1326 Kossuth St.; Mrs. Jessie Ruch, 106 W. Castle Road, and her troop committee members: Mrs. Grace Hennes, 264 E. Fulton St.; Mrs. Delmer Iler, 1237 Smith Rd.; Mrs. Betty Smith, 772 City Park St.

"Parents' visiting day," at Day Camp was a new feature of this year's program. In the afternoon, a stunt program was presented by the various units of the campers. A conducted tour of the unit homes, on the camp site, was taken by the parents before leaving camp.

Date-Filled Muffins

There's a sweet date-and-nut surprise in each of these golden, crisp muffins, appropriate for meals or snacks.

Easy-to-make quickbreads always please company, yet make preparing the special meal easy on the hostess. Even the homey muffin can be the glamor feature of a luncheon, as these date-filled muffins prove.

In making them, first prepare the filling of chopped dates and nuts moistened with dark corn sirup so that it will be ready to spoon between two layers of a standard muffin batter. Sprinkle tops of muffins with cereal crumbs before baking to achieve the crumbly effect.

Enough of the date-and-nut mixture will poke through the top during baking to make the muffins look as good as they taste, and urge folks to ask for seconds.

The ingredients used give this quickbread excellent food value. Most economical of all is the enriched flour with its important B-vitamins, iron, and protein.

DATE-FILLED MUFFINS

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
½ cup chopped dates
¼ cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons dark corn sirup
2 tablespoons cereal crumbs

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar. Beat egg and add milk and shortening. Add egg mixture to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened. Combine dates, nuts, and sirup. Fill greased muffin pans one-fourth full of muffin batter. Put one tablespoon date mixture in center of each muffin. Cover with more muffin batter to fill pans half full. Sprinkle with cereal crumbs. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 minutes.

Makes one dozen muffins two and one-half inches across.

Ideal Theater Presents "Sun Comes Up"

Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater will show "The Sun Comes Up" with Jeanette MacDonald, Lloyd Nolan and Lassie. This Technicolor picture is the most heart-warming picture you have seen for years. It is the story of plain ordinary folks living out their lives in rugged hill country. Most of the action takes place in mountainous hinterlands, which makes possible the picture's beautiful backgrounds, the quaint humor and homely philosophies. Also showing is "Fighting Fools" with Leo Gorcey and the Bowery Boys. News and cartoon complete the program.

"The Red Pony" At Russell Theater

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presents "The Red Pony" with Robert Mitchum and Myrna Loy. This technicolor drama is John Steinbeck's sentimental, heartwarming tale of the love of a farm boy for his red pony. Except for one startling and tremendously realistic scene in which a buzzard nearly claws a child to death, this is a placid and mildly dramatic farm idyll completely lacking in romantic interest. Peter Miles is outstanding as a brave youngster and Louis Calhern contributes a rich character portrayal of a tale-spinning grandfather. The second feature is "Scatterbrain" with Judy Canova. A cartoon completes the prgoram.

'A Delightful Scandal' At Southland

"A Delightful Scandal" will open Friday at the Southland Theatre. The companion bill will be "Ladies of the Chorus" starring Adele Jergens.

Robert Young as a tolerant minister, Shirley Temple as his unpredictable daughter, and John Agar as the boy next door have the stellar roles in "A Delightful Scandal." The jams that Shirley gets herself and others into, following her expulsion from boarding school for "uniadylike" conduct, motivate the gay plot, but they all stem from the girl's inner honesty and hatred of hypocracy, and for that reason are as believable as they are entertaining.

Included in the cast are Josephine Hutchinson, Johnny Sands and Albert Sharpe.

St. Vincent's Donation Day

Plans for the annual Donation Day being held in October was the highlight of the third quarterly of St. Ann's Guild held in the Guild Room of the Orphanage, 1555 Bryden Road.

Boy: "What well developed arms you have."

Gal: "Yes, I play a lot of tennis."

Boy: "You ride horseback too, don't you?"

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday—"Wizzard of Oz" starring Judy Garland and an excellent supporting cast. If you like pictures full of music and laughter make this one a must. Particularly good for the children but the adults will enjoy Judy Garland singing the hit tunes of the picture. Also showing is "Susanna Pass" starring Roy Rogers, an excellent double billing.

Colored Singer At Sunshine Mission

Miss Estella B. Steward, colored singer from Lancaster, Ohio, will present a number of spirituals this Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. at Sunshine Mission, 116 Barthman Avenue which is Young People's meeting. She is well known throughout Ohio and appeared at the song fest. All are welcome. Rev. Ray Leach, President, Rev. Geogre Scott, Pastor.

Y Park Square Dance

The next in a series of square dances for South Side YMCA Club and Council members and their friends will be held at Y-Park Friday, August 5, 8:30 to 11:00 p.m.

Mr. James Wagner will do the calling. Don Hart's orchestra will again provide the music.

These every other Friday night dances are proving very popular with the younger set of the South Side and have been well attended.

More than half (51.4%) of the families in the U. S. haven't waited for a Federal housing agency to build them a home. They own their own. In fact, since the war began there has been an increase of 25% in home ownership.

A year ago, in 1947 for example, two million two hundred thousand people bought homes at an average price of $7500.-$8500. $80,000 of these homes were purchased by veterans. Over 4/5 of a million of these new home owners earned less than $3000. per year.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank (Dude Ranch) Koch

This week we will pass a message on to you written by George E. Bishop, Secretary-Manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau of Marquette, Michigan. The stories about Mr. Bishop are numerous. We plan to tell you some of these stories in the near future. The following message appears in the 1949 "Lure Book" of the U.P.:—

"If you revel in history and Indian Lore, enjoy rugged grandeur and scenic beauty, seek the open spaces removed from the crowds, your 1949 vacation should be planned in terms of Michigan's unspoiled vacation frontier—the Upper Peninsula of Michigan."

"Adventurous French missionaries, explorers and trappers began the making of Michigan history in the U.P. of Michigan only a few years after the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock. The legendary homeland of Longfellow's Hiawatha was the great Lake Superior country and here, too, Paul Bunyan of folklore fame performed many of his wondrous feats."

"Health and happiness are the greatest assets of life. Millions of dollars are spent annually to achieve them and yet many times the money might better be spent on vacation trips that take us away from the artificialities of life, away from the grind of everyday living, affording us an opportunity to get acquainted again with our families, at some restful spot out in God's great out-of-doors."

"Michigan's Upper Peninsula, stretching along the shores of majestic Lake Superior on the north and Lakes Huron and Michigan on the south, abounding with lakes and streams, with a mid-summer temperature of 64°, and ozone and air free from the pollens that cause hay fever; for the most part forest-clad, has some 650 fine resorts, resort hotels, cottage groups and hospitable tourist homes, all amid restful surroundings, that are waiting to serve you in your search for health, happiness and adventure."

"The U.P. of Michigan is less than a day's ride by either air, rail, boat, bus or highway from the great industrial centers of the middle west."

"Visit us in the Springtime, when our resorts are uncrowded and our undulating forests are alive with growing beauty and our trout streams alluring."

"Come in the Summertime, June, July, August, when our hard-surfaced highways beckon to you our resorts, cabin groups and hotels will welcome you; trout and bass fishing will be most excellent and our summer sports activities, such as canoeing, fishing, swimming, horseback riding, hiking, etc., can be best enjoyed."

"Come in the early Autumn; our resorts will be open to accommodate you, our highways uncrowded and our forests landscapes will be aglow with all the glory of Indian summer days; remain with us during our bird and duck season; yes, perhaps you will desire to linger on through deer season when there is a 'tang' in the air and our vistas are broad."

"Come in Wintertime, from December through to the first of March; our temperatures are sufficiently low to assure a snow-clad landscape for skiing, snow-shoeing, sleigh-riding, tobogganing and plenty of ice for skating—our firesides will be open to receive you."

"If you are looking for a land where you can realize a happy, satisfying vacation experience, then travel the "Lure Book" way through our unspoiled vacation frontier—the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. Ours will be the privilege of embellishing service with courtesy and hospitality."

(Signed) G. E. Bishop,
Sec'y-Manager,
U. P. Development Bureau,
Marquette, Michigan

Note:—

The "Lure Book" is yours for the asking as long as the supply lasts. Through its one hundred and seventy-six pages you can take a mental tour of the Upper Peninsula, through the Copper & Iron Countries, stopping here and there, studying each interesting spot, at your leisure. Write to:—

Mr. George E. Bishop,
c/o Upper Peninsula Development Bureau,
Marquette, Michigan.

South Siders Aid Holden

Prominent residents of the South Side are playing an important part in the Henry Holden campaign for the office of City Attorney. Heading up the committee is William P. Hoermle, prominent South Side business man who resides at 1433 Linwood Avenue. Harley Hicks of the Hicks Poultry Company, 638 Mithoff Street, John J. Breckur, 15 South Fifth Street, Albert R. Reinhard, 222 East Main Street, and Frank Burgstaller, 881 Ebner Street, are assisting on the committee.

Mr. Hoermle stated, "Henry Holden has served well as Assistant County Prosecutor for the past eighteen years, during the administrations of Donald J. Hoskins and Ralph J. Bartlett. In this service he has considerable experience in all kinds of legal work, both civil and criminal. It is important that Columbus have a capable city attorney and Mr. Holden is well qualified for this position."

Mr. Holden is a life-long resident of Columbus and a graduate of Ohio State Law School. The Holdens have four children, three of them have attended Ohio State University. He has long been active in the Charity Newsies and is serving on the Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America, Central Ohio Area.

City Harmonica Contest

The City Recreation Department announced that it will sponsor a city-wide harmonic contest during the week of August 15th on all of the 51 playgrounds operated by the department.

The contest is open to both boys and girls and will be staged in two divisions covering the ages of 10 and less and between 11 and 15 years of age, both inclusive.

The city champion harmonica player in both divisions will be decided on Saturday, August 20, at Schiller Recreation Center. Each champion will receive a handsome trophy as a reward.

Mr. Leo F. Hall, well-known music instructor, will be in charge of the harmonica contest for the Recreation Department.

THE CHURCHES AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Washington, D. C., July—There is no reason why there should be a furor over Mrs. Roosevelt's opinion that the Federal Government should "keep hands off of private and parochial schools."

Mrs. Roosevelt defended the existing system of local control over the schools—as it has been in existence since the beginning of time in the United States."

As a columnist Mrs. Roosevelt expresses her views upon most National subjects. She certainly did not speak disparagingly of the Catholic schools or the Catholic Church.

Former Governor Herbert H. Lehman stepped out in front to say he was "deeply shocked" because of the savage attacks made upon the lady.

In the latest statement from Mrs. Roosevelt she said: "I want freedom of religion in this country. I want no religious prejudice and I want absolute freedom of religious training; but I believe in separation of Church and State."

The Washington correspondent who writes this Weekly Letter seldom agreed with Mrs. Roosevelt's husband. But Mrs. Roosevelt is emphatically right in standing up for the separation of Church and State.

NOW COMES THE RECESSION

Unfortunately, jobs are disappearing. Prices have come down. There seems to be more difficulty right now than ever before to bring about compromises between strikers and employers. Labor union bosses are carrying on plans that an outsider might think indicates enmity towards the American industrial system. Just why the labor bosses and industrial managers have to fight their battles to a finish doesn't seem to make sense.

The Federal Government has enacted labor laws for the adjustment of all differences between employers and employes. Let's Use Them!

The Taft-Hartley law has been repeatedly upheld by Congress—which has taken a broad vision and is playing fair with everybody.

But in recent months CIO organizations have added new demands to their programs. They claim the rights of employes to pensions, fixed at $150 a month for all super-annuated workers. The CIO argues that pensions are wages deferred and are therefore a legitimate charge on industry.

Steel workers have asked for health, liability, life and disability expansion on a big scale.

And so the fights between workers and employers are becoming more and more like political issues. And right now the Democratic and Republican parties are split in every possible way. The leaders of both of these parties do not know whether they are going or coming. What we need more than anything else is more statesmanship in Washington.

THEY THREW AWAY THE CRANK

Chain of events that brought about the self-starter for automobiles, marked at the recent 40th anniversary celebration of Delco at Dayton Ohio, was highlighted in the tribute to the Delco founders and old-time barn-loft shopmen who started tinkering with auto ignitions shorty after the turn of the century. The anniversary tribute is well deserved.

The experimenting started what has since become an entire cluster of General Motors manufacturing units under the Delco trade name—Delco Products, Delco Appliance, Delco-Remy and Delco Radio—as well as General Motors Research Laboratories Division.

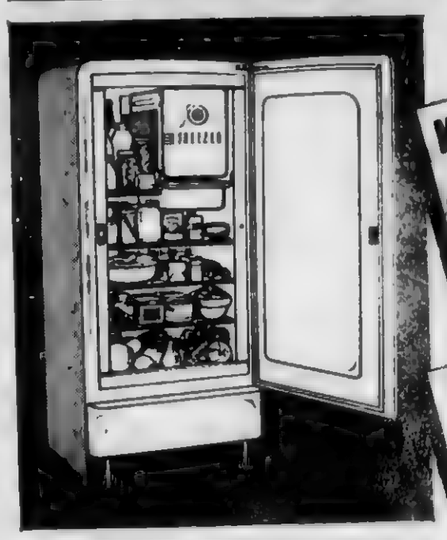
All of this began because Charles F. Kettering, E. A. Deeds and William A. Chryst were dissatisfied with the sputtering ignitions of early horseless carriages. Industrial history books record how they set up a modest spare-time shop in the loft of the Deeds barn and developed an improved ignition system that Cadillac Motor Car Company adopted for its 1910 model.

The ignition led to the most revolutionary development of the barn-loft laboratory's startling record—the electric self-starter. This starter severed the automobile's most restricting hobble, the perverse, irksome hand crank. Today not even the ghost of a crank can be found in an automobile toolkit. It joined the buggywhip socket in transportation's folklore years ago.

Back in the barn-loft days of his engineering and inventive career, Kettering envisioned what fresh, practicable ideas could do to produce entire industries. He and his associates also believed research should be an independent function in industry, free of production and manufacturing worries so that it might create new products, new processes and new groups of industries.

This particular approach, applied to the auto industry, has given the country one of the best case studies of what free enterprise and spur of competition can accomplish.

Fortunately, the Delco story is not unique. Other vast enterprises have sprung from the minds of men toiling in tiny barn shops. But today the experimenting for the most part is relegated to the trained technician or teams of specialists. Research and invention are businesses in themselves.



Even so, the individual inventor still has his place in the country's living pattern. He is still free to express his dissatisfaction with a gadget, process or product by making something better, more pleasant or more efficient.

So long as he and the trained laboratory technicians remain unfettered to use the free enterprise of ideas, the country's living standard will continue to rise.

Atom Secrets

Senator Tydings of Maryland and Hickenlooper of Iowa are out in front in the Congressional drive to block any sharing of atomic bomb secrets with Britain or other Atlantic Pact allies. This is undoubtedly the attitude of Congress and the People of the United States.

South Sider Runs For Council

Many people on the South Side will watch the Primary election with particular interest on Tuesday August 9. On that day, a well-known South Side resident will be a candidate for one of hts nominations for City Council.

Walter A. Shott, Jr., Democratic Committeeman in the First Ward and President of the Ward's Democratic Club is making his first bid for a public office.

Walter is a life-long resident of the South Side, is a graduate of South High School and Ohio State University. Mr. Shott took up high-school teaching as a profession.

Having seen forty nine months service during world War II, Walter attended Ohio State University on the G. I. Bill.

In seeking election to City Council, Mr. Shott said, "I am seeking election to City Council in order that our city government be returned to a two-party basis."

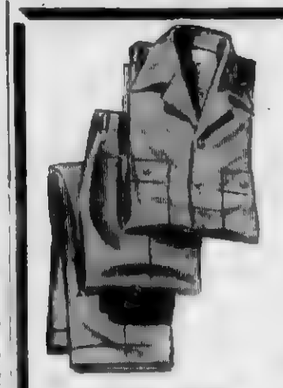
Walter asks the support of his friends on the South Side.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, HERBERT HOOVER, TO YOU!

The World's most distinguished private citizen, Herbert Hoover, will become 75 years old next August 10th.

Now after prejudice and hate have consumed themselves,—as they always do—and men have measured him with spiritual and moral yardsticks, the result is a wide and growing conviction that he is one of the few authentic great men of all history.

That the World should admit this truth while he is still alive to learn of it is both fitting and proper. That those who believe this true should write him birthday greetings and tell him whatever is in their hearts would be an inspiration and a deep satisfaction to him. It would also advance and strengthen the spirit of good will which now is languishing throughout the World.



If you are appreciative of his thirty-five years of exceptional service as a humanitarian, statesman and great leader, for none of which he has ever taken one cent of pay for himself, why not write him and say so?

Address your letter to Herbert Hoover, Palo Alto, California, where he will make an important speech on his birthday. Your letter will be placed with others in volumes and presented to him on that occasion.

If you wish to send him a birthday present, the kind of birthday present that will most gladden his heart, then enclose any amount, none is too small, for the Hoover Institute and War Library which he has created and dedicated to peace at Stanford University. This project is closest of all to his heart, therefore a present to him for it, now he always he wants nothing for himself, will make him doubly appreciative.

Should you enclose a present, your name will be added to the scroll which will be given him on his birthday.

But birthday present or not, if you believe that his able service entitles him to an expression of respect and appreciation from you, then write and send it to him.

GOOD TIMES ARE NOT JUST AROUND THE CORNER

President Truman says that if there is no upturn in our National economy this Fall that he will recommend to the Nation a decisive program that might embrace some of the pump-priming measures written into his so-called "Economic Expansion Act of 1949," which is now being kicked around by the Congress.

One thing the matter with these so-called statesmen is that they seem to think the way to cure our troubles is to spend billions and billions of dollars on cock-and-bull schemes.

GOOD OLD CHURCHILL

Winston Churchill declares that socialism and communism are ruining Great Britain. He insists that "the first essential step of Great Britain is to regain its economic independence by earning its own livelihood." The British statesman denounces the "socialist spendthrifts." They evidently are going wild in London as they are in Washington.

SOUTH SIDE PROJECTS UNDER WAY

INSTALL NEW FIRE ESCAPES AT SEIBERT ST. SCHOOL

Ancient Sky Well that might have acted as giant flue in case of fire has been closed over by workmen in the Siebert-st School modernization process. Here Judy Ryan examines filled-in hexagon in ceiling.

New Fire Escape is given a preschool tryout by four youngsters watching workmen putting the finishing touches on the project at Siebert-st School. Testing the escape for weight capacity are (left to right): Joyce Ryan, 459 Siebert-st; George Curry, 627 Gilbert-st; Judy Ryan, Joyce's sister, and Patty Curry, sister of George.

In the late part of last winter Mrs. Donald Ryan, P.T.A. president of Siebert St. Elementary School, started and led a fight for the removal of fire and health hazards in that school.

Just recently fire escapes were installed and an observation well on the second floor was closed.

The furnaces which belched coal gases, have been repaired eliminating unhealthful fumes.

Yet to be completed are the tightening of windows which will eliminate cold drafts entering the class rooms.

We have the assurance of Mr. Stanley Gingery, assistant superintendent of Columbus schools, that this will be done before the school opens.

Mrs. Ryan wishes to thank the Council of South Side Organizations, the Steelton Merchants Ass'n., the members fo the P.T.A., and all other people who rendered her such valuable assistance in the fight for improvements on the Siebert Street School.

THURMAN AVE. BEING PAVED
NEW WATER LINES ON FREBIS
MOLER ST. TO HAVE STORM SEWER
WATER LINES TO BE EXTENDED IN OKLAHOMA

Residents of the South Side are to be treated to another good street at last when Thurman Ave. paving is completed from 22nd St. to Lockbourne Rd.

The street will be a concrete base with black top finish.

The contract was let July 28 to the Complete General Construction Co., 1221 E. Fifth Ave.

Work on Thurman Ave. is now underway and should be completed before Christmas.

This is a much needed improvement and will be welcomed by all South Siders.

• • •

New water lines have been completed from Miller Ave. to the County Home on Frebis Ave.

Extensions have been laid north on Fairwood Ave. and streets paralleling Frebis Ave. to the south will also get new water mains immediately.

This will be quite a boon to that district and will add fire protection through this new water source.

• • •

Bids will be advertised shortly for a new storm sewer on Moler St.

This will remedy the Thurman Ave. - Parsons Ave. district wet basement conditions as well as all homes in the middle South Side.

The new sewer should be completed before the first of the year.

• • •

City water mains have been laid in the section south of Columbus known as Castle Terrace and Oklahoma.

The persons of these districts who wish water should make applications at once.

Bonds will be sold in the near future for sewers in these districts and installation should start before the first of the year.

People who wish sewer service should begin making their applications now.

That was a tough break as George said he knew the answer to the "Jack Pot" question.

Mention the Booster To Your Merchant

The Boosters First Duty

Seven years ago in the Booster we had just completed a successful fight in conjunction with the Steelton Merchants Ass'n for the then new storm sewer from Innis Ave. to Hosack St. on Parsons Ave.

This relieved wet and flooded basements in that district which saved the merchants thousands of dollars.

Since that time it has been our privilege to help many other residents of the South Side with their problems of necessary improvements which have to be taken up with the City Administration and bring them to a satisfactory conclusion.

We are here to serve any resident of the South Side whether it be a hole in the street or a new sewer or street.

A newspaper such as The South Side Booster, first duty is to serve the community in anything that benefits its citizens.

We are as near to you as your telephone and we are always ready to listen and help.

Lang, who on July 30, 1949, resigned his position as Associate Professor of History at Capital University in order to accept the pastorate of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Stewart Ave. and Bruck St. will be formally installed at St. Paul's Church in connection with the morning service on Sunday August 14. The installation rites will be performed by Rev. Paul E. Dobberstein, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Prospect, Ohio, and classmate of Pastor Lang. Rev. Dobberstein will also preach the sermon at this service.

There will be a reception for Rev. and Mrs. Lang in the Sunday School rooms of the church on Sunday evening, August 14 from 7:00-9:00 P. M. which includes a short program and brief remarks by Rev. Carlton Sutorius of Emmanuel Lutheran Church and Rev. L. H. Heuer of Martin Luther Lutheran Church.

The pastorate of St. Paul's was left vacant last January when Rev. E. J. Katterhenrich accepted the pastorate of Good Hope Lutheran Church, Bucyrus, Ohio. Rev. Lang has been the supply pastor at St. Paul's since February 8.

Though there were frequent changes in the pastorate of St. Paul's between its organization in 1821 and the year 1843, the church has had but five pastors in the last 106 years. They were as follows: Rev. Conrad Meese, 1843-1893; Rev. J. H. Schneider, 1893-1921; Rev. E. J. Klamforth, 1921-1935; Rev. A. W. Zell, 1935-1946; Rev. E. J. Katterhenrich, 1946-1949.

Community Chest Wants Volunteers

An appeal for women to volunteer as solicitors in the coming Community Chest campaign was made this week by Mrs. William Papier, 1018 Studer Avenue, chairman of the South Residential Division for the drive.

"Our territory is a large one, and we will need many more door-to-door workers than we have enrolled at present," Mrs. Papier said. "If we are to make our quota and hold our own with other sections of the city in this great annual appeal, we'll have to have ample woman power to visit every home on the South Side. A good campaign organization virtually insures a successful campaign."

Goal and quotas for the drive, which will be held the last half of October, have not been set.

Women who will contribute time to serving as solicitors are requested to call Mrs. Papier, Fairfax 9197, or fill out the accompanying form and mail it to her. An early response is hoped for.

St. Paul's Has Temporary Home At Gates Fourth

Construction of the new Church at 225 East Gates Street has now moved above the ground level. The first floor windows are ready for installation and all plumbing and sewer work is completed. In a very few days the connecting tie in with the old building will begin, thus making it temporarily impossible to use the structure for Worship Services. Last Sunday Reverend Paul C. Kaefer made use of the first new place of Worship arranged by his Church Council. Sunday School and Morning Services were held at Schiller Park with more than 175 at each gathering. For the next two consecutive weeks Sunday School will be held at the same location in the Park while joint Church Services will be held at Gates Fourth Methodist with the two Congregations joining under the leadership of Rev. Kaefer. This identical procedure was followed with great success last year while the Pastor of the Gates Fourth went on vacation. In October, the Rev. Hicks, new Pastor of Gates Fourth will reciprocate in preaching to the same joint Congregations while Rev. Kaefer takes a two weeks rest.

All weddings and funerals needing Church facilities from Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed, during the Construction Period of the next few weeks, will be handled at Gates Fourth with Reverend Kaefer in charge.

This is truly a wonderful spirit of co-operation, when two such fine Churches, in the same city block, of different denominations, can get together and aid one another. They both can see the real meaning of Religion. You are invited to attend the next two Sundays at the 10:30 a.m. Services at Gates Fourth Church, to join with two Congregations in a period of Joint Worship.

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY!

Can We Keep The Secret?
By J. E. Jones

Washington D. C., August—

Some people in Washington—but not many—agree with the suggestion that the President, by his own action alone, should not give Great Britain the know-how on the making of atomic weapons. Senator Knowland denies that the President has the power to whisper this tremendous secret in John Bull's ear. The Senator insists of this Government and the Atomic Energy Commission have no that "under the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 the Executive Branch legal or moral right to disclose information regarding our weapons to any other Nation without the approval of Congress."

Apparently Russia is the only Nation that may get blown-up by the Atomic Bomb. We aren't going to let Russia bulldose us forever.

The Old Folks Have the Savings

Only 7 per cent of the $10,700-000,000 deposited in the savings bank of New York State belongs to persons less than 30 years of age.

In the break-down of the deposit structure by age of depositors, New York savings banks have announced that the greatest backlog is in the hands of older persons.

Well, "how can the old folks tell," that they must save up their nickles, dimes and dollars? Anyhow, the above proves that the tight-wads are old folks.

Taft-Hartley Law Still Stands

President Truman won the election last November, but he did not receive a majority of the popular vote. The 81st Congress, elected with him, does not support some of the campaign pledges made by Mr. Truman—notably repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law in toto and restoration of the lopsided Wagner Labor Relations Act. Nor does it stand for increases in taxes and some of the heavy spending programs—for social assistance—which are included in the Truman program.

By a vote of 51 to 42 the Taft substitute for the Administration bill finally passed. In the House, the division over the labor bill was so close that neither the Administration forces nor their opponents were able to win a clear-cut victory—and the bill was recommitted.

Church and State

The newspapers have given a lot of attention to the discussion between Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. The issue is sort of a sparring match between the Church and State. Whether you like Mrs. Roosevelt or not she has won the scrap by proving that private and religious schools never have been and NEVER WILL BE supported by the Federal Treasury. In short, the educational system of the United States belongs to the different communities who always have been responsible for the local schools, through selection of their own school boards.

There are 2,787,637 Catholic schools in the United States and they have always done a good job by minding their own business.

The Stock Exchange

One of the best signs that the United States is carrying on safely is indicated by steady markets on the stock exchanges of the country. The situation seems to be entirely different from what it was in 1929 when the markets cracked down and American people everywhere lost their savings and their shirts.

A $64 Question

Young Henry Ford reminds us of the "old man." He remarked a few days ago that nobody ever won a labor strike.

Faith In America

American businessmen would do well to ponder carefully the recent words of one of their own leaders—Charles Luckman, president of Lever Brothers Company. In connection with the ground-breaking for a new Lever plant, Mr. Luckman exhorted business to "abandon its foxholes of fear and regain the faith that built America."

Speaking in Los Angeles, Mr. Luckman urged business to quit talking itself into a depression and get out and hustle. America, he pointed out, now has 59 million workers on the job, $200 billion dollars in liquid savings, 215 billion dollars in personal income for 1949. How, he asked, can you manipulate those figures and come up with economic disaster?

"Yet, that is precisely what many Americans are doing. By emotional arithmetic, these viewers-with-alarm add two and two and get zero. But the record they scan is their own fever chart—not the record of America's economic health and vigor."

The youthful and dynamic executive said there was an unfilled demand which could keep everybody busy for generations to come. He pointed out that millions of American families had no washing machines, no vacuum cleaners, that a million American families were in desperate need of new homes this year. "So, let's not talk about what we've got. Let's talk about what we haven't got," he said.

His voice resonant with confidence, Mr. Luckman offered a blueprint for prosperity based on lower prices, sound wage policies, increased productivity in cooperation with labor, and the development of new processes and new services.

Underscoring his words of faith with action, the Lever president ended by announcing an imminent $55,000,000 expansion program for the company which he heads. The principal item is a new $25,000,000 plant in Los Angeles, ground for which has already been broken.

So long as we have industrialists of the vision, courage and social conviction of Mr. Luckman, America need never despair, but can confidently plan ahead, secure that its miraculous system of freedom and enterprise will build ever better for the morrow.

Our New Supreme Court Justice

There is plenty of controversy and a good many objections regarding Tom Clark as a member of the Supreme Court.

As Attorney General, Mr. Clark has set in motion a grand total of 160 anti trust actions, as compared with the average of 42, such cases for each of his predecessors in the job.

Of course the new Court Justice has the right to exclude himself in the trial of cases that he is responsible for having initiated.

Those pending in the lower courts include such prime actions as the recent suit to break up the duPont industrial empire; a move to force the Aluminum Company of America to dispose of many of its plants and properties; the demand that American Telephone and Telegraph Co. divorce its long-time subsidiary, Western Electric; a rate-fixing charge against the Association of American Railroads; and dissolution actions against the Investment Bankers Association of America and the Chicago Mortgage Bankers Association.

And the above is only part of the complications which involve Mr. Clark inasmuch as he was kept active in some of the Communist and treason prosecutions.

Clark has been involved in such a broad variety of prosecutions that the National Capital was somewhat surprised when he was selected by the President for a place on the Supreme Court.

Those Czechs

America knew very little about Czechoslovakia until after the first World War. But the United States went to bat for the Czechs and furnished them more help than any other small European Nation. They were about the nearest thing to being the Candy Kids of any Europeans.

The Czechoslovak Constitution was actually written in the State Department at Washington. The Washington correspondent for this paper was among the Czech cheerleaders in Washington.

And believe it or not, the Czechs of today have asked the Russian Soviet Council to help defeat Marshall Aid. Evidently the main trouble is that the United States has grown tired of Czechoslovakia which has not been trying to play ball with the European countries that are trying to save themselves thru the Marshall Plan.

General Marshall Knows

Failure to act on the program before Congress to re-arm non-communist Nations will mean a "very serious prolongation of a very dangerous weakness," according to General Marshall.

The real fear in Congress is that the United States is "going broke." The present issue before Congress is whether or not the Congress should vote $1,450,000,-000 to re-arm European Nations.

Most people are not very well acquainted with stacks of billions of dollars.

General Marshall is a few jumps ahead in letting the World know his own ideas. He told the House Foreign Affairs Committee a few days ago: "Maybe I should not have mentioned it but as far as I know the strategic concepts have already been determined and I understand a formal conclusion of the plan will be reached presently." As a matter of fact the situation is still far from settled.

Most everybody in the Congress is determined to push Russia to the wall but there is a wide difference of opinion as to how many billions of dollars can be raked up in the United States without danger of National bankruptcy.

A lot of Senators and Representatives are already telling their colleagues and their President and General Marshall, that there is a limit to all things—including billion dollar appropriations. The present demands are so much heavier than [illegible] World War I most of our legislators are still a long ways below the President, with his financial excursions.

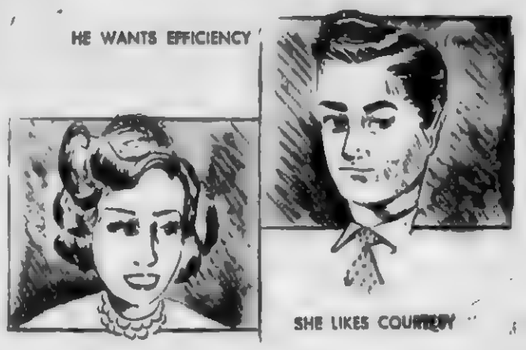
When the figures are all totaled up the result, according to a staff writer for the New York Times, the conclusion is that "the Truman - Congress score card shows a tie." The Times states the matter in the following paragraph: "The President's victories in foreign fields offset the peace on domestic issues."

WHY WORRY ABOUT THE RAILROADS?

Recent railroad publicity informs the World that "a lot of intelligent people outside the railroad industry are worrying about the future of the railroads." That sounds like "wishful thinking."

In early years the railways let everybody else do all the worrying while they grabbed off mammoth land grants. In every part of the country the railroads maintained lobbyists in State Capitals, and when things got tight with them in the Legislatures they ran special trains from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Madison, Wisconsin, and other Capitals. Everybody was invited and rode free. So, the people helped the lobbyists control State Legislatures.

The railroads didn't worry when they were giving rebates to large lumber interests and at the same time charging full rates to the little fellows who were trying to saw lumber.



The "Omaha Line" got in danger very often with the tax officials between the Twin Cities and the Lake Superior region, but as I remember it they had a dangerous scheme by which they could pay the same tax in Ashland or Washburn by controlling the tax officials.

Robert N. LaFollette, Sr. stood the railroad lobbyists on their heads when he was Governor of Wisconsin.

Just listen to the new railroad squeals.

Setting the Bridal Buffet Table

Bells and bows of tulle and ribbon top a proud wedding cake. The bridal motif is further carried out in the eggshell translucent Belvidere pattern of Lenox china where a dainty pink ribbon ring is twined with tiny blue forget-me-nots. The satin rayon damask cloth of traditional bride's white is a handsome background to gleaming silver.

Plan a memorable table setting for the most memorable occasion in a lifetime—the wedding. Whether it is a simple or an elaborate wedding, this is the time to display your fine Lenox china, silver and linens.

The rules for your table arrangement are simple but rigid.

1. The bride's table must be covered with a white cloth.

2. The wedding cake is the one indispensable requirement and should be set in the center of the table as the principal decoration or centered on a separate draped stand at the side of the long table.

3. The menu, of course, will determine the china, silver and glassware. Here, as on all correct table settings, only those pieces which will be used are set out.

4. Punch or champagne should be placed on a separate table by itself, except at a small wedding where it is set on the main buffet table to balance the tea tray.

With suitable accessories, you will find a very simple pattern of fine china will lend itself as gracefully as a formal pattern to the bridal buffet setting. This is because fine china has a lustrous translucent body that polished silver and gleaming linens highlight. In fine china such as the principal decoration or centered on a separate draped stand at the side of the long table. In fine china such as the Lenox Belvidere pattern shown here, you have the same exquisite body, the same superior materials and workmanship by the same skilled craftsmen as is found in the White House Service and Lenox museum pieces you see throughout the world.

PEACH ANGEL PIE

Fresh Peach Angel Pie with iced coffee for a porch dessert party.

By BETTY NEWTON

It's wise, on these warm days, to do all necessary cooking in the cool of the morning. If you plan to entertain later in the day, pick recipes for foods that can be baked ahead of time. With a crisp and attractive meringue shell filled with sliced peaches and whipped cream, ice cream topped with fresh fruits or berries or a chocolate nut pie your party is sure to be a success.

Peach Angel Pie

6 egg whites
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. cream of tartar
1½ C. sugar
1 tsp. vanilla

Beat the egg whites until frothy. Add salt and cream of tartar. Continue beating until stiff but not dry. Gradually beat in the sugar, then the vanilla. On a baking sheet place a large circle of brown paper. With a spoon arrange meringue in a 9 or 10 inch circle about ¾ inch thick. Build up sides to about 1½ inches deep. Bake at 275 degrees about 1 hour or until delicately browned. Slide brown paper off sheet onto a damp towel. Loosen meringue shell with spatula and slip onto serving plate. When ready to serve fill with ice cream and fruit or sliced peaches and whipped cream. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Chocolate Nut Angel Pi-

½ C. sugar
½ tsp. cream of tartar
2 egg whites
½ C. chopped nuts
¾ C. semi-sweet chocolate bits
2 Tbsp. hot water
1 tsp. vanilla
1 C. heavy cream

Sift sugar and cream of tartar. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry. Add sifted sugar gradually, while continuing to beat until smooth and glossy. Line well-greased 9 inch pie plate with this mixture; keep center hollowed out to ¼ inch thickness; do not spread meringue on rim of plate. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Bake at 275 degrees about 1 hour or until delicately browned, crisp to touch. Cool thoroughly. Melt chocolate over hot water. Stir in water and cook until thickened. Cool. Add vanilla; fold in whipped cream. Turn into meringue shell. Chill 2 to 3 hours in refrigerator. Cut in wedges.

Self-Help in the Post-War Era

One of the worst situations to emerge from the war is the appearance of a spirit of helplessness in many areas of the world. Although this phenomenon is by no means universal there has been far too much of it for comfort. The contrast between dependence in Italy, to a large degree in France, and even in Great Britain, and the independence manifested in Belgium and the Netherlands represents to a remarkable extent the difference in economic and governmental forms of these nations.

Where the socialist approach has taken the place of the capitalist-democratic state dependence appears to be the rule. Where capitalism is still the dominant factor in the national economy, self-reliance is in the saddle. It appears to be no accident that most of the strength of Europe comes from capitalistic resourcefulness.

Nor does it appear conversely to be unexpected that the socialist nations are ready, willing, and eager to take whatever can be obtained without too much concern for the future.

The symptons of a sick society are clearly evident. One of the first requirements of a healthy civilization must be the restoration of a spirit of self-help and national pride in the ability of the people to rebuild their culture from within.

Long May They Wave

Fifteen hundred WAVEs observed the seventh anniversary of the establishment of the Women's Reserve organization this week, and received the announcement that all members of WAVE units are now eligible for overseas assignments. During the war, 86,000 fine young women joined the armed forces to add to our military strength, and the multitude of tasks performed by these auxiliaries is a record of which the nation can be proud.

Now the WAVEs are down to a total of 2875 women on active duty, with recruiting still proceeding at a slow rate. With the statement that the first detachment of WAVEs will be sent across to "1984"—Is It Here Today?

The current best-selling novel, "Nineteen Eighty-Four," describes the author's conception of life in the not-too-distant future. It is a sharply regimented life with regulations sternly governing every section of thought and action. Literature, industry, the arts must all conform—or else the rebel is "vaporized."

Unfortunately, there is evidence that "1984" may be just around the corner. The British Institute of International Affairs reports that the countries behind the Iron Curtain are face to face with a crisis of almost incredible proportions. Rapid agrarian reforms in many countries of Eastern Europe have pushed literally millions of people into positions where they lack all social and economic status. Farmers in many countries of the Easter European area are reportedly in rebellion against the changes thrust upon them. A possible ten million unemployed and seemingly unwanted peasants may find themselves thrown into slave labor camps as the pressure of hunger and unrest mounts rapidly. For the regime which has collectivized agriculture will brook no opposition. It will drive them

Sure Cure for Juvenile Delinquency

Through the cultivation of family worship in their homes, modern American parents are doing more to avert juvenile delinquency than any other one group. Family worship helps to unify the family before God, build character in children and prevent juvenile delinquency.

Dr. William Culbertson, president of Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, has said, "Family worship is one of God's ordained provisions for the home. I can testify personally to the great influence for good in my own life as my father and mother read the Word and kneeled to pray with me. Then, too, my wife and I have learned the practical value of the family altar — in God's leading, in His blessing, in the conduct of the home, and in the sense of His presence."

— Simple Bible reading, prayer, discussion of the day's experiences in the light of God's Word and possibly a song or two are all that is needed to make up an effective family altar. Begin yours today. As the psalm writer said in Psalm 127:1, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it."

London early in September, it is expected that the interest in the perpetuation of this gorup will be re-stimulated.

For the first time in history, American women have the opportunity to make of military service a career corresponding in prestige and dignity with the army and navy opportunities open to their brothers. Many fine young girls will add this field to their thinking in this new era of modern thinking. They may be sure of worthy futures under the nation's flag.

Apple Pickers Are Needed

Columbus, Ohio, August 10 — Local officers of the Ohio State Employment Service are seeking workers to help apple growers harvest this year's expected bumper crop. Administrator Frank J. Collopy of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

Apple growers report they are preparing for what may be the largest Ohio apple crop in history. They indicate they may need several thousand extra pickers between September 5 and the middle of October. Some spot picking and harvesting of early apples has already begun.

To meet this need, farm placement representatives in local Ohio employment offices are determining the full number of workers orchardists and processors will need and are compiling lists of workers to meet the expected demand.

Managers of local offices in the apple-producing areas report that many persons laid off by industry are seeking these apple-picking jobs.

The heaviest concentration in Ohio orchards is in the following counties: Ashtabula, Columbiana, Cuyahoga, Erie, Geauga, Jackson, Lake, Lawrence, Lorain, Mahoning, Ottawa, Sandusky, Stark and Summit.

News In The World Of Religion

By W. W. Reid

Catholics and Protestants are working together in a campaign to secure gifts of food from the farmers of the United States for shipment to needy parts of Europe and of Asia. The "Christian Rural Overseas Program," as the movement is known, is now officially organized in twenty-five states and will be extended to others, under the leadership of John D. Metzler, national director, and with county and state committees in charge across most of the nation. Special trains and truck caravans will gather from the farmers, gifts of wheat, corn, milk products, beans, dried fruits, fats and cotton. The distribution of these gifts will be made through Church World Service (the agent of most Protestant churches), the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, and Lutheran World Relief. Last year the gifts of food from rural America were valued at several million dollars.

Dr. Charles F. Boss, Jr., of Chirago, executive of the Commission on World Peace of the Methodist Church, is urging church members to write their senators and congressmen giving "expressions of support" to various legislative measures, including: continuation and increase of funds for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund; an increase in the authorized number and an extension of time for the reception of displaced persons who qualify for immigration; extension of the reciprocal Trade Agreements program and ratification of the proposed International Trade Organization; adherence in legislative and State Department policy to the principle of using the United Nations as the keystone of our foreign policy, thus facilitating the continuing processes of understanding and negotiation; and United Nations Genocide Convention, for Senate ratification.

The Rev. A. A. Chambers, rector of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church, Auburn, N. Y., tells his people this about missionary needs: "It was a Jew who brought the gospel to Rome; a Roman who took it to France; a Frenchman who took it to Scandinavia; a Scandinavian who took it to Scotland; a Scotsman who evangelized Ireland; and an Irishman who made the missionary conquest of Scotland. No matter where one's ancestors lived, they received the gospel at the hand of an alien race. And yet, there are some who say they do not believe in missions."

The Guatemala Traveling Seminar will leave New Orleans by plane for Guatemala City on August 4, 1949. Sponsored by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., the Guatemala Seminar is in its third year, the first two having been held during the Christmas holidays of 1947 and 1948. Visits will be made to such points of tourist interest as Chichicastenango and Quezaltenango, famous for their colorful Indian markets, to Antigua and Lake Atitlan. But the principal object will be to visit the Christian work in city and village. The group will study and evaluate medical, educational and organized church work in various parts of the country. Guatemala has been chosen because it offers an unique combination of gorgeous scenery, colorful Indian civilizations rooted in the dim past and outstanding examples of effective Christian missionary work.

According to the Farm Security Administration, there are some 2,500,000 people now travelling in families through the United States picking the nation's food crops. From Florida and Georgia, hundreds of thousands go into the farms and orchards of the Middle Atlantic and New England States; from the southwest they go as far as Minnesota beat-fields and Michigan orchards; from California they go to the fruit centers of the Pacific Northwest; and from Mexico and Puerto Rico they go to all parts of rural America. The FSA continues: "Child labor, substandard living and a padlock against education have destroyed the rights of children and drastically disturbed the integrity of family life among migrant workers . . . . . Unorganized, unprotected by workmen's compensation laws in most states, ineligible for educational, health, and welfare benefits, migrants frequently find maintenance of even a minimum standard of living an impossibility." The Home Missions Council of North America has made religious and educational concern for these migrant families one of its major projects; it has a large number of ministers and trained teachers and nurses in the field serving in a large number of ways; and it has induced scores of state and county councils of churches to provide religious training and other care for the people in their local communities. Noting that race tensions, indifference, the failure to admit migrants to local schools, clinics and ever churches has created a serious situation in many states, the Council says: "Creating a better Christian America for these disinherited human beings is a test and a challenge to all of us citizens and Christians."

No. Methodist Church Wedding Scene

North Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Evangeline Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Rose, 200 W. Pacemont Rd., to Mr. Jack C. Bickel, son of Mrs. William E. Bickel, 442 E. Whittier St., and the late Mr. Bickel. The Rev. Mr. Hubbard read the 8:30 p.m. service on June 19th.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pale blue dress with a matching half hat and a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. James E. Stimmel was matron of honor for her twin sister, wearing a pale-green dress with matching halo hat and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Best man was Mr. Donald R. Durfey and seating the guests were Mr. Donald E. Rankey and Mr. James E. Stimmel.

A reception followed the wedding in the church dining room.

The bride is a graduate of North High School and Mt. Carmel School of Nursing and is employed at Doctor's Hospital.

Dale Stump Enters Attorney-Gen. Race

DALE STUMP

Dale Stump, prominent Columbus attorney, launched a statewide "grassroots" campaign for Attorney General of Ohio here Monday night. (Aug. 8) He is the first Republican to enter the race for state office next year.

Mr. Stump announced his candidacy for Attorney General during an address at a rally sponsored by Van Wert and Allen County Republicans. Mr. Stump was born on a farm at Convoy near here and many of his lifelong friends were on hand to hear his announcement.

"I am entering the campaign early because I am going to stump every county in Ohio," Mr. Stump said, "I want to discuss all political issues frankly and fully with the voters. I want everyone to understand my concept of state government.

"In the 1950 state campaign the Republican Party must set forth a positive program—not just a 'me too' program. We must learn what rank and file citizens want and expect from our party and we must frankly tell the people what our party has to offer."

Mr. Stump asked that people write to him at 8 E. Broad St., Columbus, expressing their views on state government.

Mr. Stump is widely known as an expert in the field of state government. He is former head of the claims and legal department of the Ohio Industrial Commission. A few years ago he made a survey of state government for the Ohio Legislature and later set up and served as the first executive secretary of the Ohio Public Employes Retirement System.

He now heads the Columbus law firm of Stump, Wardlaw and Mitchell which specializes in practice before state boards, departments and commissions.

"Is he a reckless driver?"
"When the road turns the same way he does, it's a coincidence."

Grandmother's Rice Pudding Goes Modern

Grandmother's long-cooked rice pudding filled with plump raisins, has always been a favorite dessert. However, a new variation of this old time favorite combines the rice pudding with apricots instead of raisins. The basic ingredients, rice, milk, and eggs, are the same, but the apricots make it a new taste treat. Serve the pudding with cream.

EMPRESS PUDDING

1 quart milk, scalded
¼ cup rice
½ teaspoon salt
¼ to ⅓ cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1½ cups drained, cooked apricots (sweetened) or,
1 cup apricot jam, or other favorite jam

Scald milk in top of double boiler; add washed, drained rice and salt. Cover and cook over hot water about an hour, until rice is tender and milk is about absorbed. Stir occasionally. Beat eggs; add sugar and blend. Stir some hot rice into egg-sugar mixture and blend; stir into remaining rice mixture. Add vanilla and nutmeg. Put rice into well-buttered casserole in alternate layers with apricots or jam between, reserving a little for top. Bake in a moderate oven, 325° F., about 40 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve with milk or cream. Serves 6.

At The Expense Of The Consumer

There has been an unusually large amount of editorial comment on John L. Lewis' order to the soft coal miners to work only three days a week. One of the soundest analyses of what this involves appeared in the New York Times when it said: "Mr. Lewis originally sought to carry out this program through an agreement with the operators. To the latter's credit however, they had the good sense to reject the proposal. The result of such an agreement (even on the improbable assumption that it would be permitted under our anti-trust laws) would be the establishment of a cartel for the coal industry. Less dynamic economies than our own have frequently sought deliverance from their problems by such arrangements, only to find that they have achieved 'stabilization,' if at all, by restricting output, keeping inefficient producers alive and immobilizing the labor force—at the expense of the consumer in particular and economic progress in general."

Another important phase of the matter was brought out by the Wall Street Journal, which observed, "As a matter of fact Mr. Lewis has performed a great public service. He has dramatized, as no one else could, the monopoly power that resides in labor union leaders. More than any other man he has brought closer the time when that power will be restricted."

Comment of a similar character has appeared in every section of the country. Mr. Lewis has again demonstrated that labor monopolies can be fully as dangerous as any industrial or financial monopolies that have ever existed. There is only one solution—organized labor must be subjected to the same anti-trust laws that control the managers and owners of enterprise.

CORN PUDDING

Cutting fresh corn from cob for canning or eating "as is."

By BETTY NEWTON

Fresh corn has such a short season that most everyone likes it served often. It is fun to have "roasting ears" when you have an outdoor picnic. Many enjoy fixing it the way their grandmothers did—in a pudding. Try it all ways.

Old Fashioned Corn Pudding

6 to 12 ears unhusked, milky.
[illegible]
1½ tsp. salt
1½ C. light cream

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Husk corn. Split corn grains lengthwise of ears with a sharp knife. Then scrape kernels out, with back of knife, until you have 2 C. corn pulp. Combine with salt and cream and pour into buttered 1½ qt. casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Serve, piping hot with butter. Makes 4 servings.

Roasted Corn

Remove coarse outer husks and loosen inner husks, removing silk carefully; trim ear if necessary. Brush kernels generously with garlic butter or margarine. Tie inner husks into their original position, and lay on grill above glowing coals. Turn frequently. It will take from 10 to 25 minutes to roast the corn. Garlic Butter: Slice 3 or 4 cloves of garlic and add to ¼ lb. soft butter or margarine. Mix well and let stand at room temperature for an hour or longer, stirring occasionally.

Sauteed Corn

Cut whole kernels from cob, but do not scrape cob. In a heavy skillet heat 2 to 3 Tbsp. butter and in it cook 2 or 3 C. of cut corn for 5 to 6 minutes, stirring constantly. When kernels are tender and delicately browned, add ¼ C. sweet cream and salt and pepper to taste. Serve at once. For a Spanish touch, add chopped green or red pepper and cook gently with the corn. Makes 4 or 6 servings.

Democracy's Oxygen

Visiting German students after a year in American schools, said that democracy was something they could not study but that they could feel it.

Our democracy was probably like fresh air to them. The exhilaration and pleasure of "living in it" was like the life-giving effect of oxygen in the air we breathe. The things that give life to our democracy are our free institutions and an opportunity to live a life unmolested by powers beyond our control.

Some of the elements that caused the German students to "feel" our democracy are a Constitution to protect rights of individuals, legislative bodies to form the laws, a judiciary system to interpret the laws, and last but not least, private enterprise as the tangible evidence of the freedom enjoyed by our citizens.

It is no wonder the German students "inhaled the oxygen" of our democracy.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank (Dude Ranch) Koch

We hope you took advantage of the "Lure Book" offer in this column last week. You will spend many hours looking over the interesting accounts found therein of the historical spots of the U.P. of Michigan.

True, these men spend many months compiling the data in the "Lure Book," and try to present it to you in an inviting manner. Mr. George E. Bishop, Sec'y Mgr. of the U.P. Development Bureau should be commended on his untiring task of showing you just what is to be found in this "Hiawatha Land." God's Country, the U.P. of Michigan. In a book published and printed by J. J. (Joe) Bachunas, of Tabor Farm, Sodus, Michigan, entitled "GEORGE E. BISHOP," many letters of commendation are published; from friends and businessmen from all parts of the United States, revealing the true character of George E. Bishop and the human interest shown by him in making this U. P. a better place for the native to rear his family and realise a better way of life.

In the old days, back in 1881, when Mr. Bishop was born in a log cabin about one mile south of Scottsville, Michigan, little did his parents surmise what this little tyke would accomplish in helping these backwoods people to live in a more modern way and with conveniences then unheard of. Yes! George E. Bishop as he grew to the age of reason himself probably little realised what accomplishments he would later realise to make this partly cut-over forest land a better place in which to live.

This idea of Mr. Bishop's probably didn't fall right in his lap. No! We believe he did a lot of dreaming and planning to put it into workable practice. We imagine he encountered one stumbling block after another, and with the untiring efforts he has displayed since he conceived this Development idea, he probably plugged and plugged until his dream finally became a reality!

A little about his parents would fit in nicely at this point. His Father C. E. Bishop "was a pioneer in Scottsville," according to "Joe" Bachunas who wrote the book about him.

"This sturdy soul began meeting every challenge of growth." "George's mother was Bessie Bates Bishop. He has one sister and two brothers: Nellie A. Bishop and John E. Bishop of Waukesha, Wis., and Alfred E. Bishop of Racine. From a tender age, Mr. Bishop began shouldering responsibilities and early exhibited high character, boundless energy and initiative."

"From 1887 to 1892 George E. Bishop attended the public schools of Scottsville. In 1892 his father's family moved to Sussex, Waukesha County, Wisconsin, when and where his father purchased the John Bates farm. (I'll bet that's when George met Mrs. Bishop). George immediately sensed the value of hard work with which he had a yearning for more education and personal expression. From the Fall of 1892 until 1900 he attended "16 School" in Lisbon Township, Waukesha County, Wis. During the schooling period from 1894 to 1900, his attendance was confined to the winter term only. Eight months out of each of these years, George Bishop worked as a hired man on a dairy farm, his pay ranging from $7.00 to $20.00 a month."

"In the Spring of 1900, George finished the eighth grade, taking a state examination for third grade teacher and received a teacher's certificate in Wisconsin. He entered the Whitewater Normal School, completing the Spring course. He helped pay his tuition and living expenses by mowing lawns and sawing cordwood. During the summer of 1900, he worked on a farm for $1.00 a day. Work never daunted George Bishop. He knew he had to earn and learn to progress. From Sept. 1 1901, to June 1902, he studied a full year at the Whitewater Normal School. It cost him $85.00 and he worked for his room and board for Professor G. C. Schutz of the Normal College. From 1902 to 1906, he taught in district schools, keeping up his studies during vacation periods in Whitewater Normal thru the spring of 1906. His modest salaries ranged from $35. to $50. a month."

How many of us would or could match George E. Bishop's constant plugging for the goal he dreamed up and finally achieved? Which reminds us of an old quotation viz: — "He CAN who THINKS he CAN." More about Mr. Bishop at a later writing.

CONGRESS HAS COLD FEET

The fight between dairy butter and margarine has been going on for lo these many, many years. The issue of removing the restrictions on margarine has been okayed by many high officials of the Government and by a strong group in Congress. Still Congress dodges the issue, just because everyone loves butter so deeply and firmly that they fall for stupid issues against margarine. The resistance to margarine isn't sound sense, when you hear top politicians say, "I can't tell the difference."

Many members of Congress from the dairy States very frankly admit that the only charge they have against margarine is that it is a competitor for butter—and butter is big business in their States. These same politicians are playing for the farmers votes, even to the point of violating all the traditions of Democracy. As a matter of fact the manufacturers of butter and margarine aren't making this fight. It is wholly a political fight, and the anti-margarine politicians in Congress simply have "cold feet."

LET THE STATE'S ALONE

The wealth of this country is within State lines—and there isn't a State in the Union that isn't able to take care of itself.

Nevertheless, Federal money grants for States are on the increase. Five per cent of the Federal budget for the fiscal year just beginning, totals $2,458,202,000 and that sum has been set aside for the States. Nobody kicks unless it is former President Herbert Hoover, who has warned his country that huge Federal grants to States may lead to "dictatorship" over the States.

Former Secretary of State Byrnes, long a Democratic party stalwart, also hits the nail on the head in his declaration that, "too many people are trying to transfer huge powers to the Government," and he warned of the danger of a "welfare state."

Just between you and me, dear reader, (and the gate post) the United States is on the worst spending spree in all history. And we might just as well make up our minds that the people are going to be taxed as they never were before.

In voteless Washington rents are being raised in hotels and apartment houses; and a sales tax has been levied on almost everything in the National Capital within the past week

ROAD CONSTRUCTION

This job of keeping up old highways and building new ones is so expensive that it seems almost hard to believe Government figures. Nevertheless, official statistics report road construction is expected to cost $5,863,300,000 in the United States during the next 20 years or less.

WE ARE REALLY A LITTLE SHORT OF CHANGE

The records show that Truman has asked for more money from Congress than all the Presidents in the United States from the time of George Washington. His latest demand on Congress calls for $1,450,000,000 in cash for a foreign military aid program as a shield against Soviet aggression.

The President is THE champion spender—but Congress is not liable to dump all of the public money into the same old Russian hole.

NO HOME RULE FOR WASHINGTON, D. C.

The District of Columbia has more intelligent voters than any other city of its size in the United States. But it has not voted since 1874.

The so-called Home Rule legislation before Congress is a fake proposition.

President Truman has told Congress that it should devote less time to the rule of the District of Columbia acting as a City Council and pay more attention to the business of the Government.

DISCRIMINATORY TAXATION OF GOOD FOOD

Most everyone knows that a constant drip of water will wear down the hardest rock in time. To draw a parallel, it would seem that a constant campaign conducted through the years would soften up Congress so it would repeal margarine taxes. Furthermore, it would seem that there has been time a plenty, for the most anti-margarine taxes were passed as far back as 1886.

In recent sessions of Congress there has been a tremendous drive to end these useless and discriminatory taxes on margarine, a nutritious and delicious food product. And efforts have been almost successful. At present, a repeal bill is in the Finance Committee of the Senate When it is reported out favorably, predictions are that it will easily pass the Senate. Could it be that a flood of mail to members of the Senate asking for immediate margarine tax repeal would turn the tide—and soon—before the present session is adjourned?

Golfer: "Caddy, why do you keep looking at your watch?"

Caddy: "It isn't a watch, sir; it's a compass."

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

WHETHER for or against military aid to Europe, anyone interested in sound government ought to be shocked at the terms of President Truman's bill designed to arm the world against Russia. It proposes to give him unlimited authority to give arms to any government in the world which he wishes to strengthen. It is not confined to Atlantic Pact countries. The new bill gives the President the right to give away any government property if he says it is surplus and since no appropriations are necessary, this power seems to be without limit. It even includes naval vessels. It is not clear whether even atom bombs are excepted from the President's give-away powers.

The bill proposes cash authorization for $1,450,000,000 but it admits that another half billion of material may be given away without appropriation.

Think of the tremendous power which this proposal gives the President to involve us in any war throughout the world, including civil wars where we may favor one faction against another! No individual ought to have such power, certainly not Mr. Truman or his Secretary of State.

I am opposed to the whole idea of giving the President power to arm the world against Russia or anyone else, or even to arm Western Europe, except where there is a real threat of aggression. We are stimulating an armament race. We are trying to restore a military balance of power on the European continent. Such policies in the past have always led to war rather than to peace.

• • •

FURTHERMORE, as a deterrent to war, the plan seems to me most ineffective. It is said that at least 60 Divisions are necessary to enable Western Europe to defend itself against Russia, and the cost of modern divisions of that type would be at least $20 billion. Russia has been deterred from military aggression by the strength of the American armed forces and particularly by our air force with its atomic bombs. The Russians are not going to be any more deterred by the transfer of a lot of obsolete equipment and a small fraction of the aid necessary for really effective armies in Western Europe.

We are proposing to give these arms to a dozen different countries. Of course after each country gets its share we have no control, and we don't know how they may be used. The governments may turn Communist or Fascist. They may aid Russia instead of fighting against it. Russia may capture the arms before we get there.

We are already giving Europe $5 billion a year to rebuild her economic strength. And as the State Department admits: "Military strength cannot be effective or lasting unless it rests on the foundations of economic health and stability."

• • •

JUST as the economic health of Europe is essential in the battle against communism, so, in particular, is sound prosperity in the U. S. Facing a deficit of $3-$5 billion next year, should we start now on a vast new spending project which may extend itself to the Near East, the Far East and to South America? The limits to the cost of this militarism cannot be foreseen.

In general, I feel that if we have the money to spend, which we do not, it is more effective as a deterrent to war if we strengthen our own American military forces. I would favor sending arms to a country when it can be shown that the country is really threatened by Russian military aggression. On the basis of this conviction I voted for military assistance to Greece and Turkey, and I would vote for like aid to China.

But the scatter-gun blank-check approach of arming anybody in the world of whom the President may approve seems to me the best calculated method of producing a bankrupt American economy and the tragedy of a third world war.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Edward, My Son" starring Spencer Tracy and Deborah Kerr. In this dramatic film, taken from the Stage Success, Spencer Tracy portrays a ruthless industrial tycoon. It's a compelling and unforgettable portrait, etched in Violent Emotion and Turbulent Romance, of a man who fought and schemed, plotted and sweat, to carve out a Career. He mastered a game that had to be played for keeps, but found himself caught between the violence of hatred, and the compulsion of love. He did not realize how wrong he was, until too late. Also on the double bill is "Caught" starring James Mason.

Streets of Laredo At Southland

Coming Friday and Saturday to the Southland Theatre will be "The Streets of Laredo," in gorgeous technicolor, and starring William Holden, William Bendix, Macdonald Carey, and Mona Freeman in the leading roles.

The story revolves around three outlaws, two of whom are forced to join the Texas Rangers in order to escape arrest. The third, Carey, expects his friends to work with him, giving him inside information available only to the Rangers. But things happen that make good Rangers of Holden and Bendix and the friends come to a parting of the ways and an inevitable showdown. The showdown is between Holden and Carey, both of whom want the same girl, which adds more fuel to an already burning fire.

The second feature will be "Smugglers Cove" starring Leo Gorcey and Hunts Hall.

"Mr. Belvedere Goes To College" at Russell

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presents "Mr. Belvedere Goes to College" with Clifton Webb and Shirley Temple. If you enjoyed "Sitting Pretty," you won't want to miss the amazing Mr. Belvedere, funnier than ever, as a sweater boy. He is working his way through college. You'll vote for him a diploma as Doctor of Fun. Also showing is Road House with Ida Lupino and Cornel Wilde. The Acadamy Award Cartoon completes the program.

"The Gallant Blade" At Ideal Theater

Sunday only the Ideal Theater is showing "The Gallant Blade" with Larry Parks and Marguerite Chapman. This is a cinecolor picture in which Larry Parks gives you an excellent account of himself as the gallant aide of a general who wished no new wars, and particularly those deliberately provoked by 17th Century French politicians for their own private ends. Tense romance runs through the film in which Marguerite Chapman displays costumes that are decidedly becoming in color tints. Most of all there is action that is not episodic but kept smooth flowing by expert direction of the picture. Several sword fights are convincingly portrayed. Also showing is Gallant Legion with Wild Bill Elliott and Adrain Booth. News and Cartoon completes the playbill.
